George M. Steinbrenner III (1930-2010)

From 1973 until his passing on July 13, 2010, George M. Steinbrenner III created a legacy of winning unmatched by his peers. His foresight, drive and commitment permanently transformed not only the Yankees organization, but the game of Baseball.

On January 3, 1973, a group of businessmen formed and led by Mr. Steinbrenner purchased the New York Yankees from CBS for a net price of $8.7 million. It took just five years for his aggressive leadership to turn the organization back into World Champions. In his time as Principal Owner of the club (1973-2010), the Yankees won more pennants (11) and World Series (7) than any other team in baseball, while posting a Major League-best .566 winning percentage (3,364-2,583-3 record) over the stretch.

In addition to the team's on-field success under the direction of Mr. Steinbrenner, the New York Yankees consistently shattered franchise and league attendance records at home and on the road. In 2009, they drew 3,719,358 fans in their first season of play in the current Yankee Stadium, topping the American League in attendance for the seventh straight season (2003-09). The Yankees remain the only franchise in Baseball history to draw more than 4 million fans at home in four consecutive seasons (2005-08).

Mr. Steinbrenner's foresight into both sports and business continued to build the value and prominence of the franchise, positioning it for the future. In 2002, Sporting News named him the No. 1 "Most Powerful Man in Sports," and Forbes magazine has continued to list the Yankees as the most valuable franchise in all of Baseball.

Mr. Steinbrenner's vision led to the creation of YankeeNets, which owned the New Jersey Nets and New Jersey Devils and ultimately led to the launch of the YES Network, a trailblazing enterprise that has been the nation's most watched regional sports network since 2003. Additionally, Mr. Steinbrenner teamed with long-time friend and Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones, creating Legends Hospitality, LLC, a concession and merchandising company which currently operates at the Yankees' and Cowboys' new stadiums.

In 2006, his participation in the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Yankee Stadium underscored his role as the principal impetus in moving the much-anticipated facility towards its opening in 2009.

Mr. Steinbrenner's tenure of over 37 years exceeded that of any other New York Yankees owner by 13 years (Colonel Jacob Ruppert purchased the Yankees with Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston in January 1915, bought out Huston in 1923, and maintained sole ownership in the club until his death in January 1939—a total of 24 years). During Mr. Steinbrenner's time as the sole Principal Owner of the Yankees, the other 29 Major League clubs had over 100 owners or ownership groups.

Mr. Steinbrenner's success in the sports world began at an early age. He was a multi-sport athlete at Culver Military Academy (where he is in the Athletic Hall of Fame) and at Williams College. He began his successful coaching career as an assistant football coach at two Big Ten universities, Northwestern and Purdue. Then he assembled championship basketball teams in the National Industrial and American Basketball Leagues. In 2002, he was honored with the prestigious Gold Medal Award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame for a lifetime of "outstanding commitment, dedication and dynamic leadership in his business, as well as his personal life."

Mr. Steinbrenner devoted as much time and effort to the U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC) as he did to his many other sporting endeavors. He was on the U.S. Olympic Foundation Board from 1986-2002 and served as Chairman over the last six years of his tenure. He also was Chairman of the 1989 Olympic Overview Commission, which was created to evaluate the structure and efforts of the U.S. Olympic program, and served as Vice President of the USOC from 1989 to 1992. As a result of his distinguished service, he was presented with the General Douglas MacArthur USOC Foremost Award and the F. Don Miller United States Olympic Award. In 2005, the U.S. Olympic Foundation created the George M. Steinbrenner Sports Leadership Award in his honor, which celebrates a member of the U.S. Olympic family who has made outstanding contributions to sport.

Additionally, Mr. Steinbrenner was a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors and served on the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees beginning in 1990.

Most of Mr. Steinbrenner's philanthropic endeavors were performed without fanfare. However, he was repeatedly recognized by the communities in which he immersed himself. In 1993, he earned the Tampa Civitan Club's "Outstanding Citizen" Award, and in 1998, Tampa Law Enforcement named him "Citizen of the Year" for founding a scholarship fund for the children of slain law enforcement officers. Mr. Steinbrenner was also honored as an "Outstanding New Yorker" by the N.Y. Society of Association Executives in 1997 and credited in 2009 by the Museum of the City of New York as one of the "New York City 400," recognizing "people who have helped create the world's greatest city since its founding in 1609."

In February 2008, the Tampa City Council and the Board of the Hillsborough County Commissioner's Office both passed resolutions endorsing the renaming of Legends Field in Tampa after Mr. Steinbrenner to pay tribute to his numerous contributions to the area. On March 27, 2008, Mr. Steinbrenner—joined by his family—pulled down a curtain draped above the outfield scoreboard to unveil the new name for the Yankees' spring training home: George M. Steinbrenner Field.

In the fall of 2009, George M. Steinbrenner High School opened in Lutz, Fla. The school was named after Mr. Steinbrenner by the Hillsborough County School Board in recognition of his philanthropic involvement in the community, particularly with the school system.

Mr. Steinbrenner was dually honored in January 2011, winning the Joan Payson Community Service Award from the New York chapter of the BBWAA and having his legacy of charitable work recognized at the 22nd annual Baseball Assistance Team (B.A.T.) Dinner.

At the time of his passing, he was survived by his wife, Joan; sisters, Susan Norpell and Judy Kamm; children, Hank, Hal, Jennifer and Jessica; and his grandchildren. ❧

On September 20, 2010, prior to the team's game vs. Tampa Bay, the Yankees unveiled a monument in Mr. Steinbrenner's honor in Monument Park, reflecting the special connection, appreciation and responsibility that he felt toward Yankees fans.

GEORGE M. STEINBRENNER III

JULY 4, 1930 – JULY 13, 2010

New York Yankees Principal Owner
"The Boss"
1973 - 2010

Purchased the New York Yankees on January 3, 1973.

A true visionary who changed the game of baseball forever, he was considered the most influential owner in all of sports.

In his 37 years as Principal Owner, the Yankees posted a Major League-best .566 winning percentage, while winning 11 American League pennants and seven World Series titles, becoming the most recognizable sports brand in the world.

A devoted sportsman, he was Vice President of the United States Olympic Committee, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors and a member of the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees.

A great philanthropist whose charitable efforts were mostly performed without fanfare, he followed a personal motto of the greatest form of charity is anonymity.

Chronology of Yankees Ownership

- Jan. 9, 1903: Frank Farrell and Bill Devery purchase the rights to establish a new American League franchise in New York for $18,000.
- Jan. 11, 1915: Col. Jacob Ruppert and Col. Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston agree to purchase the Yankees for $460,000. The transfer is formally completed on January 30.
- May 21, 1923: Col. Ruppert buys out Col. Huston for $1.5 million (transfer is completed on June 1).
- Jan. 13, 1939: Col. Ruppert passes away and his estate takes over ownership of the club.
- Jan. 25, 1945: Dan Topping, Del Webb and Larry MacPhail purchase the Yankees for $2.8 million from the estate of the late Col. Ruppert (Topping and Webb later buy out MacPhail's share following the 1947 season).
- Nov. 2, 1964: CBS purchases 80 pct. of the Yankees for $11.2 million and later buys the remaining 20 percent (Webb sells his 10 pct. share in March 1965 and Topping sells his 10 pct. share in September 1966).
- Jan. 3, 1973: A limited partnership, headed by George M. Steinbrenner as its Managing General Partner, purchases the Yankees from CBS for a net price of $8.7 million.
- Nov. 20, 2008: Hal Steinbrenner named Managing General Partner.

Harold Z. (Hal) Steinbrenner

Managing General Partner / Chairperson

Hal Steinbrenner begins his 34th season with the New York Yankees organization in 2024 and his 16th as Managing General Partner.

Mr. Steinbrenner's responsibilities include overseeing all areas of the club's business and baseball operations, and directing the financial aspects of the New York Yankees, Yankee Global Enterprises and their affiliates. He has also overseen the dynamic growth of Yankee Stadium as a marquee all-season entertainment venue.

Under Mr. Steinbrenner's leadership, the Yankees have retained and enhanced their global popularity while continuing to field championship-caliber teams. Since taking the position of Managing General Partner, the Yankees' .571 combined winning percentage (1,330-998) is the second-highest in all of baseball.

In 2023, the Yankees drew 3,269,016 fans in 80 dates, averaging 40,863 per gate. Excluding the 2020 and 2021 seasons which had attendance restrictions due to COVID, the Yankees have drawn more than 3 million fans at home in 23 consecutive years, which is an all-time Major League record. Last season, the Yankees also led the American League in average home attendance for the 18th time in 19 restriction-free seasons. The club's Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and TikTok accounts each have the most followers among all Major League Baseball teams, and the Yankees' combined total audience on social media exceeds 16 million fans on a daily basis.

Most recently, Mr. Steinbrenner and the Yankees organization have focused on improving the experience for fans by providing more family-friendly and socially oriented spaces at Yankee Stadium in the Bronx and Steinbrenner Field in Tampa. Yankee Stadium now features a dedicated children's zone as well as a number of unique gathering areas and lounges for all ticketholders to enjoy. Recent Steinbrenner Field enhancements have included new LED field lighting in 2023 and a complete modernization of the seating bowl and concession areas.

Mr. Steinbrenner has also placed a special focus on modernizing and renovating facilities for the organization's players, field staff and team personnel. The home clubhouse at Yankee Stadium underwent a comprehensive renovation during the 2023-24 offseason, including a vast expansion of its footprint and a state-of-the-art redesign of its training areas and collaborative workspaces. At Steinbrenner Field — which serves the Major League club during spring training and the Single-A Tampa Tarpons during the summer — a complete modernization of the clubhouse and player training facilities will be made in two phases with total completion by 2025 spring training.

Mr. Steinbrenner remains deeply engaged with the organization's community outreach in both New York and Tampa. In 2021, Yankee Stadium was transformed into a COVID-19 vaccination center. Also in 2021, Mr. Steinbrenner led the formation of the New York Yankees Diversity and Inclusion Committee, created to identify, engage and address issues related to equality, racial justice and inclusivity.

Mr. Steinbrenner is an active participant in assisting Major League Baseball with the direction of the game, having been appointed by Commissioner Rob Manfred to Major League Baseball's Finance Committee in 2019 and having served as a member of the Labor Policy Committee since 2020. Mr. Steinbrenner previously held a four-year term on Major League Baseball's eight-owner Executive Council from 2015-19.

The 55-year-old son of George Steinbrenner was elected General Partner by the New York Yankees Partnership in 1996, and he held that title for 13 seasons. In 2007, Mr. Steinbrenner was also named Chairman of Yankee Global Enterprises, LLC. In his first full year as Managing General Partner in 2009, the Yankees capped their historic inaugural season in Yankee Stadium with their 27th World Championship.

Mr. Steinbrenner serves on the Board of Directors for Legends, a global premium experiences company delivering holistic solutions for legendary brands in the sports, entertainment and attractions industry. Created with the Dallas Cowboys in 2008, Legends clients include a diverse group of iconic venues, including Yankee Stadium, AT&T Stadium, SoFi Stadium, Allegiant Stadium, Etihad Stadium, Santiago Bernabéu Stadium, One World Observatory and the University of Notre Dame, along with renowned properties like the NFL, MLB, PGA, NASCAR and the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics.

In 2022, Mr. Steinbrenner led a minority investment by YGE in the Italian Serie A Soccer Team AC Milan. Additionally, Mr. Steinbrenner is Chairman and CEO of Steinbrenner Hotel Properties. He also holds the distinction of being Chairman Emeritus for The Board of Directors of the Boys & Girls Club of Tampa Bay Foundation and is a Board Member Emeritus for the Special Operations Warrior Foundation.

Mr. Steinbrenner attended Culver Military Academy and graduated from Williams College in 1991 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He earned a Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Florida in 1994.

Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal

General Partner / Vice Chairperson

Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal begins 2024 in her 16th full season in the role of General Partner / Vice Chairperson of the New York Yankees. She also serves as the President of the New York Yankees Foundation and Co-President of the New York Yankees Tampa Foundation, overseeing numerous local, regional and national outreach efforts.

Within the scope of her roles, which include the implementation and integration of a wide range of community programs relating to the New York Yankees, Ms. Steinbrenner supervises three Tampa-area Children's Holiday Concerts that have been sponsored by the Steinbrenner family for more than three decades. Over the years, more than 160,000 children have participated in the events, which provide musical education and exposure to the fine arts. She has also been instrumental in the development and growth of the Bronx Winter Wonderland event, which has seen thousands of local youngsters visit the Stadium each year for a holiday extravaganza complete with decorations, festive music and food, and a holiday gift for each child in attendance. Ms. Steinbrenner has also been an active champion of the Yankees' HOPE Week initiative since its inception in 2009, providing the financial support and organizational leadership for the Yankees to shine a spotlight on inspirational individuals and nonprofit institutions in both New York and Tampa.

Ms. Steinbrenner also serves as Vice President and on the Board of Directors of the Gold Shield Foundation, which was established in 1981 by her father, George M. Steinbrenner III. The foundation, which currently covers seven counties in the Tampa Bay area, works to ensure that the families and dependent children of fallen police officers and firefighters receive early financial assistance and are guaranteed funds towards a college education.

Having previously served in the Yankees Public Affairs Department in 1984-85 and spending 23 years actively participating in the philanthropic community, Ms. Steinbrenner has a distinguished record of contributing to various community projects and initiatives, including her current commitment on the Board of Directors of St. Joseph's Hospitals Foundation.

Ms. Steinbrenner holds the honor of Ex-Officio Board Member of Mary Lee's House (a child protection and advocacy center in Tampa). She has also held prior board positions with the Boys & Girls Club of Tampa Bay, Children's Cancer Center of Tampa, Florida State Fair Authority (Executive Committee, Agricultural Committee, and Chairwoman of the Marketing Committee), H.B. Plant Museum at the University of Tampa, New York Pops, Harlem RBI, Florida Orchestra, Tampa Bay Salvation Army, Red Cross Angels of Tampa and Culver Academies. Additionally, Ms. Steinbrenner held the title of Senior Vice President of New Stadium Public Affairs in 2008.

A Morehead Scholar and 1981 graduate of the University of North Carolina with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration, Ms. Steinbrenner previously served on the UNC Board of Visitors and Parents Council. Ms. Steinbrenner has two children, Haley Swindal Tantleff, and Stephen Swindal, who is the Yankees' Assistant Director of Player Development.

Ms. Steinbrenner was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and makes her home in Tampa, Fla.

Jessica Steinbrenner

General Partner / Vice Chairperson

Jessica Steinbrenner begins 2024 in her 16th full season as General Partner/ Vice Chairperson for the New York Yankees. The younger daughter of George M. Steinbrenner previously served in the role of Senior Vice President for the team in 2008.

Ms. Steinbrenner is the owner of Bach Stables, LLC, a thoroughbred breeding and racing operation, and holds the position of Chief Executive Officer of the Steinbrenner-family-owned Bay Farms Corporation. She also served on the board of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders' and Owners' Association. Ms. Steinbrenner is actively involved in the aftercare of retired thoroughbreds.

Ms. Steinbrenner served as an Executive Producer for the 2018 full length feature film The Little Mermaid, the live-action adaptation of Hans Christian Andersen's classic fairy tale, and the psychological thriller Fear of Rain, released in 2021. She has also authored two children's books: My Sleepy Room and My Messy Room.

Ms. Steinbrenner attended Culver Girls Academy and graduated from Sweet Briar College in Virginia. She has four children and six grandchildren, and currently resides in Tampa, Fla.

Randy Levine

President

Randy Levine begins his 25th season as President of the New York Yankees in 2024. He was named to his position in January 2000, becoming the first person to hold the post with the club since 1986.

Under his supervision and guidance, the franchise constructed the state-of-the-art Yankee Stadium, completing the facility on time for the beginning of the 2009 season, which culminated in the franchise's 27th World Championship. In 2023, the Yankees drew more than 3 million fans at Yankee Stadium and averaged more than 40,000 fans per date, topping the American League in average home attendance for the 18th time in the last 19 restriction-free seasons.

Mr. Levine was a principal founder of the YES Network, which is the most-watched regional sports network in the United States. He was also the lead negotiator in the sale of 80 percent of the network to 21st Century Fox and in 2019 led the negotiation to buy the YES Network from the Disney Company along with partners Amazon, Sinclair Broadcasting, Blackstone, Mubadala and Red Bird Capital. In 2020, Mr. Levine was named as Chairman of the YES Network. In 2008, Mr. Levine was instrumental in creating Legends Hospitality, LLC, with the Dallas Cowboys, which currently operates at the Yankees' and Cowboys' stadiums, as well as many other world-famous venues, including One World Observatory. Most recently in January 2021, he was a leader in the sale of Legends' majority stake to the private equity group Sixth Street Partners. In 2004, Mr. Levine helped organize Yankees-Steiner, a leading sports memorabilia company.

Mr. Levine has also spearheaded the Yankees' international brand expansion, including a transformational partnership in 2013 with Manchester City Football Club to acquire Major League Soccer's 20th expansion team. New York City Football Club (NYCFC) began play in 2015 at Yankee Stadium and has drawn more than 2 million fans in home attendance in their first nine seasons, with the team earning their first MLS Championship in 2021. In 2010, Mr. Levine led a Yankees delegation that visited Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong with the 2009 World Series Trophy, marking the first-ever time that the Yankees brought one of their World Series trophies to Asia. In addition, Mr. Levine helped develop the joint venture agreement in Japan between the Yankees and Yomiuri Shimbun, which is the parent company of the Yomiuri Giants.

Under Mr. Levine, the Yankees became the first Major League organization to sign players from both the Israel and China Baseball Leagues, embarked on their first-ever large-scale outreach into Taiwan by holding a clinic for high school players and coaches in Taipei, Taiwan, and established a first-of-its-kind working relationship with the Chinese Baseball Association. Mr. Levine is also the Yankees' principal liaison to Major League Baseball and contributes to player negotiations and contract issues. He is a member and contributor to the New York Yankees Diversity and Inclusion Committee.

Mr. Levine has been at the forefront of bringing a diverse array of entertainment and special events to Yankee Stadium, transforming the venue into a year-round destination for a variety of college football, soccer, hockey, music, boxing and corporate events. Highlights have included the January 2014 Coors Light NHL Stadium Series featuring the New York Rangers, New York Islanders and New Jersey Devils; international soccer matches showcasing the likes of Manchester City, Liverpool, Real Madrid, AC Milan, Paris Saint-Germain and Chelsea; concerts by Paul McCartney, Madonna, Garth Brooks, JAY-Z, Justin Timberlake, Eminem, Bad Bunny, Romeo Santos, the Jonas Brothers and Hip Hop 50 Live; as well as renewing the tradition of college football at the home of the Yankees with over a dozen games featuring iconic institutions such as Notre Dame, Army, Boston College, Syracuse and Penn State.

The Yankees president has also been the driving force behind the creation, organization and implementation of the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl. The nationally broadcast contest — which has averaged more than 38,000 fans per game since its inception in 2010 — provides the schools, their alumni and traveling supporters the unparalleled and thoroughly unique opportunity to enjoy a full week of bowl festivities in New York City during Christmas week. Last year, Mr. Levine played an integral role in Yankee Global Enterprises' strategic investment in A1 Padel, the international padel circuit tour, bringing the first A1 Padel tournament to the United States, which took place at Wollman Rink in Central Park in October 2023.

Before joining the Yankees, Mr. Levine served as New York City's Deputy Mayor for Economic Development, Planning and Administration. He also served as New York City's Labor Commissioner.

From 1995 through 1997, Mr. Levine was Chief Negotiator for Major League Baseball. In 1996, he negotiated the labor agreement that for the first time included revenue sharing, luxury taxes and Interleague play. Prior to that, Mr. Levine served as Principal Associate Deputy Attorney General and Principal Deputy Attorney General at the United States Department of Justice. He has also served as a special delegate to the United States Department of Labor and was vice chair and a board member for Hudson River Park. Mr. Levine presently serves on the board of the Taylor Hooton Foundation, and in 2021 he was honored with the Taylor Hooton Foundation Legacy Award. Mr. Levine also serves on the board of Hofstra University, and has served on the Boards of the ASPCA, George Washington University and the Yogi Berra Museum.

Mr. Levine has served on the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Nets and New Jersey Devils and is a member of the Board of Directors of the YES Network, Legends Hospitality, LLC, AC Milan and NYCFC. He is also an officer of Yankee Global Enterprises, LLC.

In 2022, Mr. Levine was instrumental in arranging YGE's purchase of a minority interest in the Italian Serie A Soccer Team AC Milan. Mr. Levine was also one of the initial founders of the Staten Island FerryHawks of the Atlantic League of Professional Baseball, and he now serves on their Board of Directors. Additionally, Mr. Levine has served on the International, Labor Policy, Diversity and Legislative Committees of Major League Baseball.

Mr. Levine has been a partner in the New York law firm of Proskauer Rose Goetz & Mendelson, was Counsel at the law firm of Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld, and is presently Counsel at the law firm of Jackson Lewis P.C.

Born on February 22, 1955, in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. Levine received a Bachelor of Arts degree from George Washington University in 1977, and in 2011 was named Chair of the school's athletic committee. His strategic plan led to the GW basketball team winning its first National Championship, the 2016 National Invitation Tournament. He now serves as vice chair of the Hofstra Athletic Committee. In 2018, City & State magazine named Mr. Levine one of its 50 over 50 leaders in New York. In 2023, the publication included him in their Bronx Power 100 List, featuring leaders in politics, media, business and beyond. Most recently, City & State named Mr. Levine one of the Top 100 Economic Development Leaders in the city. Business Week listed him as one of the top 100 influential people in sports. Mr. Levine has also garnered six Emmy Awards. He received his J.D. from Hofstra University School of Law in 1980. Mr. Levine and his wife, Mindy, reside in Manhattan.

Lonn A. Trost

Chief Operating Officer

Lonn A. Trost began working for the New York Yankees in April 1975 as the Yankees' outside counsel and transitioned to serving as the club's Executive Vice President and General Counsel from 1997-99. On January 10, 2000, Mr. Trost was named the New York Yankees Chief Operating Officer in addition to continuing as the club's General Counsel.

The 2024 season is Mr. Trost's 49th year representing and/or working for the New York Yankees. Mr. Trost is responsible for the overall day-to-day functioning of the Yankees' operations. Under his direction, the Yankees have seen tremendous growth in brand recognition and sponsorship opportunities, while drawing more than 3 million fans at home for a Major League-record 23 consecutive seasons (1999-2019, '22-23), excluding the 2020 and 2021 seasons which had government-mandated COVID-related crowd limitations. During that 23-season stretch, the Yankees have established single-season home attendance records nine times (1998-99; 2002-08). In addition, the Yankees have topped the American League in average home attendance in 18 of the last 19 seasons with unrestricted attendance.

Additionally, Mr. Trost, along with Hal Steinbrenner and Randy Levine, spearheaded the most complex undertaking in New York Yankees history — construction and development of Yankee Stadium, which is the largest privately funded building project in the history of the Bronx. While remaining true to the architectural grandeur of the 1923 original, the current facility is one of the most technologically advanced sports venues in the world. In the 2016-17 offseason, Mr. Trost facilitated a series of major structural enhancements with Marty Greenspun, Sr. Vice President of Strategic Ventures, designed to improve the experience for all fans at Yankee Stadium. The new upgrades included a first-ever children's play zone and seven new social gathering spaces.

Mr. Trost has played a significant role in Yankee Stadium becoming a year-round multi-purpose home to special events. Since 2010, Yankee Stadium has played host to an array of landmark activities that transcend baseball, including the 2014 Coors Light NHL Stadium Series featuring the New York Rangers, New York Islanders and New Jersey Devils; concerts by Paul McCartney, Madonna, Garth Brooks, JAY-Z, Bad Bunny, Romeo Santos, Justin Timberlake, Eminem, the Jonas Brothers and Hip Hop 50 Live; a world championship boxing match between Miguel Cotto and Yuri Foreman; as well as renewing the tradition of college football at the home of the Yankees with games featuring iconic institutions such as Notre Dame and Army. In addition, Mr. Trost has been an integral figure in the development and growth of the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl — held annually during Christmas week. The event has averaged more than 38,000 fans since its inception in 2010.

Mr. Trost was also responsible for reintroducing a long-dormant Yankees tradition of hosting marquee professional soccer at Yankee Stadium. Since 2012, some of the most high-profile soccer teams in the world — AC Milan, Chelsea, Liverpool, Manchester City, Paris Saint-Germain and Real Madrid — have played "friendly" summertime matches in front of more than 200,000 fans. In 2013, the Yankees established a partnership with Manchester City Football Club and jointly acquired Major League Soccer's 20th expansion team. New York City Football Club (NYCFC) began play in 2015 at Yankee Stadium and has drawn over 2 million in home attendance through its first nine seasons. In 2021, NYCFC earned its first MLS Championship title.

Before joining the Yankees, Mr. Trost was a partner and member of the Executive Committee of the law firm of Shea and Gould from 1972 to 1994. He was also a partner at the New York law firm of Herrick-Feinstein from 1994 to 1997. While with these firms, he served as outside general counsel for numerous sports franchises, institutions and agents. Among his clients were the New York Yankees and Mets, the New Jersey Nets and Devils, the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Little League Baseball.

Mr. Trost was instrumental in the creation of the YES Network and is a member of its Board of Directors. In addition, he serves as an officer and on the Board of Directors for Yankee Global Enterprises and is on the Board of Directors for Legends Hospitality, both of which he participated in founding. While he maintains his responsibilities with the New York Yankees Partnership and the Yankees' other affiliates, he is also involved with the Tourette Syndrome Association.

Mr. Trost began his legal career in 1971 with the U.S. Justice Department, Office of Chief Counsel (Treasury Department). A 1968 graduate of Hunter College in the Bronx, Mr. Trost received his J.D. from Brooklyn Law School in 1971. He resides in Monroe Township, N.J., with his wife, Carol. They have two children, Evan and Audra, and six grandchildren, Ariella, Alexander, Aspen, Adley, Bryn and Brooklyn.

Brian Cashman

Senior Vice President, General Manager

Brian McGuire Cashman has literally grown up in the Yankees family. He joined the organization in 1986 as a 19-year-old intern in the Minor League and Scouting Department and now holds one of the most demanding jobs in sports as Yankees Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Over the course of his 38 seasons with the team, he has earned five World Series rings, including four as General Manager. Since the Dodgers' Buzzei Bavasi in the 1950s and 60s, Mr. Cashman is the only General Manager to win four World Series titles in that role. Notably, he has won his titles with two different managers — Joe Torre in 1998, 1999 and 2000, and Joe Girardi in 2009.

Mr. Cashman assumed his current post on February 3, 1998. At age 30, he became the second-youngest General Manager in Baseball history. In his first season, he became the youngest-ever GM to win a World Series, and with championships in 1999 and 2000, he became the only GM in Baseball history to win world titles in each of his first three seasons. A pennant in 2001 gave him four straight League Championships, placing him alongside Hall of Fame Yankees General Managers Ed Barrow (1936-39, four) and George Weiss (1949-53, five) as the only GMs in Baseball history to win four-or-more straight league titles at any point in their careers.

Among his peers, Mr. Cashman has achieved unparalleled success while carrying on the winning tradition of the Yankees. His lifetime winning percentage of .585 (2,404-1,702-2) is the highest of any General Manager with at least 10 seasons of experience whose career began in 1950 or later and marks the best team winning percentage in the Major Leagues during that same stretch.

Embarking on his 27th season as Yankees General Manager in 2024, Mr. Cashman is the longest-tenured GM in Major League Baseball and the longest-serving GM in Yankees franchise history, surpassing Ed Barrow's 24 1/2-year tenure (Barrow led the team from October 28, 1920, through February 20, 1945).

The Yankees have been mathematically eliminated from postseason contention in just 22 of the 4,108 regular season games played under Cashman's watch, while his clubs have earned postseason berths in 21 of his 26 seasons as GM (1998-2007, '09-12, '15, '17-22), claiming 14 Division titles, six American League championships and four World Series titles. Since 1998, the Yankees' 21 postseason berths are the most in the Majors — four more than Atlanta (17), who rank second in that span. The 21 playoff appearances are also eight more than any other American League team (Boston-13). Cashman's feat of reaching the playoffs in each of his first 10 seasons (1998-2007) remains unmatched in Baseball history.

In addition, the Yankees have posted a winning record in each of Cashman's 26 seasons as General Manager, winning at least 82 games in each 162-game season. The Elias Sports Bureau notes that the Yankees are the only Major League franchise to have 26 straight winning seasons at any point in its respective history, also having achieved the feat from 1926-64. The Los Angeles Dodgers (13) own the next-longest active consecutive-season winning streak in the Majors, and the Tampa Bay Rays (six) hold the second-longest active streak in the American League. Excluding the abbreviated 60-game 2020 season, the Yankees have averaged 94.8 wins per year during Cashman's tenure. The Los Angeles Dodgers are the only other Major League team to average 90-or-more wins in that span (90.3). Additionally, just one other American League team has averaged at least 85 wins per 162-game season (Boston, 89.0) in that span.

There have been four women in Major League history to hold the position of Assistant General Manager, and Mr. Cashman has hired two of them: Jean Afterman, the Yankees' current Senior Vice President and Assistant General Manager; and Kim Ng, who worked for the Yankees from 1998-2001 and became the first female General Manager in MLB history with her appointment by the Miami Marlins during the 2020-21 offseason.

In 2015, Billy Eppler was named General Manager of the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim, and along with Ng, served as Assistant General Managers who worked under Mr. Cashman to eventually hold the title of GM with another Major League club.

Various groups have honored the achievements of the Yankees and Mr. Cashman. With the club's most recent World Series title, the Yankees were named "2009 Male Team of the Year" by the United States Sports Academy and were nominated as "Team of the Year" in the Laureus World Sports Awards competition. In both 1998 and 2000, the Yankees earned ESPY Awards — presented by ESPN — as "Outstanding Team of the Year," and were named "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America in 1998 and by USA Today in 1999.

Mr. Cashman has been honored as "Executive of the Year" six times: by Baseball America in 2017; the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA in 2000, 2009 and 2017; and in 1999 and 2003 by the New Jersey Sportswriters' Association. In 2001, he received his third consecutive "40 Under 40" Award presented by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal to recognize the top 40 people under the age of 40 who have made the greatest impacts in the sports business industry. He has since been inducted into the publication's "40 Under 40" Hall of Fame. In 2003, Mr. Cashman was honored by the Latino Sports Writers and Broadcasters Association with their annual "Latino Achievement Award" for his contributions to the Latino media.

Philanthropy and community involvement play equally important roles in Mr. Cashman's scope of work. For the past 14 years, he has served on the Board of Directors of Covenant House International, which provides services for homeless youth. He was honored by the organization with their Beacon of Hope Award in 2011, having participated in the group's CEO Solidarity Sleepout event in each of the last 13 years. In 2019, Mr. Cashman and the Yankees hosted the event at Yankee Stadium, where Covenant House supporters raised money and drew attention to the cause by sleeping outside in the Stadium's Great Hall.

Five times under Cashman, the Yankees have recorded the most wins in the Majors: 1998, 2002 (tied w/ OAK), 2003 (tied w/ ATL), 2006 (tied w/ NYM), 2009.

The Yankees' .585 winning pct. under Cashman marks the highest for any MLB team over the stretch (1998-present). Additionally, the club's 2,404 regular season wins over the span are 103 more than the second-best team (LAD-2,301).

Mr. Cashman also serves on The Players Alliance MLB Club Executive Advisory Committee and the New York Yankees Diversity and Inclusion Committee.

In 12 straight offseasons from 2010 through 2021, Mr. Cashman rappelled down the 22-story Landmark Building in Stamford, Conn., as part of the Christmas-themed Heights and Lights Program, promoting activity in the city's downtown business district. In 2013, he joined the Board of Directors for TGEN (Translational Genomics Research Institute) Pancreatic Cancer. He also traveled to Vermont in November 2011 to join fellow GMs Theo Epstein and Neal Huntington at an event organized by ESPN's Buster Olney to support farm relief in the wake of Tropical Storm Irene.

For his efforts at work and in the community, Mr. Cashman was presented with the 2018 Joan Payson/Shannon Forde Community Service Award by the N.Y. Chapter of the BBWAA and the 2016 Jacob K. Javits Lifetime Achievement Award by the ALS Association Greater New York Chapter. He was also recognized by the Catholic Youth Organization of New York with the 2011 John V. Mara Sportsman of the Year Award and the 2005 Ossie Davis Award for Inspirational Leadership for promoting diversity in the workplace.

His career as a full-time Yankees employee began following his graduation from Catholic University in 1989, when Mr. Cashman became a full-time Assistant in Baseball Operations. He was later promoted and transferred to Tampa, Fla., where he served as Assistant Farm Director from 1990 to 1992. He returned to New York and became Assistant General Manager, Baseball Administration in November 1992.

Born on July 3, 1967, in Rockville Centre, N.Y., Mr. Cashman grew up in Lexington, Ky. He attended Georgetown Prep in Rockville, Md., and was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2015. Mr. Cashman also attended Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where he majored in history. He played intercollegiate baseball for the Cardinals, breaking the then-team record for hits in a single season, and was recently named part of the 2020 induction class of Catholic University's Athletic Hall of Fame. His love for baseball developed when former Brooklyn Dodger Ralph Branca and his wife, Ann, arranged for him to serve as a batboy for the Los Angeles Dodgers in spring training in 1982.

For the past 14 years, Brian Cashman has served on the Board of Directors of Covenant House International, which provides services for homeless youth. He was honored by the organization with their Beacon of Hope Award in 2011. Additionally in each of the last 13 years, Cashman has participated in the group's CEO Solidarity Sleepout to raise money and draw attention to its cause.

Jean Afterman

Senior Vice President, Assistant General Manager

Jean Afterman enters her 23rd season as the Yankees' Assistant General Manager and 13th as Senior Vice President in 2024. At the time of her appointment, she became only the third female to hold the position of Assistant General Manager in Major League Baseball history.

Ms. Afterman has been an integral part of the Yankees' efforts and operations in Asia. In her first year with the Yankees, she was instrumental in developing the club's relationship with the Yomiuri Giants of the Japan Central League and signing three-time MVP Hideki Matsui. In 2007, she joined team President Randy Levine and General Manager Brian Cashman on a week-long trip to Asia that concluded with a working agreement with the Chinese Baseball Association. She once again joined Levine and Cashman in 2010, when the Yankees brought the 2009 World Series trophy to Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong. While in Hong Kong, Ms. Afterman was given the honor of throwing out one of the ceremonial first pitches at the 2010 Phoenix Cup, an annual international women's baseball tournament.

Her contributions and leadership have been repeatedly recognized throughout her baseball career. Ms. Afterman was selected as one of the "50 Most Powerful Women in New York" by the New York Post in 2003 and 2007, and was named one of the 2004 "Power 100" by the Sporting News. In 2007, Ms. Afterman was profiled as one of Crain's New York Business' "100 Most Influential Women in New York Business," and in 2008, she was noted by Forbes as one of the top female executives in Baseball. In 2010, Ms. Afterman was named by WISE (Women in Sports and Events) as one of the "Women of the Year," and was tabbed by New York Moves magazine as a "Power Woman." In 2013, she was again profiled on the front page of her hometown newspaper, the San Francisco Chronicle.

In more recent years, Ms. Afterman was named one of Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal's 2017 "Game Changers," and her story was featured on the YES Network and ESPN.com. She was named one of Crain's New York Business' "2019 Most Notable Women in the Business of Sports," and was awarded Baseball America's "2019 Trailblazer of the Year Award," becoming the inaugural winner of the honor. In 2021, she was again honored when she was recognized by the Sports Business Journal as one of its class of 2021 members of "The Champions: Pioneers and Innovators in Sports Business." She was also saluted for her contributions to baseball during the 2021 offseason with a Baseball Service Award from the New York Pro Scouts Association.

Ms. Afterman is a frequent guest speaker on the topics of women in sports and the business of baseball, having participated in events sponsored by Major League Baseball, Columbia Business School, New York University, SABR, Beyond Sport, the Sports Lawyers Association and WISE, among others. In 2018 and 2019, Ms. Afterman was a member of the Steering Committee for the Integrity and Impact Award presented at the BT Sport Industry Awards in London.

Ms. Afterman joined the Yankees with a diverse business and legal background, focusing on international sports and licensing with an emphasis on U.S.-Japan matters. Prior to joining the Yankees, she managed her own practice, providing athletic representation and management with a specialization in arbitration proceedings. From 1994-99, Ms. Afterman was General Counsel at KDN Sports, Inc., and handled business and legal affairs for international baseball clients, including Hideo Nomo, Hideki Irabu, Masato Yoshii, Alfonso Soriano and more than 30 Major and Minor League players. In 1996, Ms. Afterman was appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture to a federal advisory committee, the National Organic Standards Board.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkeley in 1979, Ms. Afterman was the recipient of the Rosalynn Schneider Eisner Prize and the Mark Goodson Scholarship Grant. She received her J.D. from the University of San Francisco School of Law in 1991. In 2009, she was named "Alumni of the Year" by the Katherine Delmar Burke School in San Francisco.

For many years, Ms. Afterman maintained an active role in the Bronx community, working closely with P.S. 35, an elementary school within walking distance of Yankee Stadium. For more than a decade, she organized Yankees-sponsored Read-A-Thons and directed a mentoring program which matched Yankees employees with fourth and fifth grade students. Additionally, she has worked with high school-aged students through New York City's Explorers program, which engages young people through career-orientation programs. She received the 2009 "Exploring Leadership Award" for her work with the group.

In 2012 and 2013, she served on the Board of Trustees of the Women's Sports Foundation, and in 2015, she was appointed to serve on the advisory committee that oversees the Commissioner's Front Office and Field Staff Diversity Pipeline Program. In 2018 and 2019, Ms. Afterman served on the Board of Directors of DREAM (formerly Harlem RBI) and in 2020, she joined the Board of the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association. Most recently, in 2021, Ms. Afterman joined the Board of Beyond Sport.

Michael Fishman

Vice President, Assistant General Manager

Michael Fishman begins his seventh season as a Vice President and 10th season as an Assistant General Manager, working with General Manager Brian Cashman in all areas related to baseball operations, including player acquisitions and evaluation, roster management, staffing and personnel decisions, player contract negotiations and salary arbitration. In addition, he oversees all aspects of the club's baseball research, statistical analysis, and baseball information systems.

The 2024 season marks his 20th year with the Yankees organization, having been hired by the club in July 2005 as a Baseball Operations Analyst. From November 2006 through the 2014 season, he was the club's first Director of Quantitative Analysis, responsible for all of the Yankees' proprietary baseball operations systems and assembling a staff devoted to quantitative research. In this role, he oversaw all statistical research projects, providing information, recommendations and advance scouting reports to the baseball operations department and coaching staff. He also oversaw the baseball operations internship program.

Prior to joining the Yankees, Mr. Fishman was an actuarial associate with AXA Equitable Life Insurance Company.

Born in New York City and raised in Fairfield, Conn., Mr. Fishman graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa from Yale University in 2001 with a Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics.

Over the last several seasons, Mr. Fishman has regularly given his time to school-age children and graduate students, speaking to them on a variety of topics related to the application of mathematics in the professional world.

He resides in Westchester Co., N.Y., with his wife, Sheryl, his daughter, JJ, and his son, Ellis.

Tim Naehring

Vice President, Baseball Operations

Tim Naehring begins his ninth season as Vice President of Baseball Operations with the Yankees, assisting General Manager Brian Cashman with player acquisitions, roster management and evaluation of all player personnel.

This season marks his 17th with the Yankees, having served as a professional scout from the fall of 2007 through the end of the 2015 season. After covering the minors and Majors in 2008, he was primarily responsible for covering the National League and crosschecking the American League from 2009-15.

Mr. Naehring began his front office career with the Cincinnati Reds during spring training in 1999, becoming a special assistant to general manager Jim Bowden. From October 2000 through 2005, he was the Reds' Director of Player Development, and he also held the role of Minor League Field Coordinator from October 2000 through 2003 and during the 2006 and 2007 seasons.

A native and current resident of Cincinnati, Mr. Naehring is a 1985 graduate of La Salle High School, where he was a three-sport athlete in baseball, soccer and basketball. He attended Miami (Ohio) University from 1985-88 and was named Mid-American Conference Player of the Year after his final season.

In June of 1988, he was drafted by the Boston Red Sox in the eighth round of the First-Year Player Draft. Mr. Naehring went on to play parts of eight Major League seasons with Boston from 1990-97, batting .282 (527-for-1,872) with 49 home runs and 250 RBI in 547 career games before a torn right elbow ligament ended his career on June 23, 1997.

In 1996, Mr. Naehring founded the Athletes Reaching Out Foundation (ARO), which has funded various good works in the greater Cincinnati area, including a mini-Fenway Park in Miamitown, Ohio.

He and his wife, Kris, have a daughter, Jamison, and a son, J.T.

Damon Oppenheimer

Vice President, Domestic Amateur Scouting

Damon Oppenheimer enters his 32nd season with the Yankees and 22nd as a Vice President in the organization's scouting department. Since 2005, Mr. Oppenheimer has fully directed the Yankees' efforts related to Major League Baseball's First-Year Player Draft, including the evaluation of all eligible players and the Yankees' selections. As part of his responsibilities, he manages all of the club's crosscheckers and area scouts throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Mr. Oppenheimer was twice honored during the 2018-19 offseason. He was first acknowledged by his scouting peers at the Baseball Winter Meetings with the 2018 "West Coast Scout of the Year Award." Then in January 2019, he received the "George Genovese Lifetime Achievement in Scouting Award" from the Professional Baseball Scouts Foundation at the 16th Annual "In the Spirit of the Game" Awards Dinner.

This season marks his 10th with the title of Vice President of Domestic Amateur Scouting. Between 2003 and 2014, he held various other Vice President titles, including those for Amateur Scouting (2007-14), Scouting (2005-06), Player Development and Scouting (2004) and Professional Scouting (2003).

A native of San Diego, Calif., Mr. Oppenheimer began his player development career as a part-time scout for the Padres while finishing his degree at the University of Southern California. He was hired as a full-time scout by San Diego in 1988, continuing in that role until he joined the Yankees as the Midwest crosschecker in 1993.

Mr. Oppenheimer became the team's Western crosschecker for the 1995 season and briefly joined the Texas Rangers as a national crosschecker from November 1995 through July 1996 before returning to the Yankees in August 1996 as a national crosschecker. He also served as the Yankees' director of player personnel from 2000-02.

The former USC catcher batted .364 in 1985, earning Pac-10 All-Conference honorable mention before being selected by Milwaukee in the 18th round of that June's First-Year Player Draft. He appeared in 12 games for Single-A Beloit in 1985 before getting injured the following year in spring training, ending his professional playing career. Mr. Oppenheimer returned to school and received his bachelor's degree in exercise science in 1987.

He and his wife, Tina, reside in Wesley Chapel, Fla., and have three children: A.J., Sierra and Gehrig.

Kevin Reese

Vice President, Player Development

Kevin Reese begins his 23rd year with the Yankees organization, his 17th as a scout or member of the front office, and his third as Vice President of Player Development after four years (2018-2021) of heading up the department with the title of Senior Director of Player Development.

Mr. Reese is responsible for setting the long-term strategy and day-to-day direction for Yankees' affiliates in the U.S. and the Dominican Republic, including all player-related and coaching activities. Mr. Reese also manages the hiring and assignments of all affiliate coaches and field staff and directs all player promotions and releases.

Over the last seven years, Mr. Reese has overseen a transformation of the Yankees' player development efforts, implementing a collaborative and holistic approach that integrates various Yankees departments, including Performance Science, Baseball Analytics and Player Health & Performance. Under his direction, facilities at all levels have been modernized and expanded and coaching philosophy has been unified to maximize the potential of both players and coaches. Some of the projects that have taken place during his tenure include the construction of a biomechanics lab and pitching development center at the Yankees' minor league complex in Tampa, expansion of the video resources across all affiliates and the build-out of facilities and operational guidelines for player development at Somerset (Double-A) and Hudson Valley (High-A), which joined the Yankees' affiliate system for the 2021 season.

Mr. Reese is also a charter member of the New York Yankees Diversity and Inclusion Committee, which was established at the start of 2021 to identify, engage and address issues related to equality, racial justice and inclusivity.

Mr. Reese joined the Yankees Pro Scouting Department at the conclusion of his playing career and held the title of Professional Scout from 2008 through 2014. For the three seasons from 2015-17, he was the Yankees' Director of Pro Scouting, coordinating scout coverage and report intake while using compiled information to help guide trade discussions and free agent signings. Additionally, Mr. Reese scouted the Yankees' own affiliates, organized advance scouting for the postseason and contributed to the construction of the Yankees' Major League and minor league rosters.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Mr. Reese was originally selected by the Padres in the 27th round of the 2000 First-Year Player Draft from the University of San Diego, where he was a two-time West Coast Conference first-team selection and was later named to the West Coast Conference's 40th Anniversary All-Conference Team in 2007. On December 18, 2001, he was acquired by the Yankees in exchange for infielder Bernabel Castro.

Over 849 games across eight minor league seasons from 2000-07 (including 2000-01 with the Padres organization), Mr. Reese, a left-handed-hitting outfielder, posted a .292 (953-for-3,269) batting average with 546 runs scored, 192 doubles, 37 triples, 67 home runs, 395 RBI, 372 walks, 138 stolen bases, a .370 on-base percentage and an .804 OPS. Mr. Reese also appeared in 12 Major League games with the Yankees over two seasons (2005-06), batting .385 (5-for-13) with two runs scored, one RBI, two walks and one stolen base.

He and his wife, Laura, reside in Odessa, Fla., and have four children: Jackson, Kannon, Brooklyn and Gwynn.

Yankees HOPE Week

The 2023 season marked the Yankees' 14th edition of HOPE Week (Helping Others Persevere & Excel) – an initiative rooted in the belief that acts of goodwill provide hope and encouragement to more than just the recipient of the gesture. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 pandemic prevented the Yankees from hosting the annual event in 2020.

Each day during HOPE Week, the Yankees reach out to an individual, family or organization worthy of recognition and support. Whenever possible, the Yankees will attempt to personally connect with individuals in the settings of their greatest successes at locations that honor the spirit of their noble endeavors. All outreach in the community ultimately culminates with recognition at Yankee Stadium during a Yankees game.

HOPE Week is about people helping people. The one thing everybody has — no matter their background or financial situation — is time. By involving every one of our players and coaches, along with Manager Aaron Boone, General Manager Brian Cashman, our minor league affiliates and front office staff, we are sending the message that everyone can give of themselves to make their community a better place. Equally significant during HOPE Week is garnering publicity for the highlighted causes and organizations. The greatest challenge facing many not-for-profits is generating interest, awareness and funding for their missions.

Below is a recap of our most recent HOPE Week events in 2023.

TUESDAY, JULY 4, 2023

The Yankees honored MLB Network researcher Sarah Langs on the 84th anniversary of Lou Gehrig making his famous "Luckiest Man" speech. Langs and other women from the organization Her ALS Story took a pregame tour of Monument Park and the Yankees Museum presented by Bank of America, then attended Manager Aaron Boone's morning press conference, where Langs joined Boone on the dais and Langs' parents learned they were throwing out the ceremonial first pitch from Gerrit Cole. The Stadium video board played a prerecorded recitation of Gehrig's full speech as voiced by Yankees players, Sarah and women from Her ALS Story, and the women were side-by-side on the field with the Yankees starting lineup for the national anthem.

President's Volunteer Service Award

At the conclusion of each of the last 13 HOPE Weeks (2010-19, '21-23), the Yankees have been honored with the President's Volunteer Service Award, given "in recognition and appreciation of commitment to strengthening the nation and for making a difference through volunteer service." The awards are bestowed by AmeriCorps, which empowers Americans from all backgrounds to answer the President's Call to Service. The Yankees encourage fans to visit AmeriCorps.gov to find service and volunteer opportunities in their communities.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 5, 2023

The Yankees continued their celebration of HOPE Week by recognizing the recently restored Paterson, N.J., Negro Leagues venue Hinchliffe Stadium. Following a tour of the facility, a group of Yankees players, coaches and staff, including Gleyber Torres, Nestor Cortes, Jose Trevino, First Base Coach Travis Chapman, Bullpen Coach Mike Harkey and Baseball Operations Senior Advisor Omar Minaya, hosted a baseball clinic for two local youth teams, the Paterson Divas and the Silk City Bombers. The visit coincided with the 76th anniversary of Paterson native Larry Doby breaking the American League color barrier on July 5, 1947. Doby's grandson Scott Hutchins, and Paterson Mayor Andre Sayegh were also in attendance and addressed the group.

Yankees players, including Gleyber Torres (L), hosted a baseball clinic for two local youth teams, the Paterson Divas and the Silk City Bombers, to celebrate the restoration of Hinchliffe Stadium.

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 2023

The Yankees honored founder Joann Ferrara and her organization, Dancing Dreams, a nonprofit that provides dance classes and performance opportunities for boys and girls ages 3 to 21 who have medical or physical challenges. The organization's goal is to allow its dancers to experience the joy of dance regardless of their abilities. Classes are adapted so each child can participate to the best of his or her own unique skill set. The program focuses on abilities — not disabilities. Yankees Manager Aaron Boone and Yankees players Harrison Bader, Domingo Germán, Wandy Peralta and Albert Abreu joined the participants for a dance class at their studio in Bayside, Queens.

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 2023

The Yankees honored Street Lab to conclude the 14th edition of HOPE Week. Co-founded by Leslie and Sam Davol, Street Lab is a nonprofit that creates temporary "pop-up" programs for city streets and public places in New York City, including parks, plazas and parking lots. Designed for all ages, these transportable "pop-up" public play spaces are meant to be assembled and broken-down within hours. Yankees Giancarlo Stanton, DJ LeMahieu, Jose Trevino, Clay Holmes, Clarke Schmidt, Oswaldo Cabrera, Billy McKinney, Ron Marinaccio, Ian Hamilton, Nick Ramirez and third-base coach Luis Rojas surprised and played with local children from the area in Street Lab's open-street event.

Organizational Initiative

The Yankees are proud that HOPE Week has been celebrated by its minor league affiliates with their own local outreach, with teams holding events from 2012-19 and '22-23 (with a COVID-related pause in 2020 and 2021).

Commitment to Community

The New York Yankees are committed to promoting and sustaining cordial and cooperative relationships with their neighbors and community partners; working in conjunction with them to enhance the quality of life throughout the surrounding communities. On a consistent basis, the Yankees partner with community-based organizations to host events at Yankee Stadium and dedicate several millions of dollars in resources to support various outreach efforts that focus on providing positive educational, recreational and social outlets for New York City residents.

2023 COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Back to School Resource Fair: On August 15, the Yankees partnered with New York City Public Schools and the Bronx Community Foundation to host a back-to-school resource fair at Yankee Stadium. Over 3,000 Bronx-based students and families walked through the doors of the Great Hall to close out the summer and get a head start on the new school year. The annual event is designed to ensure that local families have access to resources that will allow their children to excel throughout the upcoming academic months. Families attending the event were provided with backpacks and school supplies, and more than 20 community organizations were on hand to provide information about their services in the areas of food & accommodation, health & social services, youth initiatives and employment opportunities.

Before the start of the 2023-24 school year, the Yankees held a Back-to-School Resource Fair for more than 3,000 Bronx schoolchildren and their families.

Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl Mentoring Session: In association with the Yankees and Rutgers University, the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl hosted a mentoring and skills clinic at Yankee Stadium with youth members from the Kips Bay Boys & Girls Club on December 27. The firsthand experience featured coaches and student-athletes from Rutgers who coordinated physical skills activities and provided valuable insight and personal experiences related to leadership, the importance of an education and the need to focus on and cultivate one's overall wellness.

Bronx Community Clean-Up Series: The Yankees again partnered with the New York City Department of Sanitation on a Bronx Community Clean-Up Series that ran from July through August. The initiative aimed to help fight litter during the summer months by incentivizing residents to help clean up their local communities on designated days in a competition-style format. Each volunteer also received a voucher valid for two tickets to a select Yankees 2023 home game. Overall, approximately 600 volunteers gathered at various locations in the Bronx, combining to collect a total of 5,203 lbs. of trash.

In addition, the winning team from the Mt. Eden section of the Bronx was recognized and welcomed at Yankee Stadium in a suite space on September 8, where they enjoyed the Yankees-Brewers game.

Bronx Education All-Star Day: The Yankees again partnered with New York City Public Schools to implement an incentive program that motivates and enhances the educational experience for students in grades 5-8 who attend Bronx-based schools in Districts 7-12. From the beginning of the academic year in September through April, students are highlighted for their achievements and commitment to leadership, academics, community service and teamwork. On May 10, more than 10,000 students were recognized at Yankee Stadium during a pregame celebration for excelling in the aforementioned areas of focus. In addition, all students, teachers and NYC Public Schools officials were invited to stay and enjoy that afternoon's Yankees-Athletics game.

Aaron Judge addressed students on Bronx Education All-Star Day on May 10, 2023.

On December 21, 2023, in conjunction with the Food Bank for NYC, the Yankees held a Pop-Up Food Distribution a few blocks away from Yankee Stadium at the NYPD's 44th Precinct, where Manager Aaron Boone assisted in distributing holiday toys and groceries to Bronx residents facing heightened food insecurities.

CORO Leadership New York City Issue Day: In January, Coro Leadership New York 38 hosted their City Issue Day on climate and sustainability at Yankee Stadium. The day consisted of discussions with professionals from across nonprofit, public and private sectors designed to explore critical issues facing New York City and develop new ways to lead change in their communities and organizations.

CUNY Sport Management Mentoring Program: A historic Yankees-CUNY (City University of New York) Partnership Program was implemented as part of the creation of the Yankees' Diversity and Inclusion Committee in 2021. The program is predicated on identifying and exposing CUNY students and alumni to career paths, employment, and business opportunities throughout the Yankees organization. This relationship between the Yankees and CUNY, the largest urban university system in the United States, again included direct immersion into the Yankees Sport Management Mentoring Program. In the spring of 2023, CUNY students took part in a four-week virtual series of information sessions with Yankees front office members. Of particular note, CUNY's demographics include a wide swath of minorities and other individuals who are underrepresented in corporate settings.

CUNY and Bank of America Internship Program: For the third consecutive year, the Yankees partnered with CUNY and Bank of America to implement an internship program at Yankee Stadium. Internships were awarded to qualifying students attending a CUNY-affiliated school. These students had the opportunity to gain experience within the Yankees front office, attaining a unique and firsthand look into working in the sports industry.

District 9 STEM Expo: The Yankees partnered with Bronx Community School District 9 and 21stCented to host the 2023 STEM Expo at Yankee Stadium on May 6. The event included approximately 500 students who attended as a reward for their academic achievement and participation in STEM-oriented programs. Participants were able to experience hands-on activities and demonstrations related to Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) learning as conducted with support from STEM NOLA. Approximately 80 science projects were also presented by District 9 students from across grade levels. The Expo was one of many District 9 initiatives geared toward preparing students to be active participants in an evolving future workforce.

New York Yankees Diversity and Inclusion Committee: Formalized in September of 2020 and announced in February of 2021, the New York Yankees Diversity and

On May 6, 2023, the District 9 STEM Expo was held at Yankee Stadium, featuring hands-on activities in the Great Hall and approximately 80 science projects from local students on display on the Field Level concourse.

Inclusion Committee is dedicated to identifying, engaging and addressing issues related to equality, racial justice and inclusivity. The creation of this group was the result of an extended period of planning and collaboration with community leaders and within the Yankees organization to determine the appropriate framework for imparting meaningful and long-lasting change. Precipitated by the profound impact of senseless tragedies in communities throughout our nation, this Committee's mission focuses on identifying and combating disparities and systemic inequities that obstruct socioeconomic fairness and progress for marginalized groups.

The Committee is comprised of a dedicated and diverse network of Yankees staff members, on-field personnel, alumni, and outside community leaders and business partners. The shared goal has been to identify ways to combine resources and utilize the panel's various prominent public platforms to address and eradicate barriers that impede access, diversity, inclusion and opportunity for our neighbors around Yankee Stadium and in the larger metropolitan community.

DREAM Career Conference: The Yankees and DREAM partnered to host a career conference at Yankee Stadium on January 12. The event provided DREAM college-aged alumni and a select group of DREAM Charter High School students the chance to network, grow their professional skills and learn about exciting training and career opportunities from professionals across various industries.

NEW YORK YANKEES AND FOOD BANK FOR NEW YORK CITY RECEIVE NYC MAYOR'S "PARTNERSHIP IMPACT AWARD" AT GRACIE MANSION ON APR. 18, 2023

On Tues., Apr. 18, 2023, at Gracie Mansion, the New York Yankees and Food Bank for New York City were honored for their joint service to the community, receiving the Partnership Impact Award for their collaborative efforts in providing 150,000 meals to more than 21,338 New Yorkers in the 2022 calendar year. The award was one of four bestowed at the Mayor's Service Recognition Ceremony following the review of more than 150 nominations.

The Mayoral Service Recognition Program is an annual citywide celebration of volunteers and service members, recognizing efforts to build solutions in response to community challenges and meet residents' most urgent needs. The recognition program takes place throughout National Volunteer Month in April as a way to recognize diverse volunteer efforts of the previous calendar year.

In 2022, the Yankees and the Food Bank for New York City continued their longstanding partnership by assisting Bronx residents facing heightened food insecurities in challenging times via monthly "pop-up" food distributions at Yankee Stadium. The distributions — which began in May of 2021 and have continued into 2024 — provide 500 families per month with access to shelf-stable food items and fresh produce. The Yankees also provide additional resources to the Food Bank for New York City throughout the year.

Events: The Yankees and the Food Bank for New York City continued their longstanding partnership by assisting Bronx residents facing heightened food insecurities in challenging times via monthly “pop-up” food distributions at Yankee Stadium. The distributions — which began in May of 2021 — provide 500 families per month with access to shelf-stable food items and fresh produce.

In celebration of the holidays, a second distribution event during the month of December was held at the NYPD’s 44th Precinct Office in the Bronx on December 21. Yankees Manager Aaron Boone and members of the Yankees front office provided resources and assistance as an additional 500 families gained access to food, holiday toys and more.

Fueling Our Future Program: Health and wellness, as well as grassroots engagement with local communities within the Bronx, are pillars of focus for the Yankees’ Diversity & Inclusion Committee. As part of the organization’s commitment to Bronx-based individuals, the Yankees and the Kips Bay Boys and Girls Club partnered on the “Fueling Our Future” initiative, which targets young people in underserved communities.

On July 20 and August 17, area youth visited Yankee Stadium and were treated with health and wellness resources and advice on how to excel in the classroom, on the field and in their overall lives. Approximately 30 program participants from the Kips Bay Boys and Girls Club heard from informative speakers, including Yankees’ front office staffers, local NYC chef Shawnae Dixon and a senior chef from Yankee Stadium’s food service provider, Legends Hospitality. In addition, all program participants and staff were invited to and enjoyed the Yankees-Nationals game on August 24.

Healthy Home Plate Program: The Yankees and Legends Hospitality again teamed up at Yankee Stadium to host the Healthy Home Plate Program, which provided young people from South Bronx United and SCAN-Harbor instructions on how to prepare and incorporate healthy and affordable meals into their lifestyles. Kitchens located within Yankee Stadium became classrooms, where Legends Hospitality staff engaged youth with hands-on cooking demonstrations. After each session, each participant received a bag filled with provisions to practice their new skills at home. The youth participants were recognized and welcomed at Yankee Stadium on August 24 to enjoy the Yankees-Nationals game.

Hispanic Heritage Month: The Yankees again proudly celebrated Hispanic Heritage Month (HHM) by recognizing and embracing Hispanic heritage, language, culture and traditions. Celebrations kicked off as the Yankees hosted a group of college students from the Hispanic Federation’s CREAR Futuros (Believe in Your Future) Program, which serves as a model for Latino college success and completion. Other highlights included Latin-inspired food items available to fans at Yankee Stadium and a unique ticket offer in which fans could recognize their Latin-American heritage with a New Era Yankees cap emblazoned with their homeland’s flag.

In addition, the Yankees bestowed their annual Hispanic Heritage Month Community Achievement Awards to individuals and organizations making a profound difference in the lives of our community. Recipients were highlighted on Yankees social media platforms and recognized in a pregame on-field ceremony on September 21. This year’s honorees were: Renaissance Youth Center, NYC Department of Youth and Community Development (DYCD) and the NYC International Baseball Little League.

As part of Hispanic Heritage Month recognition, Yankees front office employees discussed their career paths and job seeking strategies with students from CREAR Futuros.

Judge’s Chambers Recognition Program: Throughout the 2023 regular season, the Yankees continued to recognize individuals who have dedicated their lives to making a difference in the community. Guests included personnel in the health, education and social responsibility fields, among others.

Make-A-Wish Foundation, Metro New York and Western New York: Since 1980, the Make-A-Wish Foundation has enriched the lives of children who have been diagnosed with life-threatening medical conditions through its wish-granting work. On an annual basis, the Yankees work in conjunction with the Make-A-Wish Foundation to help grant wishes. In addition, resources dedicated through the New York Yankees Foundation support Make-A-Wish’s efforts to lift children’s spirits and convey the message that wishes can come true.

YANKEE STADIUM BECOMES COVID-19 VACCINATION SITE IN 2021

From Feb. 5, 2021 through Dec. 22, 2021 — and in association with New York State, New York City, SOMOS Community Care and the New York National Guard — Yankee Stadium served as a mass COVID-19 vaccination site. The initiative was developed not only to address the Bronx’s substantial positivity rate at the onset of the pandemic (which was the highest of any borough in the city in February 2021) but to also further mandates from the State and City for fairness and social equity in the vaccine distribution process. During its time in operation, 104,109 vaccinations were administered at Yankee Stadium, with most going to Bronx residents.

The very first patient receives the COVID-19 vaccine at Yankee Stadium on Feb. 5, 2021.

Bronx resident Ana Figueroa receives the 100,000th shot administered at Yankee Stadium as GM Brian Cashman and SVP Corporate/Community Relations Brian Smith look on.

NYC Department of Small Business Services Workforce1 Job & Resource Fair: On May 22, the Yankees hosted the NYC Department of Small Business Services (SBS) Workforce1 Job & Resource Fair for job seekers and small business owners at Yankee Stadium. The fair was held in support of SBS's celebration of Small Business Month, which shines a light on the efforts, hard work and courage of small businesses in making our community a better place. At the event, job seekers met with career advisors and recruiters, applied for job opportunities, participated in resume and interview skill-building workshops, received free financial counseling and discovered connections to other community resources. Additionally, small business owners had access to a wide variety of support services to teach them about recruitment & hiring, employee training, financing and more.

On May 22, 2023, the Yankees hosted the NYC SBS Workforce1 Job & Resource Fair for small businesses and job seekers.

PSAL Baseball Championship Games: The Yankees partnered with the Public Schools Athletic League (PSAL) to host the 2023 PSAL Baseball Championship Games at Yankee Stadium on June 12. Over the course of two games, guests witnessed Hunter College High School (Manhattan) defeat Metropolitan Campus (Queens), 2-1, for the AA Baseball Championship and Tottenville High School (Staten Island) defeat Gregorio Lupero High School for Science and Math (Manhattan), 7-4, for the AAA Baseball Championship.

PSAL MVP Scholar-Athlete Awards Ceremony: In association with the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl, the Yankees collaborated with the PSAL to host the MVP Scholar-Athlete Awards ceremony at Yankee Stadium on December 18. Eleven scholar-athletes from each of the five boroughs of New York City were recognized for their accomplishments in the classroom and for their athletic achievements. In addition, the MVP Scholar-Athletes were invited to Yankee Stadium on December 28 where they enjoyed the Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl, which featured Rutgers University and the University of Miami.

Publicolor Community Paint Project: The Yankees teamed up with Publicolor in early August to transform PS 443 in the Bronx with color. Publicolor engages disconnected youth in their education through a continuum of design-based programs and academic support. The objective of this team project was to create a beautiful, warm, welcoming and student-centric environment. Yankees employees volunteered their time to paint the facility alongside area youth. Since 2013, 11 different spaces throughout the Bronx have been enlivened with color through this partnership.

Senior Luncheon Events: On January 20 and July 19, respectively, the Yankees partnered with NYC Councilwoman Althea Stevens to host a senior citizen luncheon at Yankee Stadium to celebrate and acknowledge their contributions to the community. Seniors were joined by young people from the Renaissance Youth Center and SCAN-Harbor in an effort to help bridge the intergenerational gap in our neighborhoods.

Summer Night Lights: In conjunction with Major League Baseball's PLAY BALL initiative, the Yankees launched a new Summer Night Lights program in mid-July alongside the

New York City Police Department's (NYPD) Blue Chips Program, NYC Parks, the New York City Department of Youth & Community Development (DYCD), The Players Alliance, PitCCh In Foundation, SCAN-Harbor and Poland Spring® Spring Water. On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from July 11 through mid-August, approximately 300 young people from the Bronx between the ages of 12 and 18 had the opportunity to take part in tournament-style, co-ed baseball and softball games at Elston Gene Howard Field, which is located on the site of the original Yankee Stadium. The nighttime schedule was chosen to supplement the limited number of organized evening activities available to young people during the summer.

The program was a collective effort to encourage youth to engage in baseball-related activities that demonstrate the positive way the game can serve as an outlet for recreation, social responsibility and healthy competition. Additionally, by gathering young individuals from all areas of the Bronx, artificial and territorial boundaries were shattered to bring communities closer together.

Yankees STEM Scholars Program: The Yankees partnered with the STEM Educational Institute, Inc. on an initiative that aimed to give underrepresented high school students in New York City the technological skills needed to enter today's workforce while building generational wealth. The curriculum — which kicked off in late July at Yankee Stadium — provided a one-week program that served as a career bridge for students to enter STEM fields and college majors. Topics included STEM and Coding Skills, Generational Wealth and Future Goals, Mental Health Resources, Baseball Analytics and Financial Stability. After completing the summer program, students continued to learn and earn income through offsite monthly meetings that put each participant on the path to earning a certification as a Data Analyst or Data Scientist.

Yankees-Stonewall Scholars Initiative: Launched at the beginning of the 2018-19 academic year, the Yankees-Stonewall Scholars Initiative celebrates the achievements of New York City Public School graduating seniors who have demonstrated academic achievement, a commitment to equality and impactful support for the LGBTQ community. The initiative has provided $250,000 worth of college scholarships over the last five years, including five separate $10,000 scholarships that have been presented to one student from each of the five boroughs each year.

The 2023 Yankees-Stonewall Scholars were recognized on June 21 at Yankee Stadium in a celebratory on-field pregame ceremony. This year was particularly special for the initiative as the inaugural 2019 class of honorees graduated from college in May.

On June 21, 2023, the Yankees celebrated New York's Legacy of Pride and recognized the fifth class of Yankees-Stonewall Scholars.

HOLIDAY CHEER

Annual Holiday Food Drive: The Yankees partnered with members of the Bronx Clergy to host the annual Holiday Food Drive on December 6, at Yankee Stadium. Approximately 100,000 pounds of food was collected and distributed to families in need throughout the Bronx. In addition, 4,000 $25 food vouchers were allocated to Bronx residents for redemption at local C-Town or Bravo Supermarkets to assist with the expenses related to preparing a holiday meal.

The Yankees also hosted a virtual Holiday Food Drive that generated over $22,000 that was dedicated to purchasing additional food to be disbursed in the community. For every $40 donated online to the Virtual Holiday Food Drive, fans received an offer code valid for two tickets to select Yankees 2024 regular season home games and an entry to win a Yankees prize basket.

Thanksgiving Food Voucher Giveaway: The Yankees and Krasdale Foods again teamed up to hold a Thanksgiving Food Voucher Giveaway on November 16. Approximately 4,000 $25 food vouchers were distributed to Bronx residents in an effort to assist local families in preparing their Thanksgiving meals. The vouchers were redeemable at participating Bronx-based C-Town and Bravo supermarkets.

Thanksgiving Feast: The Yankees, Legends Hospitality and SCAN-Harbor collaborated to host a traditional Thanksgiving Feast on November 17, for local residents at the Rev. T. Wendell Foster Recreation Center, across the street from Yankee Stadium. Several hundred individuals were able to attend and enjoy a hot, holiday meal.

Winter Wonderland: Yankee Stadium transformed into the North Pole on December 15, when the Yankees hosted Winter Wonderland in conjunction with Walmart, Neil and Amanda Friedman, Legends Hospitality, American Foliage, the Aaron Judge ALL RISE Foundation and Nike. Almost 4,000 local youth were treated to a holiday extravaganza in Yankee Stadium's Great Hall, complete with holiday decorations, festive music, food and drink, and caroling by the Renaissance Youth Center Choir. Each child in attendance also had an opportunity to go home with a holiday gift of their choosing. In total, approximately 9,000 toys were distributed to area youth during the month of December.

The Yankees held their annual Winter Wonderland event in Yankee Stadium's Great Hall on December 15, 2023.

Aaron Judge hit 37HR in 106 games in 2023, joining Mark McGwire (39HR in 104G in 1995 w/ Oakland) as the second player in Major League history to hit at least 37HR in a season while playing in 106 games-or-fewer. He also took home the 2023 Roberto Clemente Award, which is given to the Major League player who best represents the game of baseball through extraordinary character, community involvement, philanthropy and positive contributions, both on and off the field.

In 2018, Judge established the ALL RISE Foundation, which works to inspire children and youth to become responsible citizens by engaging them in activities that encourage them to reach unlimited possibilities.

AARON BOONE • Manager

FULL NAME: Aaron John Boone
BIRTHDATE: 3/9/73 • OPENING DAY AGE: 51
BIRTHPLACE: La Mesa, Calif.
RESIDES: Greenwich, Conn.
COLLEGE: University of Southern California

STATUS

- Was re-signed by the Yankees on October 19, 2021, to a three-year contract through the 2024 season with a club option for 2025...was named the 33rd Manager in club history on December 4, 2017.

AT THE HELM IN 2023

- Guided the Yankees to an 82-80 record, finishing fourth in the AL East...marked the Yankees 31st consecutive winning season and sixth such season under Boone.
- Managed his 800th game with the Yankees on 7/14 at Colorado...according to Elias, his 476 wins through his first 800 decisions were the 11th-most by any Manager in Major League history.
- Recorded his 500th career managerial win in Game 2 on 9/12 at Boston...became just the eighth Manager in Yankees history to accomplish the feat, joining Joe McCarthy (1,460-867-21), Joe Torre (1,173-767-2), Casey Stengel (1,149-696-6), Miller Huggins (1,067-719-10), Ralph Houk (944-806-7), Joe Girardi (910-710) and Billy Martin (556-385).

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

- His 509 career managerial wins rank eighth on the Yankees' all-time list, trailing only Joe McCarthy (1,460-867-21), Joe Torre (1,173-767-2), Casey Stengel (1,149-696-6), Miller Huggins (1,067-719-10), Ralph Houk (944-806-7), Joe Girardi (910-710) and Billy Martin (556-385)...recorded his 420th managerial win on 9/23/22 vs. Boston, surpassing Clark Griffith (419) for sole possession of eighth place on the Yankees' all-time managerial wins list...surpassed Buck Showalter (313) on 9/3/21 vs. Baltimore.

- According to Elias, was the first Manager in Baseball history to reach the postseason in each of his first five managerial seasons...since 2018, the Yankees are just one of six Major League teams and one of three American League teams to make the postseason in at least five of the last six seasons (also Atlanta, Houston, Los Angeles-NL, Milwaukee and Tampa Bay)...has led the Yankees to two division titles (2019 and 2022).

- Was the third Manager to make the playoffs in his first five seasons with the Yankees, joining Casey Stengel (first five from 1949-53) and Joe Torre (first 12 from 1996-2007).

- Has posted a 509-361 (.585) record over his six seasons as Manager, the fifth-best record in the Majors and the third-best record in the American League in that span, trailing only the Dodgers (558-313, .641), Astros (530-340, .609), Braves (515-354, .593) and Rays (511-359, .587)...the Yankees are one of four teams to post a winning record in each of the last six seasons (also Dodgers, Rays and Braves).

- Was the first Manager in Baseball history to guide his team to at least 100 wins in each of his first two seasons as skipper (2018-19)...his 203 managerial wins from 2018-19 trailed only Ralph Houk (205 wins with the Yankees from 1961-62) for most by any Manager over his first two seasons at the helm.

- Placed second in AL "Manager of the Year" voting in 2019 (received 13 first place votes, nine second place votes and four third place votes) after guiding the Yankees to a 103-59 record, the club's best mark since 2009 (also 103-59) and their Major League-record 21st 100-win season in franchise history...only two other franchises have 10 such seasons in the Modern Era since 1900 (also Brooklyn/Los Angeles Dodgers and Philadelphia/Kansas City/Oakland Athletics-10)...after going 100-62 in 2018, had back-to-back 100-win seasons for the second time since 1979 (also 2002-04)...the Yankees are one of four teams with consecutive 100-win seasons since 2010, joining the Los Angeles Dodgers (2021-23), Houston Astros (2017-19) and Atlanta Braves (2022-23)...Yankees batters set a franchise record with 306HR, 1HR shy of the Major League mark (the 2019 Minnesota Twins and 2023 Atlanta Braves each hit 307HR).

- Made his managerial debut in 2018...placed fifth in AL "Manager of the Year" balloting, receiving two third-place votes...guided the Yankees to a 100-62 record, the club's best record since 2009 (103-59) and the 20th 100-win season in franchise history...became the sixth Manager in Baseball history to lead his team to at least 100 wins in his rookie season, joining Ralph Houk (1961 Yankees, 109-53), Alex Cora (2018 Red Sox, 108-54), Dusty Baker (1993 Giants, 103-59), Sparky Anderson (1970 Reds, 102-60) and Mickey Cochrane (1934 Tigers, 101-53).

- Became the fourth Yankees Manager to lead the team to a postseason berth in his rookie managerial season, joining Ralph Houk in 1961 (won World Series), Yogi Berra in 1964 (lost World Series) and Dick Howser in 1980 (lost ALCS).

Wild Card / PS - Postseason / T-Tie

- ▶ In 2019, the Yankees batters set a franchise record in home runs (306)...in 2018, Yankees pitchers set franchise records for total strikeouts (1,634) and strikeouts by relievers (753).
- ▶ Made his managerial debut in 3/29/18 win at Toronto, becoming the 11th Manager to win his Yankees managerial debut on Opening Day and the 18th to win his Yankees managerial debut at any point during the season...was the fourth consecutive Manager to win his Yankees managerial debut (Joe Girardi in 2008 vs. Toronto, Joe Torre in 1996 at Cleveland and Buck Showalter in 1992 vs. Boston).
- ▶ Won his first home game as a Manager on 4/3/18 vs. Tampa Bay, becoming the sixth straight Yankees Manager to win his home Yankees managerial debut (also Girardi-2008, Torre-1996, Showalter-1992, Merrill-1990 and Dent-1989).
- ▶ With his father, Bob, became the fourth father-son duo to both serve as Major League Managers, joining Connie and Earle Mack, George and Dick Sisler and Bob and Joel Skinner...were joined by Buddy and David Bell in 2019 and Luis Rojas and his father, Felipe Alou, in 2020...Bob Boone spent parts of six seasons as a Major League skipper, leading the Kansas City Royals from 1995-97, then guiding the Reds from 2001-03, a stint during which he managed Aaron.
- ▶ Is the 18th Yankees Manager to have also played for the club...is one of eight active Managers (as of February 2, 2024) to have played for the franchise he currently manages, joining Kevin Cash (Tampa Bay), Alex Cora (Boston), A.J. Hinch (Detroit), Mark Kotsay (Oakland), Dave Martinez (Washington/Montreal), Bob Melvin (San Francisco) and Dave Roberts (Los Angeles-NL).

PLAYING CAREER

- ▶ Is part of the first family in Baseball history to produce three generations of Major League players...his father, Bob, played 19 seasons from 1972-90, and his grandfather, Ray, had a 13-year playing career from 1948-60...his older brother, Bret, played 14 seasons (1992-2005), including two with Aaron in Cincinnati from 1997-98...all four reached 1,000H at the Major League level.
- ▶ He (126) and brother, Bret (252) are one of 10 sets of brothers to each hit at least 100HR, joining Roberto and Sandy Alomar Jr., Ken and Cleto Boyer, Joe and Vince DiMaggio, Stephen and J.D. Drew, Bob and Irish Meusel, Yadier and Bengie Molina, Melvin Jr. and Justin Upton, Delmon and Dmitri Young, and Corey and Kyle Seager (credit: Elias).
- ▶ The 2003 NL All-Star hit .263 (1,017-for-3,871) with 519R, 216 doubles, 126HR, 555RBI and 1075B in 1,52 games over 12 Major League seasons as an infielder with the Cincinnati Reds (1997-2003), Yankees (2003), Cleveland Indians (2005-06), Florida Marlins (2007), Washington Nationals (2008) and Houston Astros (2009).
- ▶ Made his Major League debut with Cincinnati on 6/20/97 to replace his brother, Bret, who was optioned in what is believed to be the first transaction involving brothers...made his Major League debut that night at St. Louis, going 1-for-3 with 1RBI and 1SB...collected his first hit and RBI in his third plate appearance with an infield single off Matt Morris in the sixth inning...was ejected from the game by HP umpire Gary Darling for throwing his helmet (was just the fourth player in Baseball history to be ejected in his Major League debut).
- ▶ Made his first Opening Day roster with the Reds in 1998...hit his first career HR on 8/26 vs. the Cubs (Kerry Wood).
- ▶ Had arthroscopic surgery to clean out his left knee on 12/8/99, which was performed by Dr. Timothy Kremchek...underwent reconstructive surgery to repair a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee on 8/8/00...the surgery was performed by Kremchek and Dr. James Andrews...suffered the injury on 7/5/00 at St. Louis.
- ▶ Played 103 games with the Reds in 2001, despite being placed on the D.L. with broken bones suffered after being hit by pitches: 5/15-6/14 with a broken hamate bone in his right hand (suffered on 5/14 vs. Houston when he was hit by a Wade Miller pitch and had surgery the next day to remove the bone, performed by hand specialist Dr. Greg Sommerkamp and Dr. Timothy Kremchek), 8/15-31 with a broken right wrist (suffered on 8/14 at St. Louis when he was hit by a pitch by Matt Morris) and 9/24-the end of the season with a broken left thumb (suffered on 9/23 at Milwaukee when hit by a Jamey Wright pitch and had surgery to insert a pin and a wire into the thumb, also performed by Sommerkamp and Kremchek, on 9/27).
- ▶ Hit a career-high 26HR with the Reds in 2002...homered three times on 8/9/02 vs. San Diego, including two in the first inning off Padres starter Brett Tomko...later homered off Tomko in the fourth inning...hit the last of 4,652HR at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field on 9/22/02 off Philadelphia's Dan Plesac.
- ▶ Helped the Yankees clinch the American League pennant in 2003, hitting a series-ending, "walk-off" home run off Boston's Tim Lincecum in the bottom of the 11th inning of Game 7 in the ALCS...in 54 regular season games with the Yankees—all in 2003—hit .254 (48-for-189) with 31R, 13 doubles, 6HR and 31RBI...was acquired by the Yankees from Cincinnati in exchange for LHP Brandon Claussen, LHP Charlie Manning and cash considerations on 7/31/03...overall, set career highs with 158H, 92R and 96RBI over 160G with the Reds and Yankees in 2003.
- ▶ Missed the entire 2004 season after having two surgeries on his left knee...prior to the season, had surgery on the knee after tearing the anterior cruciate ligament playing in a pick-up basketball game in January in Newport Beach, Calif...the surgery was performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Anaheim, Calif., on 2/16...at the time of the injury, was on the Yankees' 40-man roster, but was released on 3/1.
- ▶ Signed a Major League contract with Cleveland as a free agent on 6/26/04...joined Cleveland in July and began experiencing pain and swelling in the surgically repaired knee...underwent a second procedure on 8/20/04 to remove loose bodies and promote cartilage growth in the left knee joint.
- ▶ Reached the 1,000H and 500R plateau for his career in 2008 with Washington.
- ▶ On 3/26/09, underwent open-heart surgery to replace his bicuspid aortic valve, then returned to play for Houston in September 2009...is believed to be the first player to appear in a Major League game following open-heart surgery...played his final Major League game on 10/4/09 at the Mets.
- ▶ Was selected by the Cincinnati Reds in the third round of the 1994 First-Year Player Draft...was selected by the California Angels in the 43rd round of the 1991 First-Year Player Draft, but did not sign.
- ▶ Appeared in 580 minor league games, batting .271 (585-for-2,158) with 346R, 133 doubles, 67HR and 325RBI...was a Pioneer League All-Star in 1994, a Carolina League All-Star in 1995 and a Southern League All-Star in 1996.

1978 World Series Champion Yankees

The Yankees' memorable 1978 World Championship club came back from a 14.0-game deficit in the AL East standings at the close of play on July 19 to take the division with a dramatic 5-4, one-game playoff victory over the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park on Oct. 2. The team went on to defeat Kansas City 3-games-to-1 in the ALCS before winning their second straight Fall Classic over Los Angeles, 4-games-to-2. The club was piloted to the title by Bob Lemon, who led the Yankees to a 48-20 record after taking over following Billy Martin's midseason resignation.

STATUS

- Signed by the Yankees as a non-drafted free agent on July 2, 2015.

- Batted .211 (63-for-298) with 35R, 11 doubles, 5HR, 29RBI, 25BB and 8SB in 115 games over four stints with the Yankees (3/30-5/31, 6/3-18, 6/22-7/22 and 8/3-10/1)...appeared defensively at all three outfield positions (LF - 51G/34GS, RF - 49G/25GS, CF - 1G), 3B (15G/13GS), 2B (6G/3GS), SS (5G/5GS) and 1B (1G).
- According to Elias, was just the third player in franchise history to play all three outfield positions and all four infield positions in a single season, joining Clay Bellinger (2000) and Wid Conroy (1905).
- In 32 Interleague games, hit .293 (22-for-75) with 10R, 3 doubles, 2HR, 8RBI, 7BB and 3SB.
- Made his first career Opening Day roster...started in LF on Opening Day vs. San Francisco.
- Drove in a go-ahead run with an RBI single in the ninth inning on 4/12 at Cleveland...marked his second career hit that gave the Yankees the lead in the ninth inning-or-later (also a "walk-off single in the 12th inning on 9/7/22-G1 vs. Minnesota).
- Notched 8RBI over a seven-game span from 5/7-14.
- Over an 11-game stretch from 6/28-7/16, reached base in 12-of-20 plate appearances (7H/4BB/1HP).
- Was one of four Venezuela-born players to appear in the same starting lineup for the Yankees eight times over a span from 8/27-9/30 (also Oswald Peraza, Everson Pereira and Gleyber Torres)...prior to 2023, the Yankees had four Venezuela-born players in the same starting lineup just four times in franchise history (Cabrera, Marwin Gonzalez, Peraza and Torres each started in four games in September 2022).
- Became the first player in franchise history to appear at 3B, RF and CF in a game on 8/31 at Detroit...started the game at 3B before moving to RF in the eighth inning and CF in the 10th inning...marked his first professional appearance in CF.
- Was one of six Yankees players age 24-or-younger to start from 9/2-3 (also Jasson Domínguez, Oswald Peraza, Everson Pereira, Anthony Volpe and Austin Wells)...it marked the first time the Yankees had six players 24-or-younger start in the same game since 9/11/69 at Washington-AL and just the fifth and sixth such occurrences in the last 91 years (since 1933)...marked the first time since 9/18/32-G2 that the Yankees had six such position players start in the same game.
- Drew a bases-loaded walk in the second inning on 9/2 at Houston...with Oswald Peraza, Everson Pereira and Austin Wells all driving in a run as well, it marked the 12th time since 1920 (when RBI became an official stat) that the Yankees had four players 24-or-younger record an RBI in the same game and the second time in the last 68 years (since 1956)...John Ellis (21), Thurman Munson (23), Jerry Kenney (24) and Bobby Murcer (24) also did so on 6/21/70 at Boston (confirmed by Elias).
- Hit safely in 10 of his 12 games from 9/10-24, batting .295 (13-for-44) with 5R, 3 doubles, 1HR, 3RBI, 5BB and 1SB over that stretch...also hit safely in a season-high six straight games from 9/10-16, batting .364/.481/.591 (8-for-22) with 4R, 2 doubles, 1HR, 3RBI, 5BB and 1SB...reached base in 13-of-27 plate appearances in that span (8H/5BB)...marked the second-longest hitting streak of his career (7G from 9/23-30/22).
- Recorded the Yankees' first hit of the game in the 11th inning on 9/10 vs. Milwaukee with a game-tying RBI double...marked his third career hit that either tied the game (one) or gave the Yankees the lead (two) in extra innings.
- Batted .225 (9-for-40) with 7R, 1 double, 2HR, 6RBI, 5BB, 1HP and 2SB in 10 games with Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre.
- Following the season, appeared in 25 games for the Tiburones De La Guaira in the Venezuelan Winter League, hitting .267 (23-for-86) with 13R, 3 doubles, 2 triples, 2RBI, 9BB and 1SB.

- Saw his first Major League action with the Yankees, batting .247 (38-for-154) with 21R, 8 doubles, 1 triple, 6HR, 19RBI, 15BB, 1SF and 3SB in 44 games...appeared defensively at RF (27G/24GS), LF (9G/8GS), SS (4G/3GS), 2B (3G/3GS), 3B (3G/3GS) and 1B (3G).
- Recorded seven outfield assists in just 34 games...his seven outfield assists were tied with Aaron Judge for the team lead...his seven outfield assists were also the most in the Majors from when he made his Major League debut on 8/17 to the end of the season...prior to his Major League debut, had played just four professional games in the outfield.
- According to the YES Network, was the first player in franchise history to start at four different positions within his first six Major League games (3B, SS, RF, 2B)...made his first three career starts all at different positions (3B, SS, RF)...according to Elias, was the first Yankees player to start at three different positions in his first three Major League starts since Tyler Wade in 2017 (LF, 2B, RF)...prior to Wade, the last Yankee to do so was Don Mattingly from 1982-83 (LF, RF, 1B)...Shane Spencer was not counted in 1998 because he was a DH in one of his first three Major League starts.
- Began the year with Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, hitting .262/.340/.492 (48-for-183) with 29R, 12 doubles, 3 triples, 8HR, 29RBI, 19BB and 10SB in 47 games...appeared defensively at 2B (21G), SS (15G), 3B (6G), RF (2G) and LF (1G)...also appeared in five rehab games with Single-A Tampa and the FCL Yankees.

- Over his final 20 games with the RailRiders (7/22-8/16), hit .382/.461/.684 (29-for-76) with 16R, 4 doubles, 2 triples, 5HR, 17RBI, 10BB, 2HP, 15F and 8SB.
- Was recalled from Triple-A on 8/17 and made his Major League debut later that night vs. Tampa Bay...was the first Yankee to start at 3B in his Major League debut since Zelous Wheeler on 7/3/14 at Minnesota.

*60-game season

- Was scratched from his scheduled start on 8/13 at Chicago-AL with right hamstring discomfort...missed two turns in the rotation but did not go on the I.L.
- Was named AL "Pitcher of the Month" for September after going 5-0 with a 1.07 ERA (42.0IP, 20H, 6R/5ER, 7BB, 74K, 4HR) in six starts...his 74K were tied for the 10th-highest total in a calendar month in the Modern Era (since 1900), and the second-most since 1978 (Chicago-AL's Chris Sale-75K in June 2015)...were the most strikeouts in a month without a loss in Baseball history (previously Boston's Pedro Martinez-70K in September 1999).
- In a 21-1 win on 9/8 vs. Seattle, celebrated his 29th birthday by recording a season-high 15 strikeouts over 8.0IP (1H, 1ER, 1HR, 0BB)...was the second-highest total of his career (16K on 5/4/18 at Arizona w/ Houston)...his only baserunner allowed was a one-out solo HR in the fourth by Shed Long...set a Major League record for strikeouts on a pitcher's birthday, surpassing the 14K by Arizona's Randy Johnson on 9/10/00 at Florida...joined St. Louis' Chris Carpenter (12K, 0BB on 4/27/05 vs. Milwaukee) as the only two pitchers ever to record at least 10K with 0BB on his birthday...was the first Astros starter to earn a win on his birthday since Roy Oswalt on 8/29/07 vs. St. Louis.
- On 8/28 vs. Tampa Bay (6.2IP, 4ER, 14K), 9/2 at Milwaukee (6.0IP, 1ER, 14K) and 9/8 vs. Seattle (8.0IP, 1ER, 15K), became the second pitcher in Major League history to record at least 14K in three consecutive starts, joining Boston's Pedro Martinez from 9/4-15/99 (15K, 17K, 14K)...according to Elías, became the first pitcher since 1893 to record at least 14K in fewer than 7.0IP in consecutive games...the 9/2 start came one day after Justin Verlander's 14-strikeout no-hitter, making the duo the first pair of teammates in Major League history to register at least 14K in consecutive games.
- From 8/22-9/8 became the first pitcher in Astros history and fourth in Major League history to record at least 12K in four consecutive starts (Pedro Martinez-3x, Randy Johnson, Chris Sale).
- Was named AL "Player of the Week" for 9/23-29 after earning wins on 9/24 at Seattle (7.0IP, 2H, 0R, 0BB, 14K) and 9/29 at Los Angeles-AL (5.0IP, 4H, 1ER, 2BB, 10K, 1HR)...was his first career weekly award.
- In 9/24 win at Seattle, surpassed J.R. Richard's 1979 Houston single-season franchise record of 313 strikeouts.
- In 9/29 win at Los Angeles-AL (5.0IP, 4H, 1ER, 2BB, 10K, 1HR), set a Major League record with his ninth consecutive start with at least 10K...marked his career-high 20th win.
- Went 4-1 with a 1.72 ERA (36.2IP, 21H, 7ER, 11BB, 47K, 4HR) in five postseason starts to lead Houston to the American League pennant...tied the AL record for strikeouts in a postseason (also Texas's Cliff Lee in 2010)...is tied for the second-highest strikeout total by any pitcher in a postseason behind Arizona's Curt Schilling's 56K in 2001...opponents hit .165 (21-for-127).
- Set a Major League Division Series record with 25K in two starts vs. Tampa Bay (2-0, 0.57 ERA, 15.2IP, 6H, 1ER, 3BB, 1HR)...was the eighth postseason series in Major League history with at least 25K, following St. Louis's Bob Gibson (35K in 1968 World Series, 31K in 1964 World Series, 26K in 1967 World Series), Los Angeles-NL's Sandy Koufax (29K in 1965 World Series), Boston's Bill Dinneen (28K in 1903 World Series), Arizona's Curt Schilling (26K in 2001 World Series) and Baltimore's Mike Mussina (25K in 1997 ALCS)...joined Washington's Stephen Strasburg (2017 NLDS), Detroit's Justin Verlander (2012-13 ALDS), Texas's Cliff Lee (2010 ALDS), Mussina (1997 ALCS), Gibson (1967-68 World Series) and Koufax (1965 World Series) as the seventh pitcher (ninth occurrence) to record two double-digit-strikeout efforts in one postseason series.
- In ALDS Game 2 win vs. Tampa Bay, recorded 15K over 7.2 scoreless innings (4H, 1BB)...set an Astros postseason strikeout record, tied for the third-highest strikeout total in Major League postseason history, behind St. Louis's Bob Gibson (17K in 1968 World Series Game 1 vs. Detroit) and San Diego's Kevin Brown (16K in 1998 NLDS Game 1 at Houston)...was the seventh pitcher with 15K in a postseason game, his 15K also tied with the Yankees' Roger Clemens (2000 ALCS Game 4 at Seattle), Florida's Livan Hernández (1997 ALCS Game 5 vs. Atlanta), Baltimore's Mike Mussina (1997 ALCS Game 3 at Cleveland) and Los Angeles-NL's Sandy Koufax (1963 World Series Game 1 at the Yankees)...joined Gibson (17K, 1BB) as the only pitchers with 15K and 1BB-or-fewer in a postseason game.
- In ALDS Game 5 win vs. Tampa Bay, earned the series-clinching victory with a postseason career-high 8.0IP (2H, 1ER, 2BB, 10K, 1HR)...became the third pitcher to complete 8.0IP and allow 2H-or-fewer in a winner-take-all postseason game, joining Kansas City's Johnny Cueto (8.0IP, 2H, 2ER, 0BB, 8K, 1HR) in 2015 ALDS Game 5 vs. Houston and Detroit's Justin Verlander (8.0IP, 2H, 0R, 1BB, 10K) in 2013 ALDS Game 5 at Oakland.
- In ALCS Game 3 win at the Yankees, tossed 7.0 scoreless innings (4H, 5BB, 7K) to earn his 19th consecutive win (regular season and postseason), a Major League record...became the third Astros pitcher to win each of his first three starts of a postseason, joining Justin Verlander (first 4GS in 2017) and Roy Oswalt (2005), and the first to do so while allowing 1R-or-fewer in all three.
- Had his record streak of 19 consecutive winning decisions snapped with a loss in World Series Game 1 vs. Washington (7.0IP, 8H, 5ER, 1BB, 6K, 2HR)...marked his first career World Series start.
- Earned his first World Series win in Game 5 at Washington (7.0IP, 3H, 1ER, 2BB, 9K, 1HR)...marked his AL-record fourth start of the 2019 postseason with at least 7.0IP and 1R-or-fewer.

- ▶ In his first season with Houston, went 15-5 with a 2.88 ERA (200.1IP, 143H, 68R/64ER, 64BB, 276K, 19HR) in 32 starts...opponents hit .198 (143-for-723, 19HR); LH .162 (56-for-346, 7HR); RH .231 (87-for-377, 12HR)...had a 6.0 WAR (FanGraphs) and 2.70 FIP.
- ▶ Finished fifth in AL Cy Young voting...led the Majors in K/9.0IP ratio (12.40)...ranked second in the AL in strikeouts, strikeout rate (34.5%), opponents' BA and WAR, tied for third in winning percentage (.750), fourth in ERA and WHIP (1.03), tied for fourth in quality starts (20) and fifth in innings pitched.
- ▶ Was named to his second career All-Star team, his first in the AL...did not pitch in the AL's 8-6 win in Washington.
- ▶ Was the fifth pitcher in Astros history to post an opponents' BA under .200, joining Mike Scott (.186 in 1986), Nolan Ryan (.188 in 1981, .188 in 1986, .195 in 1983), J.R. Richard (.196 in 1978) and Roger Clemens (.198 in 2005).
- ▶ His 276K were 74 more than his previous career high (202K in 2015)...he and Justin Verlander (290K in 2018) were the third and fourth pitchers in Astros history to eclipse 275K in a season, following J.R. Richard (313 in 1979, 303 in 1978) and Mike Scott (306 in 1986)...set a then-franchise record for K/9.0IP ratio (12.40), topping Nolan Ryan's 11.48 in 1987...was the then-third-best mark in AL history, behind Boston's Pedro Martinez (13.20 in 1999) and Boston's Chris Sale (12.93 in 2017).
- ▶ Held left-handed hitters to .162/.250/.269 (56-for-346) with 7HR, 38BB and 160K...at the time, was the fourth-lowest opponents' BA vs. lefties (min. 300AB) since 1974, when data was first available...the only pitchers with lower marks were Boston's Pedro Martinez (.150 in 2000), Chicago-NL's Jake Arrieta (.159 in 2015) and Milwaukee's Mike Caldwell (.160 in 1978)...his 41.1% strikeout rate vs. left-handed hitters surpassed Pedro Martinez (33.0% in 1999) for the Majors' highest mark in that span (min. 300BF), which he then broke himself in 2019 (43.6%).
- ▶ Tied for sixth in the Majors with eight double-digit-strikeout games, recording at least 11K in all eight.
- ▶ Combined with Justin Verlander (290K) to post 566K, then the most by a duo in Astros history, surpassing the 503K by Nolan Ryan and Mike Scott in 1987...also became the second pair of teammates in the Modern Era (since 1900) to both record at least 270K in the same season, joining Arizona's Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling, who did it in both 2001 and 2002.
- ▶ Set an Astros record for strikeouts over a pitcher's first three games with the club (36K), besting the previous record of 33K held by Randy Johnson in 1998...at the time, it marked the second-highest strikeout total over a pitcher's first three games of a season in the live-ball era (since 1920), behind California's Nolan Ryan (37K in 1973) according to STATS...his 41K set a club record for strikeouts through any pitcher's first four starts of a season, and was tied for the fourth-most over a pitcher's first four starts with a team in Major League history at the time (Arizona's Randy Johnson-44K in 1999, Boston's Pedro Martinez-44K in 1998, Boston's Chris Sale-42K in 2017, Washington's Stephen Strasburg-41K in 2010)...per Elias, his 61K were tied for the third-most over a pitcher's first six starts with a team in Major League history at the time (Arizona's Johnson-63K in 1999, Boston's Sale-63K in 2017, Houston's Johnson-61K in 1998)...his 77K set a Major League record for strikeouts over a pitcher's first seven starts with a team at the time...his 93K were the third-most over a pitcher's first nine starts with a team in Major League history at the time (Houston's Johnson-96K in 1998, Boston's Sale-95K in 2017)...his 101K were tied for the second-most over a pitcher's first 10 starts with a team in Major League history at the time (Houston's Johnson-108K in 1998, Boston's Sale-101K in 2017).
- ▶ Went 10-2 with a 2.52 ERA (128.1IP, 81H, 39R/36ER, 45BB, 177K, 14HR) in 20 starts before the All-Star break...set a franchise record for strikeouts prior to the break (previous: Mike Scott-167K in 1986).
- ▶ Made his Astros debut in 4/1 win at Texas (7.0IP, 2H, 1ER, 3BB, 11K, 1HR)...per Elias, became the fourth pitcher in Astros history to record 11 strikeouts in his Astros debut (J.R. Richard-15K on 9/5/71-G2 at San Francisco, Randy Johnson-12K on 8/2/98 at Pittsburgh, Collin McHugh-12K on 4/22/14 at Seattle).
- ▶ In his Astros home debut on 4/7 vs. San Diego, recorded 11K over 7.0 scoreless innings (5H, 0BB)...became the first pitcher to have 11K in each of his first two starts with Houston...his 22KA are a club record for a pitcher's first two starts with the Astros...was the first Astros pitcher to post 11K in back-to-back games since Wade Miller from 4/5-11/01.
- ▶ In his third start on 4/13 vs. Texas (7.0IP, 3H, 2ER, 1BB, 14K, 2HR, 1HP), recorded 14K for the first time in his career...became the first Major League pitcher since pitch count data was first tracked to strike out at least 14 batters on 93 pitches or fewer...became the second pitcher in Major League history to start a season with at least 11K in three consecutive games, joining California's Nolan Ryan (1973)...was the fourth pitcher in Astros history to record 11K in three consecutive starts at any point in a season.
- ▶ Set the then-AL strikeout record for April with 61K, topping the previous mark of 60K set by Boston's Roger Clemens in 1988...was just the seventh time a pitcher tallied at least 60K in April, also Randy Johnson (4x: 64K in 2000, 63K in 1999, 61K in 2002, 61K in 2001), Clemens and Curt Schilling (61K in 2002)...became the fourth Astros pitcher with 61K in a single calendar month, joining Randy Johnson (61K in Aug. 1998), J.R. Richard (69K in Sept. 1979, 62K in Aug. 1979) and Mike Scott (64K in May 1986).
- ▶ Compiled a 19.0-inning scoreless streak from 4/1-13.
- ▶ From 4/1-5/9, became the first pitcher to start his tenure with the Astros with eight straight quality starts.
- ▶ Threw his first career shutout on 5/4 at Arizona, striking 16-of-29 batters and allowing just one hit (Chris Owings double in the fifth) and one walk (David Peralta in the fourth)...marked his second career complete game...threw 114 pitches (82 strikes)...struck out six consecutive batters in the second and third, and 9-of-10 from the second through fourth...retired his final 14 batters...set a career high in strikeouts, tied for the second-most in Astros history (Don Wilson-18K on 7/14/68-G1 at Cincinnati, Randy Johnson-16K on 8/28/98 vs. Pittsburgh, Nolan Ryan-16K on 9/9/87 vs. San Francisco, Don Wilson-16K on 9/10/68-G1 at Cincinnati)...marked the 10th game in Major League history that a pitcher recorded at least 16K with 1H-or-fewer in a shutout (also Nolan Ryan-4x, Max Scherzer-2x, Brandon Morrow, Curt Schilling, Kerry Wood).
- ▶ Recorded his 1,000th career strikeout on 9/21/18 vs. Los Angeles-AL (Kaleb Cowart in the third)...reached the mark in his 158th career game...at the time, only 12 pitchers all-time had hit the milestone in fewer games: Kerry Wood, Tim Lincecum, Corey Kluber, Roger Clemens, Stephen Strasburg, Hideo Nomo, Dwight Gooden, Randy Johnson, Clayton Kershaw, Chris Archer, Frank Tanana and Yu Darvish.

- Made two postseason starts, going 1-1 with a 3.46 ERA (13.0IP, 9H, 6R/5ER, 2BB, 17K, 1HR)...in ALDS Game 2 win vs. Cleveland (7.0IP, 3H, 1ER, 0BB, 12K, 1HR), became the second pitcher in postseason history to record at least 12K with 0BB, joining New York-NL's Tom Seaver in 1973 NLCS Game 1 at Cincinnati (8.1IP, 6H, 2ER, 0BB, 13K, 2HR)...his lone run allowed was a solo HR by Francisco Lindor in the third...took the loss in ALCS Game 2 at Boston (6.0IP, 5R/4ER).

- In 33 starts with Pittsburgh, posted a 12-12 record and career-high 4.26 ERA (203.0IP, 199H, 98R/96ER, 55BB, 196K, 31HR)...opponents hit .254 (199-for-784, 31HR); LH .268 (101-for-377, 18HR); RH .241 (98-for-407, 13HR).
- Tied for the NL lead in starts, tied for second in home runs allowed, ranked third in innings pitched and 10th in strikeouts...finished with the NL's seventh-lowest BB/9.0IP ratio (2.44)...set career highs in starts (later tied in 2019, '22 and '23), hits, runs and earned runs...was the second-highest home run total in Pirates history (32HR by Murry Dickson in 1951).
- Made his first career Opening Day start on 4/3 at Boston (L, 5.0IP, 5ER).
- In a 1-0 win on 8/26 at Cincinnati (7.0IP, 5H, 0R, 0BB, 6K), hit his third career home run off Luis Castillo in the sixth...marked the first time in team history that a Pittsburgh pitcher accounted for all the team's runs with a home run in a shutout victory.
- From 6/2-8/26, became the first Pirates starter to win eight consecutive road decisions since Steve Blass in 1972...from 6/2-8/10, became the first to win seven straight road starts since Don Robinson in 1982.
- Was acquired by Houston in exchange for RHP Michael Feliz, OF Jason Martin, INF Colin Moran and RHP Joe Musgrove on 1/13/18.

"For all of us up here, it's a huge honor to put this uniform on every day and come out here and play. Every member of this organization, past and present, has been calling this place home for 85 years. There's a lot of tradition, a lot of history, and a lot of memories. Now, the great thing about memories, is you're able to pass [them] along from generation to generation. And although things are going to change next year - we're going to move across the street - there are a few things with the New York Yankees that never change. That's pride, it's tradition, and most of all, we have the greatest fans in the world.

"We're relying on you to take the memories from this Stadium, add them to the new memories that come at the new Yankee Stadium and continue to pass them on from generation to generation. So, on behalf of the entire organization, we just want to take this moment to salute you, the greatest fans in the world."

- Made all six of his starts at home.
- Recorded a career-opening 18.2 scoreless inning streak from 8/3-9/8...according to Elias, was the longest career-opening scoreless streak by a Yankee in franchise history, surpassing Slow Joe Doyle's career-opening 18.0-inning streak from 8/25(G1)-30(G1)/1906...according to Elias, Gil's career-opening 18.2 scoreless inning streak was the longest career-opening scoreless streak by a Major League pitcher since Seattle's Carson Smith's 19.1 scoreless inning streak from 9/11/14-5/3/15.
- According to Elias, was the first Major League pitcher since 1893, which was the first season the mound-to-plate distance was 60 feet, 6 inches, to toss at least 4.2 scoreless innings in each of his first three career appearances...Elias also confirmed that he was the second pitcher in Major League history to toss at least 4.2 scoreless innings in each of his first three career starts, joining Philadelphia Phillies' George McQuillan, who did so in his first three career starts in 1907 (made his first career appearance as a reliever)...according to the YES Network, he was the only Major League pitcher since 1901 to not allow a run and record at least 15K through his first three Major League games.
- Allowed just 3R total over his first four career starts from 8/3-9/8, becoming the first Yankees pitcher to start his first four Major League appearances and allow just 3R total over those first four starts (the previous record was 5R by Chase Whitley in 2014 and Slow Joe Doyle in 1906)...according to Elias, he was just the second Yankee in franchise history to allow 3R-or-fewer over his first four Major League starts, joining Cliff Markle (3R in his first four starts from 9/23/1915-G2 to 4/26/1916).
- Recorded at least 6K in five of his first six Major League starts, becoming just the fifth Yankee in franchise history to accomplish the feat...joined Deivi García, Masahiro Tanaka, José Contreras and Al Leiter (also five games).
- His 38K through his first six appearances were the fourth-most by a Yankee through his first six Major League games, trailing only Masahiro Tanaka (51K), Al Leiter (46K) and Orlando Hernández (42K).
- Made his Major League debut on 8/3 vs. Baltimore and earned the win, tossing 6.0 scoreless innings (4H, 1BB, 6K)...struck out Ramón Urrías swinging in the first inning for his first Major League strikeout...according to Elias, he was just the seventh starting pitcher in franchise history (and second since 1935) to toss at least 6.0 scoreless innings in his Major League debut, joining Sam Miltello (7.0IP on 8/9/92 vs. Boston), Vito Tamulis (9.0IP on 9/25/34 at Philadelphia-AL), Russ Van Atta (9.0IP on 4/25/33 at Washington-AL), Pete Wilson (9.0IP on 9/15/1908 at Boston), Tacks Neuer (9.0IP on 8/28/1907-G2 vs. Boston) and Slow Joe Doyle (9.0IP on 8/25/1906-G1 vs. Cleveland)...among the group, joined Vito Tamulis (9.0IP, 1BB) as the only two to issue 1BB-or-fewer (Gil-1BB).

- Was just the third Yankees starter to toss at least 6.0 scoreless innings and surrender 4H-or-fewer in his Major League debut, joining Sam Milittello on 8/9/92 vs. Boston (7.0IP, 1H) and Tacks Neuer on 8/28/1907-G2 vs. Boston (9.0IP, 3H)...was the first Yankees pitcher to make his big league debut as a starter since Deivi García on 8/30/20-G2 vs. the Mets...at 23 years, 61 days, was the youngest Major League pitcher to throw 6.0 scoreless innings in his Major League debut since Texas' Brock Burke on 8/20/19-G2 vs. Los Angeles-AL (23 years, 16 days)...was the first Yankees starter to earn the win in his Major League debut since Jonathan Loáisiga on 6/15/18 vs. Tampa Bay (5.0IP, 3H, OR, 4BB, 6K)...was the first Yankees pitcher to earn the win in his Major League debut since Nick Nelson on 8/1/20 vs. Boston (3.0IP, 2BB, 4K).
- Made his Major League debut along with relievers Stephen Ridings and Brody Koerner on 8/3 vs. Baltimore...according to Elias, it marked the first time the Yankees had at least three players make their Major League debut in the same game since 9/18/08 vs. Chicago-AL (Francisco Cervelli, Juan Miranda, Humberto Sanchez)...it marked just the second time in franchise history that the Yankees had three pitchers make their big league debut in the same game (also 9/26/50-G1 vs. Washington-AL - Lew Burdette, Dave Madison, Ernie Nevel).
- Made his second career start on 8/8 vs. Seattle and did not record a decision despite tossing 5.0 scoreless innings...was just the second Yankees pitcher in franchise history to toss at least 5.0 scoreless innings in each of his first two career appearances or starts, joining Slow Joe Doyle, who tossed complete-game shutouts in each of his first two Major League appearances (8/25/1906-G1 vs. Cleveland and 8/30/1906-G1 vs. Washington-AL)...was the first Major League pitcher to toss at least 5.0 scoreless innings in each of his first two career appearances or starts since Miami's Jordan Yamamoto in 2019 (tossed 7.0 scoreless innings on 6/12/19 vs. St. Louis and 7.0 scoreless innings on 6/18/19 at St. Louis)...was the eighth Yankees pitcher in franchise history to toss 5.0 scoreless innings and allow 2H-or-fewer within his first two Major League appearances...joined Phil Hughes (6.1IP and OH on 5/1/07 at Texas), Sam Milittello (7.0IP and 1H on 8/9/92 vs. Boston), Steve Roser (5.0IP and 2H on 5/14/44-G1 vs. Cleveland), Hank Borowy (5.0IP and OH on 4/18/42 vs. Boston), Johnny Allen (5.2IP and OH on 5/3/32 at Washington-AL), Rube Manning (8.0IP and 2H on 4/23/1908 at Philadelphia-AL) and Slow Joe Doyle (9.0IP and 2H on 8/30/1906-G1 vs. Washington-AL).
- Made his third career start in Game 2 of a doubleheader on 8/17 vs. Boston and did not factor in the decision in the Yankees' 2-0 victory, tossing 4.2 scoreless innings (3H, 4BB, 4K)...according to Elias, became the first Major League pitcher since 1893, which was the first season the mound-to-plate distance was 60 feet 6 inches, to toss at least 4.2 scoreless innings in each of his first three career appearances...Elias also confirmed that he was the second pitcher in Major League history to toss 4.2 scoreless innings in each of his first three career starts, joining Philadelphia Phillies' George McQuillan who did so in his first three career starts in 1907 (made his first career appearance as a reliever)...according to the YES Network, he was the only Major League pitcher since 1901 to not allow a run and record at least 15K through his first three Major League games.
- Made his fourth career start on 9/8 vs. Toronto and did not factor in the decision after allowing 3ER in 3.1IP (1H, 7BB, 6K, 1WP)...issued a career-high 7BB, the most walks by a Yankee in a game since Joba Chamberlain on 8/6/09 vs. Boston (also 7BB)...had his career-opening 18.2 scoreless inning streak snapped.
- Allowed a career-high 5ER on 9/13 vs. Minnesota (6.0IP, 7H, 1BB, 8K, 3HR)...allowed a career-high 3HR after not allowing a HR in his first four starts...his 8K matched his career high (also 8K on 8/8 vs. Seattle).
- Took his first career loss on 9/18 vs. Cleveland (4.1IP, 3H, 3R/2ER, 4BB, 6K, 1HR, 1HP).
- Combined with Double-A Somerset and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre to go 5-1 with one save and a 3.97 ERA (79.1IP, 59H, 37R/35ER, 45BB, 117K) in 20 games (17 starts)...was 1-1 with a 2.64 ERA (30.2IP, 24H, 11R/9ER, 13BB, 50K, 2HR) in seven starts with Double-A Somerset before being promoted to Triple-A Scranton/WB on 6/15...in 13 games (10 starts) with the RailRiders, went 4-0 with one save and a 4.81 ERA (48.2IP, 35H, 26ER, 32BB, 67K, 7HR).
- Was named the Triple-A East "Pitcher of the Week" for 7/19-25 after tossing 6.0 hitless innings on 7/21 vs. Rochester (2BB, 9K)...had combined with RHP Reggie McClain (2.0IP, 2K) and RHP Stephen Ridings (1.0IP) to throw a team no-hitter.

Three's Company

According to Elias, Hall of Famers Derek Jeter and Mariano Rivera, alongside Jorge Posada became the first trio of teammates in MLB, NBA, NFL and NHL history to appear in at least one game together in each of 17 consecutive seasons from 1995-2011. The second-longest trios in Yankees franchise history played 13 years together (Bill Dickey, Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing from 1930-42; and Whitey Ford, Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle from 1955-67). The first game in which Derek Jeter, Jorge Posada and Mariano Rivera appeared together was Sept. 28, 1996 at Fenway Park. Jeter started and went 0-for-4. Andy Pettitte also appeared in his first career game with the trio that day, starting and going 2.0IP. Rivera allowed 1ER in 1.0IP. Posada also pinch-hit in the contest, striking out. The Yankees won, 4-2, and the losing pitcher was Roger Clemens.

Jeter and Posada appeared in 1,693 regular season games together for the Yankees, surpassing Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri (1,659 games) for the most games played together by any pair of teammates in franchise history.

Elias also notes that, in 2013, Rivera and Jeter each played in their 19th season with the Yankees, becoming the first pair of players to be teammates in 19 or more consecutive seasons since Alan Trammell and Lou Whitaker with Detroit, who were also together 19 straight seasons from 1977-95.

In October 2023, the Pittsburgh Penguins trio of Sidney Crosby, Evgeni Malkin and Kris Letang began their 18th consecutive season as teammates (2006-07 to 2023-24), surpassing Jeter, Rivera and Posada's record.

A Lasting Legacy

In 2020, Heritage Field in Macombs Dam Park was officially renamed "Elston Gene Howard Field" in honor of Elston Howard, the first black player to appear in a game for the Yankees. A member of the team for parts of 13 seasons from 1955-67, the Yankees retired Howard's uniform No. 32 and recognized him with a plaque in Monument Park in 1984.

Macombs Dam Park is located directly across from Yankee Stadium on the grounds of original Yankee Stadium, which closed in 2008.

STATUS

- Signed by the Yankees to a six-year contract extending through the 2026 season on January 27, 2021.

CAREER NOTES

- Won the NL batting title in 2016 (.348 w/ Colorado) and the AL batting title in 2020 (.364 w/ the Yankees)...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, is just one of three players in Major League history to win a batting title in both leagues (also Luis Arraez and Ed Delahanty).
- Is one of two active players who have won a batting title (2016, '20) and earned multiple Gold Glove awards (2014, '17, '18 and '22), joining Mookie Betts.
- In 2020, became the fourth player in franchise history to lead the Majors in batting average, joining Mickey Mantle (.353 BA in 1956), Joe DiMaggio (.381 in 1939) and Lou Gehrig (.363 BA in 1934)...became the ninth player (10th time) in franchise history to win the AL batting title...joined Bernie Williams (1998), Paul O'Neill (1994), Don Mattingly (1984), Mickey Mantle (1956), Snuffy Stirnweiss (1945), Joe DiMaggio (1939-40), Lou Gehrig (1934) and Babe Ruth (1924).
- As the Major League batting leader in 2020, joined Luke Voit (22HR) as the first duo in franchise history to lead the Majors in batting average and home runs...marked the third time the Yankees had both the Majors' home run and batting average leader, but the prior two were by the same player (Lou Gehrig in his 1934 Triple Crown season, .363 BA, 49HR and Mickey Mantle in his 1956 Triple Crown season, .353 BA, 52HR)...the Yankees also had the AL's home run and batting average leader in 1924 (Babe Ruth, .378 BA, 46HR)...the pair became the fifth set of teammates to lead the Majors in batting average and home runs and first to do so since Hank Aaron (.355 BA) and Eddie Mathews (46HR) for the 1959 Braves.
- In his Major League career, has appeared in games defensively at 2B (1,137G), 3B (259G), 1B (201G) and SS (4G)...leads all active second basemen (min. 500G) with a .991 career fielding pct....over his final five seasons with Colorado (2014-18), led NL second basemen (12th among all Major League defenders) with 48 defensive runs saved.
- Among 198 hitters with at least 2,500 plate appearances over the last nine seasons (2015-23), is tied for the fourth-lowest swing-and-miss rate (5.4%) and the ninth-highest contact rate (87.2%)—FanGraphs.
- Has 381 multi-hit games since 2015, the 10th-most in the Majors in that span...his 182 multi-hit games since joining the Yankees in 2019 are the eighth-most in the AL.
- Has 17 career leadoff HR, including 15 as a Yankee (six in 2019, Major League-leading five in 2020, one in 2021, one in 2022 and two in 2023)...his 15 leadoff home runs are tied with Brett Gardner (15HR) and Chuck Knoblauch (15HR) for fifth-most in franchise history, trailing Derek Jeter (29HR), Rickey Henderson (24HR), Alfonso Soriano (21HR) and Hank Bauer (18HR).
- Was the fourth Yankee in franchise history to have at least five leadoff home runs in back-to-back seasons (2019-20)...joined Rickey Henderson (three straight from 1985-87), Chuck Knoblauch (1998-99) and Alfonso Soriano (2002-03).
- Since joining the Yankees in 2019, the team has gone 51-17 when he homers.
- Has hit .306/.385/.455 (185-for-605) with 28 doubles, 1 triple, 20HR and 77BB vs. LHP since 2019, the AL's sixth-best BA vs. southpaws during the stretch.
- As a Yankee (since 2019), has hit .385/.407/.558 (20-for-52) with 6 doubles, 1HR, 50RBI and 4BB with the bases loaded.
- Recorded a 23-game hitting streak vs. the Rays from 5/18/19-4/11/21...batted .310/.355/.530 (31-for-100) with 17R, 4 doubles, 6HR, 15RBI and 7BB in that span...marked the longest hitting streak ever by a Yankee vs. the Rays (previous: Derek Jeter's 20-game streak from 4/7/04-5/3/05)...was tied with Manny Ramirez (23 games from 7/23/02-9/15/03) and Luis Castillo (23 games from 6/4/99-6/21/03) for the second-longest hitting streak by any player vs. Tampa Bay behind only Iván Rodríguez (27 games from 6/2/98-6/23/00).
- As a Yankee (since 2019), has hit .302 (116-for-384) with 67R, 18 doubles, 4 triples, 13HR, 37RBI, 56BB, 45B, 3HP and 35F in 102 Interleague games...reached base in 21 straight Interleague starts from 5/7/21-7/14/22.

STATUS

- ▶ Signed by the Yankees as a minor league free agent on February 9, 2016.

CAREER NOTES

- ▶ Is the first Nicaragua-born player in Yankees history and one of 15 Nicaraguan players (one of 11 pitchers) in baseball history...in the 2019 ALDS, became the fifth Nicaragua-born player to appear in a postseason game, joining Dennis Martínez, David Green, Marvin Benard and Vicente Padilla.
- ▶ His 36 scoreless relief outings of four-or-more outs since the beginning of 2021 are the fourth-most in the Majors, trailing only Collin McHugh (44), Michael King (38) and Chris Stratton (37).
- ▶ Has made four career Opening Day rosters (2020-23).

- ▶ In 17 relief appearances with the Yankees, went 0-2 with a 3.06 ERA (17.2IP, 14H, 7R/6ER, 1BB, 6K, 2HR)...opponents batted .219/.246/.328 (14-for-64, 2HR); LH .286/.292/.429 (6-for-21, 1HR); RH .186/.222/.279 (8-for-43)...missed 126 games on the injured list.
- ▶ Did not allow a run in 13 of his 17 games.
- ▶ Surrendered just one walk to his 69BF (an intentional walk to Parker Meadows on 8/31 at Detroit).
- ▶ Made three appearances in March/April (3.1IP, 2H, 1ER, 0BB, 1K, 1HR) before being placed on the 15-day injured list on 4/8 (retroactive to 4/6) with right elbow inflammation...underwent arthroscopic surgery on his right elbow on 5/2...the procedure was performed by Yankees Head Team Physician Dr. Chris Ahmad at NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital...was transferred to the 60-day injured list on 5/11...missed 106 team games...combined to make three rehab appearances with Single-A Tampa and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, going 1-0 with a 4.50 ERA (4.0IP, 4H, 2ER, 0BB, 5K) in relief...was returned from rehab and reinstated from the 60-day injured list prior to the game on 8/7.
- ▶ After being reinstated from the injured list on 8/7, did not allow an earned run in 12 straight games from 8/8-9/5 (12.2IP, 4H, 1R/0ER, 11BB, 5K, 1HP)...posted a 0.98 opponents' BA (4-for-41) during that stretch...after being reinstated, retired his first 15BF, 19 of his first 20BF, 27 of his first 30BF and 32 of his first 36BF (2H, 11BB, 1HP)...retired 37-of-43BF over that 12-game stretch.
- ▶ Struck out Gavin Sheets looking in the ninth inning on 8/8 at Chicago-AL for his 200th career strikeout.
- ▶ Allowed five of his 6ER over his final two outings on 9/8 and 9/9 vs. Milwaukee.
- ▶ Was placed on the 15-day injured list on 9/12 (retroactive to 9/10) with right elbow inflammation and missed the final 20 games of the season.
- ▶ Pitched for Team Nicaragua in the 2023 World Baseball Classic, going 0-1 with a 13.50 ERA in two relief appearances (2.0IP, 3H, 3ER, 1BB/11BB, 1HP).

- ▶ Made 50 relief appearances with the Yankees, going 2-3 with two saves and a 4.13 ERA (48.0IP, 43H, 25R/22ER, 19BB, 37K)...opponents batted .234 (43-for-184, 3HR); LH .243 (17-for-70, 1HR); RH .228 (26-for-114, 2HR).
- ▶ Did not allow a HR in his final 36 games from 5/16-10/4(G1)...was the second-longest single-season streak of his career.
- ▶ Was placed on the 15-day injured list on 5/25 (retroactive to 5/23) with right shoulder inflammation and reinstated on 7/14...missed 47 team games...made two combined rehab outings with Single-A Tampa and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre (2.0IP, 3H, 1ER, 0BB, 3K).
- ▶ Did not allow an earned run in 26 of his final 31 appearances of the season (7/17-10/4-G1), posting a 1.76 ERA (30.2IP, 6ER) with 19K and two saves in that span...held opponents to a .200 (23-for-115) BA over that stretch...his 1.76 ERA was tied for the ninth-lowest among Major League relievers over that stretch (min. 30.0IP).
- ▶ Tossed at least 1.1IP in eight of his final 20 appearances of the season (8/15-10/4-G1).
- ▶ Recorded a season-high 10.1 scoreless inning streak from 8/22-9/13... held opponents to a .091 (3-for-33) BA and 1BB over that span.
- ▶ Earned his first save of the season on 8/22 vs. New York-NL after tossing 1.1 perfect innings (1K)...marked his first save since 8/17/21 vs. Boston and third career multi-inning save.

- ▶ Recorded at least four outs and did not allow a hit in three straight outings from 8/30-9/4 (1.1IP on 8/30 at Los Angeles-AL, 1.2IP on 9/3 at Tampa Bay and 1.2IP on 9/4 at Tampa Bay)...became just the second Yankees pitcher to accomplish the feat in 2022 (also Ron Marinaccio - 3G from 6/16-21)...matched the second-longest such streak by a Yankees pitcher in franchise history, trailing only Mariano Rivera (5G from 4/22-5/3/96)...also marked the first time in franchise history that the Yankees had two pitchers record such a streak in a single season.
- ▶ Made his 50th appearance of the season in Game 1 on 10/4 at Texas, earning his second save of the season after tossing a scoreless ninth inning (1H)...marked the second time in his career he reached the 50-game plateau (also 57 appearances in 2021).
- ▶ Made six postseason appearances, going 0-1 with a 0.96 ERA (9.1IP, 1ER) and 4K...did not allow a run in his first 9.0 innings of relief in the postseason...was just the third Yankees reliever since 2003 to open the postseason with at least 9.0 scoreless innings, joining Tommy Kahnle (10.2IP in 2017) and Mariano Rivera (9.1IP in 2004)...recorded at least five outs in four of his postseason appearances.
- ▶ Tossed 5.0 scoreless innings of relief during the ALDS...was just the fifth Yankees reliever (ninth time) in the last 41 years (since 1982) to toss at least 5.0IP and not allow a run in a postseason series...joined Zack Britton (0R in 5.2IP in 2019 ALCS), Aroldis Chapman (0R in 5.2IP in 2017 ALDS), Mariano Rivera (0R in 5.1IP in 2009 World Series, 0R in 5.2IP in 2004 ALDS, 0R in 5.0IP in 2000 ALDS, 0R in 5.2IP in 1998 ALCS and 0R in 5.1IP in 1995 ALDS) and David Weathers (0R in 5.0IP in 1996 ALDS).

- ▶ Went 9-4 with five saves and a 2.17 ERA (70.2IP, 56H, 19R/17ER, 16BB, 69K, 3HR) in 57 appearances in 2021...opponents batted .215 (56-for-260, 3HR); LH .238 (25-for-105, 1HR); RH .200 (31-for-155, 2HR)...set career bests in ERA, wins, games, innings pitched and strikeouts.
- ▶ His 22 scoreless relief outings of four-or-more outs in 2021 were the second-most in the Majors behind Boston's Garrett Whitlock (24).
- ▶ His 2.17 ERA was the eighth-lowest among AL relievers.
- ▶ Was just the third Yankees reliever since 2005 to record at least nine wins in a season, joining teammate Chad Green (10-7 in 2021) and Alfredo Aceves (10-1 in 2009)...with Green's 10 wins in 2021, it marked the second time in Yankees history two relievers recorded at least nine wins in a single season...joined Goose Gossage (10-11) and Sparky Lyle (9-3), who also accomplished the feat in 1978.
- ▶ 48 of his 57 appearances were scoreless, including 34 of his final 38 appearances (5/23-10/3)...allowed 13 of his 19R in three appearances (5R on 5/7 vs. Washington, 4R on 6/22 vs. Kansas City and 4R on 7/25 at Boston).
- ▶ Retired his first 15 batters faced of the season (4.0IP, 5K), the longest such streak by a Yankee to open the season since Adam Warren retired his first 22 batters faced to start the 2017 season (all as a reliever).
- ▶ Collected his 100th career strikeout (Joey Wendle, swinging) in the seventh inning on 4/10 at Tampa Bay.
- ▶ Earned his first career save on 4/24 at Cleveland, retiring all four batters faced.
- ▶ Did not allow a HR in 38 consecutive outings from 5/11-9/1, the longest single-season streak of his career.
- ▶ Posted a career-long 14.1 scoreless inning streak from 5/23-6/20 (previous: 8.0 scoreless innings from 6/15-10/8).
- ▶ Did not allow a run in 17 of 18 appearances from 5/23-7/24, going 4-1 with a 1.52 ERA (23.2IP, 4ER) in that span.
- ▶ On 6/25 at Boston, tossed 1.1 scoreless innings (4K, 1WP)...recorded four strikeouts in the seventh inning, becoming the third Yankee in the Expansion Era (since 1961) to accomplish the feat, joining Phil Hughes on 9/20/12 vs. Toronto (fourth inning) and A.J. Burnett on 6/24/11 vs. Colorado (sixth inning).
- ▶ Was placed on the COVID-19 injured list on 7/10 and was reinstated on 7/23...missed eight team games.
- ▶ In his final 19 appearances of the season (7/27-10/3), went 2-0 with three saves, a 0.79 ERA (22.2IP, 2ER), 23K and a .179 (15-for-84) opponents' BA.
- ▶ Posted an 11.2 scoreless inning streak from 8/11-9/3 (7H, 2BB, 12K).
- ▶ Was 1-0 with one save and a 0.59 ERA (15.1IP, 1ER) in his final 12 appearances of the season (8/11-10/3).
- ▶ In Game 1 on 8/17 vs. Boston, tossed 2.0 scoreless innings and earned his fifth save of the season (3H, 3K)...the Yankees won four straight games (8/14-8/17-G1) with four different pitchers recording a save (Albert Abreu on 8/14 at Chicago-AL, Wandy Peralta on 8/15 at Chicago-AL, Chad Green on 8/16 vs. Los Angeles-AL and Loisiga in Game 1 on 8/17 vs. Boston)...Elias confirmed that since saves became an official statistic in 1969, it marked the second time in franchise history that the Yankees won four consecutive games, each with a different pitcher earning a save (Zack Britton, Luis Cessa, Dellin Betances and David Robertson earned saves in four consecutive games from 8/24-26/18).
- ▶ Missed 22 team games in September on the 10-day injured list with a right shoulder strain...was placed on the injured list on 9/5 and reinstated on 9/29.
- ▶ Allowed 2ER in 1.0IP in the AL Wild Card Game at Boston (1.0IP, 3BB, 2K).

- ▶ Went 3-0 with a 3.52 ERA (23.0IP, 21H, 11R/9ER, 7BB, 22K, 3HR) in 12 games (three starts) with the Yankees, spending the entire season at the Major League level for the first time in his career...made his first Opening Day roster.
- ▶ Served as the Yankees' "opener" three times, posting a 3.24 ERA (8.1IP, 3ER) without recording a decision...went 3-0 with a 3.68 ERA (14.2IP, 6ER) in nine relief appearances.
- ▶ Was placed on the 10-day injured list on 9/4 (retroactive to 9/2) with a medical condition that prevented him from playing and necessitated placement on the IL...was reinstated on 9/19...missed 13 team games.
- ▶ Made two postseason relief appearances, posting a 9.00 ERA (2.0IP, 2ER).

- ▶ Went 2-2 with a 4.55 ERA (31.2IP, 31H, 16R/ER, 16BB, 37K, 6HR) in 15 games (four starts) over four stints with the Yankees (4/3-9, 4/23-4/24, 5/8-8/23, 8/31-9/29)...made four starts, going 0-2 with a 6.75 ERA (12.0IP, 9ER).
- ▶ Earned his first win of the season on 4/24 at Los Angeles-AL, tossing 3.0 scoreless innings of relief (2H, 1BB, 1K).
- ▶ Was placed on the 10-day injured list on 5/13 (retroactive to 5/10) with a right shoulder strain...was transferred to the 60-day I.L. on 5/14...was returned from rehab and reinstated from the 60-day I.L. on 8/13...combined in three rehab starts with Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre to allow 3ER in 5.2IP.
- ▶ Had 5K on 9/21 vs. Toronto, setting a relief appearance career high...touched 100.0 mph in the outing (Statcast).
- ▶ Posted a 3.38 ERA (2.2IP, 1ER) in four postseason relief appearances...made his postseason debut in ALDS Game 2 vs. Minnesota, allowing 1ER in 1.0IP (2H, 2K)...became the fifth Nicaragua-born player (first Yankee) to appear in a postseason game, joining Dennis Martinez, David Green, Marvin Benard and Vicente Padilla.
- ▶ Combined with Double-A Trenton and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre to go 0-2 with a 5.60 ERA (17.2IP, 11ER) in 6G/5GS.

- ▶ Went 2-0 with a 5.11 ERA (24.2IP, 26H, 17R/14ER, 12BB, 33K, 3HR) in nine appearances (four starts) over two stints with the Yankees (6/15-7/2 and 9/2-30)...became the first Nicaragua-born player in Yankees history and the 15th Nicaraguan player (11th pitcher) in Baseball history...was 2-0 with a 3.00 ERA (18.0IP, 6ER) in four starts...posted a 10.80 ERA (6.2IP, 8ER) without recording a decision in five relief appearances.
- ▶ Made his Major League debut on 6/15 vs. Tampa Bay, tossing 5.0 shutout innings (3H, 4BB, 6K) to earn the win...was the 11th pitcher (eighth starter) in Yankees history to toss at least 5.0 scoreless innings in his Major League debut, just the second since 1943 (Sam Miltello-GS, 7.0IP on 8/9/92 vs. Boston)...was the first Yankee since 1908 to record at least 6K and not allow a run in his Major League debut...was the first Yankee to earn a win in his first career game since Masahiro Tanaka on 4/4/14 at Toronto...was recalled from Double-A Trenton prior to the game, and per Elias, was the first player to make his Major League debut with the Yankees (excluding Tanaka) without having appeared at the Triple-A level since INF Ramiro Peña on 4/6/09 at Baltimore...was the first pitcher to do so since LHP Chase Wright on 4/17/07 vs. Cleveland.
- ▶ On 6/25 at Philadelphia, took a no-hitter into the sixth inning (W, 5.1IP, 1H, 0R, 2BB, 8K)...allowed his only hit on a leadoff single by Jorge Alfaro in the sixth...was the second Yankees pitcher since 1908 to toss at least 5.0 shutout innings twice within his first three career games (Johnny Allen, 5/3/32 at Washington-AL, 5/11/32 vs. St. Louis-AL).

Baseball Glossary

HOW TO FIGURE...

Batting Average: (H/AB) Hits divided by at-bats.

ERA: (ERx9/IP) Multiply earned runs by nine and divide the total by innings pitched.

Slugging Percentage: (TB/AB) Total bases (1B=1, 2B=2, 3B=3, HR=4) divided by at-bats.

On-Base Percentage: (H+BB+HBP)/(AB+BB+HBP+SF)
Add hits, walks, hit by pitch and divide by the total of at-bats plus walks plus hit-by-pitch plus sacrifice flies.

OPS: On-base percentage plus slugging percentage.

Fielding Percentage: (PO+A)/(PO+A+E) Total putouts plus assists divided by total chances.

Winning Percentage: The number of games won divided by the total games played (not including ties).

Magic Number: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

QUALIFYING RULES

Batting Championship: To qualify for a batting title, a player must make at least 3.1 plate appearances per team game as scheduled at the start of the season. During a 162-game season, the minimum to qualify is 502 plate appearances.

Pitching Championship: To qualify for the lowest ERA, a pitcher must throw at least 1.0 inning per team game as scheduled at the start of the season. During a 162-game season, the minimum is 162.0 innings.

Fielding Championship: To qualify as the top fielder during a 162-game season:

- a catcher must have played in at least 81 games at catcher.
- an infielder or outfielder must have played at his position in at least 108 games.
- a pitcher must have at least 162.0 innings pitched.

Rookie: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the Major Leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a Major League club or clubs during the period of the 26-player limit.

Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when:

- (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club;
 - (2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
 - (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
 - b. He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck, or
 - c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings
- *No more than one save may be credited each game.

STATUS

- ▶ Was selected by the Yankees in the first round (28th overall) of the 2020 First-Year Player Draft.

- ▶ Saw his first Major League action, batting .229/.257/.486 (16-for-70) with 8R, 6 doubles, 4HR, 13RBI and 3BB in 19 games with the Yankees (9/1-10/1).
- ▶ 10 of his 16 hits went for extra bases (6 doubles, 4HR)...six of his 16 hits drove in a run.
- ▶ Batted .317/.333/.732 (13-for-41) with 7R, 5 doubles, 4HR, 10RBI and 1BB in his final 11 games (9/16-10/1) after hitting .103 (3-for-29) with 1R, 1 double, 3RBI and 2BB over his first eight games (9/1-14).
- ▶ Was signed to a Major League contract and selected to the active roster on 9/1 and made his Major League debut that night, hitting a single in his first plate appearance (1-for-4)...was the first Yankee to make his Major League debut as a starting catcher since Mike Figg on 9/16/97-G2 vs. Boston...at 24 years, 51 days, was the ninth-youngest Yankee to make his Major League debut as the starting catcher and the youngest to do so since Thurman Munson (22 years, 62 days) on 8/8/69-G2 vs. Oakland...only John Ellis (20y, 269d on 5/17/69 vs. California), Yogi Berra (21y, 133d on 9/22/46-G1 vs. Philadelphia-AL), Ellie Rodriguez (22y, 2d on 5/26/68-G1 vs. Chicago-AL), Thurman Munson (22y, 62d on 8/8/69-G2 vs. Oakland), Johnny Blanchard (22y, 211d on 9/25/55-G2 at Boston), Roxy Walters (22y, 315d on 9/16/1915 vs. Chicago-AL), Joe Glenn (23y, 301d on 9/15/32 at Chicago-AL) and Charlie Silvera (23y, 352d on 9/29/48 at Philadelphia-AL) accomplished the feat at a younger age...was the first Yankee to make his Major League debut as a catcher since Kyle Higashioka on 4/10/17 vs. Tampa Bay.
- ▶ At the time of his call-up, was tabbed by Baseball America as the No. 5 prospect in the Yankees system and the No. 81 prospect in all of baseball...was also ranked by MLB Pipeline as the No. 8 prospect in the Yankees organization.
- ▶ With OF Jasson Dominguez also making his Major League debut on 9/1 at Houston, it marked the 12th time in franchise history two players made their Major League debuts as starters in the same game, the third such time in the last 54 years (since 1970) and fourth in the last 77 years (since 1947)...joined Aaron Judge and Tyler Austin on 8/13/16 vs. Tampa Bay, Dean Anna and Masahiro Tanaka on 4/4/14 at Toronto, and John Ellis and Jim Lyttle on 5/17/69 vs. California...also marked the seventh time in franchise history two players age 24-or-younger made their Major League debuts as starters in the same game...joined Tyler Austin and Aaron Judge on 8/13/16 vs. Tampa Bay, John Ellis and Jim Lyttle on 5/17/69 vs. California, Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown on 9/22/46-G1 vs. Philadelphia-AL, Billy Johnson and Snuffy Stirnweiss on 4/22/43 vs. Washington-AL, Ben Chapman and Dusty Cooke on 4/15/30 at Philadelphia-AL, and Howie Camp, Chick Fewster and Bill Lamar on 9/19/1917 vs. Cleveland.
- ▶ Recorded his first career RBI with a game-tying sac fly in the third inning on 9/2 at Houston...with Oswaldo Cabrera, Oswaldo Peraza and Everson Pereira all driving in a run as well, it marked just the 12th time since 1920 (when RBI became an official stat) that the Yankees had four players age 24-or-younger record an RBI in the same game and just the second time in the last 68 years (since 1956)...John Ellis (21), Thurman Munson (23), Jerry Kenney (24) and Bobby Murcer (24) also did so on 6/21/70 at Boston (confirmed by Elias).
- ▶ Was one of six Yankees players age 24-or-younger to start from 9/2-3 (also Oswaldo Cabrera, Jasson Dominguez, Oswaldo Peraza, Everson Pereira and Anthony Volpe)...it marked the first time the Yankees had six players age 24-or-younger start in the same game since 9/11/69 at Washington-AL and just the fifth and sixth such occurrences in the last 91 years (since 1933)...marked the first time since 9/18/32-G2 that the Yankees had six such position players start in the same game.
- ▶ Reached base safely in each of his final 10 starts from 9/16-10/1...collected at least one hit in nine of those games...also hit safely in 10 of his final 12 starts from 9/12(G2)-10/1.
- ▶ Hit his first Major League home run with a solo shot in the ninth inning off Erik Swanson on 9/20 vs. Toronto.
- ▶ Hit 4HR in a seven-game span from 9/20-29, including three in a four-game span from 9/25-29...homered in back-to-back games for the first time in his career from 9/25-26.
- ▶ Drove in eight runs over a four-game span from 9/25-29.
- ▶ Hit his second career HR on a game-tying two-run shot in the fourth inning on 9/25 vs. Arizona.
- ▶ Homered in his second straight game and broke a scoreless tie in the ninth inning on 9/26 at Toronto with a two-run HR...was just the seventh Yankee (eighth time) in the last 42 years (since 1982) to break a scoreless tie with a HR in the ninth inning-or-later, joining Aaron Judge (twice: ninth inning on 7/28/22 vs. Kansas City and 13th inning on 6/16/18 at Toronto), Gary Sánchez (ninth inning on 5/1/18 at Houston), Chris Young (11th inning on 9/12/14-G1 at Baltimore), Alex Rodriguez (15th inning on 8/7/09 vs. Boston), Ruben Sierra (ninth inning on 7/22/04 vs. Toronto) and Cecil Fielder (10th inning on 8/2/96 at Kansas City).
- ▶ Recorded a career-high 4RBI and hit his fourth career HR — a three-run shot in the fourth inning — on 9/29 at Kansas City.

- ▶ Recorded a career-high 3H in his final game of the season on 10/1 at Kansas City, including a career-high two doubles.
- ▶ Combined to hit .240/.333/.442 (89-for-371) with 46R, 24 doubles, 17HR, 72RBI, 48BB and 7SB in 96 games with Single-A Tampa (rehab assignment), Double-A Somerset and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre.

2023 in Review

Gerrit Cole earned his first career Cy Young Award in 2023, going 15-4 with a 2.63 ERA (209.0IP, 61ER) and 222K in 33 starts (2CG/2SHO). He led the Majors in WHIP (0.98) and opponents' OBP (.259), and paced the AL in ERA, trailing only San Diego's Blake Snell (2.25) among all MLB pitchers. He received his award at the BBWAA Writers' Dinner on January 27, 2024, in Manhattan.

2023 Season Summary

ABOVE BOARD: The Yankees went 82-80 (.506), recording their 31st consecutive winning season (since 1993)...marks the second-longest such stretch in Major League history, trailing only the franchise's streak of 39 straight winning seasons from 1926-64...is the third-longest streak of consecutive winning seasons all-time in the four major sports (MLB/NFL/NBA/NHL), behind only their own 39-season stretch and 32 straight winning seasons by the Montreal Canadiens (1952-83).

RARE OCCURRENCE: The Yankees did not make the postseason for the first time since 2016...the Yankees were just one of three teams to make the postseason in each of the past six seasons (2017-22, also Houston and Los Angeles-NL)...over that span, 26 teams missed the playoffs at least twice, 22 teams missed the postseason at least three times, 18 teams missed the playoffs at least four times and 13 teams missed the postseason at least five times during that six-season stretch.

- ▶ Marked just the fifth time in the last 29 years (since 1995) that the Yankees did not make the playoffs (also 2008, '13-14, '16).

FAN-TASTIC: The Yankees averaged 40,863 fans per home game this season, the highest home average attendance in the American League and the second-highest in the Majors, trailing only the Los Angeles Dodgers (47,371)...the Yankees drew an AL-best 3,269,016 fans this year despite recording just 80 home games...also ranked third in the Majors in total home attendance, trailing only the Dodgers (3,837,079 in 81 games) and San Diego Padres (3,271,554 in 81 games).

- ▶ The Yankees drew at least 3 million fans for their Major League-record 23rd straight season when there was full attendance (1999-2019, '22-23).
- ▶ The Yankees' 32,573 average road attendance also led the AL and ranked second in the Majors, trailing only the Chicago Cubs (32,723).

AND THE SKIPPER, TOO: Manager Aaron Boone recorded his 500th career managerial win on 9/12-Game 2 at Boston...became just the eighth Manager in Yankees history to accomplish the feat, joining Joe McCarthy (1,460-867-21), Joe Torre (1,173-767-2), Casey Stengel (1,149-696-6), Miller Huggins (1,067-719-10), Ralph Houk (944-806-7), Joe Girardi (910-710) and Billy Martin (556-385).

- ▶ Managed his 800th game with the Yankees on 7/14 at Colorado...according to Elias, his 476 wins through his first 800 decisions are the 11th-most by any manager in Major League history.

PEN PALS: Yankees relievers posted a Major League-best 3.34 ERA (619.0IP, 230ER), .221 opponents' BA and .349 opponents' SLG this season...also ranked second in the Majors in HR/9.0IP (0.86, second in AL) and opponents' OPS (.658, first in AL), fifth in WHIP (1.23, third in AL) and sixth in opponents' OBP (.309, third in AL).

Two-Stadium Doubleheaders

On three occasions, the Yankees and Mets have played two-stadium day-night doubleheaders. Each instance was precipitated by a rainout. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the first occurrence in 2000 marked the first dual-venue doubleheader in the Majors since September 7, 1903, when the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Superbas (later called the Dodgers) faced off in Game 1 (Giants 6 - Brooklyn 4) at Washington Park in Brooklyn and Game 2 (Brooklyn 3 - Giants 0) at the Polo Grounds in Manhattan.

Played for or Managed Yankees and Mets

Through the 2023 season, there have been 155 players to appear in at least one game for both the Yankees and Mets. The first was "Marvelous" Marv Throneberry, who broke in with the Yankees (1955, '58-59) before joining the Mets via a May 9, 1962 trade with Baltimore. The only other Yankee to play on the Mets in their inaugural 1962 season was Gene Woodling, who played six seasons in the Bronx from 1949-54, winning World Series championships in each of his first five seasons with the club. He was purchased by the Mets from Washington on June 15, 1962. There have been 34 players who have played on World Series-winning Yankees teams who have also appeared in at least one game for the Mets. Conversely, there have been nine World Series-winning Mets (1969-Swoboda; 1986-Elster, Gooden, Jefferson, Mazzilli, Ojeda, Orosco, Santana and Strawberry) to play for the Yankees at some point in their careers.

Dwight Gooden [L] and Darryl Strawberry [R] are the only players to be part of World Series-winning teams for both the Yankees and Mets. While each player won rings with the Mets in 1986, Gooden played on championship Yankees clubs in 1996 and 2000, and Strawberry was a member of Yankees World Series winners in 1996, '98 and '99.

History & Records

Derek Jeter [R] greets Manager Joe Torre at home plate during pregame introductions prior to Game 3 of the 1999 World Series at Yankee Stadium. This year marks the 25th anniversary of that season, which marked Jeter's best statistical performance, as he notched career highs with a .349 batting average, 219 hits, 134 runs scored, 9 triples, 24 home runs, 102 RBI, 91 walks, .438 on-base percentage, .552 slugging percentage, .989 OPS and 8.0 WAR (per Baseball Reference) and led the Majors in hits, overall WAR and offensive WAR (9.1). In the postseason, the Yankees go 11-1 and sweep the Atlanta Braves in the Fall Classic for the second of three consecutive World Series championships.

History of the New York Yankees

The Yankees are baseball's most storied franchise. With 27 World Championships and 40 American League pennants, the club stands alone in both categories.

The team's glorious history has surprisingly humble origins at the start of the previous century, when the upstart American League declared itself a Major League following the 1900 season. At that time, the league sought to place a team in New York for the 1901 campaign. But due to the political strength of the National League's New York Giants, the American League instead put a team in Baltimore, calling it the Orioles, with the hope of establishing a team in New York as soon as possible.

Managed by John McGraw, the 1901 Orioles finished 68-65 and failed to draw substantial crowds. The following season, McGraw, uncertain about the club's future, precipitated a midseason release from his contract. He immediately teamed with Giants owner Andrew Freedman and Cincinnati Reds owner John T. Brush, helping them acquire a majority interest in the Orioles. With control of Baltimore's players, the pair of owners decimated the squad, divvying up the players between them. On July 17, 1902, the Baltimore Orioles were left with five players on their roster and were forced to forfeit their game against the St. Louis Browns. The American League quickly stepped in and lent Baltimore players from other teams so they could finish the season.

Prior to the start of the 1903 campaign, the two leagues reached a truce, part of which involved the National League agreeing to allow an American League team in New York City. With the Orioles having been dissolved, saloon owner Frank Farrell and ex-New York chief of police Bill Devery were awarded the right to establish a new franchise in New York for $18,000.

New York's American League entry was the city's third Major League team, joining the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League. The new club played its home games at American League Park, a hastily constructed all-wooden structure at 168th Street and Broadway in Manhattan. Because the site was one of the highest spots in the borough, the team was commonly called the "Hilltoppers" or "Highlanders" and their home field "Hilltop Park." The club played its inaugural game on April 22, 1903, at Washington, losing, 3-1, to the Senators. The next day, they defeated the Senators, 7-2, recording the very first win in franchise history.

Led by future Hall of Famers Jack Chesbro, Clark Griffith and Wee Willie Keeler, the 1903 Highlanders finished with a 72-62 record, 17.0 games out of first place. The club nearly captured the American League pennant in 1904—finishing 1.5 games behind the Boston Americans (later known as the Red Sox)—as Chesbro went 41-12 with a 1.82 ERA in 454.2 innings pitched, setting a modern era (since 1900) record with his win total. That season marked the first of three second-place finishes for the club between 1904 and 1910.

After a devastating fire severely damaged the Polo Grounds in 1911, the Highlanders' owners invited the Giants to share Hilltop Park until their home could be rebuilt. Two years later, the Giants returned the favor and allowed the Highlanders to become tenants in their new, vastly superior facility.

Following the move in 1913, newspapers and the public increasingly referred to the club as the "Yankees," which first appeared in the press in 1904. While no official announcement was ever made to formally establish the team's nickname, 1913 is considered the year that "Yankees" became the team's principal moniker.

Manager Miller Huggins [L] led the Yankees to three World Series championships and six American League pennants after being hired by owner Jacob Ruppert [R] in 1918.

From 1911 to 1919, the Yankees won as many as 80 games in a season only twice. However, three key moves—the January 1915 purchase of the ballclub by Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Colonel Tillinghast L’Hommedieu Huston, the 1918 hiring of Manager Miller Huggins by Ruppert (without Huston’s blessing) and the 1919 midseason trade for right-handed pitcher Carl Mays (26 wins in 1920 and 27 wins in 1921)—set the stage for the greatest course-altering transaction in baseball history, when on January 5, 1920, the Yankees completed the purchase of the contract of George Herman “Babe” Ruth from the Boston Red Sox for $100,000 plus interest along with a reported $300,000 personal loan against the mortgage on Fenway Park.

Ruth’s impact was immediate. The Yankees won 95 games in 1920, their highest victory total up to that point, then captured their first AL pennant a year later. With the Babe hitting 54 home runs in 1920—more than any other team in the American League—Yankees attendance at the Polo Grounds doubled to 1,289,422. In 1921, the Giants, being outdrawn in their own park, asked the Yankees to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. Now bitter rivals, the two teams squared off in the World Series in 1921 and 1922 with the Giants winning on both occasions.

Though he came up on the wrong end in both Series, Yankees pitcher (and 1969 Hall of Fame inductee) Waite Hoyt allowed just one earned run over 35.0 combined innings over the two Fall Classics. Remarkably, he went 2-2 in his five appearances (four starts), including a 1-0, Series-clinching loss (on an unearned run) in Game 8 of the 1921 best-of-nine championship.

With their departure from the Polo Grounds inevitable, the Yankees’ owners set out to build a ballpark of their own. Designed to be baseball’s first triple-decked structure with an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would be the first baseball facility to be called a “stadium” at its inaugural opening.

The team’s upcoming success was masterminded by business manager and future Hall of Famer Ed Barrow, whose responsibilities from 1921 through 1945 included both player personnel and the club’s finances. He developed a fantastic relationship with Huggins from the outset and brought in Paul Krichell, who not only developed the Yankees scouting department but personally signed Lou Gehrig, Phil Rizzuto and Whitey Ford to their first Yankees contracts.

Construction on the original Yankee Stadium began on May 5, 1922, and in only 284 working days, it was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923, against the Boston Red Sox. An announced crowd of 74,200 fans packed the Stadium for a glimpse of Baseball’s grandest facility while thousands milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Appropriately, Ruth christened the Stadium with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees, behind starter Bob Shawkey, won, 4-1.

Playing in their new stadium, dubbed “The House that Ruth Built” by New York Telegram sportswriter Fred Lieb, the Yankees won the American League by 16.0 games in 1923, using just eight pitchers all season. Each of their five starting pitchers—Shawkey, Hoyt, Joe Bush, “Sad” Sam Jones and Herb Pennock—won at least 16 games. In October, the Stadium hosted the first of 37 World Series at the structure, and the Yankees won the first World Championship in franchise history, defeating their former landlord, the Giants, in six games.

Less than two seasons later, one of the greatest players in franchise history was given his chance to crack the lineup. On June 1, 1925, in a 5-3 loss vs. Washington, Huggins called upon Gehrig, a 21-year-old first baseman with 34 career games to his name, to pinch-hit for light-hitting shortstop Paul “Pee Wee” Wanninger. It would mark the first of 2,130 consecutive games played by the “Iron Horse,” who replaced Wally Pipp as the Yankees’ starting first baseman the very next day. The story of Gehrig replacing Pipp because of a headache is a myth. Pipp, who led the AL in homers in 1916 and 1917 and was an integral part of the Yankees’ World Series clubs from 1921-23, had a poor start to the season, and Manager Miller Huggins wanted to see what the younger, much-heralded Gehrig could do.

After the Yankees suffered a tough loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1926 World Series (which famously ended with Babe Ruth making the final out in Game 7 while trying to steal second base), the Yankees rolled to World Championships in both 1927 and 1928, sweeping the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals, respectively. The 1927 club, known as “Murderers’ Row,” is often the yardstick by which team greatness is measured. During that season, Ruth broke his own single-season home run record (previously 59 in 1921) with his 60th on September 30, 1927, off Washington’s Tom Zachary. Gehrig also added 47 homers and 173 RBI.

In his 15 seasons in pinstripes from 1920-34, Ruth helped establish a winning tradition with seven American League pennants and four World Championships. He finished his unparalleled career with 714 home runs (including 49 with the Red Sox from 1914-19 and six with the Boston Braves in 1935). He also tallied 12 American League home run titles and six RBI crowns, including five seasons with more than 150 RBI. A charter member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, he remains widely regarded as the greatest player of all time.

Throughout Ruth's time in pinstripes, he often overshadowed the soft-spoken, Manhattan-born Gehrig, who posted incredible numbers in his own right. From 1926 through 1938, Gehrig drove in at least 112 runs each season. A player on seven World Championship clubs (1927-28, 1932, 1936-39) and a major contributor to the first six, he finished with a .340 lifetime batting average and 493 career home runs in just 8,001 at-bats. He was the AL's starting first baseman in each of the first five Major League Baseball All-Star Games, and in 1934, became the first of two Yankees in franchise history (also Mickey Mantle in 1956) to win the Triple Crown, hitting .363 with a career-high-tying 49 homers and 166 RBI. He also still holds the American League record for RBI in a single season with 184 in 1931.

After the 1934 season, Ruth's last in New York, the Yankees purchased the contract of a budding star named Joe DiMaggio from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Two years later, DiMaggio made his debut in pinstripes and helped the Yankees to an incredible string of four consecutive World Championships under Manager Joe McCarthy from 1936 through 1939. The 1930s also produced one of the game's greatest lefty-righty pitching combinations in future Hall of Famers Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing. A four-time 20-game winner—including 24-7 in 1932 and 26-5 in 1934—Gomez posted a 6-0 record in five World Series. Ruffing, who was acquired on May 6, 1930, from Boston for outfielder Cedric Durst and $50,000, had been 39-96 with the Red Sox since his 1924 rookie season. After coming to the Yankees, however, he built his Cooperstown credentials, going 231-124 in pinstripes while posting 20, 20, 21 and 21 wins on the four World Championship clubs from 1936 through 1939. He was also an exceptionally good hitter for a pitcher, totaling 36 career home runs and a .269 lifetime batting average.

From 1931 through part of the 1946 season, the Yankees were led by McCarthy, who compiled a Yankees-record 1,460 wins in his time at the helm. Having also spent time leading the Chicago Cubs (1926-30) and Boston Red Sox (1948-50), he is eighth on the all-time managerial wins list with 2,125 victories. With the Yankees, he reached eight World Series (1932, 1936-39, 1941-43), winning a World Championship in all but one—the 1942 Fall Classic against St. Louis.

Sadly, in 1939, Gehrig was diagnosed with a crippling disease, eventually determined to be amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), and his streak of playing in 2,130 consecutive games came to an end. On May 2, he took himself out of the lineup prior to the Yankees' 22-2 win at Detroit. He never played in a Major League game again.

On July 4 of the same season, the Yankees honored their captain with an emotional Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day at Yankee Stadium, and on Jan. 6, 1940, team president Ed Barrow announced that his No. 4 would become the first-ever retired number in baseball. Gehrig passed away from the effects of ALS on June 2, 1941.

DiMaggio became the pillar of the next generation of Yankees champions. In his 13 seasons in pinstripes (1936-42 and '46-51), DiMaggio made the AL All-Star team every year, and his club played in the World Series in all but three years (1940, '46, '48), winning nine World Series titles. Along the way, he tallied three AL MVP Awards (1939, '41, '47) and batted .325 over his career, marking the third-highest average in franchise history. The legendary "Yankee Clipper" compiled one of the game's most remarkable records in 1941, when he hit safely in an all-time-best 56 consecutive games.

DiMaggio's retirement after the 1951 season at the age of 37 was made easier by the emergence of Mickey Mantle, who played side-by-side with DiMaggio in the outfield in the Yankee Clipper's final campaign. With contributions from future Hall of Famers Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford and Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees were nearly unstoppable from the late 1940s through the early 1960s. Manager Casey Stengel sublimely handled the Yankees juggernaut following his surprising appointment prior to the 1949 season, as the club marched to an all-time record five consecutive World Series titles from 1949 through 1953.

His emphasis on platooning players (often to their chagrin) allowed him to exploit matchups in a way not emphasized at that time. Nicknamed "The Old Perffessor," with a vernacular called "Stengelese," he remains one of the most colorful personalities in the game's history.

In 12 seasons as manager of the Yankees, Stengel brought his club to the World Series 10 times, winning on seven occasions (also 1956 and 1958).

His staff during the remarkable five-year run of championships was anchored by a trio of starters who each pitched eight seasons with the Yankees and combined for 10 All-Star appearances while with the club. Allie Reynolds, known as "Superchief," went 131-60 with a 3.31 ERA in 295 games (209 starts) from 1947-54, after being acquired from Cleveland in exchange for fellow Hall of Famer Joe Gordon. Reynolds also finished 70 regular season games for the Yankees in an era before the save was an official statistic. The No. 2 starter, Vic Raschi, broke into the Majors at age 27 and didn't become a full member of the Yankees rotation until the second half of the 1947 season. He won exactly 21 games in each of three consecutive years from 1949-51 and tallied a .706 winning percentage (120-50) and 3.47 ERA with the club from 1946-1953. The least-heralded of the three, "Steady" Eddie Lopat, went 113-59 with a 3.19 ERA with the Yankees from 1948-1955, including an AL-leading 2.43 ERA in 1953.

Joe DiMaggio

Lefty Gomez

Mickey Mantle [L] and Roger Maris

For all of the great players of the 1950s and early 60s, Mantle overshadowed everyone. He would achieve greatness despite suffering from osteomyelitis (a painful inflammatory bone disease) and numerous other injuries. A powerful switch-hitter, he belted 536 home runs, collected 2,415 hits and batted .300 or higher 10 times in an 18-year career. In his first 14 seasons in pinstripes (1951-64), the Yankees missed the World Series only twice (1954 and 1959) and won the Fall Classic seven times. With his .353 batting average, 52 homers and 130 RBI in 1956, he remains the last Yankees player to win the Triple Crown.

Ford, who played his whole career in pinstripes, is the Yankees' all-time wins leader. Known as the "Chairman of the Board," he posted a lifetime record of 236-106 (.690), giving him the third-best career winning pct. of any pitcher with 100-or-more decisions who started his career in the modern era (since 1900), trailing only career-Yankee Spud Chandler (.717, 109-43, from 1937-47) and Clayton Kershaw (.694, 197-87). Ford, the 1961 Cy Young Award winner, paced the AL in victories three times and in ERA and shutouts twice. The diminutive, New York City native still holds many World Series records, including those for wins (10), consecutive scoreless IP (33.0) and strikeouts (94).

The heart of the Yankees for 18 seasons, Berra played on 14 pennant winners and 10 World Championship teams—a record number for any individual player in MLB history. He is one of only 10 players in Major League history to win three MVP Awards and was selected to the All-Star team in every season from 1948 through 1962. Incredibly, he led the Yankees in RBI every season from 1949-55, had more career 100-RBI seasons (five) than Mantle (four), and hit at least 20 homers in 11 different seasons. Known as much for his quotes ("It ain't over 'til it's over" and "I really didn't say everything I said," etc.) as he is for his accomplishments on the field, he remains one of the most beloved players to ever play the game.

Elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1994, Rizzuto was a defensive-minded shortstop who played on 10 pennant winners and eight World Series championship teams from 1941 through 1956, capturing the league's MVP award in 1950 with a .324 batting average and 125 runs scored. Following his playing career, he became a longtime Yankees broadcaster, known for punctuating big moments with his signature phrase, "Holy cow!"

However, not every notable Yankee was a future Hall of Famer. In Game 5 of the 1956 World Series vs. Brooklyn, right-hander Don Larsen authored baseball's greatest pitching performance, retiring all 27 Dodgers batters for the only perfect game in World Series history.

The Yankees opened the 1960s winning pennants in the first five seasons (1960-64) and World Series titles in 1961 and 1962. Incredibly, in the 29 seasons from 1936 to 1964, the Yankees won 22 pennants and 16 World Championships. The 1961 club is still regarded as one of the best teams in baseball history. With Mantle and Roger Maris embroiled in a season-long race to break Ruth's single-season home run record, the Yankees rolled to 109 wins en route to a World Championship. Maris broke Ruth's record when he belted his 61st home run on October 1 off Boston's Tracy Stallard at Yankee Stadium in the last game of the season.

Age finally caught up with the ballclub after a seven-game Series loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1964. The Yankees finished above fourth place just once in the next nine seasons, bottoming out in 1966 with the club's first last-place finish since 1912.

The team's fall from grace ended on January 3, 1973, when it was sold by CBS to a group headed by George M. Steinbrenner III. With the addition of Catfish Hunter (baseball's first marquee free agent), shrewd trades that brought Ed Figueroa, Mickey Rivers, Chris Chambliss and Willie Randolph to the club, and a strong nucleus that included Thurman Munson, Graig Nettles, Roy White and Sparky Lyle, the Yankees returned to the postseason in 1976, ending an 11-year drought (1965-1975) by winning their first American League East title. Then on October 14, 1976, in the deciding Game 5 of the American League Championship Series vs. Kansas City, Chambliss launched a ninth-inning, pennant-winning home run to put the Yankees back in the World Series.

This newfound success took place in a remodeled Yankee Stadium after the club played the 1974 and 1975 seasons in Shea Stadium while vast improvements were made to the original facility (for more details, see "History of Original Yankee Stadium").

Reggie Jackson hit three home runs in Game 6 of the 1977 World Series.

After a disheartening four-game sweep by the Cincinnati Reds in the 1976 World Series, the Yankees introduced Reggie Jackson—the most prolific slugger of his era—as the club's newest free-agent acquisition. Jackson capped an exciting 1977 season with one of baseball's greatest individual batting performances. In the World Series-clinching win vs. Los Angeles in Game 6 at Yankee Stadium, "Mr. October" belted three home runs on three swings of the bat to join Babe Ruth (and now Albert Pujols and Pablo Sandoval) as the only players to hit three home runs in a single World Series game.

In 1978, the Yankees overcame a 14.0-game deficit in the American League East to force a one-game playoff with Boston at Fenway Park to decide the division. Shortstop Bucky Dent erased a 2-0, seventh-inning Red Sox lead with a dramatic three-run homer, and the Yankees went on to win, 5-4. The Yankees then defeated Kansas City for the third straight year in the ALCS, and took care of the Dodgers in six games for their first back-to-back World Series titles since 1961-62.

The 1978 season also saw Ron Guidry compile one of the most dominating pitching seasons in baseball history. On the way to earning his nickname of "Louisiana Lightning," Guidry went 25-3 with a 1.74 ERA, winning the AL Cy Young Award in unanimous fashion and setting franchise records with 248 strikeouts (since broken in 2022 by Gerrit Cole) and nine shutouts. On June 17 that season, Guidry set the single-game club record for strikeouts, fanning 18 California Angels at Yankee Stadium in a game that established the Stadium tradition of fans applauding for a strikeout once a Yankees pitcher reaches two strikes. A five-time Gold Glove Award winner and four-time American League All-Star, Guidry also racked up 20-win seasons in 1983 (21-9) and 1985 (22-6).

Sadly, the 1970s ended with tragedy. Thurman Munson, the 1976 AL MVP and the Yankees' first captain since Gehrig, was killed when the private jet he was piloting crashed on August 2, 1979, at Akron-Canton Airport in Ohio. Only 32 years old at the time of his death, Munson was the undisputed leader of the Yankees teams that won three consecutive pennants and two World Championships. After the captain's death, the Yankees would make only one World Series appearance (1981) over the 16-year stretch from 1979-95 despite compiling the best record in the Majors during the 1980s.

During this period, Don Mattingly became one of the most popular players in franchise history, batting .307 in a 14-year career (1982-95) played entirely in pinstripes. He compiled an incredible six-year stretch from 1984 through 1989, in which he batted .327 and topped 100 RBI five times, including a career-high 145 in 1985, when he captured the AL MVP Award. A year earlier, he outdueled teammate Dave Winfield for the 1984 AL batting crown (.343 to .340), going 4-for-5 on the final day of the season. Mattingly's performance and loyalty were recognized when he was named Yankees captain from 1991-95.

Winfield, who came to the Yankees as the game's most sought-after free agent in 1981, compiled Hall of Fame credentials in his nine seasons in pinstripes (1981-88, '90). With the Yankees, he belted 205 home runs with 818 RBI and won five Gold Glove Awards.

After a 13-year absence (1982-94), the Yankees returned to postseason play in 1995 as the American League's first-ever "Wild Card" entry. A heart-wrenching loss to the Seattle Mariners in the Division Series marked the start of a 13-year run of postseason appearances (1995-2007) — a record topped only by the Atlanta Braves' 14-season streak (1991-93, 1995-2005).

In 1996 under new skipper Joe Torre, the Yankees returned to the World Series against Atlanta, coming back from an 0-2 deficit to win four straight games, including Games 3, 4 and 5 on the road. Following a Division Series exit in 1997, the Yankees won three straight World titles from 1998 through 2000, giving them four championships in five years. Their 114 regular season victories in 1998 shattered the 44-year-old AL mark of 111 wins set by the 1954 Cleveland Indians (since broken by Seattle in 2001) and their 125 total victories, including 11 postseason wins, remains the highest single-season total in baseball history.

Beginning in the early 90s, the Yankees made a concerted effort to draft and cultivate homegrown talent such as Bernie Williams, Derek Jeter, Andy Pettitte, Jorge Posada and Mariano Rivera. In addition, trades and free-agent acquisitions brought All-Stars such as Wade Boggs, Scott Brosius, David Cone, Jimmy Key and Tino Martinez to the Bronx. Another of those players, Paul O'Neill, acquired in a November 3, 1992, trade with Cincinnati, became adored by Yankees fans for his intense and gritty approach and was given the nickname "warrior." Winner of the 1994 batting title (.359), he was a key part of the club's turn-of-the-century success.

In 2001, the Yankees fell just shy of becoming the second team in history to win four consecutive World Series titles, but they nevertheless captured the hearts of the nation in the aftermath of the terrorist attacks of September 11. The Yankees dropped the first two games of the Series at the Arizona Diamondbacks' Bank One Ballpark but rallied to win the next three at Yankee Stadium behind dramatic ninth-inning comebacks in Games 4 and 5. On consecutive nights, Martinez and Brosius erased two-run, ninth-inning Diamondbacks leads with home runs, and the Yankees won both games in extra innings. It was in Game 4 that Jeter earned his "Mr. November" nickname with a 10th-inning "walk-off" home run. The victories marked the first time in World Series history that a team won two games in the same Series when trailing by at least two runs in the ninth inning.

No one embodies the Yankees' success since 1996 more than Jeter, who was a rookie on that squad. He played his franchise-record 20th and final season with the Yankees in 2014, retiring with a personal career winning percentage of .593 (1,628-1,117-2) and five World Series rings. He is sixth in baseball history with 3,465 career hits and tops the Yankees' all-time list in hits, games played (2,747), doubles (544), stolen bases (358), at-bats (11,195), singles (2,595) and hit-by-pitches (170). Jeter also recorded eight 200-hit seasons and is one of two players in franchise history along with Gehrig (eight) with as many as four. In fact, according to the Elias Sports Bureau, no other player in Baseball history has had as more than four 200-hit seasons while playing at least 100 games at shortstop per year. Jeter capped his farewell season with a dramatic "walk-off" RBI-single in his final career game at Yankee Stadium and another RBI-single in his final career at-bat three days later at Boston's Fenway Park.

Posada and Rivera also crafted special places for themselves in the annals of the franchise. Posada, a 24th-round selection in the 1990 First-Year Player Draft, hit at least 20 home runs in eight different seasons. Known for his toughness and durability, the Puerto Rico-born backstop started at least 120 games in eight consecutive seasons from 2000-07, and retired after the 2011 season having never worn another uniform.

Derek Jeter

Rivera, who retired at the conclusion of the 2013 season with 652 career saves, became Baseball's all-time saves leader in 2011, surpassing Trevor Hoffman (601). His reputation was cemented by postseason excellence, which included an 8-1 record and 0.70 ERA in 96 career postseason games (141.0 innings pitched) and an all-time record 33.1 consecutive scoreless postseason innings. His Major League-leading 42 career postseason saves are more than the second and third place totals combined (38). Additionally, his 2.21 career ERA is the lowest all time among pitchers with at least 1,000.OIP since ERA was made an official statistic in 1912 in the NL and 1913 in the AL.

In 2004, the organization acquired Alex Rodriguez in a trade with Texas. After his arrival in the Bronx, the 14-time All-Star transitioned to a new position at third base and was named AL MVP in 2005 and 2007, while becoming the seventh—and youngest—player in Baseball history to reach the 600-home run plateau in 2010.

The original Yankee Stadium took its curtain call in 2008, which was also the first of 10 seasons under manager Joe Girardi. Full of nostalgia and notable events, 2008 featured the third Papal Mass in Stadium history on April 20 and a 15-inning, 4-3 American League victory in the All-Star Game on July 15. Though the Yankees played their last-ever home game in the original Stadium on September 21, 2008, defeating the Baltimore Orioles, 7-3, the drama of the season didn't end until its final day as Mike Mussina earned a win in the first game of a doubleheader over Boston at Fenway Park to become the oldest first-time 20-game winner in Baseball history.

The following season was storybook material as the club finished the inaugural season in the newly-constructed Yankee Stadium with the best regular season record in the Majors (103-59) and a 2009 World Series win over the Phillies in six games. Free-agent acquisitions CC Sabathia (19 wins) and Mark Teixeira (second in AL MVP voting, 39HR, 122RBI) each played major roles in the club's success.

The joy, however, was short-lived as the franchise mourned the losses of Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III and longtime public address announcer Bob Sheppard in the summer of 2010.

More recently, the challenging, COVID-affected 2020 season saw DJ LeMahieu (.364 BA) and Luke Voit (22HR) lead the Majors in those categories, becoming the first Yankees to top MLB in those stats since Mickey Mantle (.353 BA in 1956) and Alex Rodriguez (54HR in 2007).

The cornerstone of the Yankees' recent stretch of six straight postseason appearances (from 2017-22) is Aaron Judge, who won the 2017 AL Rookie of the Year Award with a then-all-time rookie record of 52 home runs, along with 114 RBI and a 1.049 OPS.

In 2022, he put together one of the best individual seasons in baseball history, hitting an American League-record 62 home runs and batting .311/.425/.686 (177-for-570) with 133R, 28 doubles, 131RBI, 111BB and 165B in 157 games on the way to the AL MVP Award. He also led the Majors in runs scored, on-base percentage, slugging percentage, OPS (1.111), extra-base hits (90), total bases (391) and WAR (11.4, FanGraphs). Following the season he signed a nine-year contract extending through the 2031 season and was named the first captain of the Yankees since Derek Jeter.

In 2023, starter Gerrit Cole cemented his place in Yankees lore, becoming the club's sixth all-time Cy Young Award winner (and first since Roger Clemens in 2001), posting a 15-4 record with a 2.63 ERA and a Major League-leading 0.98 WHIP. That performance came on the heels of his record-setting 2022, when he established the all-time franchise record for strikeouts in a single season (257).

Going forward, the Yankees will look to build on their long run of consistently appearing in the postseason (including 24 of the last 29 seasons since 1995). Manager Aaron Boone has a roster infused with established stars, including three-time All-Stars Juan Soto and Anthony Rizzo, and young talent including Gold Glove-winning shortstop Anthony Volpe, catcher Austin Wells and outfielder Jasson Dominguez.

With 27 World Series titles already to their name, the Yankees look forward to competing for their 28th championship in 2024. ✱

Aaron Judge won the 2017 AL Rookie of the Year Award, setting the then-MLB rookie record with 52 home runs.

History of the Yankees Uniform & NY Logo

Pitcher Jack Chesbro dons the 1908 uniform.

Babe Ruth wears the pinstriped cap of 1921.

breathable double-knit uniforms, Yankees road jerseys added navy-and-white banded trim to the cuffs of the sleeves as well as white shadowing behind the jersey lettering, both of which were removed prior to the 2024 season (more on that below). The most-significant tweak to the road uniform in the 50 years before 2024 was the switch from glossy to matte road helmets prior to the 2016 season.

The home uniform remains the Yankees' signature look. With the exception of minor alterations—including bolder pinstripes in the 1940s—it has remained mostly unchanged for more than 80 years.

In keeping with the team's reverence of tradition, the Yankees have worn "alternate" uniforms just three times in their history. On June 8, 1996, at Detroit, the team wore replica uniforms of the Negro National League's New York Black Yankees; on April 20, 2012, in Boston (on the 100th anniversary of the first game at Fenway Park), the Yankees wore polyester reproductions of their 1912 ensemble; and on August 12, 2021, the Yankees wore retro-inspired away uniforms

Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri pose at Yankee Stadium in 1927. Yankees jerseys did not feature the "NY" insignia from 1916 through 1935.

When the Yankees (then "Highlanders") first took the field for their inaugural season in 1903, their uniforms did not resemble the iconic style for which they are known today. A large ornate "N" decorated one breast and a large ornate "Y" the other. Two years later for the 1905 season, the "N" and "Y" were merged side by side into a monogram on the left breast, creating a forerunner of the now legendary emblem.

It wasn't until 1909 that the most recognizable insignia in sports—the interlocking "NY"—made its first appearance on the caps and left sleeves of Highlanders uniforms. It is thought that the design was inspired by a similar one created in 1877 by Tiffany & Co. for a medal to be given by the New York City Police Department to Officer John McDowell, a policeman shot in the line of duty. Perhaps because one of the club's owners, Bill Devery, was a former New York City police chief, the design was adopted by the organization. The familiar "NY" eventually migrated from the left sleeve to the left breast of home uniforms from 1912-15, albeit in a larger version than is currently worn today.

In 1912, their final season at Hilltop Park, the Yankees (as they were frequently called by then) made a fashionable debut at their April 11 home opener by wearing pinstripes for the first time in their history. The club was not the first team to wear pinstripes (eight of baseball's other 15 teams had already worn them at some point), and they would actually abandon the look in the following two seasons (1913-14). By 1915, though, home pinstripes were back for good.

In 1916, the Yankees removed the "NY" monogram from the jersey and went with a plain, pinstripes-only look. The "NY" remained off the uniform—except for the cap—for the next 20 years until it was reinstated in 1936. Babe Ruth, whose Yankees career spanned 1920-34, played his entire Yankees career without ever wearing the club's now-legendary insignia on his jersey.

The Yankees utilized numerous cap designs from 1903 until 1921—including pinstripes in 1915, '16, '19 and '21—until they finally settled on a solid navy cap with the interlocking "NY" insignia in 1922.

The club's road uniforms have remained relatively unchanged since 1918—solid grey with "NEW YORK" in block letters across the chest. The notable exception was from 1927-30, when "NEW YORK" was replaced by "YANKEES." In 1973, with the introduction of more breathable double-knit uniforms, Yankees road jerseys added navy-and-white banded trim to the cuffs of the sleeves as well as white shadowing behind the jersey lettering, both of which were removed prior to the 2024 season (more on that below). The most-significant tweak to the road uniform in the 50 years before 2024 was the switch from glossy to matte road helmets prior to the 2016 season.

for the "Field of Dreams" game against the White Sox in Iowa. Additionally, on three occasions, the Yankees have worn their batting practice caps during regular season games (Aug. 9, 2013, and May 12 and 14, 2014).

In recent years, the Yankees have also participated in other MLB-wide initiatives relating to various holidays, including camouflage and American-flag inspired elements on Memorial Day and Independence Day, and pink & baby blue elements on Mother's Day (to recognize breast cancer awareness) and Father's Day (for prostate cancer awareness).

The Yankees have joined other MLB-wide initiatives, including adding a New Era logo on the left side of their caps beginning in 2019 and a Nike logo on the front of their jerseys beginning in 2020. Additionally, the team wore special "Players Weekend" jerseys from 2017-19, which included individualized nicknames on the back, marking the only times the Yankees have had last names or nicknames on the backs of their jerseys.

In the last two seasons, there have been highly notable changes to the Yankees' attire. As part of the team's signature partnership with Starr Insurance (which was announced on July 12, 2023), the Yankees added a Starr logo patch to one sleeve of both the home and road game jersey, debuting the addition with the team's first post-All-Star Break home game on July 21, 2023. The patch, which was embroidered in 2023, will again be heat-sealed and sewn on. However in 2024, the team will use a lighter-weight printed patch that has been fully color-matched to the dark blue elements of the uniform.

Additionally, ahead of the 2024 season, the Yankees have altered their road uniform for the first time since 1973. Inspired by the retro look of the uniforms worn in Iowa in 2021 and the positive reviews from Yankees players who wore them, the Yankees have removed the white outlining around both "NEW YORK" and the uniform number, and eliminated the dark blue and white trim on the sleeve cuffs. With these changes, home and road uniform numbers will be identical. The new road style will debut in the team's season opener on March 28 at Houston. X

Origin of Numbered Uniforms

Numbers first appeared on Major League uniforms on June 26, 1916, when the Cleveland Indians wore large numerals on their left sleeves in an experiment that lasted just a few weeks. Another brief trial by Cleveland the next season and a similar sleeve trial by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1923 both proved temporary. It wasn't until the 1929 season that another attempt was made, as both Cleveland and the Yankees began their seasons with numbers as a permanent part of their respective uniforms. Though the Yankees are typically credited as being the team with the longest-standing such policy, it should be noted that the Indians began their season two days earlier than the Bombers, as the Yankees' April 16 Opening Day contest was rained out.

The initial distribution of numbers to the Yankees roster was made according to the player's respective position in the batting order. Therefore, in 1929, leadoff hitter Earle Combs wore No. 1, Mark Koenig No. 2, Babe Ruth No. 3, Lou Gehrig No. 4, Bob Meusel No. 5, Tony Lazzeri No. 6, Leo Durocher No. 7, Johnny Grabowski No. 8, Benny Bengough No. 9 and Bill Dickey No. 10 (Grabowski, Bengough and Dickey shared the catching duties). By the mid-1930s, other teams adopted the idea, and uniform numbers became standard for all teams. ✎

Babe Ruth wore No. 3 with the Yankees from 1929-34.

Top Hat Logo Design

Though not appearing on the uniform, the Yankees "top hat" logo is one of the most identifiable in sports. It was created by well-known, longtime graphic artist Henry Alonzo "Lon" Keller after a commission from then-Yankees co-owner Larry MacPhail. An initial version consisting solely of the Yankees script with a top hat above the "k" first appeared on the cover of the 1946 spring training roster. MacPhail, however, asked Keller to further develop his work. The designer's more elaborate design debuted during the 1946 season and remains largely unchanged to the present day. (Information regarding Keller's contribution was taken from articles in the 1976 Yankees scorecard and the Aug. 22, 1995, edition of Yankees Magazine.) ✎

Origin of the Names "Highlanders" and "Yankees"

In the early 1900s, fans, the media and front office personnel did not see club nicknames as the defining elements they are today. People thought of clubs by the city they represented and the league in which they played. Anything beyond that was the work of clever newspapermen trying to freshen up the references to teams in their stories.

Much of the logo- and nickname-oriented merchandise items we have today, such as caps, T-shirts or jerseys simply didn't exist a century ago when games weren't televised and men uniformly wore jackets and ties to the park.

When the Yankees franchise was launched in New York prior to the 1903 season, the enmity between the upstart American League (about to enter its third season) and the long-established National League was just beginning to ebb. It was commonplace for clubs and the media to refer to AL teams as "Americans" and NL clubs as "Nationals," especially as half of the cities with Major League Baseball at the time had teams in both leagues (Boston, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis). This terminology frequently served to differentiate the New York AL team from the two longstanding NL clubs—the Brooklyn Superbas (as the Dodgers were then known) and the New York Giants—with whom they were now battling for fans.

The club's first home in New York was a rickety wooden structure often referred to as "American League Park." It was located on 168th St. and Broadway, one of the highest spots in Manhattan. As a result, the team became known as the "Hilltoppers" and their field "Hilltop Park."

The name "Highlanders," as the team of that era is most popularly remembered today, also started in the club's formative years. It originated not only as a nod to their elevated Manhattan perch, but also as a reference to club president Joseph W. Gordon, whose last name conjured up thoughts of the famous Scottish army unit, the Gordon Highlanders.

Other nicknames for the team were the "Greater New Yorks" and "Griffiths," the latter of which was a reference to Clark Griffith, who managed the club from 1903-08.

As early as 1904, however, the name "Yankees" became common in the press. The earliest known use was in an April 7, 1904, article in the New York Evening Journal that bore the headline "YANKEES WILL START HOME FROM SOUTH TODAY," which was published following a successful spring training. A week later, the same newspaper's coverage of Opening Day was headlined "YANKEES BEAT BOSTON," and the term also appeared in the article's lead sentence.

The name "Yankees" likely owes its success to newspaper typesetters and editors grateful for a team nickname with fewer letters than "Highlanders" or "Hilltoppers."

When the franchise moved from Hilltop Park to the low-lying Polo Grounds in 1913, the media and public dropped the other nicknames (which were no longer fitting) in favor of "Yankees." ✎

Patches & Armbands on the Yankees Uniform

Over the Yankees' history, temporary patches and armbands have been worn to commemorate special occasions and mourn losses in the Yankees family. The list below represents the most thorough compilation of such additions. Annual alterations such as Major League Baseball's Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day ribbons, or permanent additions such as MLB logo patches on the backs of caps and jerseys or the Nike swoosh on the fronts of jerseys in 2020 are not included in the list below. The addition of the Starr Insurance jersey patch, commemorating the company's signature partnership with the Yankees through 2031, is noted below.

*Please note that all sleeve notations reflect game jerseys (GJ) unless otherwise noted to be batting practice jerseys (BPJ).

Official Scoring at Yankee Stadium

The Yankees-Tigers contest at the Polo Grounds on May 15, 1922, might be the most significant game in the history of official scoring. In the second inning that wet day, Yankees shortstop Everett Scott failed to come up with a ground ball off the bat of Ty Cobb. Official scorer John Kieran (the first Sports of the Times columnist and founding editor of the Information Please Almanac) charged an error on Scott. Glancing over his shoulder as he fled the rain that was blowing into the press box, Fred Lieb (national president of the Baseball Writers Association of America and New York chapter chairman) scored it a hit. It was so reported by the Associated Press, for whom Lieb was compiling the box score. As was the custom, Kieran did not announce his call and Lieb, who was probably more interested at that moment in staying dry, did not ask.

The hit/error mattered — a lot. When official American League statistics were compiled (at the end of the season), the one-hit discrepancy was discovered. Cobb's season average was either .401 or .399. A predictable brouhaha ensued. Despite Lieb's willingness to cede to Kieran's official capacity, and despite the BBWAA's December vote that no hit be awarded, AL president Ban Johnson ordered the record to reflect that Cobb earned a hit and thus a .401 average. So it remains, officially, for all time.

As a result of "The Case of the Two-Point Base Hit" (as it was known), official scorers were instructed to contemporaneously communicate their calls to the press box, and the leagues assured the BBWAA that, in the future, a scorer's judgment would not be questioned.

Scorers' calls on close plays have also had a hand in Yankee Stadium no-hitters (and near misses). Had Lieb scored Whitey Witt's leadoff grounder to third on Sept. 11, 1923, an error and not a hit, Boston's Howard Ehmke would be remembered with Johnny

Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb at the Polo Grounds, which was the site of the "Two-Point Base Hit"

Vander Meer as hurlers of consecutive no-hitters. And had John Drebing of The Times not changed a hit (originally scored an error) back to an error after consulting during the game with Detroit's Johnny Pesky regarding Phil Rizzuto's fourth-inning grounder to short, Virgil Trucks would have thrown only one no-hitter in 1952.

Dan Daniel of the World-Telegram scored many Yankees home games during Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak in 1941, and according to Jerome Holtzman (later the official historian of Major League Baseball), he awarded at least two arguable hits to help keep the streak alive. Four years later, a reversed call on the last day of the season by Bert Gumpert of the Bronx Home News gave Yankees second baseman Snuffy Stirnweiss the hit he needed to edge the White Sox's Tony Cuccinello for the AL batting title by .000087.

The cavalcade of scorers who have worked at Yankee Stadium includes some of the giants of the baseball writers industry: Lieb, Daniel, Sid Mercer (an original BBWAA member in 1908), Frank Graham (Lou Gehrig's first biographer), John Drebing (who covered 203 consecutive World Series games over 34 years), Dick Young (who covered New York baseball for the Daily News and New York Post for 44 years), Leonard Koppett (author of The Thinking Fan's Guide to Baseball), Jack Lang (BBWAA secretary-treasurer for 22 years), Maury Allen (author of over 30 sports books), Red Foley (senior scorer in New York for 15 years) and Bill Shannon (senior scorer in New York for nine seasons and author of Official Scoring in the Big Leagues). ❧

Bill Shannon (pictured here in 1983) was the official scorer for approximately 800 games at Yankee Stadium from 1979 until his passing in 2010.

Important Dates in Yankees History

Jan. 9, 1903 - Frank Farrell and Bill Devery purchase the right to establish a new AL franchise in New York City for $18,000.

March 12, 1903 - The New York franchise is approved as a member of the American League. The team will play in a hastily constructed, wooden ballpark at 168th Street and Broadway. Because the site is one of the highest spots in Manhattan, their home field is referred to as "Hilltop Park."

Apr. 22, 1903 - The Highlanders (as the Yankees were commonly known then) play their first game, a 3-1 loss at Washington.

Apr. 23, 1903 - Pitcher Harry Howell records the first victory in franchise history, a 7-2 win at Washington.

Apr. 30, 1903 - The Highlanders notch a 6-2 win vs. Washington in their inaugural home opener at Hilltop Park.

May 11, 1903 - John Gangel hits the first home run in franchise history - an inside-the-park homer at Detroit's Bennett Park off George Mullin in an 8-2 Highlanders victory.

Apr. 29, 1906 - At Hilltop Park, the Highlanders and A's raise $5,600 to benefit victims of the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

Apr. 11, 1912 - Pinstripes first appear on Highlanders uniforms.

Apr. 21, 1912 - At the Polo Grounds, the Highlanders and Giants stage a benefit game for survivors of the Titanic. The Giants win, 11-2, as $9,425.25 is raised.

May 3, 1912 - The Highlanders lose at Philadelphia, 18-15. The 33 combined runs tie for the highest total in franchise history (also 5/22/30-G2 and 6/3/32, each in 20-13 Yankees wins at the A's).

Apr. 1913 - The name "Yankees" becomes the predominant nickname of the club after the team moves to the Polo Grounds, home of the National League's New York Giants.

Apr. 5, 1913 - The Yankees play an exhibition game against the Dodgers, losing, 3-2, in the first game at Ebbets Field.

Apr. 17, 1913 - The Yankees play their first home game at the Polo Grounds, losing to Washington, 9-3. It marks the beginning of 10 seasons as tenants of the National League's New York Giants.

Jan. 11, 1915 - Col. Jacob Ruppert and Col. Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston agree to purchase the Yankees for $460,000. The deal is formally completed on Jan. 30.

Apr. 24, 1917 - Lefthander George Mogridge becomes the first Yankee to throw a no-hitter in a 2-1 win at Fenway Park.

Mar. 18, 2008 - The Yankees visited Blacksburg, Va., to play an exhibition game vs. Virginia Tech to honor the victims and aid in the healing process following the tragic events on the college's campus on Apr. 16, 2007. Prior to the game at English Field, Yankees players and staff visited the campus' memorial site.

March 27, 2008 - Prior to the Yankees' final home spring training game, Legends Field is renamed George M. Steinbrenner Field.

June 7, 2008 - Johnny Damon goes 6-for-6 in the Yankees' 12-11 win vs. Kansas City, matching the franchise record for hits in a nine-inning game (see June 6, 1934 - Myril Hoag) and becoming the only Yankee in original Yankee Stadium history to record six hits in a game of any length. His final hit is a "walk-off" single.

Sept. 16, 2008 - Derek Jeter singles off Chicago's Gavin Floyd in the first inning for his 1,270th career hit at Yankee Stadium, surpassing Lou Gehrig for most all-time at the ballpark.

Sept. 21, 2008 - The Yankees play their last ever game in the original Yankee Stadium. Julia Ruth Stevens, daughter of Babe Ruth, throws out the first pitch, and Jose Molina hits the park's final home run in the fourth inning. Following the Yankees' 7-3 win over Baltimore, Derek Jeter thanks the fans over the Stadium PA system.

Sept. 28, 2008 - On the season's final day at Fenway Park, Mike Mussina records his 20th win of the year, becoming the oldest pitcher in MLB history to become a first-time 20-game winner.

Nov. 8, 2008 - Local Bronx high school youth groups are joined by former players Scott Brosius, David Cone, Jeff Nelson and Paul O'Neill and Yankees General Partner Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal in removing home plate, the pitcher's rubber and pails of dirt from the original Stadium, then installing them in the current Stadium.

Apr. 3-4, 2009 - The Yankees play their first exhibition games in the current Yankee Stadium, defeating the Cubs, 7-4 and 10-1, respectively. Chien-Ming Wang tosses the first pitch in the Apr. 3 contest.

Apr. 16, 2009 - The Yankees play the first regular season game in Yankee Stadium history, falling to Cleveland, 10-2. CC Sabathia tosses the Stadium's first official pitch, Johnny Damon records the first hit (first-inning single off Cliff Lee) and Jorge Posada hits the first HR (fifth-inning off Lee).

May 14 - June 1, 2009 - The Yankees set an all-time MLB mark (since surpassed) with 18 consecutive errorless games (safely handling 660 chances).

Sept. 11, 2009 - Derek Jeter breaks Lou Gehrig's all-time franchise mark of 2,721 hits with a single off Baltimore's Chris Tillman at Yankee Stadium. Gehrig had held the mark since 9/6/37.

Oct. 4, 2009 - Alex Rodriguez hits a three-run HR and a grand slam in the sixth inning of the season finale at Tampa Bay in a 10-2 Yankees win, setting an all-time AL mark with 7 RBI in an inning.

Nov. 4, 2009 - The Yankees win their 27th World Series, defeating Philadelphia in Game 6, 7-3. Hideki Matsui ties Bobby Richardson's World Series mark (1960 Game 3 vs. Pittsburgh) with 6 RBI (since tied by Albert Pujols in 2011 and Addison Russell in 2016). Andy Pettitte records the win, becoming the first pitcher to start and record the win in the clinching game in all three rounds of a single postseason. Manager Joe Girardi joins Billy Martin and Ralph Houk as the only Yankees to win a World Series with the club as a player and manager.

June 12-13, 2010 - Jorge Posada becomes the first Yankee since Bill Dickey (June 3, G2 - June 4, 1937) to hit grand slams in back-to-back games. He accomplishes the feat in 9-3 and 9-5 wins vs. Houston.

July 11 and 13, 2010 - Longtime Yankees P.A. announcer Bob Sheppard passes away at his home in Baldwin, Long Island, at age 99 and Yankees Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III passes away in Tampa, Fla. at age 80.

Aug. 4, 2010 - Alex Rodriguez becomes the seventh (and youngest) player in MLB history to hit his 600th HR, accomplishing the feat at 35 years, 8 days old in a 5-1 win vs. Toronto.

Sept. 20, 2010 - The Yankees dedicate a monument to Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner in Monument Park.

July 9, 2011 - Derek Jeter becomes the 28th player all time to record 3,000 hits, accomplishing the feat with a third-inning solo home run off David Price in a 5-4 win vs. Tampa Bay. He goes 5-for-5 on the day, matching his personal career high in hits.

Mike Mussina [R] smiles with Johnny Damon on Sept. 28, 2008, after becoming the oldest pitcher to win 20 games for the first time.

July 30, 2011 - In Game 2 of a doubleheader vs. Baltimore, the Yankees score 12 first-inning runs in a 17-3 win, sending 16 men to the plate with 13 reaching base (seven singles, two doubles, 1HR, 2BB and 1E). All nine batters had at least 1H and 1R. The club sets a franchise record for most runs scored in the first inning in any game.

Aug. 25, 2011 - In a 22-9 win vs. Oakland, Robinson Cano, Russell Martin and Curtis Granderson each hit grand slams. The Yankees become the first MLB team to hit three grand slams in a single game.

Sept. 19, 2011 - Mariano Rivera records his 602nd career save, closing out a 6-4 win vs. Minnesota at Yankee Stadium to surpass Trevor Hoffman and become the all-time Major League leader.

Aug. 13-14, 2013 - Alfonso Soriano records 2HR and 6RBI then 2HR and 7RBI in consecutive games vs. Los Angeles-AL. He becomes just the third player all time since RBI became official statistic in 1920 to record at least 6RBI in consecutive games.

Sept. 22 and 26, 2013 - The Yankees celebrate the career of Mariano Rivera with a 50-minute pregame ceremony, including the unveiling of his No. 42 in Monument Park and a live performance of "Enter Sandman" by Metallica. Four days later at Yankee Stadium, Rivera makes his final career appearance. He is removed from the game by longtime teammates Derek Jeter and Andy Pettitte, who come out of the dugout to make the pitching change.

June 29-30, 2019 - The Yankees sweep Boston in a two-game series at England's London Stadium, the site of the 2012 Olympic Games, in the first two Major League games ever played in Europe. The Yankees emerge victorious in 17-13 and 12-8 slugfests.

September 27, 2019 - A day after the Minnesota Twins become the first team to hit 300HR in a season, the Yankees join them, as Giancarlo Stanton takes Texas's Joe Palumbo deep in the first inning of a 14-7 win at Globe Life Park. It is the first of six Yankees longballs that night, as the club finishes the season with a franchise-record 306 home runs, one shy of the Twins' Major League-record 307.

July 23, 2020 - The Yankees and defending World Series champion Nationals kick off the abbreviated, COVID-19 affected 2020 season with MLB's opening game. Gerrit Cole makes his Yankees debut (5.0IP, 1H, 1R), earning the win in the Yankees' 4-1 victory.

Sept. 15-17, 2020 - The Yankees hit 19HRs in a three game series vs. Toronto (while outscoring them 43-15) to set an MLB mark for HRs over any three-game stretch. In the final game of the series, the Yankees hit 5HR in the fourth inn. vs. Toronto (Gardner/LeMahieu/Voit b2b2b; Stanton/Torres b2b), setting a single-inning franchise record and tying the MLB mark (seventh time).

May 19, 2021 - Corey Kluber tosses his first career no-hitter in a 2-0 win at Texas, allowing just one baserunner (BB in the 3rd inn.) while throwing 101 pitches. It was the 12th no-hitter in Yankees franchise history (incl. postseason) and the first by a Yankee since David Cone's perfect game on 7/18/99 vs. Montreal.

May 21, June 17 & June 20, 2021 - The Yankees turned triple plays on each of these dates (vs. Chicago-AL, at Toronto in Buffalo and vs. Oakland, respectively), setting a single season franchise record and becoming just the eighth team in modern MLB history to record three in a single year. The Yankees had recorded just three triple plays in total over their previous 52 seasons (1969-2020).

Oct. 3, 2021 - The Yankees clinch a postseason berth on the regular season's final day with a 1-0, ninth-inning, "walk-off" win vs. Tampa Bay. The victory comes on an infield single by Aaron Judge, marking his first career "walk-off" hit.

June 2-3, 2022 - Jameson Taillon tosses 7.0 perfect innings to open Game 2 on June 2 vs. Los Angeles-AL and Gerrit Cole tosses 6.2 perfect innings to begin his start on June 3 vs. Detroit to become the first teammates in the Expansion Era (since 1961) to open consecutive games with at least 6.0 perfect innings pitched.

July 19, 2022 - In an L.A. homecoming, Giancarlo Stanton becomes the third Yankee to be named All-Star Game MVP (also Jeter-2000, Rivera-2013), going 1-for-2 with a two-run, fourth-inning HR as the A.L. wins, 3-2, at Dodger Stadium.

Aaron Judge [L] and Gerrit Cole following Game 2 on Oct. 4, 2022 at Texas, where Judge set the all-time single-season AL HR mark and Cole set the single-season franchise record for strikeouts.

Oct. 4, 2022 - In the penultimate game of the season (the second game of a doubleheader at Texas), Aaron Judge hits his 62nd homer of the year off Jesús Tinoco, passing Roger Maris (61HR in 1961) as the all-time A.L. single-season record holder. Additionally, starter Gerrit Cole fans Nathaniel Lowe in the first inning to pass Ron Guidry (248K in 1978) for the all-time single-season franchise record for strikeouts. Cole finishes with 9K in the game and 257K on the year.

Dec. 21, 2022 - At a press conference to announce his new nine-year contract, Aaron Judge is named the 16th captain in franchise history by Managing General Partner Hal Steinbrenner.

June 28, 2023 - In an 11-0 victory at Oakland, Domingo Germán authors the 24th perfect game in baseball history and fourth by a Yankee, needing just 99 pitches to accomplish the feat. His catcher is Kyle Higashioka, who matches Yogi Berra and Joe Girardi as the only Yankees in franchise history to catch multiple no-hitters.

Sept. 1, 2023 - In a 6-2 victory at Houston, Jasson Dominguez makes his MLB debut and homers in his first career plate appearance off Justin Verlander. The outfielder becomes the second player in MLB history to homer in his first career AB off a reigning Cy Young Award winner, joining the Yankees' Marcus Thames on 6/10/02 vs. Arizona off Randy Johnson. He also becomes the sixth player in franchise history to homer in his first career plate appearance.

Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day - July 4, 1939

Prior to the Yankees' May 2, 1939, game at Detroit's Briggs Stadium, captain Lou Gehrig gave the umpires his team's lineup card — which did not have his name on it. He watched the entire game from the bench, marking the end of his 2,130-consecutive-games-played streak. "The Iron Horse" was suffering the effects of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), a disease known since as Lou Gehrig's disease. He would never play again.

Just over two months later, on July 4, 1939, Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day was held in front of approximately 62,000 fans at Yankee Stadium. Ceremonies took place between games of a doubleheader against the Washington Senators. Gehrig and his teammates were joined by members of the 1927 Yankees. After speeches by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and Postmaster James A. Farley, Manager Joe McCarthy said his public goodbye to Gehrig: "Lou, what can I say except that it was a sad day in the life of everybody who knew you when you came to my hotel room that day in Detroit and told me you were quitting as a ballplayer because you felt yourself a hindrance to the team. My God, man, you were never that."

Various gifts were presented to Gehrig from club employees and the rival New York Giants. His teammates gave him a trophy, which was inscribed with a poem by New York Times writer John Kieran. As the crowd chanted, "We want Lou; We want Lou...," Gehrig stepped to the microphone to deliver one of the most oft-quoted speeches in American history.

"For the past two weeks you've been reading about a bad break. Today I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the Earth. I have been in ballparks for 17 years and have never received anything but kindness and encouragement from you fans.

"When you look around, wouldn't you consider it a privilege to associate yourself with such fine-looking men as are standing in uniform in this ballpark today? Sure, I'm lucky. Who wouldn't consider it an honor to have known Jacob Ruppert? Also, the builder of baseball's greatest empire, Ed Barrow? To have spent six years with such a grand little fellow as Miller Huggins? To have spent the next nine years with that smart student of psychology, the best manager in baseball today, Joe McCarthy? Who wouldn't feel honored to room with such a grand guy as Bill Dickey?

"When the New York Giants, a team you would give your right arm to beat, and vice versa, sends you a gift—that's something. When the groundskeepers and office staff and writers and old-timers and players and concessionaires all remember you with trophies—that's something. When you have a wonderful mother-in-law who takes sides with you in squabbles against her own daughter—that's something. When you have a father and a mother who work all their lives so that you can have an education and build your body—it's a blessing. When you have a wife who has been a tower of strength and shown more courage than you ever dreamed existed—that's the finest I know.

"So I close in saying that I might have been given a bad break, but I've got an awful lot to live for. Thank you."

On January 6, 1940, Yankees team president Ed Barrow announced that No. 4 would be retired from use. To this day, Gehrig remains the only Yankee ever to wear the number.

Gehrig died on June 2, 1941, at his home in the Riverdale section of the Bronx. He was 37. 🦾

Babe Ruth Day - April 27, 1947

On April 27, 1947, Babe Ruth Day was celebrated throughout Major League Baseball, as the Babe said goodbye in an on-field ceremony at Yankee Stadium. Dressed in a topcoat, Ruth, weakened by throat cancer, made the following remarks:

"Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen. You know how bad my voice sounds—well it feels just as bad.

"You know this baseball game of ours comes up from the youth. That means the boys. And after you're a boy and grow up to know how to play ball, then you come to the boys you see representing themselves today in your national pastime. The only real game—I think—in the world is baseball.

"As a rule, some people think if you give them a football, or a baseball, or something like that—naturally they're athletes right away. But you can't do that in baseball. You've gotta start from way down [at] the bottom, when you're 6 or 7 years of age. You can't wait until you're 15 or 16. You gotta let it grow up with you. And if you're successful, and you try hard enough, you're bound to come out on top—just like these boys have come to the top now.

"There's been so many lovely things said about me, and I'm glad that I've had the opportunity to thank everybody. Thank you."

Ruth memorably returned to Yankee Stadium on June 13, 1948, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Yankee Stadium and have his uniform No. 3 retired.

He died on August 16, 1948, at Memorial Hospital in New York at age 53. His body laid in state at the entrance of Yankee Stadium on Aug. 17 and 18, before his funeral on Aug. 19 at New York's St. Patrick's Cathedral. 🦾

Bob Sheppard - "The Voice of Yankee Stadium"

Bob Sheppard will forever be the "The Voice of Yankee Stadium." With his instantly recognizable elocution — in which each syllable was given meticulous attention — Sheppard provided a soundtrack of irrefutable dignity to Yankee Stadium for 57 years.

Sadly, he passed away on July 11, 2010, at his home in Baldwin, N.Y., with his wife, Mary, by his side. He was 99 years old.

Born in Ridgewood, Queens, Sheppard began his tenure as Yankees public address announcer on April 17, 1951—Opening Day of Joe DiMaggio's final season and the day of Mickey Mantle's Major League debut. Among the approximately 4,500 baseball games he worked over his tenure with the Yankees were 121 consecutive postseason contests from 1951 to 2006, including 62 games in 22 World Series.

Sheppard's incredible career behind the microphone started when he volunteered his services for a charity football game in Freeport, Long Island, in the late 1940s. An executive from the Brooklyn Dodgers football team of the All-America Conference was at the game. He liked Sheppard's style ("clear, concise and correct") and hired him. The football Dodgers folded after just one season at Ebbets Field (1948), but one of their opponents—the New York football Yankees—heard Sheppard's booming voice and offered him their PA job at Yankee Stadium. Baseball's Yankees discovered him as a result and offered him their PA role for the 1950 season. Though he turned down their offer due to conflicts with his teaching schedule, he changed his mind the following year.

In addition to his baseball duties, Sheppard was the public address voice for the New York football Giants for 50 seasons—from their move to Yankee Stadium in 1956 until his retirement after the 2005 season. Sheppard also served the New York Titans of the American Football League at the Polo Grounds, the New York Stars of the World Football League at Downing Stadium, the New York Cosmos soccer team, and St. John's University's basketball and football teams. Sheppard also handled PA duties for five Army-Navy football games in Philadelphia.

Some of the events he listed as the most memorable of his incredible career were: Don Larsen's perfect game in Game 5 of the 1956 World Series on October 8, 1956; Roger Maris' 61st home run on October 1, 1961; Reggie Jackson's three home runs in Game 6 of the World Series on October 18, 1977; and the Giants-Colts overtime NFL Championship Game on December 28, 1958.

Sheppard attended St. John's College, which eventually became St. John's University. Always a talented athlete, he received a full athletic scholarship to the school, playing quarterback on the football team all four years. He later enrolled at Columbia University, where he received his master's degree in speech and worked his way up from teacher-in-training to substitute teacher to permanent teacher to department chairman. In order to supplement his teaching salary, Sheppard played semiprofessional football on Sundays in Long Island with the Valley Stream Red Riders and the Hempstead Monitors, earning $25 a game.

In 1998, Sheppard was presented with the prestigious William J. Slocum "Long and Meritorious Service" Award by the New York chapter of the BBWAA as well as the "Pride of the Yankees" award by the ballclub.

On May 7, 2000, a plaque was dedicated to Sheppard in Monument Park of the original Yankee Stadium to commemorate his 50th anniversary season. Additionally, the Yankee Stadium media dining room was named "Sheppard's Place" prior to the 2009 season to commemorate his legacy.

The native New Yorker was elected to the St. John's University Sports Hall of Fame, the Long Island Sports Hall of Fame and the New York Sports Hall of Fame.

He was awarded honorary doctorates from St. John's University (Pedagogy) and Fordham University (Rhetoric), and in 2007, received St. John's' Medal of Honor, the highest award that the university can confer on a graduate.

Sheppard also made cameo appearances in numerous motion pictures and television shows, including *61, It's My Turn, It Could Happen to You, For Love of the Game, Anger Management, Seinfeld and Mad About You.

Sheppard announced his final game at Yankee Stadium on September 5, 2007, a 3-2 Yankees victory over the Seattle Mariners.

On Sept. 21, 2008, Sheppard provided a valedictory in the bottom of the seventh inning of the final game at the original Yankee Stadium. Unable to say goodbye in person as he continued to recover from an illness that had kept him away from the Stadium since the final weeks of the 2007 season, Sheppard gave his tribute through a taped segment which played on the video board. He recited, "Farewell, old Yankee Stadium, farewell / What a wonderful story you can tell / DiMaggio, Mantle, Gehrig and Ruth / A baseball cathedral in truth."

Voices Before Sheppard

Not even Bob Sheppard himself could remember who preceded him as Yankee Stadium's public address announcer. Surprisingly, the history of Sheppard's predecessors at the microphone — or, earlier, the megaphone — spanned four decades and three ballparks before Sheppard's first game on April 17, 1951.

The lineage extends to Hilltop Park in 1910, when the Yankees were commonly called the "Highlanders." On June 11, Sporting Life noted a new method of announcing the starting batteries. Writer E.H. Simmons described an unnamed scorecard vendor with a "deep, carrying voice" shouting the names through a megaphone at the start of each game.

In 1913, the Yankees began playing their home games at the Polo Grounds, which was also home to the New York Giants. Jack Lenz and George Levy debuted as announcers for both teams two years later. When Yankee Stadium opened in 1923, Levy continued working with the Giants while Lenz carried his megaphone to the Bronx. "I grabbed the offer," Lenz recalled in 1935. "Who wouldn't, with the old Bambino holding forth at the Stadium?"

Lenz's game-day duties began with receiving the starting lineups from the managers of both teams 15 minutes before the first pitch. After delivering a copy of each lineup to the umpire, Lenz relayed the "necessary dope" to writers in the press box via telephone. He then raised his megaphone and announced the batting orders and batteries — first toward the bleachers, then to the upper tiers of the grandstand, and finally to the lower stands. During games, Lenz occupied Field Box 133 adjacent to the Yankees dugout. He broadcasted each batter's name only once, prior to the first plate appearance by each respective player. Lenz also announced lineup changes made throughout the game.

Lenz became a fixture at Yankee Stadium. Fans chuckled at his occasional malapropisms, such as advertising a doubleheader as "two games for the price of one omission." The New York Evening Journal praised Lenz as "the mild-mannered megaphone man" upon announcing his 2,000th game in 1933. Lenz set aside his megaphone to inaugurate Yankee Stadium's public address system during Game 3 of the 1936 World Series.

George Levy occasionally joined Lenz at the Stadium. In 1927, Lenz and Levy announced the Opening Day lineups to 72,000 fans as part of a "two-ply announcer system." Levy replaced Lenz as Yankee Stadium's official announcer by 1939 and was likely responsible for a famous gaffe made on May 31, 1946.

"Will the spectators in the front row boxes please remove their clothing..." Levy began, only to have the second half of the request ("from the front railing") obscured by the crowd's laughter.

Al Frazin served as Yankee Stadium's public address announcer from 1947 through 1950. Frazin, a longtime announcer at Madison Square Garden, handled P.A. duties in the 1930s for the pro football Brooklyn Dodgers, who were owned by future Yankees co-owner Dan Topping. Frazin served in the U.S. Army during World War II and was recalled into active military service in August 1950.

Research indicates that Yankees public relations director Arthur "Red" Patterson handled public address duties immediately prior to Bob Sheppard's debut in 1951. Patterson likely filled Al Frazin's vacated position through the 1950 World Series. ↗

Current Yankees Public Address Announcer Paul Olden

On April 15, 2009, the Yankees announced that Paul Olden would assume full-time duties as Yankee Stadium public address announcer, replacing the iconic Bob Sheppard. Olden, a 12-time Super Bowl public address announcer (1994-2005), first manned the Yankees booth during the team's workout day on April 2. He also worked the team's first-ever Stadium exhibition games vs. Chicago-NL on April 3-4.

Sheppard, the Yankees PA announcer since 1951, had been suffering from a bronchial infection and was last able to perform his role on September 5, 2007. His longtime backup, Jim Hall, handled PA responsibilities in 2008.

Olden had a long broadcasting career prior to taking the Yankees PA position, including three seasons in the Yankees television broadcast booth from 1994-96 alongside Phil Rizzuto and Bobby Murcer. He also called games on the radio for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays (1998-2004), California Angels (1991), and Cleveland Indians (1988-89), as well as for the NFL's New York Jets (1993-96) and Los Angeles Rams (1991-92).

Previously, Olden did fill-in radio work with the NBA's New Jersey Nets (1995-96) and MLB's Angels (1989-90, '92). He was also a full-time radio broadcaster for UCLA's basketball and football teams (1989-1992) and worked for The Football Network (2003), FOX SportsNet LA (1997) and ESPN (1991-92), calling Major League Baseball and college football.

Olden's other prior PA work included the NCAA's Outback Bowl from 2002-05 and USC Trojans baseball from 1972-76. He also did on-air radio work for KPMC and KNX in Los Angeles.

Born in Chicago and raised in L.A., Olden attended Los Angeles City College and Los Angeles Valley College (2006-08). He was presented with a New York Emmy Award for best local sports coverage in 1994 for his work on Yankees telecasts. ↗

The 1927 Yankees - "Murderers' Row"

Many baseball writers and historians consider the 1927 Yankees the greatest baseball team of all time. With a lineup known as Murderers' Row, the Yankees marched to a 110-44 regular season record, leading the AL from wire-to-wire and finishing ahead of the second-place Philadelphia A's by 19.0 games. The club featured seven Hall of Famers in uniform (outfielders Babe Ruth and Earle Combs, first baseman Lou Gehrig, second baseman Tony Lazzeri, pitchers Waite Hoyt and Herb Pennock, and manager Miller Huggins). Additionally, the team was constructed by an eighth Hall-of-Famer (general manager Ed Barrow) and owned by a ninth (Jacob Ruppert).

Ruth had his signature season, hitting 60 home runs, including 17 in September. With his final blast of the year off the Washington Senators' Tom Zachary, he surpassed his own single-season record of 59 set in 1921. Ruth also led the Majors in on-base pct. (.486), slugging pct. (.772), runs (158), walks (137) and strikeouts (89).

Hitting behind Ruth in the clean-up spot, Gehrig won the AL MVP Award, batting .373 with 173 RBI, 117 extra-base hits and 447 total bases. While this marked Gehrig's breakout season, his winning the award had a lot to do with the rules of the time, which prohibited a repeat winner (Ruth had won in 1923). Nevertheless Gehrig's totals for extra-base hits, total bases and RBI are the second-highest, third-highest and tied for the fourth-highest, respectively, in a single season in Baseball history.

As a club, the Yankees led the Majors in almost every offensive category, including runs (975), triples (103), home runs (158), walks (642), batting avg. (.307), on-base pct. (.384) and slugging pct. (.488). Ruth and Gehrig alone tallied 107 combined homers, just two shy of the New York Giants, who had the second-most as a team in the Majors.

For all the attention that the hitters received, the pitchers were every bit as good. They led the Majors with a 3.20 combined ERA and allowed the third-fewest walks (409) and homers (42) among the Majors' 16 teams. They tossed 82 complete games (second in the AL) and led their league with 11 shutouts.

The group was paced by Hoyt, who had the best overall season of his career, going 22-7 with a 2.64 ERA and tying for the AL lead in wins. Urban Shocker, a four-time former 20-game winner with the St. Louis Browns, went 18-6 with a 2.84 ERA, while dealing with a mitral valve disorder that forced him to sleep sitting up and contributed to his death the following year.

The biggest surprise on the staff was Wilky Moore—a player recommended to Barrow in 1926 by "bird dog" scout Jack Walsh (popular legend holds that Barrow discovered Moore while reading minor league statistics in The Sporting News). Moore became a spot starter as well as the Yankees' principal all-purpose relief pitcher, tossing 213.0 innings (93.0 as a starter, 120.0 as a reliever), going 19-7 with a Major League-leading 2.28 ERA.

The Yankees capped off their season with a four-game World Series sweep of Pittsburgh, outscoring the Pirates 23-10. Ruth hit the only two homers of the Series and Moore tossed a complete game in the clincher. Y

Even though most people use the term "Murderers' Row" to refer to the 1927 Yankees (pictured above), the nickname was first applied to the club by pundits in 1918.

The 1939 Yankees - "Culmination of a Dynasty"

In a year that the American and National Leagues celebrated the 100th anniversary of the mythologized creation of baseball, the 1939 Yankees overwhelmed opponents with flawless execution and a balanced attack of pitching, defense and clutch hitting. The club tallied 106 regular season victories before taking four straight from Cincinnati to win the last of four consecutive World Series championships.

Discipline and intensity formed the bedrock of the club's success. Talented young stars—harvested from baseball's most fertile farm system—adopted their veteran teammates' no-nonsense attitude. Manager Joe McCarthy even banned card playing, smoking and radio playing from the team's clubhouse.

The season began with concern over Lou Gehrig's declining on-field performance. His severely diminished skills mystified teammates and sportswriters. The ailing first baseman batted just .143 through the first eight regular season games before benching himself on May 2 to end his streak of 2,130 consecutive games played.

Babe Dahlgren assumed first base duties, and the Yankees hit their stride in May. The team soon made a mockery of the American League pennant race, winning 28-of-32 games through June 4, including a 12-game winning streak. On June 26, the Yankees played the first night game in franchise history at Philadelphia's Shibe Park. Two days later they launched 13 home runs in a doubleheader sweep of the A's (by scores of 23-2 and 10-0).

"It hardly seems necessary to say that the Yankees appear headed for their fourth straight pennant," wrote Richards Vidmer in the Herald Tribune. "They have everything that a championship club needs, from pitching to power, defensive skill, leadership and a fine balance of youth and experience."

Indeed, the team's success stemmed from this potent blend. The Yankees scored 967 runs and surrendered 556. The 411 run differential remains a modern era (since 1900) record.

On July 4, a reported 61,808 spectators packed Yankee Stadium for ceremonies honoring Lou Gehrig. The team captain had been diagnosed with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), a terminal illness now commonly called "Lou Gehrig's Disease." The honoree stood silently, with head bowed, through speeches and gift presentations. When he finally addressed the crowd, Gehrig uttered one of the most famous declarations ever made on a baseball field, calling himself "the luckiest man on the face of the Earth." He concluded by offering that "I might have been given a bad break, but I've got an awful lot to live for."

Just one week later, Yankee Stadium hosted the seventh annual All-Star Game on July 11. McCarthy managed an AL starting lineup that included six Yankees—Red Ruffing (P), Bill Dickey (C), Joe Gordon (2B), Red Rolfe (3B), George Selkirk (LF) and Joe DiMaggio (CF). Gehrig served as honorary captain in the AL's 3-1 victory.

Standout performances powered McCarthy's winning machine in 1939. Dickey (.302, 24HR, 105RBI) had a .403 on-base percentage, and Rolfe (.329, 14HR, 80RBI) paced the AL in runs scored (139), hits (213), and doubles (46), while fielding every inning of every game at third base. Gordon (.284, 28HR, 111RBI) was an All-Star in his second big league season, and rookie outfielder Charlie Keller (.334, 11HR, 83RBI) posted what would be his highest career single-season average. Selkirk (.306, 21HR, 101RBI) scored 103 runs in just 128 games.

Red Ruffing led the staff with a 21-7 mark and posted a 2.93 ERA despite an ailing arm. Six other pitchers each won between 10 and 13 games on an evenly-worked staff that led the AL with a 3.31 ERA and had only two pitchers start more than 20 games or toss more than 154 innings (Ruffing-28GS/233.1IP and Lefty Gomez-26GS/198.0IP).

Of all the 1939 Yankees, Joe DiMaggio's star shone the brightest. Despite a torn leg muscle early in the season, the graceful center fielder batted an AL-best .381 (176-for-462) with 30 home runs and 126 RBI in 120 games, earning his "Yankee Clipper" nickname from radio broadcaster Arch McDonald along the way. With 53 RBI in August, he is one of just two players in MLB history to reach the total in any single calendar month (also the Cubs' Hack Wilson, Aug. 1930). Though DiMaggio's batting average hovered above the .400 mark into early September, a late-season eye infection triggered a

September dip. Nonetheless, he went on to earn the first of three career AL MVP Awards (also 1941 and '47).

The Yankees clinched the AL pennant on Sept. 16 and completed the regular season with a 106-45 record. In the World Series, they dispensed with the Reds in Games 1 and 2 at Yankee Stadium in contests timed at 93 and 87 minutes, respectively. On the road at Crosley Field in Game 3, the Bronx Bombers launched four homers, and in Game 4, the Yankees won on "Lombardi's Snooze," with Charlie Keller crashing into Reds catcher Ernie Lombardi and rendering him temporarily immobile. This allowed three runs to cross the plate in the 10th inning in a 7-4 win, giving the Yankees their eighth Series title.

"One can write of these powerful, amazing Yankees only in superlatives," penned veteran sportswriter Fred Lieb at the end of the season. "They have accomplished feats which only a year ago would have been considered unbelievable. ... They have come closer to perfection than any other club in the first 100 years of baseball. Perhaps in another 100 years the feats of this team will have become legendary. Fans still unborn, thumbing through the records of this decade, will ask: 'Could a team have been that good?'"

The 1961 Yankees and Roger Maris' 61-Home Run Season

The 1961 Yankees are considered to be among the greatest teams of all time. Led by Roger Maris, who broke Babe Ruth's all-time single-season home run mark, the club powered their way to the 19th World Series championship in franchise history.

The Yankees finished the regular season with a 109-53 (.673) record, eight games ahead of the 101-61 (.623) Detroit Tigers. The clubs were just 1.5 games apart in the standings heading into the final full month of the season before the Yankees reeled off a 13-game winning streak from Sept. 1-12 to vault an insurmountable 11.5 games in front. Their massive win total was fueled by a 65-16 mark at Yankee Stadium, the best single-season home record in Major League history.

The Yankees had sluggers up and down the lineup, including Moose Skowron (28 HR), Yogi Berra (22 HR), Elston Howard (21 HR) and "Super-sub" Johnny Blanchard, who hit 21 homers in just 243 at-bats. Of the 240 home runs the Yankees hit, 10 were pinch-hit homers, setting a still-standing single-season franchise mark.

The pitching staff was paced by Whitey Ford, who had a career year, going 25-4 with a 3.21 ERA. Under first-year manager Ralph Houk, Ford took the ball every fourth day for the first time in his career and set career highs in wins, winning percentage (.862), starts (39) and innings pitched (283.0), earning the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in both leagues. Bill Stafford (14-9, 2.68 ERA), Ralph Terry (16-3, 3.15 ERA) and Rollie Sheldon (11-5, 3.60 ERA) were the Yankees' other top starters, and Luis Arroyo picked up 15 wins in relief, the highest total by a reliever in franchise history.

In the World Series, the Yankees triumphed over Cincinnati, 4-games-to-1, as Ford tossed 14.0 combined scoreless innings, earning wins in Game 1 and 4. With the Series knotted at one game apiece, Game 3 proved pivotal. Down, 2-1, heading into the eighth, Blanchard tied the game with a solo homer before Maris hit a game-winning solo shot in the ninth. The Yankees then outscored the Reds 20-5 over the final two contests to win the first of two consecutive World Series titles.

Much of the season's drama centered on the chase by the M&M Boys — Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle — to break Ruth's seemingly untouchable single-season record of 60 home runs, which he set with the 1927 Yankees. Maris, the American League MVP in 1960 and 1961, was joined in his pursuit by Mantle, who topped out at 54 home runs after sitting out seven of the club's final 10 games with an abscess in his right hip.

Maris tied Ruth's mark on Sept. 26 at Yankee Stadium with a home run off Baltimore's Jack Fisher in the team's 159th game of the season. Needing one homer to break the record with four games to go (the Yankees had played a tie earlier in the year), Maris was given a full game off prior to going homerless in the first two games of a three-game series against Boston at Yankee Stadium.

In the season's final game on Oct. 1, Maris connected in the fourth inning off Tracy Stallard, hitting a line-drive into the right-field stands for his 61st home run, which turned out to be the only run in a 1-0 Yankees victory. The quiet and humble Maris had to be pushed back onto the field by his teammates for his curtain call.

The chase was not without controversy as writers and fans loyal to Ruth clamored that the record should receive a special notation given that the American League was playing a 162-game schedule in 1961 due to the addition of two expansion teams. With the exceptions of 1901-03 and 1918-19, the AL had always played a 154-game format.

Ford Frick, a former sportswriter and New York City sportscaster who had previously ghostwritten Ruth's 1928 autobiography Babe Ruth's Own Book of Baseball, was the commissioner of baseball at the time. In the middle of the season, he issued the directive that baseball's official record book, The Little Red Book of Major League Baseball, compiled by the Elias Sports Bureau, should show two records — one for a 154-game schedule and another for a 162-game schedule. Contrary to popular lore, an asterisk was never used for the notation, and separate designations remained in the official record book until 1991, when Major League Baseball finally rescinded the distinction.

Maris' 61 in 1961 remained the highest single-season home run total in American League history until Aaron Judge broke the record with 62 in 2022. It stands as the eighth-highest single-season total all time, behind those of Barry Bonds (73), Mark McGwire (70, 65), Sammy Sosa (66, 64 and 63) and Judge (62).

Roger Maris hits his 61st home run of the season on Oct. 1, 1961 at Yankee Stadium.

The 1998 Yankees - "Most Wins in a Single Season"

The 1998 Yankees were one of the most dominant teams in Major League baseball history. Despite starting the season with a three-game losing streak and dropping four of their first five, they proceeded to go 64-16 dating from their sixth game of the year, marking the best single-season 80-game run in franchise history.

Ultimately, the Yankees finished the regular season 114-48 (.704) and won the AL East by 22.0 games, tied for the third-largest margin of any league or division winner in MLB history (Los Angeles-NL, 2022, +22.0; Cleveland, 1995, +30.0; Pittsburgh, 1902, +27.5). Their regular season winning percentage trailed only the 1927 Murderers' Row team (.714) for the best in franchise history, and their 125-50 overall record, including the postseason, marks the most single-season wins by any team all time.

The 1998 club excelled at every facet of the game, leading the American League in runs scored (965), runs per game (5.96), on-base percentage (.364), fewest runs per game allowed (4.05) and ERA (3.82). They ranked second in stolen bases (153) and tallied the league's third-fewest errors (98). Five members of the club (Scott Brosius, Derek Jeter, Paul O'Neill, David Wells and Bernie Williams) were named to the AL All-Star team.

The club fielded a remarkably balanced lineup as

10 different batters hit at least 10 home runs, with no player hitting more than 28. Additionally, the 1998 club became the first team all time to have eight players hit at least 17 home runs in a single season.

Second baseman Chuck Knoblauch was the team's leadoff hitter (.265 BA, 117R, 17HR, 64RBI), after being acquired from Minnesota for four players just before the start of spring training. He was followed in the second spot by Jeter, who batted .324 (203-for-626) in posting the first of his eight career 200-hit seasons. The future captain led the AL with 127 runs scored while making his first All-Star team.

O'Neill, Williams and Tino Martinez were the Yankees principal 3-4-5 hitters, though Martinez batted cleanup for stretches, including when Williams was on the disabled list with a sprained right knee from June 11 - July 18. O'Neill, in his sixth year with the club after parts of eight seasons with Cincinnati, batted .317 (191-for-602) with 40 doubles, 24HR and 116RBI, setting career highs in hits and runs scored (95). Williams won his only career batting title, posting a .339 (169-for-499) mark with 26HR, 97RBI and a .422 on-base percentage. He also won a Gold Glove for his play in centerfield.

Martinez led the club with 123RBI and solidified the defense at first base. On the opposite corner, Scott Brosius had a career year, batting .300 (159-for-530) with 19HR and 98RBI, making his only All-Star team. The catching duties were split between Jorge Posada (.268 BA, 17HR and 63RBI in 111 games) in his first year as the first-string backstop and Joe Girardi (.276 BA in 78 games).

One of the hallmarks of the club was its depth. Darryl Strawberry hit 24 home runs in just 295 at-bats and Tim Raines put up a .395 on-base percentage in 109 games. Rookie Shane Spencer lit up the Bronx with 10 homers in 67 at-bats, including eight after being called up in September and seven in the Yankees' last 11 games of the season. The bench was so strong that over the course of the season, the substitutes (.370) had a better on-base percentage than the starters (.364).

The pitching staff was anchored by David Cone (20-7, 3.55 ERA in 31GS), who tied for the AL and Major League lead in wins. Lefthander David Wells (18-4, 3.49 ERA in 30GS) led the AL with five shutouts and a 1.05 WHIP. Along with tossing a perfect game on May 17 vs. Minnesota, Wells also had eight complete games during the season, a total that no Yankee has equaled since.

Orlando Hernandez added a boost to the rotation following his June call-up. Signed in March as a free agent from Cuba, "El Duque" went 12-4 with a 3.13 ERA in 21 starts. Andy Pettitte (16-11, 4.24 ERA) and Hideki Irabu (13-9, 4.06 ERA) rounded out the rotation, which often got bailed out by utility pitcher Ramiro Mendoza, who went 10-2 with a 3.25 ERA in 41 appearances, including 14 starts. Mike Stanton (4-1, 5.47 ERA in 67G), Jeff Nelson (5-3, 3.79 ERA in 45G) and left-handed specialist Graeme Lloyd (3-0, 1.67 ERA in 50G in his best career season) provided the bridge to Mariano Rivera (3-0, 1.91 ERA), who notched 36 saves and allowed just four of 24 inherited runners to score.

In the postseason, the Yankees swept Texas in three games in the ALDS, outscoring them 9-1 and outpitching them 23-13. The ALCS was trickier as Cleveland took a 2-games-to-1 series lead before the Yankees won in six games. David Wells earned MVP honors, winning both of his starts in Game 1 and Game 5.

The Yankees met San Diego in the World Series, and the turning point came early. Down 5-2 in the seventh inning of Game 1 at Yankee Stadium, Knoblauch tied the score with a three-run homer. Five batters later, Tino Martinez hit a two-out, full-count grand slam off Mark Langston into the upper deck in right field to cap a seven-run inning in a 9-6 Yankees win.

The Yankees never looked back. They won Game 2, 9-3, and they took Game 3 due to the heroics of World Series MVP Scott Brosius (.471 BA, 8-for-17, 2HR, 6RBI), who got the Yankees on the board in the seventh with a solo home run and then provided the margin of victory with a three-run homer in the eighth, propelling the Yankees to a 5-4 win.

Andy Pettitte held the Padres scoreless over 7.1 innings in Game 4, which was closed out by Mariano Rivera, who recorded his third save of the series and sixth of the postseason. Rivera tossed 13.1 scoreless innings in 10 appearances during the 1998 postseason, allowing just six hits.

The championship was the Yankees' second in three years (also 1996) and the first of three consecutive (1998-2000). It marked the highpoint of one of the greatest eras in club history, establishing the yardstick by which all of baseball's post-integration teams are measured.

Golden Era

More than a half-century ago, George Steinbrenner restored the Yankees to greatness and changed the course of the entire sports world

By Alfred Santasiere III, Courtesy of Yankees Magazine

It all began on Delaware Street in Buffalo, New York.

Long before George Steinbrenner purchased the Yankees more than 50 years ago, before he made the transition from a shipbuilding executive to the most recognizable team owner in sports, to a visionary who charted the path to seven World Series championships and who literally revolutionized the landscape of the sports business, he was simply trying to get his foot in the door.

Beginning in the late 1950s, Steinbrenner, whose family and business were based in northern Ohio, found himself spending significant time in Buffalo. Steinbrenner's role in American Shipbuilding Company — which he merged with his family's Kinsman Marine Transit — brought him across Lake Erie to Western New York on a weekly basis.

Steinbrenner could at times be found enjoying live music at Royal Arms, a well-known establishment in Buffalo's downtown. It was there that Steinbrenner also forged a lifelong friendship with Max Margulis, who ran the place.

While his dedication to the shipbuilding business was never in question, Steinbrenner had other aspirations, and before he pursued the one goal that he was most passionate about, he partnered with Margulis in the purchase of a restaurant in Buffalo.

Along with Jimmy Naples, another Buffalo restaurateur, Steinbrenner and Margulis bought The Chateau, renamed it the Roundtable and continued its legacy as the place to be in Buffalo.

Yet still, the sports world beckoned. Already a part owner of the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League, Steinbrenner had unsuccessfully tried to purchase the Cleveland Indians. Never one to give up, Steinbrenner remained dogged in his pursuit of a franchise.

"He was a visionary," said Yankees COO Lonny Trost, who served as outside counsel for the Yankees with the law firm of Shea and Gould and then Herrick, Feinstein for two decades before joining the front office in 1997. "But he also listened, could adapt and understand the extent of what someone might have mentioned to him and was able to run with it."

Margulis, who would later work for the Yankees prior to passing away in 2009, shared with Yankees senior vice president Tony Bruno the story of how the seeds of Steinbrenner's dream were planted.

"Mr. Steinbrenner found out that the New England Patriots were going to be sold in the early 1970s," Bruno recalled. "He knew that the Patriots' owner was going to be attending a sports writers' dinner in New York City, and he asked Max how he could get a ticket to the banquet, which was scheduled to take place the following week. Max was so popular, particularly with sports people, that he was able to connect Mr. Steinbrenner with the head of the writers' association.

"Mr. Steinbrenner went to the dinner with the intent of trying to get an inroad into buying the New England Patriots," Bruno continued. "When he sat down at the table, the executive that he was trying to engage with from the Patriots just didn't want to have it. At one point that night, Mr. Steinbrenner turned to the person next to him and said, 'I came all this way, and I'm just trying to get a word in edgewise about buying his football team, and he won't pay me any attention.' That guy — who turned out to be Yankees president Michael Burke — said, 'I don't know why you want to buy a football team. Why don't you buy a baseball team? We're selling the New York Yankees.'"

During a long drive from Ocala, Florida, where the Boss was purchasing a few racehorses, to the team's corporate offices and spring training facility in Tampa, Steinbrenner expounded upon about those early days.

Steinbrenner was able to forge a meeting with CBS, the broadcasting company that owned the once-great team. Prior to 1965 — the first season under CBS' stewardship — the Yankees had won the American League pennant 22 times in 29 seasons. The team then finished at least 15 games out of first place in each of the next seven seasons. From a financial perspective, things were even worse: Fewer than 1 million fans attended Yankee Stadium in 1972, the lowest total since 1945. On top of all that, The House That Ruth Built was in need of major repairs. As a result, the team played its home games at Shea Stadium during the 1974 and 1975 seasons.

Despite the fact that other suitors were willing to put up more money, Steinbrenner still found a way to make a case for himself and the group of investors he was in the process of assembling. As he explained to Bruno, that was not an easy task.

"The way Mr. Steinbrenner told the story was that [legendary CBS chairman] William S. Paley never turned toward him while he was talking," Bruno said. "Paley just looked out the window the whole time with his back to the Boss. CBS wasn't confident that Mr. Steinbrenner had the money to purchase the Yankees, and they really pushed him on that. Somehow, without ever looking Paley in the eye, Mr. Steinbrenner convinced him that he did have the money."

On Jan. 3, 1973, the Yankees were sold to a group led by Steinbrenner for $8.8 million, a deal that included two parking garages worth $1.2 million that were later returned to CBS' portfolio. The dollar amount was especially remarkable considering that CBS had purchased 80 percent of the team for $11.2 million in November 1964, making the Yankees only the second team since World War II to be sold at a loss.

Steinbrenner, who personally put up $168,000, vowed to do what many thought was impossible: turn the perennial fourth-place Yankees into world champions within a few short years.

"George had pride in the team and in being an owner," said Trost. "Right from the beginning, he wanted to win for the city, for the fans. He was conscious of what the Yankees meant to New York City; that was the utmost thing on his mind."

With the Yankees set to move into Shea Stadium temporarily, Steinbrenner held his first staff meeting in the team's makeshift offices at the New York City Parks Administration building, located in the shadows of their temporary home. The Yankees' current director of office administration, Debbie Nicolosi, was part of the front-office staff that first met Steinbrenner that spring.

"There were about 30 people who worked in the entire organization," Nicolosi said. "He walked into a conference room and introduced himself. He sat on a desk and went around the room and asked everyone their names and what they did in the organization. He explained who he was, and then he said that he valued everyone as employees, but he told us that his money was going to the players on the field. We all kind of looked at each other and laughed."

Steinbrenner would encounter a major setback prior to making good on his promise to return the Yankees to what they once were. In November 1974, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn suspended the Boss from running the team for two years — a term later reduced to 15 months — after he pleaded guilty to conspiring to make illegal corporate contributions to President Richard Nixon's re-election campaign along with related misdemeanors. Steinbrenner would later be pardoned by President Ronald Reagan in 1989.

Before his suspension had begun, Steinbrenner had already started the process of rebuilding the team with trades for All-Stars and future postseason heroes Lou Piniella and Chris Chambliss. Soon after that, the Yankees completed deals for shortstop Bucky Dent and second baseman Willie Randolph.

The advent of free agency in baseball allowed Steinbrenner to prove that his commitment to restoring the franchise was genuine. The Yankees added Cy Young Award winner Catfish Hunter prior to the 1975 season, traded for a few more impactful players over the next year and brought in former second baseman Billy Martin to manage the team.

The Yankees' 1976 season began at a refurbished Yankee Stadium. Before that campaign was all said and done, more than 2 million fans had come through the turnstiles and the team had won the American League Championship Series, defeating the Kansas City Royals on a thrilling walk-off home run by Chambliss. Although the Cincinnati Reds swept the Yankees in the '76 World Series, the Bronx Bombers were on the precipice of putting it all together.

"When you think about how bad they were for so long, it was amazing to get where we were that quickly," Nicolosi said.

In his biggest splash of the decade, Steinbrenner signed free agent Reggie Jackson in November 1976, and the All-Star slugger rewarded him for making a $2.96 million blockbuster commitment. Jackson hit 32 home runs in his first regular season with the team and three more in Game 6 of the World Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers. That night represented much more in the Bronx: The Yankees had clinched their first championship in more than a decade, and Steinbrenner had officially kept his promise.

Hal Steinbrenner, the organization's managing general partner since November 2008 and the youngest of George and Joan Steinbrenner's four children, was 7 years old when the team first won it all under his father's leadership. When reflecting on what his father accomplished, the younger Steinbrenner pointed to the characteristic that set the Boss apart from his competitors.

In 1977, the Yankees received a ticker-tape parade up the Canyon of Heroes after their 4-games-to-2 victory over the Dodgers.

George Steinbrenner [second from R] and son Hal [far R] celebrated the 1977 World Series championship alongside Yankees GM Gabe Paul [L] and manager Billy Martin.

"Nobody worked harder than my dad," Steinbrenner said. "The team was not doing well when he took over, but he was determined to turn it around. He added a number of significant pieces and was going to do everything he could to make the Yankees the best team in baseball. Within a few short years, it happened. He wasn't afraid to use the resources he had to win a championship. As a leader — he was previously a football coach at Northwestern University — he knew who could lead. Hiring Billy Martin — who had pluses and minuses like all of us, but who could get players going — was a brilliant decision. My dad hired the right people in the front office and in the clubhouse, along with bringing in so much talent."

Among the memories that Hal Steinbrenner holds close to his heart are the moments he spent with his father after all of that hard work had come to fruition.

"I was there in the clubhouse after the final out in 1977," he said. "There's a great photo of me, my dad and Billy. There wasn't a lot of emotion with my dad, but he's smiling in that picture. He did a lot of things, but he didn't often smile as a result of watching a baseball game. That picture says it all; it looks like a smile of relief, pride and excitement — all good things."

George Steinbrenner didn't rest on his laurels following his first championship, bringing in free-agent closer Goose Gossage even though the team already had the 1977 AL Cy Young Award winner, Sparky Lyle, in its bullpen.

The Yankees struggled for the first half of the 1978 season, and Steinbrenner fired Martin for the first of five times. Bob Lemon was promoted to the managerial position, and with Yogi Berra also on the bench, the team came back from a 14-game deficit in July to tie the Boston Red Sox at the conclusion of the regular season. In a tiebreaker game at Fenway Park to determine the AL East champion, Dent hit a historic seventh-inning home run, clearing the 37-foot Green Monster and giving the Yankees a lead they would not relinquish that sunny afternoon.

Dent, the eventual World Series MVP, powered the Yankees past the Dodgers in the 1978 Fall Classic, bringing back-to-back championships to the Bronx.

After enduring heartbreak in 1979, when the team's catcher and inspirational leader, Thurman Munson, died in a plane crash, the Yankees returned to the World Series in 1981, this time falling to the Dodgers in six games.

The rest of the decade could best be described as a rollercoaster for Steinbrenner and the Yankees. The Boss' commitment to winning remained firmly intact, evidenced by the acquisitions of superstars Dave Winfield in December 1980 and Rickey Henderson in December 1984. Of even greater significance, Don Mattingly, who was taken in the 19th round of the 1979 draft, emerged as one of baseball's best all-around players, winning the AL batting title in 1984 and league MVP honors in '85.

But championships didn't follow the stars to the Bronx in the '80s. With each passing season, Steinbrenner's patience grew thinner. He hired and fired managers — most notably Martin and Berra — and general managers between 1982 and 1990, and the narrative generally cast him as being impulsive and overly demanding. But to those who worked closely with him, the reality was much more positive than the perception.

"He was always good to me," Nicolosi said. "He was a strong presence, but he was a very compassionate man. If you were loyal to him, he was loyal to you. As rough as he was when he took over the club, he was a gentle giant. He was rough around the edges, but his bark was sometimes bigger than his bite."

According to senior vice president of marketing Debbie Tymon, who began her tenure with the Yankees in 1985, front-office members who worked closely with the Boss were expected to honor and uphold the team's rich tradition.

"In every meeting, working on every project, discussing every event and anything that was going to happen in Yankee Stadium, there was a clear understanding that you had to know the history of the franchise leading up to that moment," Tymon said. "The focus on attention to detail, understanding every aspect of the history of what you were working on, the player history, the Stadium history, that was all important to him."

Despite not getting back to the World Series during the '80s, Steinbrenner was still able to grow the Yankees' brand, both in the United States and around the world.

At the City Hall ceremony to commemorate the Yankees' 1999 World Series title, George Steinbrenner [R] shared a moment with manager Joe Torre [L] and future captain Derek Jeter.

"In terms of the Yankees as a global brand, he had a vision for that growth process before anyone else did," Tymon said. "He always wanted to have at least five cap days before the All-Star break. He wanted as many caps given out to the fans as possible, because he considered the Yankee cap to be a moving billboard. To him, it was more valuable to see Yankees caps, not just in the ballpark, not just in New York City, but around the country and the world."

Steinbrenner's vision for his beloved brand wasn't limited to in-stadium promotions. In 1988, he spearheaded a 12-year TV deal with MSG network for $500 million, which, at the time, was unheard of. During the same time frame, long before any other team owner had created a regional sports network with dedicated coverage of their team, Steinbrenner was contemplating that concept.

"I remember being with him in a meeting at the Carlyle Hotel, where he was trying to convince some luminaries, including Bill Shea and Jack Kent Cooke, of the importance of a regional sports network," Trost said. "It wasn't the right time yet; the rules of cable and the lack of inventory from a prospective partner made it impossible, but George was the impetus to getting the ball rolling."

Regardless of whether the team was winning or struggling on the field, Steinbrenner never fell short in his efforts to help others. Based on that was instilled in him at a young age, much of what he did was never known about.

"My father was, without a doubt, one of the most generous people I have ever met," said general partner Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal, who serves as the president of the New York Yankees Foundations in New York and Tampa. "That was not always known by everyone. The part that I loved the most was his saying, 'If more than two people know that you have given, than you have done it for the wrong reason.' That stuck with me forever. There were so many wonderful gestures that he did for people, which we didn't even know about until after his death. I saw the things that were publicized, but it was so much more than that, things like paying for people's education and houses. It went on and on, and by watching it growing up, he set the example of giving back."

"That was his dad's philosophy," Hal Steinbrenner said. "If more than two people know about it, it's not charity. That's the way my dad lived his life. If you're out there advertising everything you do for charity, you're not doing it for the right reason."

Yankees senior vice president of corporate/community relations Brian Smith began working for the Yankees in 1993. During the first half of his tenure, Smith worked closely with the Boss and quickly learned just how much the local communities meant to Steinbrenner.

"He was someone who had a sincere commitment, not only to generate and provide the resources to establish a great product on the field but to be a productive neighbor in the community that his organization existed in," Smith said. "He showed that on an ongoing basis. It wasn't about the story; it was about making a difference and moving the needle."

What still stands out to Smith are discussions he had with the Boss about putting things into motion.

"I can't tell you many conversations, during work hours, late at night or early in the morning, that we had about our neighbors in the surrounding community," Smith said. "From disaster relief to fires in the Bronx, Mr. Steinbrenner was committed to being there when individuals were in need. That meant being there for those families, supporting them, providing them with the resources they needed and helping them navigate through trying times. It meant covering funeral expenses and helping people rebuild their lives."

Commanding a level of fame that transcended into popular culture, George Steinbrenner hosted Saturday Night Live on Oct. 20, 1990.

Case in point: When a local high school football team lost all of its equipment, the Boss quietly went out of his way to save the season.

"I will always remember when St. Michael's, a school right here in the Bronx, had a fire on their bus, and everything was lost," Smith said. "Mr. Steinbrenner wanted to help them, and we came up with a plan, not only to replace their equipment but also to make sure that the transportation they had to and from games was at the same level as our ballplayers."

The darkest time in the Boss' era came just before the dawn of one of the greatest periods in team history. Following a fifth-place finish in 1989, Steinbrenner was barred from running the team, this time for his actions involving Winfield that undermined the integrity of his position. The penalty, which was handed down by then-commissioner Fay Vincent, only allowed Steinbrenner to remain as a limited partner until he returned to the front office on March 1, 1993.

Not long after Steinbrenner's suspension began, Gene Michael, a former player, coach and manager, was named the team's general manager. Michael brought a revamped culture to the organization, along with cornerstone players such as Bernie Williams, Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera, Andy Pettitte, Jorge Posada, Paul O'Neill and Jimmy Key. Michael also tabbed Buck Showalter, then the team's third base coach, to lead the big club.

Things finally began to turn around in the Bronx, and by the time Steinbrenner returned, it seemed as if the team had a realistic chance to get back to the World Series. Although Jeter, Rivera, Pettitte and Posada had yet to reach the majors, Steinbrenner quickly took notice of what he had in the pipeline.

"I first met Mr. Steinbrenner when I was 18," Jeter said. "He used to show up and watch Rookie ball games. I remember him coming out in his turtleneck when it was about 100 degrees down there in Tampa. He was aware that I was the first-round pick, so he came over to introduce himself. I'm not sure that he said, 'Hello, I'm Mr. Steinbrenner,' but he introduced himself in his own way."

Showalter led the Yankees to a second-place finish in 1993. A year later, the Bronx Bombers were in first place with a 70-43 record when a labor strike prematurely ended the 1994 season that August, thus negating any chance the Yankees had of returning to the World Series.

In Mattingly's final season of 1995, the team captured the first ever AL Wild Card and took a 2-games-to-1 lead over Seattle in the best-of-five AL Division Series. Much to the dismay of Steinbrenner, the Mariners stormed back, winning the final three games in the Kingdome.

Brian Cashman, currently in his 26th season as the team's general manager — marking the longest tenure in the game and in team history for his position — was then the Yankees' assistant GM. It is Cashman's belief that the public reaction to personnel changes that Steinbrenner made ultimately bolstered the stability and success that the organization had in subsequent years.

"When George came back in 1993, we were building something with Gene Michael and Buck Showalter," Cashman said. "He was thirsty and hungry when he came back, but the strike took us down in 1994, especially considering that we had the best record in the American League. Getting swept in Seattle after taking a two-game lead in 1995 really impacted George. He was furious, embarrassed and angry, all part of his character. The general manager was out; the manager was not retained."

"The backlash that he got from that experience was so much stronger than anything he had dealt with in the past, and I think that made a major impact on him."

With Joe Torre in the dugout and Bob Watson now the general manager, the Yankees made it back to the World Series in 1996 for the first time in 15 years. With his team down 2-games-to-none against the Braves, Torre famously told Steinbrenner that the Yankees would win three straight in Atlanta and clinch the title in the Bronx.

That's exactly what they did.

Then, in 1998, the Yankees won more games than any team in history, amassing a 125-50 overall record including a World Series sweep of San Diego. That would be the first of three consecutive championships and four out of five for a team built on homegrown talent.

"Once we became so good at delivering, George had more patience and trust in the operation," said Cashman, who took over for Watson prior to the 1998 season.

"As we came up through the minors, Mr. Steinbrenner spent money to keep us there," Jeter said. "We always knew that if we wanted to stay, we needed to win. The Boss was a big part of that; you need to have buy-in from your ownership and a commitment to giving the organization a chance to win every year. He did that."

By the end of the century, Steinbrenner's popularity was at an all-time high, and his fame had transcended baseball. He hosted Saturday Night Live in 1990, and he was portrayed in the iconic TV comedy Seinfeld as an exaggerated and hilarious version of himself.

Having recently signed a $100 million sponsorship deal with Adidas, and with exponential growth of the Yankees brand and business on his mind, Steinbrenner hired Randy Levine in 2000. Before he was named president of the Yankees, Levine served as New York City's deputy mayor for economic development, planning and administration. He also served as the city's labor commissioner.

On Aug. 16, 2006, the Yankees held the ceremonial groundbreaking for the current Yankee Stadium.

"George came to me and said, 'I have a great baseball team, but I need to build a sports and entertainment company,'" Levine said. "He knew what he didn't know, but he asked me to work with him to do it. We had great people in place — Hal Steinbrenner, Lonn Trost, Steve Swindal, Andy Rey, Mark Tate, Norman Stallings and Tony Bruno — and we all did it."

The first major accomplishment was the establishment of the YES Network, the most-watched regional sports network in the United States. Launched in 2002, the YES Network, which reportedly generated more $600 million in revenue last year, has become the gold standard for regional sports networks.

"It was a tough battle," said Levine, a principal founder of YES. "But it was visionary."

After decades of hard work leading to a deal that worked for the city, state and team and that had ideal infrastructure in place, the Yankees began building a new state-of-the-art home across the street from the team's historic ballpark.

With Steinbrenner on hand in 2006, the team broke ground on the current Stadium, a venue that not only serves as the Yankees' home but has also hosted soccer matches, hockey games, concerts and the annual Pinstripe Bowl, a nationally-televised college football bowl game.

George Steinbrenner's passion for college football was realized upon moving into the current Yankee Stadium with the creation of the Pinstripe Bowl.

"Honestly, it took a lot of convincing of George to stay in the Bronx," Levine said. "But once he decided to do so, he was all in. He basically told me and Lonn, Hal and Steve, that if we were going to do this, we were going to create the best stadium that had ever been built. So, we re-created the original 1923 stadium, and he spared no expenses. It was $1.6 billion. Back then, there was no stadium that was even close to that amount. At the end of the day, what I remember most is him saying, 'Go do it, but it better be absolutely great.'"

Before the Yankees took their new field for the first time on Opening Day 2009, the team's brass founded Legends Hospitality in conjunction with the Dallas Cowboys. The global premium experiences company delivers holistic solutions for legendary brands in the sports, music and entertainment industry.

Recently valued at $1.35 billion, Legends operates within a diverse group of venues including Yankee Stadium, AT&T Stadium, One World Observatory, SoFi Stadium and the University of Notre Dame. The company also has partnerships with renowned properties such as the National Football League, Major League Baseball, the Professional Golfers' Association of America, NASCAR and the 2028 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

"It was one thing after another, and none of them could have been done without George's support financially, intellectually and emotionally," Levine said. "He pushed us, and he backed us when things got really difficult, as they always do. He never wavered."

With several of the core players from the late '90s still on the roster, the Yankees — now under the stewardship of Hal Steinbrenner — made it back to the top in 2009, defeating the Phillies in the Fall Classic. That championship, which followed AL pennants in 2001 and 2003, would be George Steinbrenner's last. He died less than a year after the final out was made, on July 13, 2010, nine days after his 80th birthday.

"He was a massive competitor," Cashman said. "Uber competitor. He woke up every day looking to take ground from an opponent, whether that was on the baseball field or in business. He was a conqueror, and he acted that way."

"George was the greatest owner in professional sports," Levine said. "He was the benchmark in so many ways, both on the field and off the field. All of the things that the Yankees were on the field and commercially were really done through his will."

Steinbrenner's children — and several of his grandchildren, who are now part of the Yankees organization — have upheld his legacy in every way. His youngest daughter, Jessica, has served as general partner for the last 14 seasons. Additionally, she has remained dedicated to the family's horse farm in Florida, enabling her siblings to focus on the baseball team.

"Our family is proud to continue the Yankees' legacy in much the same way as my dad," Jessica Steinbrenner said. "He found a way to put the best team on the field, and he rebuilt the brand, and that's what we are carrying forward."

The Boss' oldest son, Hank — who passed away in 2020 at age 63 — held the title of general partner and co-chairperson for more than a decade, working with his younger brother on every aspect of the team's business and baseball operations.

"Hank had a love of baseball," Hal Steinbrenner said. "He knew every player in the game. He knew far more about the game itself than I probably ever will. He certainly taught me a lot about the game and how to do this job effectively."

The Yankees' current managing general partner may be humble, and he may be mild mannered compared to his father. But to those in the front-office trenches with him, those characteristics don't paint the whole picture.

"Hal likes to operate a lot quieter than his dad did," Bruno said. "But their passion for winning is the same. I knew Hal for years prior to him ascending to the role he is in now, and that has so clearly happened. I have had the chance to spend a lot of time with him during playoff games and pennant races, and he really carries that passion. He goes about it a different way than his dad did, but he has that same desire."

"Hal's commitment level is exceptional," Cashman said. "His dedication to having a playoff-contending team and delivering that on a year in and year out basis seems to be second to none. Strength with stability are two words that describe what he's been."

To this point, Steinbrenner's tenure has been highlighted by the 2009 World Series championship. While not garnering as many headlines, the Yankees have also posted a winning record in every season since he took the reins in November 2008 and have made it to the postseason in 11 of his first 14 campaigns.

An example of Steinbrenner's commitment to winning and his all-in mentality came recently. After breaking the American League record with 62 home runs, Aaron Judge entered free agency. It was well publicized that the Yankees wanted Judge to remain in pinstripes and that losing the homegrown MVP would have been devastating.

"Owners hire general managers to do the heavy lifting," Cashman said. "But there are unique circumstances that necessitate ownership's involvement. When you're dealing with the type of contract that Aaron was going to demand, it's a partnership. I shared with Hal early on that he was going to have to be heavily involved in this. Aaron is a franchise player, and he was going to be courted by every team under the sun at the highest level, and we were going to have to match that. He was going to want to hear the messaging not through me but directly from our owner. Hal was completely on board."

From a private meeting with Judge at his home soon after the season ended to a middle-of-the-night phone call to the slugger as he mulled over a competitive offer from the San Francisco Giants, Steinbrenner left no stone unturned. At the end of the saga, Judge signed a nine-year deal with the Yankees.

"What the Steinbrenner family has built here is something special," Judge said. "[Hal] wants to continue to build on that legacy."

George Steinbrenner would certainly be proud of his son's approach to the Judge negotiations, and he would be equally as prideful in what his organization has done in local communities over the last decade.

With Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal leading the charge, the team's impact in the Bronx and Tampa — and in many other areas — is as strong as ever. From large-scale donations to the Food Bank for NYC, to strengthening the Boys & Girls Clubs of Tampa Bay and the Bronx, the organization's outreach is wide ranging.

"With the foundation, we're making it happen in our communities," Steinbrenner Swindal said. "We're getting money to people most in need with the Tampa Foundation and in New York City. We have made a huge impact with children, and that means a lot to me. The organizations we work with can depend on us."

Steinbrenner Swindal also supervises a series of holiday concerts in Tampa that have been a tradition for more than three decades, and in recent years, she has been instrumental in the development of the Bronx Winter Wonderland event, complete with music, food and a present for each child in attendance.

The dream that was fueled by George Steinbrenner's passion for sports and was born in a Buffalo, New York, restaurant has now reached its golden anniversary. Encompassed by Yankee Global Enterprises, the once struggling team and its related businesses — which also include investments in the Italian Serie A club AC Milan and the 2021 MLS Cup champion New York City Football Club — are worth approximately $7 billion today.

With all that has happened during the Steinbrenner era, there are but a few reminders of just how fast the five decades have flown by. One of them is a precious document, still in pristine condition. Sitting at his desk inside Yankee Stadium, Trost carefully retrieved the official purchase agreement from CBS.

"All of us who have had the opportunity and privilege to work for George Steinbrenner and the Steinbrenner family — Hank, Jenny, Jessica and Hal, the Yankees managing general partner — are and continue to be honored to have worked for a family that has had the foresight and passion to carry on the historic and continued legacy of the New York Yankees," Trost said.

The document's final page was signed on the day in 1973 that George Steinbrenner became the Boss, and the Yankees began their return to glory. ❖

Yankees in Cooperstown

Including the most recent Yankees inductee, Jim Kaat in 2022, there are 58 members of the Baseball Hall of Fame who have played, managed, coached, owned or been a general manager for the Yankees at one time or another. The Yankees' first inductee was Babe Ruth, who entered the Hall in its inaugural 1936 class along with Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson and Honus Wagner. Of recent note, 2019 inductee Mariano Rivera became the first person to be unanimously elected via the writer's ballot, receiving a vote all 425 submissions, and 2020 inductee Derek Jeter was named on all but one ballot (396 of 397).

Along with the 58 individuals below, at least three Hall of Famers worked for the Yankees in other capacities, including Joe Kelley (HOF 1971 — Yankees scout from 1915-25), Dick Williams (HOF 2008 — NYY adviser from 1995-2001) and Pat Gillick (HOF 2011 — NYY scouting director from 1974-76). Additionally, HOFers Joe Medwick and Robin Roberts made the Yankees roster out of spring training in 1947 and 1962, respectively, but neither played in an official game as a Yankee.

The Elias Sports Bureau notes that there have been nine HOFers who spent their entire playing careers with the Yankees: Earle Combs, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey, Joe DiMaggio, Derek Jeter, Phil Rizzuto, Whitey Ford, Mickey Mantle and Mariano Rivera.

Currently, the choice of which insignia appears on the cap of each Hall of Famer's plaque belongs to the Hall of Fame itself. The decision is based on the "historical accomplishments" of the player and "where that player makes his most indelible mark," though the wishes of the inductee are always considered. It is important to remember that caps have not always had insignias and some players' images are cast as profiles without visible insignias.

Yankees Retired Uniform Numbers

The Yankees have retired 22 uniform numbers to honor 23 Yankees players and managers. The first player so honored was Lou Gehrig, whose No. 4, was the first retired number in MLB history. Contrary to popular belief, the number was not retired on July 4, 1939 (when the Iron Horse gave his famous "Luckiest Man" speech), but on Jan. 6, 1940, via announcement by team president Ed Barrow. The most recently retired number was Paul O'Neill's No. 21 on August 21, 2022.

On April 15, 1997, Major League Baseball retired No. 42 throughout the game to honor the Dodgers' Jackie Robinson. While the number could never again be issued by an MLB team, players already assigned No. 42 could continue to wear it. Mariano Rivera was grandfathered into that decision and was the last active player to use the number. During a pregame celebration on Sept. 22, 2013 (one week prior to his last day in uniform), the Yankees organization also retired the number for him, placing a Yankees-style "42" within the Yankees Retired Number Display in Monument Park. As part of that ceremony, the Yankees also recognized Robinson by unveiling a new bronze plaque to replace the Dodgers-style "42" which had previously been on display.

1 Billy Martin (Number retired: August 10, 1986)

Born: May 16, 1928 in Berkeley, Calif. • Died: Dec. 25, 1989 in Binghamton, N.Y.
Height: 5-11 • Weight: 165 • B/T: R/R

Martin had as much "Yankees Pride" as any player or manager to wear pinstripes, and he implanted his own fierce desire to win in his teams. He played an integral part in four World Series in the 1950s as a player, and added another ring managing the Yankees in 1977. His .333 lifetime World Series batting average is sixth all time among players with at least 75 at-bats. Martin had five separate stints managing the club.

2 Derek Jeter (Number retired: May 14, 2017)

Height: 6-3 • Weight: 195 • B/T: R/R

The face of baseball for a generation of fans, Jeter played a franchise-record 20 seasons with the Yankees from 1995-2014, retiring with a personal career winning percentage of .593 (1,628-1,117-2) and five World Series championships (1996, 1998-2000, '09). A 14-time All-Star and 2020 Hall of Fame inductee, Jeter retired with the sixth-most hits in baseball history (3,465) and played in 16 different postseasons. He tops the Yankees' all-time list in hits, games played (2,747), doubles (544), steals (358), at-bats (11,195), singles (2,595) and hit-by-pitches (170).

3 Babe Ruth (Number retired: June 13, 1948)

Born: Feb. 6, 1895 in Baltimore, Md. • Died: Aug. 16, 1948 in New York, N.Y.
Height: 6-2 • Weight: 215 • B/T: L/L

Most consider Ruth the most colorful figure in the game's history. He started his career as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, winning 89 games over six seasons before converting to a full-time outfielder because of his tremendous power. He was sold to the Yankees in 1920 and his 54 home runs that year were more than any other American League team. En route to 714 career home runs, he won 12 home run titles, including 60HR in 1927. A member of the inaugural class of Hall of Fame inductees in 1936, the Bambino also added 15HR in World Series competition, leading the Yankees to seven Series appearances and four World Championships.

4 Lou Gehrig (Number retired by announcement on Jan. 6, 1940. No ceremony)

Born: June 19, 1903 in New York, N.Y. • Died: June 2, 1941 in Riverdale, N.Y.
Height: 6-1 • Weight: 212 • B/T: L/L

Gehrig was a uniquely durable, powerhitting first baseman who played in 2,130 consecutive games from 1925 to 1939. He drove in at least 100 runs in 13 straight seasons (1926-38) and holds the AL record with 184 RBI in 1931. In a career shortened by terminal illness, he compiled a .340 batting avg. with 493 HRs, two AL MVP Awards (1927, '36) and the 1934 Triple Crown. He was honored at Yankee Stadium on July 4, 1939, when he made his memorable "Luckiest Man" speech. That offseason, the Yankees announced that his No. 4 was being retired. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1939, and was immortalized in the 1942 film, The Pride of the Yankees, starring Gary Cooper.

5 Joe DiMaggio (Number retired: April 18, 1952 at the home opener)

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 193 • B/T: R/R

The "Yankee Clipper" is considered by many experts as the best all-around baseball player in history. The California native was a sensational hitter for both average and power, and a splendid, graceful, ball-hawking center fielder with a powerful and accurate arm. A two-time batting champion and three-time MVP, he compiled a .325 lifetime batting average from 1936 to 1951 and powered the Yankees to nine World Series titles despite losing three complete seasons (1943-45) to military service. Many rate his 56-game hitting streak in 1941 as the top baseball feat of all time. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1955.

Born: July 18, 1940 in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 212 • B/T: R/R

With a calming influence in the clubhouse and a stoic outward expression in the dugout, Torre piloted the Yankees to six World Series appearances (1996, '98-2001, '03) and four championships (1996, '98-2000) during his tenure from 1996-2007. The 2014 Hall of Famer led the club to the playoffs in all 12 seasons at the helm, going 1,173-767-2 (.605) in the regular season and 76-47 (.618) in the postseason, including a 21-11 mark in the World Series. His regular season wins total is second in club history to Joe McCarthy, who went 1,460-867-21 over 16 seasons.

Mickey Mantle (Number retired: June 8, 1969)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 201 • B/T: S/R

"The Mick" was the most feared hitter on some of the most successful teams in history. Fast and powerful, his reported 565-foot home run in Washington in 1953 brought about the term "tape-measure home run." In the 14 seasons between 1951 and 1964, he led the Yanks to 12 Fall Classics and seven World Championships. He still owns records for most homers, RBI, runs and walks in World Series play. In 1956, Mantle had one of the greatest seasons ever at the plate, hitting 52 homers with 130RBI and a .353 average to win the Triple Crown. A three-time AL MVP (1956-57, '62), he was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1974.

Yogi Berra (Number retired: July 22, 1972 on Old-Timers' Day)

Height: 5-8 • Weight: 191 • B/T: L/R

Beloved by generations of baseball fans, Berra was part of the foundation of the dominant Yankees teams from the end of World War II through the early 1960s. Although he never led the league in a single major offensive category, he is one of just 11 players all time to win at least three Most Valuable Player Awards. Selected to play in the All-Star Game in 15 successive seasons from 1948-62, he played on 14 pennant winners and an all-time record 10 World Champions. He led the Yankees to the 1964 pennant as manager and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972.

Bill Dickey (Number retired: July 22, 1972 on Old-Timers' Day)

Height: 6-1 • Weight: 185 • B/T: L/R

Regarded as one of the greatest catchers of all time, Dickey was a durable and tireless worker, catching more than 100 games in an AL-record 13 consecutive seasons (1929-41). In 1931, he did not allow a single passed ball in 125 games behind the plate, another AL record. Dickey also excelled as a hitter, batting over .300 in 10 of his first 11 full seasons, while hitting 202 homers during his career. He handled Yankees pitching staffs on eight World Series teams, winning seven championships. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1954.

Roger Maris (Number retired: July 21, 1984 on Old-Timers' Day)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 197 • B/T: L/R

In one of the most dramatic assaults on a baseball record, Maris surpassed Babe Ruth's single-season record of 60 home runs on the final day of the 1961 season. Maris' 61 homers that season was a Major League record until 1998 and an AL record until 2022. A two-time American League MVP (1960-61), he is considered one of the best defensive right fielders in Yankees history.

10

Height: 5-6 • Weight: 150 • B/T: R/R

Playing 13 years for the Yankees, the "Scooter" went to nine World Series, winning seven. Diminutive yet tough, he was a skilled bunter and baserunner with a .273 career batting average. In 1950, Rizzuto earned the AL MVP Award, batting .324 with 200 hits, 92 walks and 125 runs. In the 1951 World Series, he batted .320 and was named Series MVP. He also spent 40 years as a Yankees broadcaster (1957-96) tossing around his signature phrase, "Holy cow!" and calling his partners "Huckleberry." He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1994.

Thurman Munson (Number retired by announcement on Aug. 3, 1979)

Height: 5-11 • Weight: 190 • B/T: R/R

Munson was the undisputed leader and most respected man on Yankees teams that won three consecutive AL pennants from 1976-78 and two World Championships in '77 and '78. He was a tremendous defensive catcher, winning three straight Gold Glove Awards (1973-75) and the AL MVP in 1976. In each season from 1975-77, Thurman drove in more than 100 runs and hit better than .300. There is no more tragic date in Yankees history than August 2, 1979, when Munson passed away in a plane crash at age 32.

16 Whitey Ford (Number retired: Aug. 3, 1974 on Old-Timers' Day)

Height: 5-10 • Weight: 181 • B/T: L/L

Over 16 seasons, he posted a 236-106 (.690) career record with a 2.75 ERA, playing for 11 pennant winners and earning six World Series rings (1950, '53, '56, '58, '61-62). Ford owns franchise marks for wins, IP (3,170.1) and shutouts (45), and is second in strikeouts (1,958). He was a 10-time All-Star, having paced the AL in wins three times and leading in both ERA and shutouts twice. The 1961 Cy Young winner and WS MVP still holds many lifetime WS records, including for wins (10), consecutive IP (33.0) and strikeouts (94). He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1974.

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 215 • B/T: S/R

One of the best-hitting catchers of his era, Posada spent each of his 17 Major League seasons with the Yankees, batting .273 with 379 doubles, 275 HR, 1,065 RBI, a .374 OBP and .848 OPS in 1,829 games from 1995-2011. A player on five World Series winners (1996, '98, '99, 2000, '09), Posada was also a five-time All-Star and five-time Silver Slugger winner. He is one of just eight catchers all time to have at least 11 seasons of 17-or-more HRs.

21 Paul O'Neill (Number retired: Aug. 21, 2022)

Height: 6-4 • Weight: 200 • B/T: L/L

O'Neill spent the final nine seasons of his 17-year Major League career in the Bronx (1993-2001), winning four World Series with the Yankees (1996, '98-2000) and appearing in a fifth (2001). As a Yankee, he hit .303 with 304 doubles, 185 home runs, 858 runs batted in, a .377 on-base percentage and an .869 OPS, claiming the AL batting title in 1994 with a .359 average. Known for his powerful throwing arm from RF, he was a four-time All-Star with the Yankees (1994-95, '97-98).

23 Don Mattingly (Number retired: Aug. 31, 1997)

Height: 6-0 • Weight: 185 • B/T: L/L

Respected for his talent, professionalism and humility, "Donnie Baseball" was the premier first baseman of the mid-1980s before back problems robbed him of much of his power at age 29. Nevertheless, he remained the most loved Yankee of his era and a defensive star, tallying nine Gold Gloves in his 14 years in pinstripes (1982-95). The "Hit Man" won the 1984 AL batting title (.343) and the 1985 American League MVP (.324, 35HR, 145RBI), setting the (since-tied) all-time record with six grand slams in a single season.

32 Elston Howard (Number retired: July 21, 1984 on Old-Timers' Day)

Born: Feb. 23, 1929 in St. Louis, Mo. • Died: Dec. 14, 1980 in New York, N.Y.
Height: 6-2 • Weight: 196 • B/T: R/R

Howard became the first black player in Yankees history when he made the club in the spring of 1955. The versatile, two-time Gold Glove Award-winning catcher contributed to nine AL pennant-winning teams in his first 10 seasons with the club. Winner of the 1963 American League MVP (.287, 28HR, 85RBI), Howard was elected to the All-Star Game in nine different seasons (1957-65). A clubhouse leader as a player from 1955-67 and as a Yankees coach from 1969-79, his dignified manner and competitive spirit set a powerful example.

37 Casey Stengel (Number retired: Aug. 8, 1970 on Old-Timers' Day)

Born: July 30, 1890 in Kansas City, Mo. • Died: Sept. 29, 1975 in Glendale, Calif.
Height: 5-11 • Weight: 175 • B/T: L/L

In a distinguished 54-year professional career, "The Old Perfessor" became one of the game's greatest managers. His feat of guiding the Yankees to 10 pennants and seven world titles in a 12-year span from 1949-60 ranks as one of the top managerial accomplishments of all time. Simply put, Casey Stengel was one of the best things to ever happen to the game of Baseball. He was an authentic baseball ambassador, making the game fun for millions of Americans. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1966.

42 Mariano Rivera (Number retired by MLB on Apr. 15, 1997. Rivera recognized by NYY on Sept. 22, 2013)

Born: Nov. 29, 1969 in Panama City, Panama • Height: 6-2 • Weight: 195 • B/T: R/R

Rivera is the Majors' all-time leader with 652 career saves. Even more impressive is his 2.21 career ERA, which is the second-lowest mark among pitchers with at least 1,000.0IP since ERA became an official MLB statistic (1912-NL/1913-AL). The "Sandman" pitched 19 seasons, racking up an all-time best 15 seasons of at least 30 saves in 1,115 career games. His postseason dominance is legendary, including MLB record marks with 42 postseason saves, a 0.70 ERA (min: 30.0IP) and 96 appearances. In 141.0 career postseason IP, he allowed just 86H, 11ER, 21BB and 2HR with 110K. He won five World Series (1996, '98-2000, '09) and appeared in two others (2001, '03). He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2019.

44 Reggie Jackson (Number retired: August 14, 1993)

Height: 5-10 • Weight: 181 • B/T: L/L

"Mr. October" blasted 563 career home runs, including 144 as a Yankee from 1977-81. In Game 6 of the 1977 World Series, Jackson hit 3HR, all on the first pitch, as the Yankees beat the Dodgers to wrap up the club's first World Championship since 1962. He was an All-Star in each of his five years in pinstripes and had his best year with the club in 1980 (.300, 41HR, 111RBI), finishing second in AL MVP voting. Jackson said, "Some people call October a time of pressure. I call it a time of character." He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1993.

46 Andy Pettitte (Number retired: August 23, 2015)

Height: 6-5 • Weight: 225 • B/T: L/L

Reliable and consistent throughout his career, Pettitte pitched 15 seasons with the club (1995-2003, '07-10, '12-13), going 219-127 with a 3.94 ERA (447G/438GS, 2,796.1IP, 2,020K). The left-hander is the franchise leader in strikeouts and is tied with Whitey Ford for the most starts. He trails only Ford (236 wins, 3,171.0IP) and Red Ruffing (231 wins, 3,168.0IP) in wins and innings pitched. A three-time AL All-Star (1996, 2001 and '10), Pettitte is the only pitcher drafted by the Yankees to win 200 games in the Majors. As a Yankee, Pettitte went 18-10 with a 3.76 ERA (251.1IP, 105ER) in 40 career postseason starts, winning five World Series titles (1996, '98-2000, '09). He famously started and won all three series-clinching games in the 2009 postseason.

49 Ron Guidry (Number retired: August 23, 2003)

Born: Aug. 28, 1950 in Lafayette, La.

Height: 5-11 • Weight: 165 • B/T: L/L

Known as "Louisiana Lightning," Ron Guidry was a four-time All-Star and three-time 20-game winner whose 1978 season was one of the most dominant by a pitcher in MLB history. He went 25-3 with a 1.74 ERA in leading the Yankees back from a 14.0-game AL East deficit and winning the AL Cy Young Award in unanimous fashion. He also set still-standing franchise records in 1978 with nine shutouts and 18 strikeouts in a single game (June 17 vs. California), and his 248K that season was a club mark until 2022. From 1986 through his retirement in 1989, "Gator" served as a co-captain with Willie Randolph. He remains in the Yankees' all-time top 10 in starts (323), IP (2,392.0), wins (170), winning pct. (.651), strikeouts (1,778) and shutouts (26).

51 Bernie Williams (Number retired: May 24, 2015)

Height: 6-2 • Weight: 205 • B/T: S/R

Williams played his entire 16-year MLB career with the Yankees (1991-2006), batting .297 (2,336-for-7,869) with 449 doubles, 278HR and 1,257RBI in 2,076 games. A five-time AL All-Star (1997-2001), four-time Gold Glove winner (1997-2000) and one-time Silver Slugger Award recipient (2002), Williams won the 1998 AL batting title with a .339 average. A four-time World Series champion (1996, '98, '99, 2000), he is the Yankees' all-time postseason leader in HR (22) and RBI (80) and ranks third in games played (121). He was named the 1996 ALCS MVP after batting .474 (9-for-19) with 2HR and 6RBI in the Yankees' five-game victory over the Orioles. In Game 1 of the 1999 ALCS vs. Boston, he hit a memorable 10th-inning, "walk-off" home run.

Mariano Rivera was the last active Major League player to wear No. 42 as a regular number after it was permanently retired across MLB in 1997 in honor of Jackie Robinson. In this photo, Rivera poses in Monument Park on Sept. 22, 2013 — prior to his Yankee Stadium number retirement ceremony.

All-Time Roster

In the Yankees' 121 seasons since being established in New York in 1903, 1,781 players have appeared in at least one game.

World War I Service

According to Marty Appel's book Pinstripe Empire, the following Yankees went into the armed forces in WWI: Walter Bernhardt, Neil Brady, Alex Ferguson, Ray Fisher, Frank Kane, Bill Lamar, Bob McGraw, Ed Monroe, Wally Pipp, Muddy Ruel, Bob Shawkey, Walt Smallwood, Sammy Vick and Aaron Ward.

Future Yankees who served in WWI included Carl Mays, Mike McNally, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker, Ernie Shore and Casey Stengel. Former Yankees Les Nunamaker and Fritz Maisel also served in the "Great War."

Additional research shows that Tom Burr, a Chicago native who attended Choate Prep in Connecticut and Williams College, is the only Yankee to have been killed in military service. He was a defensive replacement for the Yankees in one game on April 21, 1914 vs. Washington in his only Major League appearance. He was killed in an air training accident on Oct. 12, 1918, in Cazaux, France at age 24.

Yankees Captains

The function of a team captain in baseball has changed over time. Early 20th century baseball rules required teams to designate an active, uniformed player as captain to do many things a modern-day manager typically would take care of, such as changing pitchers, positioning fielders and arguing with umpires. Non-playing managers at that time were limited to directing players from within the confines of the dugout. By the mid-1910s, however, managers assumed the modern responsibilities they have today, and the designation of captain became largely ceremonial. (Please note that extensive research efforts have not uncovered if the Yankees had a captain in 1912. Additionally, Everett Scott filled the role of captain during the 1922 and 1923 World Series).

9. Lou Gehrig	4/12/1935-1939
10. Thurman Munson	4/17/1976-8/2/1979

*Did not play in the team's first 33 games of the season. Was an active captain for just six total games from 5/20-25/1922.

Roger Peckinpaugh, who also managed the club in 1914, was the second-longest serving captain in team history.

All-Time Numerical Roster

In 1929, the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians became the first teams to make numbers a permanent part of the uniform. Other teams quickly adopted the idea and, by 1932, uniform numbers became standard for all teams. The Yankees' initial distribution of numbers was made according to the player's spot in the batting order. Therefore, in 1929, leadoff hitter Earle Combs wore No. 1; Mark Koenig No. 2; Babe Ruth No. 3; Lou Gehrig No. 4; Bob Meusel No. 5; Tony Lazzeri No. 6; Leo Durocher No. 7; Johnny Grabowski No. 8; Benny Bengough No. 9; and Bill Dickey No. 10 (Grabowski, Bengough and Dickey shared catching duties). After some exhaustive research, the Yankees' Media Relations staff compiled the following list of Yankees uniform numbers.

The list represents uniform numbers worn by coaches (c), managers (m) and players who officially appeared in a regular season game. Yankees retired numbers are denoted in boldface text.

Yogi Berra (No. 8) congratulates Roger Maris on hitting his 61st home run on Oct. 1, 1961.

OPENING DAY RESULTS

The Yankees are 68-52-1 all time on Opening Day (Home: 38-18-1; Road 30-34).

OPENING DAY HOME RUNS

The Yankees have hit 113 Opening Day home runs in franchise history by 70 different players (most recently by Aaron Judge and Gleyber Torres in a 5-0 win vs. San Francisco in 2023). Giancarlo Stanton is the last Yankee to homer twice on Opening Day (3/29/18 at Toronto, including one in his first PA as a Yankee). Babe Ruth hit a franchise-high five OD-HRs, and he is followed by Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Jorge Posada and Giancarlo Stanton (4HR each). Ruth, Berra and Posada share the Yankees mark having homered in four different OD games.

Posada and Curtis Granderson (2010 at Boston) are the most recent pair of Yankees to hit back-to-back homers in an opener, and they were the first Yankees to accomplish the feat since Dave Winfield and Steve Kemp on 4/5/83 at Seattle (both off Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry).

MULTI-HOME RUN OPENING DAY GAMES (By individual player, 7x, all 2HR games)

Joe McCarthy [C] is the winningest manager in Yankees history, having compiled a 1,460-867 (.627) regular season record over 16 seasons. He won seven World Series (1932, '36-39, '41, '43) in eight appearances with the club and owns the best career winning percentage of any Yankees skipper who piloted the club for at least two full seasons. In the photo above, he stands between sluggers Lou Gehrig [L] and Babe Ruth [R].

General Manager Bob Watson [R] celebrates with the 1996 World Series trophy after the Yankees defeated Atlanta in Game 6 at Yankee Stadium.

- (1) Held title of Secretary and handled all business affairs.
- (2) Served as Secretary through the end of 1914, however ceased control over all business matters after the arrival of Arthur Irwin on 12/6/1912.
- (3) Held title of Business Manager.
- (4) Held titles of Yankees Business Manager and Secretary until 1/17/1939 when he was named president, but performed GM duties throughout.
- (5) Served as acting GM and frequently consulted Ralph Houk.
- (6) Did not have title of general manager during points of his tenure but performed GM duties.
- (7) Al Rosen, who was team president from 3/27/1978-7/19/1979, also performed baseball operations duties typical of a GM during parts of his tenure.
- (8) Did not have title of general manager but together performed GM duties.
- (9) Formally held title of "Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations" but performed the duties of a GM. Bob Quinn served as his assistant while maintaining the General Manager title he held previous to Thrift's arrival.

The 1923 Yankees — The first World Series-winning team in franchise history

Led by Manager Miller Huggins, the 1923 Yankees went 98-54 during the regular season before winning the first World Series in franchise history, 4-games-to-2 over the New York Giants. The season was a turning point for the Yankees in many ways, most notably because it marked the inaugural season of the original Yankee Stadium. The victory also established the Yankees as New York City's dominant team after losses to John McGraw's Giants in the prior two Fall Classics, 5-games-to-3 in 1921 and 4-games-to-0 (with one tie) in 1922.

Pinch-Hit Home Runs

Recent Notes: The Yankees hit one PH HR in 2023 (Higashioka) after hitting two in 2022 (Locastro and Rizzo)...2020 marked the last season the Yankees hit just one PH HR, but it was historic, as the only PH, extra-inning, grand slam in franchise history (Gary Sánchez 8/30/2020-G2 vs. NYM, 8th inn).

Other Pinch-hit HR Notes: The Yankees have hit 289 pinch-hit home runs in franchise history, including 23 pinch-hit grand slams... in 1998, the Yankees hit two pinch-hit home runs, both ninth-inning grand slams by Darryl Strawberry (on 5/2 at KC and 8/4-G2 at OAK).

Last Yankee with more than one pinch-hit HR in a single season: Mike Ford in 2019 (2HR - 9/14 at TOR and 9/1 vs. OAK).

First Home Runs in Franchise History

The first home run in franchise history was hit by John Gangel on May 11, 1903. It was a fifth-inning, inside-the-park, solo homer at the Detroit Tigers' Bennett Park off George Mullin in an 8-2 Highlanders victory.

The first home run hit at home in franchise history was by Ernie Courtney on June 1, 1903, at Hilltop Park off Boston's Tom Hughes. The two-run, one-out homer in the bottom of the ninth accounted for the Highlanders' only runs in an 8-2 loss.

Hawkins allowed all four unearned runs in the bottom of the eighth inning. The White Sox's Sammy Sosa reached first base on a two-out fielding error by 3B Mike Blowers, then stole second. Hawkins then walked Ozzie Guillen and Lance Johnson, loading the bases. The next batter, Robin Ventura, hit a fly ball that LF Jim Leyritz dropped for an error, allowing all three runners to score and Ventura to reach second. RF Jesse Barfield then dropped a fly ball hit by Ivan Calderon, allowing Ventura to score and Calderon to reach second. Hawkins got out of the inning by getting Dan Pasqua to pop out to short. The total for the bottom of the eighth was four unearned runs on two walks and three errors. Also of note in this game, White Sox starter Greg Hibbard began the game perfect through his first 16 batters.

Perfect Games

World Series Game 5 vs. Brooklyn at Yankee Stadium

With the 1956 World Series knotted at two games apiece, Don Larsen authored what many consider the greatest game ever pitched, a 2-0 perfect game over the Brooklyn Dodgers in front of 64,519 at Yankee Stadium.

Amazingly, Larsen didn't even know he was going to be pitching that day until he got to the Stadium. As was the Yankees' tradition at the time, he arrived in the clubhouse to find a brand new baseball placed in one of his shoes by coach Frank Crosetti, which was manager Casey Stengel's way of letting a pitcher know he was being tabbed to start.

Larsen's date with history came on the heels of a disastrous start in Game 2 in which he was pulled with a 6-1 lead with two out in the second inning. He faced just 10 batters in the outing, allowing four unearned runs on four walks and a single in a game that the Yankees ultimately lost, 13-8.

After realizing he was getting the Game 5 start, Larsen went into the training room and took a nap, only to be awakened less than an hour before the first pitch.

According to the 6-foot-4-inch righthander, he had the best control of his career on that October day, reaching three balls once in the entire game with a full count on Pee Wee Reese in the first inning.

The perfect game was preserved by three notable fielding plays. In the second inning, Jackie Robinson was retired on a groundout that ricocheted off 3B Andy Carey's glove to SS Gil McDougald, who threw out the speedy infielder at first. Additionally, Brooklyn's Gil Hodges was robbed twice, first on a fly to deep left center that was tracked down by CF Mickey Mantle and again in the eighth by Carey on a low liner.

Brooklyn starter Sal Maglie held the first 11 Yankees batters off the bases until Mantle's fourth-inning solo homer into the right-field stands. The balance of the scoring came on Hank Bauer's sixth-inning RBI single which brought in Carey, who had been advanced to second on a sac bunt by Larsen.

In the ninth, Larsen set down Carl Furillo on a fly to right before getting Roy Campanella on a grounder to 2B Billy Martin. As his last gasp, Dodgers manager Walter Alton sent pinch-hitter Dale Mitchell to bat but he was famously called out on strikes by National League umpire Babe Pinelli, who was calling his final game behind the plate after a distinguished career.

The momentum from the win did not carry over to Game 6 at Ebbets Field as Yankees starter Bob Turley lost a 10-inning duel with Brooklyn's Clem Labine, 1-0. Game 7, however, was a romp as sophomore pitcher Johnny Kucks tossed the game of his life, shutting out the Dodgers, 9-0, on three hits and three walks to give the Yankees' their 17th World Championship and avenge their seven-game Series loss to Brooklyn in 1955.

Larsen's performance was the sixth perfect game all time, fourth in the modern era and first since the White Sox's Charlie Robertson blanked Detroit, 2-0, on April 30, 1922, at Navin Field. It remains the only perfect game in postseason history.

Larsen played with seven franchises over his 14-year Major League career, finishing with an 81-91 record. He tallied a 45-24 mark in five seasons with the Yankees before being part of the Dec. 11, 1959, trade that brought Roger Maris to New York from the Kansas City Athletics.

Don Larsen delivers the final pitch of the game — a called strike to Dodgers pinch-hitter Dale Mitchell.

David Wells — May 17, 1998 vs. Minnesota at Yankee Stadium

The 1998 season was full of highlights for the Yankees, a team that went 114-48 on the way to a World Series title. But one of the season's signature moments came on "Beanie Baby Day" in front of 49,820 fans at Yankee Stadium when David Wells pitched the second perfect game in franchise history, matching the feat of Don Larsen, who, like Wells, attended Point Loma H.S. in San Diego.

By the time the game rolled around to the seventh, Wells and his teammates were well aware of what was taking place. The only player willing to talk to him was pitcher David Cone, who tried to ease the tension by saying, "I think it's time...to break out the knuckleball."

The 34-year-old lefthander struck out nine of his first 17 hitters and 11 over the game, including Twins catcher Javier Valentin three times. He reached three batters on just four batters.

The Yankees gave Wells an early lead, scoring runs on a wild pitch in the second and a Bernie Williams solo-HR in the fourth. They tacked on two more in the seventh on an RBI triple by Darryl Strawberry and an RBI single from Chad Curtis.

In the ninth, Wells got leadoff hitter Jon Shave to pop to Paul O'Neill in right and Valentin to strike out swinging. Pat Mearns made the final out, flying out to O'Neill. Delirious fans cheered Wells being carried off the field on his teammates' shoulders. Then they filed out too, clutching their Beanie Babies.

Beanie Baby "Valentino" was given away to children at Yankee Stadium on the day of Wells' perfect game.

David Cone — July 18, 1999 vs. Montreal at Yankee Stadium

Fans arrived at Yankee Stadium on July 18, 1999, to celebrate Yogi Berra Day, but they left saluting David Cone. The righthander needed just 88 pitches to throw the third perfect game in Yankees history in front of 41,930 fans and a host of legendary Yankees, including Don Larsen, who threw out the game's ceremonial first pitch.

On a day in which the temperature hovered in the 90s, the Yankees gave Cone a 5-0 second-inning lead via a pair of two-run homers from Ricky Ledee and Derek Jeter sandwiched around an RBI-double by Jose Girardi.

Cone's masterpiece, just one season removed from David Wells' perfect game at Yankee Stadium, was a picture of economy. Of the last 20 regular season and postseason perfect games thrown since 1922, Cone required the fewest pitches. It also gave the Yankees a record three perfect games in their history, a mark since tied by the White Sox (Charlie Robertson, Mark Buehrle and Philip Humber). It was the third perfect game at the original Yankee Stadium—the most for any single venue.

Over the course of the game, Cone got 13 outs in the air, four on the ground and 10 via strikeout. The closest he came to allowing a baserunner was with one out in the eighth, when second baseman Chuck Knoblauch made a nice play ranging far to his right before throwing out Jose Vidro at first. The final out was a foul pop to third off the bat of Orlando Cabrera, which was snagged by the sure-handed Scott Brosius. Cone's gem remains the only perfect game in the history of regular season Interleague Play.

Domingo Germán — June 28, 2023 at Oakland (Oakland Coliseum)

It had been more than a decade since Félix Hernández had authored Major League Baseball's last perfect game in 2012. However, in front of an announced crowd of 12,479 on June 28, 2023, at the Oakland Coliseum, Domingo Germán took his place in the history books, tossing the 24th perfect in MLB history, the fourth in Yankees franchise history and the first-ever by a Dominican pitcher. The performance also marked the first complete game in the 30-year-old right-hander's six-year career.

Germán managed to keep himself loose during a six-run, 24-minute top of the fifth, as Yankees hitters broke the game open for a 7-0 lead. Leaning on his curveball in the later innings, he needed just 25 pitches to set the A's down over the final three innings of the game, getting Esteyru Ruiz for the final out on a grounder to third baseman Josh Donaldson.

Just two Oakland batters reached a three-ball count all night, and the only notable defensive highlight was when first baseman Anthony Rizzo made a backhanded grab on Seth Brown's 106.5 mph ground ball before tossing to Germán, who covered first base.

The game marked the second career no-hitter caught by Kyle Higashioka (also Corey Kluber on 5/19/2021 at Texas), which matched Yogi Berra and Joe Girardi for the most in Yankees franchise history.

1921 American League Champion Yankees The first pennant-winning team in franchise history

The Yankees won their first AL pennant in 1921, finishing 98-55, 4.5 games ahead of Cleveland. The club was led by Babe Ruth, who batted .378 (204-for-540) with 59HR and a career-high 171RBI. Carl Mays (27-5), Waite Hoyt (19-13) and Bob Shawkey (18-12) fronted a pitching staff that allowed the fewest earned runs in the AL (579). In the World Series, the last of Baseball's three-year experiment with a nine-game format, the Yankees were defeated 5-games-to-3 by the Giants, with whom they shared the Polo Grounds. Hoyt, who lost Game 8, 1-0, on an unearned run in the first inning, went 2-1 (.270IP) in three complete games. Injuries suffered by Ruth in Game 2 (cut arm while sliding, which later became infected) and Game 5 (wrenched knee) limited him to just one pinch-hitting plate appearance in the final three games of the Series.

Yankees All-Star Selections by Year

Of note: The All-Star Game was first played in 1933, two All-Star Games were played in each year from 1959-62, and there was no All-Star Game in 1945 (WWII) and 2020 (shortened season due to COVID-19).

All-Star Selections

The Yankees have had 441 all-time All-Star selections (58 pitchers with 142 selections; and 78 position players with 299 selections). Additionally, the AL team has been skipped by nine different Yankees managers on 32 total occasions.

According to MLB, there have been four occasions in which Yankees elected to start the game were replaced in the starting lineup (OF Reggie Jackson by Fred Lynn in 1978, SS Derek Jeter by Asdrubal Cabrera and 3B Alex Rodriguez by Adrian Beltre in 2011, and OF Aaron Judge by Wander Franco on the roster and Adolis Garcia as the starter in RF in 2023). Conversely, there have been five Yankees who have started the game after replacing elected starters (Bobby Murcer for Tony Oliva in the OF in 1971, Thurman Munson for Carlton Fisk at C in 1974, Willie Randolph for Paul Molitor at 2B in 1980, Graig Nettles for George Brett at 3B in 1980, and Derek Jeter for Alex Rodriguez at SS in 2000).

Twelve Yankees rookies have been selected to the ASG (Joe DiMaggio-1936, Joe Page-1944, Spec Shea-1947, Bobby Richardson-1957, Ryne Duren-1958, Tom Tresh-1962, Willie Randolph-1976, Hideki Matsui-2003, Dellin Betances & Masahiro Tanaka-2014, Aaron Judge-2017 and Gleyber Torres-2018).

In 1939, Lou Gehrig (who retired earlier that season) was named an honorary AL team member. That selection is not included in totals below.

Formal balloting was not conducted by MLB in 1945, when the All-Star Game was canceled due to WWII travel restrictions. The AP polled 13 of 16 AL managers who unofficially voted RHP Hank Borowy, 1B Nick Etten, 2B Snuffy Stirrweiss and 3B Oscar Grimes as All-Stars, with the former three as starters. However, the 1945 voting was unofficial and is not included in the totals below.

Two All-Star Games were played each year from 1959-62. Games participated in are noted with "G1" and/or "G2". There was no game in 2020.

All-Star MVPs

(Award given since 1962)

Giancarlo Stanton, Mariano Rivera and Derek Jeter are the only Yankees to be named All-Star MVP.

At the 2022 All-Star Game at Dodger Stadium in his hometown of Los Angeles, Stanton earned MVP honors in a 3-2 AL win, going 1-for-2 with a two-run HR in the fourth off Tony Gonsolin that knotted the game at 2-2.

Rivera received the honor at the 2013 edition at Citi Field, tossing a scoreless eighth inning (Jean Segura groundout to 2B, Allen Craig lineup to LF, Carlos Gomez groundout to SS) in the AL's 3-0 win in his final Major League season.

Jeter took home the honor at the 2000 All-Star Game at Turner Field in Atlanta with a 3-for-3 performance with 1R, 1 double and 2RBI. He doubled in the first inning off Randy Johnson, singled and scored in the third off Kevin Brown and had a two-run single in the fourth off Al Leiter in the American League's 6-3 win.

All-Star Games at the Original Yankee Stadium

The Yankees have hosted four All-Star Games, including the 2008 Midsummer Classic in the original Yankee Stadium's final season. The Stadium also hosted the All-Star Game in 1977 (48th), 1960 (29th) and 1939 (seventh). Only Cleveland's old Municipal Stadium hosted as many All-Star Games as the original Yankee Stadium. Overall, New York City has hosted nine MLB All-Star Games, the highest total in Major League history, with the Polo Grounds (1934 and 1942), Ebbets Field (1949), Shea Stadium (1964) and Citi Field (2013) also serving as host sites. The 2008 game marked the first time the Midsummer Classic was held in the host team's final season at its ballpark.

Seventh All-Star Game

July 11, 1939, Yankee Stadium

Yankee Stadium was chosen to host the 1939 All-Star Game due to the World's Fair which was being held at Flushing Meadows in Queens during the 1939 season. The Cubs' Gabby Hartnett managed the National League squad while Yankees skipper Joe McCarthy led the American League team, which featured nine Yankees All-Stars (Crosetti, Dickey, Dimaggio, Gomez, Gordon, Murphy, Rolfe, Ruffing, Selkirk), six of whom started. Additionally, Lou Gehrig (who retired earlier that season) was named an honorary member of the AL squad. Yankees centerfielder Joe DiMaggio went 1-for-4 in the game, hitting a solo home run.

29th All-Star Game

National League 6, American League 0
July 13, 1960 (Game #2), Yankee Stadium

Yankee Stadium was the host site for baseball's second All-Star Game in three days in 1960. The National League completed the All-Star sweep with a 6-0 win, having won Game 1 on July 11 in Kansas City, marking the only year that both All-Star games were won by the same team. Yankees hurler Whitey Ford was the starting pitcher for the AL squad, while fellow Yankees Yogi Berra (catcher), Mickey Mantle (left field), Roger Maris (center field) and Bill Skowron (first base) all appeared in the starting lineup. The National League used six different pitchers to combine on the shutout effort and hit a then-All-Star record-tying four home runs, including one by Willie Mays. The 38,000 fans who attended the game witnessed Ted Williams in his final All-Star appearance.

48th All-Star Game

July 19, 1977, Yankee Stadium

Showcasing its renovation, Yankee Stadium hosted the All-Star Game on July 19, 1977, in a game dedicated to Jackie Robinson. With the Yankees defending their 1976 pennant, Billy Martin managed the AL team on his home field. The National League won its sixth consecutive All-Star Game, part of the Senior Circuit's 11-game win streak. Joe Morgan opened the game with a home run off Jim Palmer as the NL squad scored four first-inning runs. Yankees outfielder Reggie Jackson and second baseman Willie Randolph were AL starters. National League Manager Sparky Anderson described the game's final score by saying, "the only reason we're here is to kick the living hell out of those guys."

79th All-Star Game

July 15, 2008, Yankee Stadium

In the final Midsummer Classic at the original Yankee Stadium, the American League emerged with a 4-3 win in 15 innings as Texas' Michael Young brought home Minnesota's Justin Morneau with a "walk-off" sacrifice fly. The 4-hour, 50-minute contest was the longest All-Star Game time-wise and tied for the longest ASG in innings (also 1967 at Anaheim, 2-1 NL win). It was the AL's 12th straight All-Star Game victory and ensured American League home-field advantage in the World Series. SS Derek Jeter started and recorded the game's first hit in the first inning. RHP Mariano Rivera pitched 1.2 scoreless innings. Yankees Manager Joe Girardi joined the AL coaching staff as did Yankees Head Athletic Trainer Gene Monahan, who made his fourth All-Star Game appearance (also 1977, '86 and '92). Pregame ceremonies included 49 Hall of Famers, marking one of the largest gatherings of living baseball HOFers ever. The festivities were highlighted by Yankees Principal Owner/Chairperson George Steinbrenner, who delivered baseballs to the ceremonial first pitch participants (Reggie Jackson, Whitey Ford, Yogi Berra and Goose Gosage).

Exhibition Games vs. Mets/Dodgers/Giants

Notable Exhibitions between the Yankees, Dodgers and Giants

The Yankees, Dodgers and Giants played a number of preseason games against each other over the years in Florida and on the East Coast (while heading north from spring training). The clubs also played games in New York just prior to the start of the season. Additionally, many in-season exhibitions were arranged, including the Mayor's Trophy Games (noted in left column) and other charitable endeavors. Some of the most notable games are listed below.

July 4, 1909 - At Washington Park in Brooklyn, the Yankees dropped a benefit game for newsboys, 7-3. Due to a rule banning exhibition games between teams of the AL and NL, the catchers and pitchers switched teams for the contest.

Sept. 4, 1910 - The Yankees defeated the Giants, 4-2, in a newsboys benefit at Washington Park in Brooklyn, with various Dodgers (then known as the Superbas) playing for both teams.

October 1910 - The Yankees and Giants faced each other for the first time in a series of exhibition games following the 1910 regular season (while the World Series was contested elsewhere). Pitcher Christy Mathewson won three of the games as the Giants won the series, 4 games to 2. In a similar exhibition rematch after the 1914 regular season, the Giants again defeated the Yankees, 4 games to 1.

Apr. 21, 1912 - At the Polo Grounds, the Yankees and Giants staged a benefit game for survivors of the Titanic. The Giants won, 11-2, as $9,425.25 was raised before a crowd of 14,083.

Apr. 5 and 7, 1913 - The Yankees helped the Dodgers (known then as the "Superbas") open Ebbets Field with an exhibition game won by Brooklyn, 3-2, in front of approximately 30,000 fans. Dodgers rookie outfielder Casey Stengel hits the park's first unofficial home run. Two days later, in icy conditions before approximately 1,000 fans at Ebbets field, the Yankees came out on top, 8-4.

Sept. 30, 1917 - On a tiny field at Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn, the Yankees defeated the Dodgers (then known as the Robins), 11-8. Seven "home runs" were hit in a game played for soldiers soon to be sent off to fight in World War I.

Sept. 9 and 24, 1931 - The three local clubs played a two-day, round-robin with proceeds going to the Mayor's Unemployment Fund. In the first game in front of 60,549 fans at Yankee Stadium, the Yankees defeated the Giants, 7-3, netting $59,642 as Babe Ruth hit the game's only home run. On Sept. 24, the teams played a doubleheader at the Polo Grounds, bringing in $48,135 for the fund with 44,119 fans on hand. The Giants defeated Brooklyn, 3-1, in Game 1 and the Yankees defeated the Dodgers (then known as the "Robins"), 5-1, in Game 2 behind homers from Lyn Lary, Bill Dickey and Lou Gehrig. Contests among the players were held in between games, including Babe Ruth hitting the longest fustig (421 ft, 8 in.) and Ben Chapman making the longest throw (392 ft, 10 in.).

June 26, 1944 - The Yankees, Giants and Dodgers played a mid-season "three-cornered" exhibition game at the Polo Grounds, which generated over $6.5 million worth of war bond sales. Each team batted in six innings and played defense for six innings with Brooklyn coming out on top (Dodgers 5 - Yankees 1 - Giants 0). The clubs reprised the format for the sake of charity five years later (see entry for July 11, 1949).

July 9, 1945 - The Yankees defeated the Giants, 7-1, in a rain-shortened 7-inn. game in front of 41,267 at the Polo Grounds. The contest was one of seven interleague games in the Majors to benefit the war effort and serve as a substitute for the All-Star Game, which had been canceled.

July 11, 1949 - In a reprise of their June 26, 1944, exhibition game at the Polo Grounds (see above), the Yankees, Giants and Dodgers played a three-cornered "Night of Champions" benefit game for the N.Y. Heart Fund, Babe Ruth Foundation and Lou Gehrig Memorial Fund. Approximately $32,000 was raised as 26,120 Yankee Stadium spectators saw Brooklyn win on total runs, 6 to 3 to 3.

Oct. 12, 1958 - In a rare postseason exhibition at Yankee Stadium, a team of AL All-Stars led by Mickey Mantle lost to a team of NL All-Stars led by Willie Mays, 6-2, in front of 21,129.

May 7, 1959 - At the L.A. Coliseum in front of a record baseball crowd of 93,103, the Yankees defeated the Dodgers, 6-2, with net proceeds going to benefit recently paralyzed catcher Roy Campanella.

June 27, 1960 - The Dodgers defeated the Yankees, 4-3, in front of 53,492 in their first game at Yankee Stadium since Don Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series.

July 24, 1961 - The Giants defeated the Yankees, 4-1, in front of 47,346 at Yankee Stadium. Mickey Mantle's solo HR accounts for the Yankees' only run.

Mayor's Trophy Game

In the majority of seasons from 1944-83, the Yankees played the Giants, Dodgers or Mets in an annual mid-season exhibition game. The Mayor's office began sponsoring the contests beginning in 1946 and awarded a trophy to the game's winner. The proceeds from each game supported sandlot baseball programs and other New York charities. The Yankees won 20 of the 32 Mayor's Trophy Games played, going 7-1 vs. the Giants, 3-2 vs. the Dodgers and 10-8-1 vs. the Mets.

Spring Training Games vs. the Mets

The Yankees and Mets used to meet on a regular basis in spring training, dating back to the Mets' inaugural season in 1962. The very first game between the clubs was a 4-3 Mets victory on March 22, 1962, at their spring facility in St. Petersburg. The clubs' last preseason meetings were in 2020 "summer camp" in New York, with the Yankees winning both games (7/18/20 at Citi Field, 9-3; and 7/19/20 at Yankee Stadium, 6-0). The clubs did not meet in spring training from 2021-23, but are scheduled to meet three times in 2024 (3/5 at NYM and 3/22 & 3/25 at NYY).

- (1) Research has been unable to determine if the club had a trainer in 1903.
- (2) Burke suffered health problems during the season and was replaced by McCormick.
- (3) Alternately spelled “Mulcahy.” Was released from duties midseason. Exact date unknown.
- (4) Was also a trainer at Williams College and reportedly worked with the team during the summers of 1910 and 1911.
- (5) Handled spring training operations in 1947.
- (6) Additionally since 2020, Michael Schuk has been the Director of Sports Medicine & Rehabilitation.

Yankees assistant trainers have included: Gus Mauch (1946), Joe Soares (1960–61), Don Seger (1962–68), Herman Schneider (1977–78), Barry Weinberg (1979–81), Mark Letendre (1982–85), Steve Donohue (1986–2011), Mark Littlefield (2012–15), Michael Schuk (2015–19), Tim Lentych (2016–19) and Alfonso Malaguti (2020–23).

Gene Monahan [R] tends to Bernie Williams in the Yankees training room at the original Yankee Stadium. “Geno” is the longest-serving head trainer in club history, having manned the post for 29 years from 1973–2011.

Forfeited Games

The Yankees have played in four forfeited games in their history (described below), winning them all. Player statistics from forfeited games count in the historical record, however the final score of each game is officially recorded as 9-0. Interestingly, a forfeited game precipitated the creation of the Yankees franchise.

The Baltimore Orioles were a charter member of the American League in 1901. Prior to their game vs. St. Louis on July 17, 1902, New York Giants owner Andrew Freedman and Cincinnati Reds owner John T. Brush gained a controlling interest in Baltimore with the help of its former manager John McGraw. The two owners then shifted almost all of the Orioles’ players to their respective NL teams, leaving the club unable to field a squad. Though the Orioles were forced to forfeit that day, the American League soon stepped in by providing the Orioles with players from other teams so they could finish the season. At the end of the season, the Orioles were dissolved and a new franchise filling its AL spot was established in New York in 1903.

In their short time in Baltimore, the Orioles also participated in three other forfeits, all of which were losses (May 31, 1901 at Detroit; August 21, 1901 vs. Detroit; and June 28, 1902 vs. Boston).

July 2, 1906 at Philadelphia (Game 2): With two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning and the Highlanders leading, 5-1, Columbia Park spectators started swarming the field. According to The New York Times, “the three or four policemen on hand to handle the crowd of 11,000 spectators were powerless.” After waiting 15 minutes, umpire Timothy C. Hurst forfeited the game to the Highlanders.

September 3, 1906 vs. Philadelphia (Game 2): With two outs in the bottom of the ninth and the Highlanders trailing, 3-1, with runners on second (Willie Keeler) and third (Wid Conroy), Jimmy Williams hit a grounder to A’s shortstop Monte Cross. Keeler ran into Cross just as he was about to handle the ball, allowing the ball to roll into outfield and Conroy and Keeler to score, tying the game. After a heated argument from A’s first baseman and captain Harry Davis, umpire Frank O’Loughlin awarded the game to New York.

June 13, 1924 at Detroit: At the start of the ninth inning at Navin Field with the Yankees leading, 10-6, Tigers pitcher Bert Cole threw a pitch that narrowly missed hitting Babe Ruth in the head. Cole immediately hit the next batter, Bob Meusel, with a pitch in the ribs. Meusel’s protest incited a riot, leading to both benches becoming involved and the storming of the field by incensed fans. Umpire William G. Evans was forced to forfeit the game to the Yankees when the field could not be cleared. Ultimately, Meusel was fined $100 and suspended 10 days, Cole was fined $50 and suspended 10 days, and Ruth received a $50 fine but no suspension. AL President Ban Johnson said of the fights that day, “They must be staged in a vacant lot, far removed from the ball parks.”

September 30, 1971 at Washington: At Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, unruly fans cascaded onto the field with two outs in the top of the ninth inning and the Senators winning, 7-5, in the last game before the Senators’ relocation to Texas for the 1972 season. After three minutes of on-field chaos, including the bases literally being stolen, the umpires awarded the Yankees the victory.

Triple Plays (Special thanks to SABR & YES)

Fielding: The Yankees have turned 27 triple plays in franchise history, including a single-season franchise record three in 2021, matching the all-time mark by any team in a single season (eighth time in MLB history). Prior to 2021, the Yankees had never turned more than one in a single season. Interestingly, between 1969 and 2020, the Yankees turned just three total triple plays (4/17/14 at Tampa Bay; 4/12/13 vs. Baltimore; and 4/22/10 at Oakland) with all three occurring with CC Sabathia on the mound.

Batting: The Yankees have hit into 28 triple plays in franchise history, including three since 2001. The most recent was in an 8-6 loss on 7/22/2019 at Minnesota, three batters into the game (1st inn., 5-4-3, E. Encarnación grounder to third after a DJ LeMahieu leadoff walk and an Aaron Judge walk). The others since 2001 were 7/25/17 vs. Cincinnati, 2nd inn., 6-3-5-6 (the only one the Yankees have hit into at the current Yankee Stadium); and 9/27/11 at Tampa Bay, 6th inn., 5-4-3.

Unassisted Triple Plays (Fielding or Batting): The Yankees been involved in one unassisted triple play in franchise history. On 5/29/00 vs. Oakland, former and future Yankee Randy Velarde, playing second base for the A's, caught a sixth-inning line drive off the bat of Shane Spencer with the hit & run on, then tagged Jorge Posada as he approached second base and stepped on the bag to double off Tino Martinez. To set up the moment, the previous batter, Jorge Posada reached base as a result of an error made by Velarde.

1962 World Series MVP Ralph Terry is carried off the field following his complete-game, 1-0 win in Game 7 at Candlestick Park over the S.F. Giants. During the Series he went 2-1 in three starts, allowing just 5ER in 25.0IP with two walks and 16 strikeouts. The title was the Yankees' second in a row and their 10th in a 16-year span dating to 1947. For Terry, his clutch Game 7 performance was a measure of redemption. Two years earlier he allowed Bill Mazeroski's Game 7, World Series-winning, "walk-off" home run, which gave Pittsburgh the 1960 championship even though the Pirates had been outscored by the Yankees, 55-27, over the course of the Series.

Yankee STADIUM

The New York Yankees began a new chapter in their storied history with the opening of Yankee Stadium in 2009. Located directly across the street from the site of the original, the Stadium's architecture is a celebration of the spirit and tradition of the franchise. While firmly rooted in the past, the Stadium has a vision toward the future, incorporating the best in technology and state-of-the-art guest services.

All of the Stadium's modern amenities exist within the framework of classic elements of the original, most notably the instantly recognizable frieze that again circles the grandstand. Among the countless fan-friendly elements, massive video boards give Yankees fans more information than ever before, and concessions have been placed on concourses that allow for continuous viewing of the game.

Yankee Stadium, as a living museum, has been designed to set the standard—much like the team has done with its 27 World Championships.

The current Yankee Stadium [L] and the original in 2008.

HOMAGE TO THE ORIGINAL

The current Yankee Stadium evokes the spirit of the original, while restoring many of the lost treasures from before the renovations of 1974-75.

The signature frieze once again outlines the top of the Stadium bowl. As in the past, it is attached to a roof that extends into the Stadium, covering the top rows of the Grandstand.

Monument Park has been relocated to its original position in center field, albeit behind the fence, unlike before the renovation when the monuments were on the playing field. All plaques, monuments and tribute displays for the Yankees who have had their numbers retired are on display for fans, who may visit Monument Park when it is open prior to home games.

On the Main Level, near Section 210, the New York Yankees Museum presented by Bank of America—a museum within the living museum that is Yankee Stadium—presents Yankees history through displays of artifacts and memorabilia. Items include a "Ball Wall" with hundreds of signed baseballs from Yankees greats, Thurman Munson's locker from the original Yankee Stadium and a replica of a locker from the Yankees clubhouse in the current Stadium. On game days, fans are welcome in the museum beginning 90 minutes prior to the scheduled first pitch until the end of the eighth inning (subject to change based on regulations in place for 2024). On non-game days, visitors can enjoy the museum when Yankee Stadium Tours are in operation.

Babe Ruth Plaza, located on the south side of the Stadium in between Gates 4 and 6, honors the man proverbially credited with building the original House that Ruth Built. Through a series of storyboards displayed on light posts, the Babe's life story is recounted throughout the plaza.

Gate 4 at Yankee Stadium

THE STADIUM SITE

The Yankees are proud to play in the Bronx, which is home to approximately 1.5 million residents and is one of the five boroughs that make up New York City.

The Stadium sits on former parkland from Macombs Dam Park and Mullaly Park, with the Stadium grounds bounded by Jerome Avenue to the west, River Avenue to the east, and 161st Street to the south. The northern edge of the site is located between 162nd Street and 164th Street. In a nod to tradition, the footprint of the original Stadium has been replicated in the new Stadium.

Yankee Stadium is the fourth permanent home of the New York Yankees, following Hilltop Park (1903-12), the Polo Grounds (1913-22), and the original Yankee Stadium (1923-73, '76-2008). The Yankees also played two full seasons at Shea Stadium (1974-75) in Queens when the original Stadium underwent remodeling.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE AND MODERN AMENITIES

One of the goals in building Yankee Stadium was to bring fans closer to the action in a facility more attuned to modern needs and expectations. The new building is 63 percent larger than the original Stadium with about 500,000 square feet of additional space.

Improved sight lines, wider concourses and the installation of nearly 1,400 high-definition video monitors throughout the Stadium all ensure guests won't miss a minute of on-field action while in their seats or at concession stands. In addition to the live game broadcast, these centrally controlled Internet protocol monitors can also provide up-to-the-moment news, scores, weather, traffic information and safety updates.

The Great Hall is a 31,000-square-foot space located between the Stadium's exterior wall and the interior of the Stadium. Spanning from Gate 4 to Gate 6, it is covered overhead but has massive open-air archways, which help support the Yankees' green initiatives. It is home to large banners bearing the images of past Yankees greats from Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig to more modern stars such as Don Mattingly and Paul O'Neill. A 24-foot-high-by-36-foot-wide 10mm true high-definition video board and a 5-foot-by-386-foot LED ribbon board immediately greet guests who enter through this portion of the Stadium.

The audio/visual experience at Yankee Stadium is highlighted by a 59-foot-high-by-101-foot-long 16mm true high-definition centerfield video board, which is flanked by two smaller video boards that display day-of-game lineups, game-in-progress information, statistics and out-of-town scores. Additionally, the entire length of the Terrace Level is spanned by a 3-foot-high, 1,278-foot long full-color LED ribbon board. A distributed sound system optimizes speaker placement for audio quality vastly superior to that in the original Stadium. The entire Stadium is built with a future-proof infrastructure that is easily adaptable to new technologies.

The 7,000-square-foot state-of-the-art DigaCore Banquet and Conference Center is designed to meet the needs of guests who wish to host business functions in the ballpark.

URBAN PLANNING

The site for Yankee Stadium was in part selected for its proximity to mass transit. Like the original Stadium, it is served at the 161st Street/Yankee Stadium subway stop by the No. 4, B and D trains.

Metro-North offers train service to Yankee Stadium from anywhere in its service territory, and Yankee Stadium is accessible by New York City Transit bus lines. For more information, call the MTA at 511 or visit www.mta.info.

Pedestrian access points are located at Yankee Stadium's four gates: Gate 2 on Jerome Ave. and 164th St.; Gate 4 at Jerome Ave. and 161st St.; Gate 6 at River Ave. and 161st St.; and Gate 8 at River Ave., south of 164th St.

RETAIL & FOOD OPTIONS

There are many distinct retail stores in Yankee Stadium, including the Yankees Team Store behind home plate on the Field Level (which houses the largest selection of Yankees merchandise) and the Yankees Team Store at Gate 6 (Please call 646-977-8777 for year-round store hours).

NYY Steak is located at Gate 6.

Yankee Stadium is also home to two premier dining establishments. The iconic Hard Rock Cafe Yankee Stadium at Gate 6 houses music memorabilia and Yankees-related pieces. NYY Steak is located above the Hard Rock Cafe, and offers an upscale dining experience, including dry aged USDA prime steaks, fresh seafood and an impressive collection of premium wines.

More casual fare can be found at the Pepsi Food Court on the third-base side of the Field Level concourse and in other locations throughout the Stadium. For more information, please visit "Social Areas Open to All Fans at Yankee Stadium" in this section of the book.

DISABLED SERVICES

Yankee Stadium management strives to provide an accessible environment for all its Guests. Wheelchair accessible and designated aisle-transfer seats are available at various price points and locations. Yankee Stadium also offers enhanced accessibility for Guests with hearing loss or low vision and for Guests who are deaf or blind. For more information, please visit www.yankees.com/disableservices. You may also e-mail disableservices@yankees.com or call (718) 579-4510 (voice) or (718) 579-4595 (TTY).

There are two dedicated open-caption video boards for Guests who are deaf or have hearing loss: one in left field, just below Section 233B, and one in right field, just below Section 206. Captioning is also provided on the right-center field video board, on the high-definition video board in the Great Hall, on high-definition televisions throughout Yankee Stadium and on the video board in the New York Yankees Museum presented by Bank of America.

COMMITMENT TO SAFETY

In 2012, Yankee Stadium became the first sports venue in the United States to be covered with a federal SAFETY Act designation and certification from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. In 2017, Yankee Stadium became the first sports venue in the United States to be renewed under the SAFETY Act designation and certification by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

As part of Major League Baseball's initiative to standardize security procedures at all 30 Major League parks, all Guests are required to be screened via metal detectors before entering Yankee Stadium. These procedures, which result from MLB's continuing work with the Department of Homeland Security, are in addition to bag checks that are now uniform throughout MLB.

Due to the enhanced security measures, the Yankees strongly urge all fans to budget extra time for entry into the ballpark when planning their trip to the Stadium.

"Nothing is more important to us at Yankee Stadium than the safety of the fans we serve," said Yankees Chief Operating Officer Lonn Trost. "To that end, we are committed to the procedures that Major League Baseball and the Department of Homeland Security have asked us to implement. We want our fans to feel safe in Yankee Stadium, and our staff is dedicated to maintaining the highest security standards possible."

BRONX INCENTIVES

Yankee Stadium is one of the premier building projects to take place in the Bronx in the last 60 years. The hard work and dedication of engineers, architects and construction professionals in building and designing the Stadium made the facility one of the most impressive and fan-friendly venues in the Majors. Equally important was the project's dedication to support local community groups, institutions and residents as the Yankees remain devoted to the long-term development of the Bronx.

Building a new state-of-the-art facility required an army of talented and experienced professionals. As part of the Yankees' commitment to ensure the Stadium project created economic opportunities in the Bronx, the Yankees made a concerted effort to recruit a wide range of vendors and employees from the local community. Of the 190 contracts awarded, 63 were allotted to Bronx-based businesses (accounting for over 33 percent of the contracts and resulting in $133 million in contracts to Bronx-based businesses). The Yankees also stayed committed to hiring at least 25 percent of the total workforce from Bronx residents, again providing incentive to the surrounding community.

In conjunction with the construction of the Stadium, the Yankees also established a $1 million grant for professional skills training for Bronx residents. Among the supported initiatives was Project H.I.R.E. (Help In Re-entering Employment), which taught Bronx residents functional construction skills for practical use in local building projects.

SUSTAINABILITY INITIATIVES

VISION OF SUSTAINABILITY

The New York Yankees organization recognizes our responsibility to protect and promote the well-being of our community. Accordingly, the Yankees remain committed to inspiring our partners, players, fans and employees to create a sustainable environmental legacy.

In pursuit of these goals, the Yankees seek to measure and minimize identifiable environmental impacts related to our operations, including greenhouse gas emissions, energy use, water use and waste generation. The Yankees are committed to compliance with all applicable environmental regulations, and we support the development of innovative economic and socially beneficial solutions to help reduce or offset the direct and indirect impacts we engender.

YANKEES BECOME FIRST MAJOR NORTH AMERICAN SPORTS TEAM TO JOIN THE UN SPORTS FOR CLIMATE ACTION FRAMEWORK

On April 3, 2019, the New York Yankees became the first major North American sports team to sign on to the UN Sports for Climate Action Framework, the aim of which is to bring greenhouse emissions in line with the Paris Climate Change Agreement and inspire others to take ambitious climate action. The team joins numerous prominent international organizations committed to the Framework, including the International Olympic Committee, FIFA, the French Tennis Federation-Roland Garros, Paris 2024 Summer Olympics, Rugby League World Cup 2021, Tokyo 2020 Summer Olympics, UEFA, World Surf League, Formula E, and others.

"The New York Yankees are proud to support the United Nations Sports for Climate Action Framework," said Yankees Managing General Partner Hal Steinbrenner. "For many years the Yankees have been implementing the type of climate action now enshrined in the Sports for Climate Action principles, and with this pledge the Yankees commit to continue to work collaboratively with our sponsors, fans and other relevant stakeholders to implement the UN's climate action agenda in sports."

COMMITMENT TO THE UN SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS:

In 2015, 195 countries agreed to adopt the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals that outline the features that comprise a sustainable community. Promoting these "17 Sustainable Development Goals" is fundamental to the operation of Yankee Stadium, and we work to do so through ecologically intelligent procurement, carefully considered operational practices and collaboration with local agencies and business partners.

Listed below are some of the ecologically intelligent measures being taken at Yankee Stadium to promote sustainability.

High Efficiency LED Lighting: Prior to the 2016 Major League Baseball season, the Yankees installed the newest, most efficient lighting in the world, known as light-emitting diodes (LED). At the time we installed LED field lighting, Yankee Stadium became only the second MLB stadium to use the most state-of-the-art energy-efficient lighting system available. The LED lights used at Yankee Stadium are 40% more efficient and 50% brighter than the previous field lighting used at the Stadium, which were also the most efficient lights available for use at the time. Increased Color Temperature of the light produced results in higher contrast, improving player reaction time, alertness and visual acuity. Improved Color Rendering provides the truest colors the human eye can see. Reduced Flicker Rate means the lighting can now support UHD Ultra Slow Motion filming. Improved optical design with twice the aiming points reduces glare and light pollution, and the energy saved from the new field lighting is enough to power about 45 homes every day.

United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change

On Earth Day 2019, the Yankees were joined by Satya S. Tripathi [second from L], the UN Assistant Secretary-General and Head of New York Office at UN Environment, who took part in a pregame ceremony recognizing the Yankees' support of the UNFCCC.

The Yankees installed new LED lighting prior to the 2016 season, reducing Yankee Stadium's carbon footprint.

Energy Efficient Technologies and Design: The Great Hall at Yankee Stadium, through which the majority of guests arrive, is the largest open air public entry at any sports venue in the world, a 31,000 square-foot inspirational space spanning from Gate 4 to Gate 6. By building this area with massive open-air archways that allow for natural cooling and ventilation, the space requires no air conditioning. Through the use of natural air-cooling, the energy savings per game is approximately the same as 125 New York City apartments shutting off their air-conditioning on a hot summer day.

The Stadium's interior is controlled by automation technologies designed to identify and eliminate wasted or inefficient energy use, and the Stadium's high-tech energy management program ensures that energy use is reduced, and the efficiency of all equipment used is optimized. Additionally, the diverse systems used to operate Yankee Stadium are carefully calibrated to specific usage patterns, reducing the power consumption of lighting and ventilation systems when they're not needed. Most recently, as a result of the findings from a full-Stadium energy-efficiency audit performed by ConEd, the Yankees installed two new high-efficiency chillers during the 2023-24 offseason to replace four less-efficient chillers.

The majority of Yankee Stadium guests enter the building via the 31,000-sq.-foot Great Hall. By building this area with massive open-air archways that allow for natural cooling and ventilation, it does not require air conditioning.

Monitoring, Reducing, and Compensating for Unavoidable GHG Emissions: The Yankees have been monitoring key environmental performance indicators related to Stadium operations and procurement since 2009, when the new Stadium opened. Energy use, greenhouse gas emissions, water use, waste management, recycling, composting, transportation, and procurement of goods and services, among other impact categories, are regularly evaluated to the best of our ability in an effort to identify opportunities for improvement in reducing eco-impacts. Even the most efficient operations, including aviation and other forms of travel, can engender unavoidable greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. Examples of GHG impacts that the Yankees carefully try to identify and reduce include overall energy use, team and employee travel, non-electric motors, recyclable & non-recyclable wastes and leaks of refrigerants. Our focus is on implementing emission reduction as soon as feasible. For our unavoidable team aviation emissions, we have invested in a limited amount of high quality, third-party verified GHG offsets that have been carefully chosen to advance the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals. These offsets provide a variety of benefits through the creation of employment opportunities, the protection of biodiversity, and improving health and safety in various communities. The Yankees are committed to leading the way towards a low-carbon, more-sustainable future.

Mass Transit: Yankee Stadium benefits from one of the greatest mass transit systems of any city in the world. Located within close proximity of the subway, Metro-North, frequent public bus service, nearby public bike-sharing stations, and other eco-preferable transportation options, visitors to Yankee Stadium benefit from the largest and most diverse range of eco-preferable public transit options in Major League Baseball. In collaboration with the NYC Department of Transportation (DOT), there are three nearby high-capacity bike-sharing stations around the Stadium, and their strategic placement supports the DOT's broader plan to expand bicycle access throughout the Bronx. Moreover, Yankee Stadium owns no public parking garages, and encourages guests and employees to use eco-preferable public transportation options to reduce their contribution to GHG emissions.

Composting and Recycling: The Yankees are committed to achieving Zero Waste and promoting a circular economy based on composting, recycling, and the recovery and use of waste oil. According to the Zero Waste International Alliance, at least 90% of waste must be diverted from landfills to make a legitimate claim of Zero Waste, and the Yankees' concerted effort to reach that goal encompasses a variety of strategies. Concession stands provide fans compostable food-service packaging (trays, boxes, plates, and cups) and cutlery, rather than non-compostable petroleum-based plastics, and priority is given to composting food waste to avoid combustors and landfilling. Cardboard, glass, metal, plastics and paper are recycled as well. Our commitment to reduce food waste also includes donations of wrapped, unused food to organizations such as Rock and Wrap It Up, which directly combats hunger in the metropolitan area.

For the last few seasons, the diversion rate at Yankee Stadium has ranged between 75% to 85% percent of its total trash, making the Stadium one of the most successful recycling venues in all of sports. The use of trash compactors for the small percentage of non-recovered waste at Yankee Stadium improves air quality by reducing the number of trash packer trucks needed. The trucks that are required use Ultra Low Sulfur diesel, which produces fewer emissions into the air, and these emissions are offset by the Yankees.

Recovery of Waste Cooking Oil: During a typical season, more than 20,000 gallons of cooking oil are recovered and recycled from Yankee Stadium. This oil is used to produce more than 18,600 gallons of biodiesel fuel which, when used in vehicles, results in an annual carbon reduction of approximately 30,000 pounds — or 15 tons — equivalent to the annual emissions of 27 cars.

Water Conservation: Yankee Stadium is a responsible steward when it comes protecting New York City's precious and irreplaceable water system. Through careful monitoring and the installation of high-efficiency plumbing fixtures, Yankee Stadium has reduced its water use by 22% compared to when it opened in 2009, resulting in more than 3 million gallons of water saved per year.

Healthy Air Quality: Yankee Stadium uses high-performance filters and a regular replacement program to ensure particle removal effectiveness of MERV 13 or greater, for better air quality and energy efficiency in our HVAC system.

Smart Construction: The structural steel used in the construction of Yankee Stadium was fabricated from recycled material, and the concrete forms were reusable. Used recycled concrete aggregate was incorporated into the concrete design mix. All construction vehicles and equipment were required to use low-sulfur fuel. During construction, 75 percent of construction waste was diverted from landfills.

YANKEES ESTABLISH FIRST ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE APPOINTEE POSITION IN PROFESSIONAL SPORTS

On Jan. 29, 2019, the New York Yankees announced the creation of an environmental science advisor position, appointing recognized industry leader Dr. Allen Hershkowitz to the new role, the first of its kind in professional sports. The appointment represents a defining moment in the team's decades-long commitment to sustainability and serves to deepen an existing dedication to environmentally-friendly practices and community-wide awareness. Recognized as one of the most environmentally intelligent and healthiest sports venues in the world, with Hershkowitz as Environmental Science Advisor, the Yankees will look to further advance their efforts and invest in the development of best practices that can be adopted by organizations across the sport sector. Specifically, Hershkowitz will seek to guide new and existing environmental initiatives for the Yankees and at Yankee Stadium, with a primary focus on the areas of energy use, waste management, water conservation, and food services.

YANKEES RECOGNIZED BY NEW YORK STATE AS LEADER IN INNOVATION AND SUSTAINABILITY

At the 13th Annual New York State Environmental Excellence Awards on Nov. 15, 2016, the N.Y. State Department of Environmental Conservation recognized the Yankees among eight New York-based organizations for their state-of-the-art programs and commitment to environmental sustainability, social responsibility and economic viability.

"DEC is proud to present Environmental Excellence Awards to these eight businesses and organizations that have demonstrated outstanding leadership in adopting innovative solutions to protect our environment and enhance our economy," said DEC Commissioner Basil Seggos. "These projects set a high bar for others to follow in addressing critical environmental and public health issues such as increasing energy efficiency, cleaning up our waters, keeping materials out of landfills, and making our healthcare sector more sustainable."

"It is vitally important that we help promote sustainability and reduce our impact on the environment," said Yankees Senior Vice President of Stadium Operations Doug Behar. "We have implemented an array of green initiatives at Yankee Stadium and continue to look for new and better ways to conserve natural resources, educate our guests and Yankees Team Members, and support and partner with programs that promote sustainability. We are humbled to receive this award from the State and will continue to work hard to further our efforts in sustainability."

YANKEES WIN ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP AWARD FROM GREEN SPORTS ALLIANCE

On June 4, 2015, with former MLB Commissioner Bud Selig, in attendance, the Yankees received the 2015 Environmental Leadership Award, presented by the Green Sports Alliance. The award recognizes a sports team and venue that best exemplifies the practices of promoting a sustainable environment. Green Sports Alliance members represent nearly 300 sports teams and venues from 20 different sports leagues and 14 countries across the world. Yankees President Randy Levine [third from L] and S.V.P. of Stadium Operations Doug Behar [second from R] accepted the award on behalf of the organization.

Yankee Stadium Achieves WELL Health-Safety Rating

On August 26, 2020, the International WELL Building Institute (IWBI) announced that Yankee Stadium, the home of the New York Yankees, was the first sports and entertainment venue in the world to achieve the WELL Health-Safety Rating for Facility Operations and Management. The rating requirements, which were fulfilled by the club, serve as a blueprint for best operating procedures to help combat COVID-19, while also providing world-class standards for overall health and safety. By achieving this designation, which has been confirmed by a third-party verifier, Green Business Certification Inc. (GBCI), the club can operate with confidence that they are utilizing best practices for players and staff, and that they are appropriately accommodating fans in coordination with Major League Baseball and local governmental authorities.

Launched in June 2020 and created by IWBI, the WELL Health-Safety Rating is informed by guidance developed by the World Health Organization (WHO), U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), global disease control and prevention centers and emergency management agencies, recognized standard-making bodies, such as ASTM International and ASHRAE, and leading academic and research institutions. IWBI has leveraged insights from its Task Force on COVID-19, established at the outset of the pandemic to help business and building leaders integrate actionable insights and proven strategies in the fight against COVID-19 and other respiratory infections.

The WELL Health-Safety Rating achieved by the Yankees is an evidence-based, third-party verified rating for all new and existing buildings and spaces. The WELL Health-Safety Rating provides operational policies, maintenance protocols, emergency plans and stakeholder engagement strategies to help organizations prepare and maintain their spaces in an environment affected by COVID-19. The Yankees joined more than 100 organizations, encompassing over 500 facilities, who enrolled in the documentation-based program at launch and who have begun implementing its scientific guidance.

"The COVID-19 pandemic has underscored to companies in every sector how critically important it is to be prepared for a crisis. The Yankees have demonstrated outstanding leadership by taking immediate and thoughtful action to help support the health and safety of their players, fans and employees," said Rick Fedrizzi, IWBI chairman and CEO. "We are proud to celebrate this achievement with the Yankees."

Adapted from features in the WELL Building Standard (WELL) that focus on facility maintenance and operations, the WELL Health-Safety Rating is designed to guide and empower the actions of large and small businesses alike in taking the necessary steps to maintain facilities that prioritize the health and safety of their staff, visitors and stakeholders. It also serves as an annual process that supports efforts to promote long-term health and safety.

"Working with IWBI to achieve the WELL Health-Safety Rating allowed us to focus and implement the most effective and efficient methods known to help mitigate the risk of COVID-19 transmission for those whose workplace is Yankee Stadium and for the general public, which enjoys the venue for games and events," said Yankees Senior Vice President of Stadium Operations Doug Behar. "Given that WELL criteria have been informed by renowned experts and standard-making bodies in this field gives us confidence that we are taking appropriate preventative measures to support the health and safety of our players, field staff, employees and fans. Reaching this level and receiving third-party verification from GBCI was a long and uncompromising road, but one that is clearly in the best interests of everyone who steps foot into Yankee Stadium."

Yankee Stadium achieved the WELL Health-Safety Rating by implementing features across five categories:

- Air and water quality management, which includes assessing the ventilation and fresh air supply through mechanical or natural means and reviewing our inventory of all filters and ultraviolet germicidal irradiation (UVGI) equipment.
- Cleaning and sanitization procedures, including ensuring proper handwashing and surface contact by staff, improving cleaning practices and their frequency, and selecting cleaning products that disinfect without harmful ingredients.
- Emergency preparedness programs, which provide a blueprint for dealing with unforeseen events and providing an actionable plan for re-entry after an emergency event.
- Health service resources, which promote the well-being of employees through screening services, mental health services, seasonal vaccination programs and a smoke-free environment.
- Stakeholder engagement and communications, which include employing proper signage throughout Yankee Stadium and promoting health literacy to employees, partners and patrons, including food service safety verification.

"The Yankees already had many of these strategies in place and used the WELL Health-Safety Rating to further strengthen their COVID-19 response and to document and verify these actions with our third-party reviewer GBCI," said Rachel Gutter, IWBI president. "As a result, players, staff and fans can feel confident that the Yankees have implemented our research-backed strategies to provide a safer and healthier environment to play ball."

"Restoring the sports and entertainment sectors is among the most complicated challenges the COVID-19 pandemic has engendered, socially and biologically. The New York Yankees' effort to provide confidence to its players, staff and its community is a model for all sports venues to emulate," said Allen Hershkovitz, Environmental Science Advisor to the Yankees and Co-Chair of the International WELL Building Institute Advisory for Sports and Entertainment Venues.

Yankee Stadium Construction Timeline

JUNE 15, 2005 – The Yankees announce plans for a new Yankee Stadium to be constructed on parkland north of 161st Street – adjacent to the original Stadium's longtime site.

AUG. 16, 2006 – The Yankees break ground for Yankee Stadium at a ceremony featuring George M. Steinbrenner, N.Y. Governor George Pataki, N.Y.C. Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Bx. Borough Pres. Adolfo Carrion & MLB Commissioner Bud Selig.

OCT. 2006 – The first concrete is poured.

DEC. 2007 – The first piece of frieze is put in place.

DEC. 2007 – The Stadium is considered 50% completed.

JAN. 14-15, 2008 – Limestone Panels containing "YANKEE STADIUM" gold lettering are installed above Gate 4.

MAR. 29, 2008 – Eagle medallions inspired by those on the 1923 Stadium are lifted into place above Gate 4.

APRIL 2008 – Frieze installation is completed.

MAY 1, 2008 – A "topping off" ceremony is held to commemorate the completion of the steel structure.

MAY 2008 – The foul poles and first seats are installed.

JUNE 18, 2008 – The Yankees hold their first press conference at the new Yankee Stadium, announcing a long-term agreement with Seminole Hard Rock Entertainment to open a Hard Rock Cafe near Gate 6. In addition, the Yankees introduce the newly-branded NYY Steak, a prime steakhouse to be located in Yankee Stadium.

SEPT. 19, 2008 – The massive, blue, backlit "YANKEE STADIUM" lettering above Gate 4 is hoisted and installed.

OCTOBER 2008 – Lighting in the interior bowl is tested.

OCT. 15, 2008 – The first sections of sod are laid.

NOV. 8, 2008 – Yankees executives and former players, including Scott Brosius, David Cone, Paul O' Neill and Jeff Nelson, along with 60 local Bronx high school youth groups remove home plate, the pitcher's rubber and pails of dirt from the original Stadium and install them in the new Yankee Stadium. The participating Bronx youth groups—Youth Force 2020, led by Turner Construction Company, and the ACE Mentor Program at Yankee Stadium, guided by Tishman Speyer—took part in Yankees-sponsored after-school programs relating to the construction and engineering of the new Yankee Stadium.

JAN. 23, 2009 – The front office moves in, bringing World Series trophies from 1977 and 2000 to the new building.

FEBRUARY 2009 – Plaques and monuments are placed in the new Monument Park.

APR. 3-4, 2009 – The first exhibition games vs. the Cubs are played.

APR. 16, 2009 – The first regular season game is played vs. Cleveland (CLE 10 - NYY 2).

Social Gathering Areas Open to All Fans at Yankee Stadium

On Oct. 24, 2016, the New York Yankees announced that Yankee Stadium would undergo its first series of major design enhancements which are intended to improve the Guest experience for fans of all ages. Enhancements prior to the 2017 season included numerous new social gathering spaces and additional dynamic food and beverage areas.

"We have listened to our fans and ticketholders and their top requests were for more family-friendly and socially-oriented spaces at Yankee Stadium," said Yankees Managing General Partner Hal Steinbrenner. "Yankees fans will now have many more dedicated areas for spending time with Guests who have tickets in other sections of the Stadium, allowing all Guests to be able to enjoy the game from multiple vantage points while having unique food and drink options available to them. We are also especially excited to provide an engaging children's play area for families to utilize prior to and throughout the game. Having these types of spaces in Yankee Stadium is fundamental to the expectations of our fans, and we look forward to making them a huge part of the Yankee Stadium experience today and beyond."

The following Yankee Stadium food and drink locations are accessible to all Yankee Stadium Guests, regardless of their ticketed seats. Highlights include:

KIDS CLUBHOUSE: The Kids Clubhouse is Yankee Stadium's first-ever children's zone. Shaped like a mini-baseball field with a soft artificial surface, the 2,850-square-foot area is located on the 300 Level in right field and outfitted with Yankees-themed playground equipment, including oversized baseballs, bases and baseball cards. In 2021, overhead screening was added to moderate the temperature in the warm summer months. The Kids Clubhouse is accessible to all Yankee Stadium Guests.

Children may play among the colorful fixtures, including a 6-foot-high replica World Series trophy. Parents can join their children on the play area or choose to oversee them from a nearby dugout. Television monitors ensure that no one misses any game action. There are interactive exhibits, and the Clubhouse includes two family restrooms equipped with changing tables. Nursing mothers will have an additional private space, which includes a television and power outlets for those using electric breast pumps.

"We want our youngest fans to feel as if Yankee Stadium is an extension of their local park or backyard," Steinbrenner said. "The Kids Clubhouse is designed to nurture their love for experiencing games in person, while providing parents the resources they need to keep their children entertained prior to and during the game."

MASTERCARD BATTER'S EYE DECK: Located above the batter's eye on the 200 Level in center field with a clear, sweeping view of the entire Stadium, the Mastercard Batter's Eye Deck is 3,500 square feet with drink-rails overlooking the field. This outdoor gathering space features craft beers, cocktails and a large selection of food options.

BULLPEN TERRACES: The FreshDirect Terrace in left field and the Toyota Terrace in right field (on the 100 Level in the former Sections 239 and 201, respectively) are open-air social gathering areas overlooking the visitors and Yankees bullpens. Both terraces feature their own specialty food and drink options. Drink-rail locations at the landings have power/USB outlets. As a result of the 2017 reconfiguration, all obstructed-view seats in the Bleachers have been removed.

BUDWEISER PARTY DECKS: The 300 Level of the Stadium includes Budweiser Party Decks at Sections 311 and 328, featuring shaded stand-alone bar areas serving beer, cocktails and food. Drink-rail and barstool seating provides fans a relaxed and casual setting from which to enjoy sweeping views of the field and game action.

LG OLED SPORTS LOUNGE: The LG OLED Sports Lounge at Section 134 on the Field Level includes a full bar with craft beers and cocktails. Tables, stools and large-screen televisions tuned to the Yankees broadcast and other live sporting events provide a sports-bar atmosphere on the Stadium's main outdoor concourse in left field. Additionally, power/USB outlets are available for charging phones or tablets.

PEPSI FOOD COURT: Located between sections 125 and 127B on the Field Level, the Pepsi Food Court contains a wide variety food and drink options for all fans. Centered around a bar with large-screen televisions, fans may enjoy the wide-ranging fare at shaded tabletop seating.

STELLA ARTOIS LANDING and MICHELOB ULTRA CLUBHOUSE: The Stella Artois Landing, spanning Sections 232A and 232B in left field, and the Michelob ULTRA Clubhouse, spanning Sections 207 and 208 in right field, will be accessible to fans with game day tickets anywhere in the Stadium. Both locations are covered overhead and are available as pregame party spaces for groups of 20 or more people.

PINSTRIPES BOWL

Rutgers 31 – Miami 24

MVP: RB Kyle Monangai

Led by junior RB and Pinstripe Bowl MVP Kyle Monangai (25 carries, 163 yards, 1TD), Rutgers totaled 208 rushing yards in defeating the Miami Hurricanes, 31-24. The Scarlet Knights trailed 17-14 with 5:06 left in the third quarter before taking the lead for good as DB Trevor Yeboah-Kodie blocked a punt, which was recovered in the end zone by DB Timmy Ward. Miami attempted a comeback, pulling to within seven points with 0:27 seconds to go after a 1-yard rushing TD by QB Jacurri Brown (20-for-31, 181 yards, 1TD, 1INT) and the extra point. Despite recovering the ensuing onside kick, the Hurricanes then turned the ball over on downs, sealing the victory for Rutgers to secure the Scarlet Knights' first winning season since 2014.

Rutgers RB Kyle Monangai totaled 163 rushing yards and 1TD, earning MVP honors in Rutgers' 31-24 victory vs. Miami.

Minnesota 28 – Syracuse 20

MVP: DB Coleman Bryson

Att: 31,131

In spite of being outgained in total yards (477-215), first downs (27-14) and plays (85-49), Minnesota defeated Syracuse, 28-20. Replacing injured QB Athan Kaliakmanis in the second quarter, veteran Minnesota QB Tanner Morgan threw 2TD on just seven attempts. With Syracuse tightening the margin to 14-10 in the third quarter, Pinstripe Bowl MVP DB Coleman Bryson returned an interception 70 yards to the house to give the Golden Gophers a 21-10 advantage in their first ever appearance at Yankee Stadium.

Maryland 54 – Virginia Tech 10

MVP: QB Taulia Tagovailoa

Att: 29,653

Maryland defeated Virginia Tech, 54-10, setting a Pinstripe Bowl record for points. QB Taulia Tagovailoa took home MVP honors, completing 20-of-24 passes for 2TD with 42 rushing yards on four carries. Terps DB Tarheeb Still opened the scoring with a bowl record 92-yard punt return at 12:44 of the first quarter, and WR Darryl Jones (4 rec., 111 yds.) had TD receptions of 70 and 32 yards in the second and third quarters. Virginia Tech fought back to 21-10 with 1:02 left in the second quarter, but Maryland scored 33 unanswered points the rest of the way.

Michigan State 27 – Wake Forest 21

MVP: QB Brian Lewerke

Michigan State edged Wake Forest, 27-21, in the 10th annual Pinstripe Bowl. Down 7-3 in the first quarter, Spartans senior DT Mike Panasiuk returned a 14-yard interception for a touchdown to put them up 10-7. Despite a 21-20 Wake Forest lead at the half, Michigan State captain and Pinstripe Bowl MVP QB Brian Lewerke (passing: 26-for-37, 320 yards, 1 TD; rushing:

46 yards, 1 TD) put the Spartans on top for good with a 10-yard touchdown pass to WR Cody White. In the second half, the Demon Deacons were limited to 101 yards and shut out despite recovering two fumbles.

Wisconsin 35 – Miami 3

MVP: RB Jonathan Taylor

Att: 37,821

Led by sophomore running back and Pinstripe Bowl MVP Jonathan Taylor (205 yards and 1 TD), Wisconsin routed Miami, 35-3, in both schools' first appearances in the Pinstripe Bowl. Carrying the Badgers to a wire-to-wire victory, the defense forced five turnovers that led to 21 points. UW controlled the clock, possessing the ball for nearly 40 minutes, while collecting 406 yards of total offense.

Wisconsin RB Jonathan Taylor led the offense with 205 yards rushing and 1 TD in the school's 2018 Pinstripe Bowl win.

Iowa 27 – Boston College 20

MVP: RB Akrum Wadley

Att: 37,667

Despite being outgained in total yards, 383-200, Iowa defeated Boston College, 27-20. The Hawkeyes forced three turnovers while not committing any themselves. New Jersey native Akrum Wadley, who had 283 all-purpose yards (22 carries, 88 yards; 2 receptions, 24 yards; and 171 return yards) earned MVP honors for Iowa in his final college game. Eagles' running back AJ Dillon carried 32 times for 157 yards and one touchdown, and tight end Tommy Sweeney had seven catches for 137 yards and one touchdown.

Northwestern 31 – Pittsburgh 24

MVP: RB Justin Jackson

Att: 37,918

Northwestern RB Justin Jackson earned MVP honors as the Wildcats defeated Pitt, 31-24. Northwestern running back Justin Jackson ran for three touchdowns and gained 224 yards, falling three yards shy of tying the NEPB's all-time, single-game rushing record. Despite losing QB Nathan Peterman and RB James Conner to injury, the Panthers led 24-21 early in the fourth quarter before Northwestern answered with a touchdown and field goal. Safety Kyle Queiro sealed the Wildcats' win with an interception on Pitt's final drive.

Duke 44 – Indiana 41 (OT)

Co-MVPs: QB Thomas Sirk/RB Shaun Wilson

Att: 37,218

Co-MVPs Thomas Sirk and Shaun Wilson led Duke to its first bowl game victory since 1961, after Indiana kicker Griffin Oakes missed a game-tying, 38-yard field goal attempt in OT. Wilson scored twice, on an 85-yard touchdown run and a 98-yard kickoff return. Indiana's Devine Redding scored a touchdown and had a game-high 35 carries in a losing effort, establishing the all-time NEPB mark with 227 yards rushing. Indiana totaled 667 total yards in the loss, including 389 passing yards by QB Nate Sudfeld. The contest was the first-ever matchup under Yankee Stadium's new LED lights.

Penn State 31 – Boston College 30 (OT) 12/27/14

MVP: QB Christian Hackenberg Att: 49,012
A NEPB record-setting sold out crowd saw the first OT contest in the bowl game's history. After a BC touchdown and subsequent missed PAT on the opening possession of OT, Penn State QB Christian Hackenberg tossed a 10-yard TD pass to WR Kyle Carter to tie the game, 30-30. Kicker Sam Ficken, who previously tied the game with a 45-yard field goal with 20 seconds remaining, clinched the Nittany Lions' victory with a "walk-off" PAT.

Notre Dame 29 – Rutgers 16 12/28/13

MVP: OT Zack Martin Att: 47,122
Notre Dame broke a 13-13 halftime tie by outscoring Rutgers, 16-3, in the second half. Fighting Irish QB Tommy Rees went 27-for-47 for 319 yards and K Kyle Brindza went 5-for-6 in field goal attempts. Notre Dame had possession for 38:23.

Syracuse 38 – West Virginia 14 12/29/12

MVP: RB Prince-Tyson Gulley Att: 39,098
In a snow-filled contest, Syracuse junior RB Prince-Tyson Gulley had 213 rushing yards (26 carries, 2TDs) and 56 rec. yards (5 catches, 1TD) to win MVP honors. Syracuse's defense held the Mountaineers to 285 total yards and 0-for-14 on third and fourth downs.

Syracuse RB Prince-Tyson Gulley was named the Most Valuable Player of the 2012 Pinstripe Bowl.

Rutgers 27 – Iowa State 13 12/30/11

MVP: RB Jawan Jamison Att: 38,328
The Scarlet Knights led, 17-6, at halftime and put the game away with an 86-yard touchdown pass from QB Chas Dodd to WR Brandon Coleman in the fourth quarter. MVP Jawan Jamison rushed for 131 yards on 27 carries with two TDs.

Syracuse 36 – Kansas State 34 12/30/10

MVP: RB Delone Carter Att: 38,274
The inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl was decided by one play – a failed Wildcats two-point conversion with just over one minute left in regulation. Syracuse's Delone Carter rushed for 198 yards on 27 carries with two TDs and QB Ryan Nassib threw for 239 yards (13-for-21) with three TDs. Kansas State RB Daniel Thomas ran for 90 yards on 22 carries with three TDs.

The inaugural 2010 Pinstripe Bowl featured Kansas State and Syracuse, with the Orange winning, 36-34.

OTHER COLLEGE FOOTBALLSyracuse 28–Pitt 13 Att: 17,101 11/12/24

To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the inaugural college football game at the original Yankee Stadium (October 20, 1923), Syracuse defeated Pittsburgh, 28-13, in a rematch of the participants. The Orange recorded 392 team rushing yards, led by QB/TE Dan Villari's career-high 154 rushing yards on 17 carries, including a 27-yard TD run in the fourth quarter. The Orange scored 21 unanswered points in the second half after trailing 13-7 going into halftime.

Ithaca 34 – SUNY Cortland 17 Att: 40,232 11/12/22

The 63rd Cortaca Jug game was held at Yankee Stadium as both teams entered the contest with undefeated 9-0 records. Cortland trailed 17-7 at the half and rallied to within three points in the early fourth quarter before Ithaca closed out the game with a 40-yard TD pass and 43-yard TD run in the final 10 minutes of the game. Ithaca QB A.J. Wingfield went 18-for-20 for 209 yards and 3TDs.

Dartmouth 27 – Princeton 10 Att: 21,506 11/9/19

In a matchup that featured two unbeaten Ivy League rivals, Dartmouth defeated Princeton, 27-10. After forcing three first-half turnovers, including a pick-six from senior DE Niko Lalos in the first quarter, the Big Green took a commanding 17-7 lead at the half and never looked back. Dartmouth's run-heavy offense was led by New York native QB Jared Gerbino (3-for-6, 36 passing yards, 16 carries, 97 rushing yards, 2TD). The Big Green never trailed and outgained Princeton in total yards, 293-246.

Notre Dame 36 – Syracuse 3 Att: 48,104 11/17/18

No. 3 Notre Dame dispatched of No. 12 Syracuse, 36-3, as a sold-out crowd watched the highest-ranked matchup in New York City since 1947. The game – played as the ninth installment of Notre Dame's famed Shamrock Series – also marked the first time a top-20 ranked Notre Dame team played in New York City since 1946 (at the original Yankee Stadium). Quarterback Ian Book (23-for-37, 292 yards, 2 TD) led the undefeated Irish on offense, while the defense held Syracuse scoreless until the final minute of the game.

Notre Dame WR (No. 83) Chase Claypool celebrates his third-quarter touchdown in the team's 36-3 win over Syracuse.

Fordham 54 – Holy Cross 14 Att: 21,375 11/12/16

The 31st Ram-Crusader Cup was the first to take place at the current Yankee Stadium. Fordham's offense was led by QB Kevin Anderson (28-of-33, 426 yards, 3TD) and RB Chase Edmonds (23 carries, 121 rushing yards, 4TD). Edmonds' third rushing score of the day set the Patriot League record for career rushing touchdowns. Fordham outgained Holy Cross in yards, 608-302.

Lafayette 27 – Lehigh 7 Att: 48,256 11/22/14
In the 150th meeting of college football's most-played rivalry, Lafayette RB Ross Scheuerman led his team to victory with a record-setting day on the ground. His 304 rushing yards (45 carries, 3TD) established a school and Patriot League record.

Army 35 – UConn 21 Att: 27,453 11/8/14
With Army holding on to a 28-21 lead late in the fourth, DB Chris Carnegie sealed the victory for the Black Knights with a 99-yard interception return for a TD. Army's victory was their first at the current Yankee Stadium and their first in the Bronx since 1960.

Rutgers 27 – Army 12 Att: 30,028 11/12/11
The Scarlet Knights scored 14 unanswered points at the end of the fourth quarter, including a 32-yard return of a blocked punt with 6:36 left. Rutgers WR Mohamed Sanu caught a game-high 13 passes for 129 yards.

Notre Dame 27 – Army 3 Att: 54,251 11/20/10
The first football game at the current Yankee Stadium marked the 50th all-time meeting between the two teams. Heisman Trophy winners Johnny Lujack and Pete Dawkins served as honorary captains, joining Hal Steinbrenner for the coin toss. ND outgained Army in yards, 369-to-174, as Fighting Irish QB Tommy Rees threw for 214 yards (13-for-20) with one TD.

COVID-19 Vaccinations 2/5/21 - 12/22/21
Yankee Stadium began hosting COVID-19 vaccinations on Feb. 5, 2021. The site, established through a partnership between New York State, New York City, the New York Yankees, SOMOS Community Care and the New York National Guard, was developed to not only directly address the Bronx's concerning positivity rate — which was the highest among all New York City boroughs — but to also further the State's and City's mandate for fairness and social equity in the vaccine distribution process. During its operation, 104,109 vaccine doses were administered at the Yankee Stadium site.

Babe Ruth Auction 6/15/19
Hunts Auction, Inc. hosted a historic live auction at Yankee Stadium that featured the personal collection of Babe Ruth. With over 400 items sold, the highlight of the auction was a Babe Ruth New York Yankees professional model road jersey dating to the 1928-30 period that sold for a record-breaking $5,640,000. The jersey is the most expensive piece of sports memorabilia to have ever been sold.

Megan Leavey Movie Premiere 6/5/17
Yankee Stadium hosted its first-ever movie premiere, debuting Megan Leavey, which tells the story of a young Marine injured in combat in Iraq and her unbreakable bond with her combat dog Rex. Stars Kate Mara and Edie Falco attended with rapper/actor Common, who performed a concert for those in attendance.

Green Sports Alliance Leadership Awards 6/4/15
The Green Sports Alliance leverages the cultural and market influence of sports to promote healthy, sustainable communities where we live and play. They do so by inspiring sports leagues, teams, venues, their partners and millions of fans to embrace renewable energy, healthy food, recycling, water efficiency, species preservation, safer chemicals and other preferable practices. During the ceremony, the Yankees were honored with the 2015 Environmental Leadership Award.

"True Blue" Celebrity Charity Softball Game 6/3/15
The Yankees, WFAN and its Boomer and Carton Morning Show hosted "True Blue" – a celebrity softball game that honored the memories of NYPD officers Brian Moore, Wenjian Liu and Rafael Ramos, who were lost in the line of duty. All net ticket proceeds benefited the Silver Shield Foundation, N.Y. PBA Widows' and Children's Fund and the families of officers Moore, Liu and Ramos.

MLB Diversity Summit 4/14-15/14
The Yankees and Major League Baseball co-hosted the 2014 MLB Diversity Summit, a unique sports career and trade fair that provided job seekers and entrepreneurs with opportunities to connect directly with decision-makers from various MLB entities.

A team of Chicago all-star high school baseball players defeated a team of New York City PSAL All-Stars, 9-0.

Ascend Foundation Conference 4/20/13
Ascend is a non-profit professional association that helps to realize the leadership potential of Pan-Asians in global corporations. Hideki Matsui was the guest speaker.

Victoria's Secret Model Search 10/3/09
Yankee Stadium hosted an open casting call to select Runway Angels to walk in the 2009 Victoria's Secret Fashion Show. Five finalists were selected from nearly 3,000 entrants.

New York City FC

New York City Football Club is an American professional soccer team based in New York City that competes in the Eastern Conference of Major League Soccer (MLS). It was announced as the league's 20th franchise on May 21, 2013, and is the first and only MLS Club located within the five boroughs of New York City. Majority owned by City Football Group (CFG), New York City FC plays its home games at Yankee Stadium, which is also home to minority owner, the New York Yankees.

The club made its MLS debut on March 8, 2015, in a 1-1 draw at Orlando City SC. One week later, in its home opener at Yankee Stadium on March 15, 2015, the club earned its first win, defeating the New England Revolution, 2-0.

NYCFC won its first-ever MLS Cup on Dec. 11, 2021, defeating the Portland Timbers at their home ground of Providence Park. The contest finished 1-1 after extra time (NYCFC: Taty Castellanos, 41'; POR: Felipe Mora, 90+4'), with NYCFC prevailing, 4-2, in a penalty shootout. Goalie Sean Johnson stopped two of four penalties and Alexander Callens hit the match-clinching kick in the fifth round.

Though the club did not qualify for the postseason in its inaugural season (2015) or last season (2023), NYCFC made the playoffs in seven straight years from 2016-22.

Apple TV is the broadcast home for all MLS regular season, playoff and cup matches.

NYCFC celebrates their penalty-kick shootout MLS Cup win over Portland on Dec. 11, 2021, at Providence Park. To get to the final, NYCFC won vs. Atlanta in Round One (2-0), at New England in the Conference Semis (2-2 AET, 5-3 PKs) and at Philadelphia (2-1) in the Conference Finals.

History of the Original Yankee Stadium

One year after changing the course of Baseball history with the purchase of Babe Ruth from the Boston Red Sox, the Yankees made another acquisition that would forever alter the way the game was watched.

On February 5, 1921, the Yankees issued a press release announcing the purchase of 10 acres of property in the west Bronx. The land, purchased from the estate of William Waldorf Astor for $675,000, sat directly across the Harlem River from the Manhattan-situated Polo Grounds, which the Yankees had been unhappily sharing with their landlord, the New York Giants of the National League, since 1913.

The relationship between the clubs crumbled after the 1920 season when the Yankees' attendance—boosted by their new slugging sensation—doubled to almost 1.3 million, approximately 25 percent more than that of the Giants. In 1921, the Giants asked the Yankees to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. With their departure from the Polo Grounds now inevitable, Yankees co-owners Jacob Ruppert and Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston set out to build a spectacular ballpark of their own, Baseball's first triple-decked structure. With an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would also be the first to be labeled a "stadium."

Original plans by the architect—the Osborn Engineering Company of Cleveland, Ohio—had the Stadium triple-decked and roofed all the way around. An early press release, in fact, described the Yankees' new home as a field enclosed with towering embattlements rendering the events inside "impenetrable to all human eyes, save those of aviators." But the initial grand design was quickly scaled back with the triple-decked grandstand not reaching either foul pole. Contrary to the owners' wishes, the action would be visible from the elevated trains that passed by the outfield, as well as from the buildings that would spring up across River Avenue. Fortunately, a purely decorative element survived the project's early downsizing and would become the park's most recognizable feature. A 15-foot-high copper frieze adorned the front of the roof, which covered much of the Stadium's third deck. It would give Yankee Stadium a stately dignity that became its signature.

The new stadium would favor left-handed power hitters with the right-field foul pole only 295 feet from home plate (though the right-field fence would shoot out to 429 feet in right-center). The left-field pole measured only 281 feet from the plate, but right-handed hitters would be neutralized by a 395-foot left field and a whopping 460 feet to left-center. The new stadium would also be patron-friendly, boasting an unheard of "eight toilet rooms for men and as many for women scattered throughout the stands and bleachers." (After the Stadium was remodeled 50 years later, it included more than 50 restrooms.) The club's executive offices would be moved from Midtown Manhattan and relocated between the main and mezzanine decks with an electric elevator connecting them with the main entrance.

The construction contract was awarded to New York's White Construction Company on May 5, 1922, with the edict that the job be completed "at a definite price" of $2.5 million by Opening Day 1923. Incredibly, it was. In only 284 working days, Yankee Stadium was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923 vs. the Boston Red Sox.

An announced crowd of 74,200 fans packed Yankee Stadium while thousands more milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Before the game began, John Philip Sousa and the Seventh Regiment Band led both clubs to the flagpole in deep center field, where the American flag and the Yankees' 1922 pennant were raised. Appropriately, Ruth christened his new home with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees coasted to a 4-1 win over the Boston Red Sox.

Because it was widely recognized that Ruth's tremendous drawing power made the new stadium possible, New York Evening Telegram sportswriter Fred Lieb dubbed it "The House That Ruth Built." Later that season, the Stadium hosted the first of 37 World Series, as the Yankees won their first World Championship by defeating their former landlord, the Giants. Of course, as the original Stadium became the stage for a staggering 26 world titles, it would also become known as "The Home of Champions."

In its early years, when wooden bleachers surrounded the outfield, a grass slope rose toward the outfield walls from foul pole to foul pole. Outfielders, especially Ruth in right, routinely backed up the small hill to pull down fly balls. Advertising signs lined the tops of the bleachers except in right-center, where a lone manually operated wooden scoreboard was large enough to record 12 innings for games played by every club in the two major leagues. Over the years, the board would be replaced by more modern models. The Yankees, in fact, would unveil Baseball's first electronic message board in 1959.

By 1928, the Stadium was ready for its first major face-lift. The triple-decked grandstand in left field was extended beyond the foul pole and several rows of box seats were removed in order to extend the left-field foul pole distance to 301 feet. The right-field grandstand was extended in 1937, allowing for "upper-deck" home runs in both directions. With the grandstand expansion, the remaining wooden bleachers were replaced with a concrete structure, and the distance to center field dropped from 490 feet to a still-distant 461 feet.

Yankee Stadium in the 1920s

Manager Miller Huggins, who had died suddenly during the 1929 season. Five more monuments were added (one each for Lou Gehrig, Ruth, Mickey Mantle and Joe DiMaggio and one to honor the victims and heroes of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001) along with numerous plaques. For years, existing monuments were in the field of play in deep center field, and outfielders occasionally had to work around them to retrieve baseballs hit to that part of the park.

Except for the addition of lights in 1946, the look of Yankee Stadium remained relatively unchanged until the winter of 1966-67. Then, under the direction of the Yankees' new owner, CBS, the 44-year-old facility received a $1.5 million modernization, most of which was spent on 90 tons of paint. The brown concrete exterior was painted white as was the timeworn greenish copper frieze. Also, all of the grandstand seats went from green to blue, a color scheme that would be retained when the Stadium was completely remodeled after the 1973 season.

On August 8, 1972, after years of debate about the future of the aging ballpark, the Yankees signed a 30-year lease with the City of New York, which called for Yankee Stadium to be completely modernized in time for the 1976 season. After completing the Stadium's 50th-anniversary in 1973, the Yankees moved to Shea Stadium for two seasons while the majority of Yankee Stadium was torn down and rebuilt.

The most striking change of the modernization was the removal of the numerous obstructive steel columns that supported the second and third decks, as well as the roof. By "cantilevering" the upper decks and lowering the playing field while increasing the slope of the lower stands, sight lines for fans were dramatically improved. Capacity was reduced from 65,010 in 1973 to 54,028 upon reopening as wider plastic seats replaced wooden seats.

Of course, with the removal of the original roof, the Stadium almost lost its most-recognizable feature: the copper frieze. However, an innovative design concept included an exact replica of the frieze atop the new 560-foot-long scoreboard wall, which stretched across the rear of the bleachers. The board also included Baseball's first "telescreen," which could provide instant replays of the action by employing a then-incredible "nine shades of gray."

Yankee Stadium's exterior changed dramatically, as three escalator towers were added, one at each of the Stadium's three entrances. With seven additional rows of seats added to the upper deck, the already grand Stadium received an even more majestic look. A 138-foot Louisville Slugger-shaped smokestack, commonly called "The Bat," was added outside the Stadium near the home-plate entrance.

The renovated Stadium also saw the mammoth fence distances in left and center field greatly reduced as "Death Valley" in left-center was brought in from 457 feet to 430 feet, and straightaway center field was slimmed from 463 feet to 417 feet. Subsequent alterations prior to the 1985 and 1988 seasons brought fences in to the configuration that is now replicated in the current Yankee Stadium.

The remodeled original Yankee Stadium reopened on April 15, 1976—with the Yankees topping Minnesota, 11-4. Like its predecessor and successor, it hosted the World Series in its inaugural season. In fact, the remodeled Stadium hosted the Fall Classic in its first three seasons, as the Yankees followed their 1976 Series loss to Cincinnati by winning back-to-back World Series titles in 1977 and 1978 over the Dodgers.

As one of the world's most prestigious addresses, the original Yankee Stadium was also the home for scores of other sports, entertainment and cultural events. While the Yankees were on the road or in the offseason, the Stadium opened its gates to college and pro football, soccer, political assemblies, religious conventions, concerts and even the circus.

Boxing immediately found a home at Yankee Stadium with Benny Leonard winning a 15-round decision over Lou Tondler for the lightweight title just three months after the gates opened on July 23, 1923. When Muhammad Ali stopped Ken Norton on September 28, 1976, it marked the 30th championship fight at the Stadium. All previous Stadium title bouts had taken place between 1923 and 1959—perhaps none more memorable than the June 22, 1938, heavyweight championship rematch between Joe Louis and Germany's Max Schmeling. After suffering a knockout loss in the initial non-title encounter at the Stadium two years earlier, Louis—now the heavyweight champ—avenged his defeat with a stunning first-round KO.

Football also became an immediate fixture at Yankee Stadium with Syracuse and Pittsburgh inaugurating a rich history of collegiate and professional matchups on October 20, 1923. Five years later at Yankee Stadium, on November 12, 1928, during halftime of a scoreless Army-Notre Dame contest, legendary coach Knute Rockne made his famous "Win One for the Gipper" speech, spurring the Fighting Irish to a 12-6 victory.

The New York Football Giants also called Yankee Stadium home from 1956 through 1973 and on December 28, 1958, took part in what has since been dubbed "The Greatest Game Ever Played." With the NFL championship at stake, a crowd of 64,185 watched the Baltimore Colts tie the game, 17-17, on a Steve Myrha field goal with seven seconds left. Eight minutes into professional football's first-ever "sudden-death" overtime period, the Colts' Alan Ameche crashed into the end zone from the 1-yard line, ending a contest that would help establish pro football as a major sport.

The Stadium was also an important stop for religious conventions, especially those of the Jehovah's Witnesses. In 1950, the group began holding conventions at the Stadium, including one that drew 123,707 people on August 3, 1958—the largest single-day event in Stadium history. On October 4, 1965—with the Yankees out of the World Series for only the third time in 17 years—the Stadium held the first-ever Papal Mass in the United States as Pope Paul VI celebrated Mass before a crowd in excess of 80,000. Pope John Paul II also celebrated Mass at the original Yankee Stadium on October 2, 1979, during his tour of the United States.

On August 16, 2006, a groundbreaking ceremony was held for a new Yankee Stadium to be ready for the 2009 season. The location chosen for the new building was the north side of 161st Street and River Avenue in the Bronx, directly across the street from the site of the original.

As part of its final season in 2008, Yankee Stadium hosted a third papal visit on April 20 from Pope Benedict XVI, NYU's commencement ceremony on May 14 (believed to be the first-ever college commencement in Stadium history) and a 15-inning, 4-3, AL victory in the All-Star Game on July 15 (the fourth at Yankee Stadium, joining Midsummer Classics in 1939, 1960-Game 2 and 1977).

The building took its final bow on Sept. 21, 2008, when the Yankees played the last game in Stadium history. Gates opened at 1:00 p.m., allowing approximately 13,000 fans the opportunity to visit Monument Park and walk around the warning track. With a national Sunday night audience watching on television, all-time Yankees greats, along with the evening's starting lineup, took their positions in the field before Julia Ruth Stevens, daughter of Babe Ruth, tossed out the ceremonial first pitch. Fittingly, the game ended in a Yankees victory, this one over the Baltimore Orioles, 7-3. After the final out, the club assembled by the pitcher's mound at the side of captain Derek Jeter. Over the PA, he thanked the crowd for their years of support, while reminding everyone of the new memories soon to be made.

In the bottom of the seventh inning of the Yankees' final home game on September 21, 2008, a taped valedictory was given on the Yankee Stadium video board by longtime public address announcer Bob Sheppard, who was unable to say goodbye in person as he continued to recover at home from an illness that had kept him away from the Stadium for the entire season. His appearance on screen brought a reverential hush to the crowd as everyone recognized they were about to hear the most perfect of all couplings perhaps for the last time—Bob Sheppard's voice reverberating in the original Yankee Stadium. He said the following:

"Farewell, old Yankee Stadium, farewell. What a wonderful story you can tell. DiMaggio, Mantle, Gehrig and Ruth, A baseball cathedral in truth."

Negro Leagues at the Original Yankee Stadium

Satchel Paige warming up at Yankee Stadium on August 2, 1942.

For almost 20 years in the 1930s and '40s, Yankee Stadium was a regular home to Negro Leagues baseball. During that time the greatest Black stars of the day drew thousands of fans to watch players prohibited from playing in the Major Leagues at the time. Almost every Negro Leagues player of note over that two-decade stretch played at Yankee Stadium, including Hall of Famers Leroy "Satchel" Paige, John Henry "Pop" Lloyd, "Cool Papa" Bell, Oscar Charleston, Buck Leonard, Hilton Smith and Josh Gibson, who hit some of the longest home runs in the Stadium's history.

Yankee Stadium opened to Black baseball on July 5, 1930, when Yankees owner Jacob Ruppert donated the free use of the facility to the New York Lincoln Giants and Baltimore Black Sox for a benefit doubleheader to raise money for the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, one of America's most prominent Black unions. The games raised approximately $3,500 and included the appearance of Bill "Bojangles" Robinson who entertained the crowd along with the 369th Hell Fighters marching band.

Black baseball games at Yankee Stadium usually took place on Sundays when the Yankees played on the road. Sometimes a pair of teams would play a doubleheader, while at other times four-team doubleheaders were scheduled in order to maximize attendance and profits. Bands often performed and celebrities such as Joe Louis and New York City Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia were common. Track races and other pregame contests also delighted fans.

In 1931, Lloyd organized an All-Star team of Black players named the "Harlem Stars," which played several games at Yankee Stadium. Eventually, that team became the New York Black Yankees of the Negro National League. The club went on to use Yankee Stadium for a portion of their home schedule between 1936 and 1947, often wearing the used uniforms of the Major League Yankees. In the spring of 1941, Paige, Black baseball's greatest pitcher, briefly joined the Black Yankees, pitching and winning his only game in a New York uniform at Yankee Stadium.

Yankee Stadium also served as the venue for Black baseball All-Star games and championship contests. One of the most memorable Negro Leagues All-Star games took place on August 27, 1939, when the Negro National League defeated the Negro American League, 10-2, with the help of Gibson's bases-clearing triple.

Ruppert's death in 1939 did not put a stop to Black baseball at the Stadium. In fact, the Yankees sponsored a Jacob Ruppert Memorial Cup tournament among Negro National League teams. Ten doubleheaders were held at Yankee Stadium that summer to determine a winner, and on September 24, 1939, the Baltimore Elite Giants were crowned champs in Ruppert's name.

In October 1946, Yankee Stadium was home to two noteworthy exhibition games between an African-American All-Star team managed by Paige and an American League All-Star team led by future Hall of Famer Bob Feller. Cleveland Indians pitcher Bob Lemon hit a home run to win the first game for the AL but Paige out-pitched Feller in the second game to earn a split.

When Jackie Robinson finally broke the color barrier with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947 (after having played at the Stadium as a member of the Kansas City Monarchs in 1945), it was a watershed moment in the history of civil rights in the United States. But it also precipitated the decline and eventual extinction of the Negro Leagues.

Black baseball's relationship with the New York Yankees came to a close on August 20, 1961, as stars of the Negro American League gathered for its All-Star Game at Yankee Stadium. Paige, reportedly 55 years old at the time, pitched three scoreless innings and claimed the game's Most Valuable Player honors. ✽

Picture Perfect

The grandeur of the original Yankee Stadium was a much sought-out location for filming during its existence. Though no official list of which movies were shot at the House That Ruth Built exists, below is a list of films culled through research in which the Stadium was either prominently featured or used as a primary location for filming. The Stadium also appeared briefly in numerous other projects, as well as several episodes of the television series Seinfeld (1990-98).

The current Yankee Stadium has been featured in film, appearing in The Adjustment Bureau (2011), Megan Leavy (2016) and Set It Up (2018), as well as episodes of television's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition (2010), Entourage (2011), White Collar (2012) and God Friended Me (2019). The Stadium was also the site of Mariah Carey's 2009 music video for "I Want to Know What Love Is," and it featured in a widely regarded Facebook Groups commercial in 2019. It has been additionally featured on talk shows such as the Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon and Late Night with Seth Myers as well as in a segment in ESPN's Peyton's Place series.

Previous Homes of the Yankees

Hilltop Park

American League Park (commonly known as Hilltop Park) was the Yankees' first home. Hastily constructed in just six weeks on one of the highest points in Upper Manhattan, the all-wooden ballpark sat on a block bounded by Broadway, 165th Street, Fort Washington Avenue and 168th Street, in close proximity to the New York Giants' 157th Street home, the Polo Grounds. The first game at Hilltop Park was played on April 30, 1903—a 6-2 win over Washington, started by Hall of Famer Jack Chesbro.

The ballpark had a covered grandstand ringing the infield from first base to third base and uncovered bleachers running up the foul lines. There was seating for approximately 15,000 people, but as was the case in many ballparks of that time, it could accommodate overflow crowds both in the outfield and along foul ground in the infield, occasionally bringing capacity up toward 25,000.

When a fire ravaged the Polo Grounds on April 14, 1911, the Yankees allowed the Giants to play their home games at Hilltop Park until the Polo Grounds could be rebuilt. From April 15 through May 30, the Giants put together a 20-8 record at their temporary home.

The Yankees were successful in their 10 years at Hilltop Park, compiling a 398-342-8 all-time record there. The club's final game at the structure came on October 5, 1912—an 8-6 win vs. Washington. After the Yankees' lease at Hilltop Park expired at the end of the season, they decided to leave the rickety ballpark to become renters at the Polo Grounds, where the Giants became their landlords. The move, unthinkable years earlier, was facilitated by the Yankees' post-fire hospitality.

In 1914, Hilltop Park was torn down. Currently, its former location is the site of NewYork-Presbyterian Medical Center. 🏠

Hilltop Park (above/below) served as the Yankees' first home. It was built in just six weeks and was located near Broadway and 168th Street in Upper Manhattan.

Polo Grounds

The Yankees called the Polo Grounds home from 1913 through 1922, sharing the park with the New York Giants. Located on West 157th Street and Eighth Avenue in Upper Manhattan, the Polo Grounds was overlooked by a promontory called Coogan's Bluff to the west. To the east was the Harlem River—on the other side of which Yankee Stadium was built in 1923.

The Polo Grounds was constructed with straight sides, and the outfield fences by the foul poles ran parallel to each other and away from home plate. The foul poles in left and right were approximately 277 and 258 feet away from the plate, respectively, while left-center, center and right fields were all in the range of 445-483 feet away from home.

The Yankees compiled a 416-338-10 all-time regular season record at the uniquely-shaped facility, winning the first two pennants in franchise history while tenants in 1921 and 1922. The club lost both of those World Series to the NL Champion Giants—5 games to 3 in 1921 and 4 games to none with one tie in 1922—in Fall Classics played entirely at the Polo Grounds.

The American Leaguers were welcome tenants as long as they remained less popular than the Giants. But with Babe Ruth's arrival in 1920 and the team's subsequent success, the dynamic quickly changed. After the Yankees started outdrawing the Giants in their own park in 1920 and 1921, the National Leaguers asked the Yankees to vacate to a new facility as soon as possible. The 1922 season marked their final season in Manhattan before their April 18, 1923, Yankee Stadium debut in the Bronx.

The Polo Grounds remained home to the Giants until they moved to San Francisco in 1958. It stood empty until 1962 when the Mets arrived to play two seasons there before moving into Shea Stadium. In 1964, the Polo Grounds was demolished. Apartment buildings called the Polo Grounds Towers occupy the site today. 🏠

The Polo Grounds, located on West 157th Street and Eighth Avenue in Upper Manhattan, served as the home of the Yankees from 1913-22.

Shea Stadium

During the 1974-75 renovation of original Yankee Stadium, the Yankees shared Shea Stadium in Flushing, Queens, with the New York Mets.

These were transitional years for the Yankees, with Bill Virdon managing all but the final two months of the 1975 season when Billy Martin assumed command on Old-Timers' Day. It was Martin's first of five tours of duty as Yankees manager.

The Yankees had a combined 172-150 record over the two seasons, (90-69 at Shea), while drawing 2,561,123 fans over the span. The team made Shea as Yankees-friendly as possible, with the Yankees' top hat logo atop the Shea scoreboard, Bob Sheppard doing the public address announcements and Toby Wright on the organ. The team's plaques and monuments however, were placed in storage until the team's return to Yankee Stadium.

The players occupied the New York Jets clubhouse and used the first base dugout.

The 1974 Yankees nearly made it to the postseason, finishing just two games behind the division champion Baltimore Orioles. That offseason, the team signed Cy Young winner Jim "Catfish" Hunter, a free agent, to a historic five-year contract, and traded Bobby Murcer for Bobby Bonds, who delivered the Yankees' first 30 home run / 30 stolen base season in 1975. Hunter's New Year's Eve signing was announced at a press conference at the team offices in the Parks Administration Building in Flushing Meadow Park across Roosevelt Avenue from Shea. He would go 23-14 in 1975 with 30 complete games and 328.0 innings pitched.

An infamous event at Shea occurred on June 10, 1975, when the Yankees held a Salute to the U.S. Army Day, which featured a 21-gun salute for the Army's 200th anniversary. The percussion from cannon fire proceeded to blow down the outfield fence and set it on fire, resulting in a delay to the start of the game, and national news coverage.

Shea Stadium, named for attorney William A. Shea who spearheaded the effort to bring an expansion team to New York, opened in 1964 and made its farewell after the 2008 season, just like the renovated original Yankee Stadium.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter poses for media at Shea Stadium in January 1975, soon after signing a then-record five-year free agent contract with the Yankees.

Roy White tallied a .368 on-base percentage in 135 games played at Shea Stadium, the highest of all Yankees with at least 100G played at Shea over the two-season stretch the Yankees called it home.

Shea Stadium in Flushing, Queens, was the Yankees' home from 1974-75.

Monument Park

Since 1932, the New York Yankees have honored their all-time greats with the dedication of monuments and plaques in Yankee Stadium. The tradition continues in the current Stadium in Monument Park, located behind the outfield fence in center field.

The first monument was dedicated on May 30, 1932, to the memory of Miller Huggins, who died suddenly in 1929. The diminutive manager guided the Yankees to six American League pennants and three World Championships in his 11-plus seasons.

The first plaque was placed on the center-field wall in April 1940, a tribute to Jacob Ruppert, the former owner who built Yankee Stadium and brought the tradition of winning to the Yankees.

Two additional monuments followed: in 1941 for Lou Gehrig and in 1949 for Babe Ruth. Later plaques were placed in center field for General Manager Ed Barrow (1954) and two great Yankees center fielders, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle (1969). After his death, Mantle's plaque was removed and replaced by a fourth monument on August 25, 1996. On April 25, 1999, DiMaggio—who passed away less than two months earlier—was honored with the Stadium's fifth monument. (The two plaques which previously honored DiMaggio and Mantle were donated by the Yankees to the Yogi Berra Museum and Learning Center in Montclair, N.J.).

Originally, the monuments, plaques and Stadium flagpole were located in the field of play on the warning track in straight-away center field, approximately 10 feet in front of the wall. On many occasions, long hits and fly balls forced fielders to go behind the monuments to retrieve the baseball.

One tradition of Yankee Stadium before it was remodeled was to allow fans to exit through the center-field gates via the warning track, where they could pause and reflect on the achievements of these honored legends. After the Stadium was remodeled in 1974 and 1975, the monuments and plaques were relocated to an area off the field between the Yankees' and visitors' bullpens.

In 1976, two more plaques were added to memorialize managers Joe McCarthy and Casey Stengel. In the 1980s, plaques were dedicated to Yankee greats Thurman Munson (1980), Elston Howard and Roger Maris (1984), Phil Rizzuto (1985), Billy Martin (1986), Whitey Ford and Lefty Gomez (1987), Yogi Berra and Bill Dickey (1988), and Allie Reynolds (1989). The team also dedicated two plaques to non-uniformed Yankees legends — the "Voice of the Yankees," Mel Allen (1998), and the "Voice of Yankee Stadium," public address announcer Bob Sheppard (2000). Yankees greats Don Mattingly (1997), Reggie Jackson (2002), Ron Guidry (2003) and Red Ruffing (2004) had their plaques added prior to the closing of the original Yankee Stadium. At the current Stadium, Tino Martinez, Goose Gossage, Paul O'Neill and Joe Torre (all 2014), Bernie Williams, Willie Randolph, Mel Stottlemyre, Jorge Posada and Andy Pettitte (2015), Mariano Rivera (2016) and Derek Jeter (2017) have had their plaques added as well.

Plaques commemorating the visits of Pope Paul VI in 1965 and Pope John Paul II in 1979 were dedicated by the Knights of Columbus, and a plaque commemorating the Yankees' interlocking "NY" insignia was added to the park in 2001. A plaque was also dedicated in 2008 following the visit of Pope Benedict XVI, and another was added in 2014 to commemorate the 1990 visit of Nelson Mandela.

In 1985, after the left-center-field fence of the original Stadium was moved in, the Yankees were able to open Monument Park for up-close fan viewing. By 1988, long lines and increased fan interest caused the Yankees to move the fence in further and expand the area. A special walkway was added with an exhibit honoring those Yankees who have had their uniform numbers retired.

In a pregame ceremony on Sept. 11, 2002, the Yankees dedicated a monument in remembrance of the victims and heroes of the 9/11 tragedy. It was the sixth monument dedicated in Yankee Stadium and the first to non-Yankees personnel.

During a special pregame ceremony on Sept. 20, 2010, the entire Yankees team joined the Steinbrenner family and Yankees alumni in unveiling a monument for longtime Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner III, who passed away on July 13 of that season.

Additionally, in the current Yankee Stadium, plaques were added to commemorate the achievements of Jackie Robinson (dedicated on Sept. 22, 2013 — the same day the Yankees honored the career of Mariano Rivera), the life of Nelson Mandela and his June 21, 1990, visit to Yankee Stadium (dedicated on April 15, 2014) and the 50th anniversary of the Stonewall Inn uprising (dedicated on June 25, 2019).

In all, there are seven monuments (for four Yankees players, one manager, one owner and one to acknowledge the tragedy of Sept. 11) and 38 plaques (for 24 Yankees players, three managers, one owner, one executive, one PA announcer, one broadcaster, three Papal visit commemorations, ones recognizing Jackie Robinson, Nelson Mandela, the Stonewall Inn, and one noting the history of the NY logo). ❧

Monument Park is located just behind the centerfield fence and is accessible to all fans.

SEPTEMBER 11, 2001 TRIBUTE

We Remember

On September 11, 2001, despicable acts of terrorism were perpetrated on our country.

In tribute to the eternal spirit of the innocent victims of these crimes and to the selfless courage shown by both public servants and private citizens, we dedicate this plaque.

These valiant souls, with unfettered resolve, exemplify the true character of this great nation. Their unity and resilience during this time of distress defined American heroism for future generations.

GEORGE M. STEINBRENNER III

July 4, 1930 – July 13, 2010

New York Yankees Principal Owner
"The Boss"
1973 - 2010

Purchased the New York Yankees on January 3, 1973. A true visionary who changed the game of baseball forever, he was considered the most influential owner in all of sports. In his 37 years as Principal Owner, the Yankees posted a Major League-best .566 winning percentage, while winning 11 American League pennants and seven World Series titles, becoming the most recognizable sports brand in the world.

A devoted sportsman, he was Vice President of the United States Olympic Committee, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors and a member of the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees.

A great philanthropist whose charitable efforts were mostly performed without fanfare, he followed a personal motto of the greatest form of charity is anonymity.

Yankees Around the Globe

A the game of Baseball continues to grow on a global scale, "America's Pastime" has become infused with talent from every corner of the world.

The New York Yankees, as one of the most recognized brands in the world, are dedicated to making meaningful and lasting footprints throughout the international Baseball community.

The Yankees' 2023 Opening Day roster (active, injured and restricted list) featured 14 internationally-born players. The roster featured players from four different countries outside the U.S. (Cuba, Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, and Venezuela).

Signing and developing exceptional talent from around the globe has become a trademark of the Yankees organization. Some of the club's acquisitions include 2019 Hall of Fame inductee and Panamá native Mariano Rivera, five-time All-Star Jorge Posada of Puerto Rico, seven-time All-Star Alfonso Soriano out of the Dominican Republic, two-time All-Star Hideki Matsui from Japan, and 2006 Cy Young Award runner-up Chien-Ming Wang from Taiwan. Japanese pitcher Masahiro Tanaka was a stalwart in the Yankees starting rotation for seven seasons after signing via the posting system in 2014.

The organization has developed top minor league talent from around the world, placing three foreign-born players in the top-three of AL "Rookie of the Year" balloting since 2016 (Gary Sánchez, Miguel Andújar, Gleyber Torres). The Yankees have filled their minor league ranks in recent years by signing players from Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Colombia, Cuba, the Czech Republic, Israel, México, Nicaragua, Panamá, Poland, South Korea, Taiwan and Venezuela. In addition, the Yankees field a Dominican Summer League team and operate a state-of-the-art Latin Baseball Academy in the Dominican Republic.

The Latin Béisbol Academy

For the vast majority of the Yankees' Latin American prospects, the Latin Béisbol Academy is the starting point for their professional careers.

Located in Boca Chica, Dominican Republic, the academy was constructed from scratch, allowing player development personnel to manage every detail of the project, from the trainer's room to the clubhouses to the classrooms. The finished product is a four-building, four-field complex with the capacity to house up to 110 players. There is also a small apartment building for coaches and instructors. Officially opening in June 2005 and finally completed in the spring of 2006, the academy has a campus-like feel to it that is not lost on the ballplayers, many of whom are spending time away from their families for the very first time.

Previously, the Yankees had leased a variety of facilities in Latin America for scouting and player development use, but it became apparent that it was necessary to develop their own facility.

As a dedicated investor in Latin American talent, the Yankees make every effort to provide their players with a well-rounded education off the field. The complex is staffed with educators who teach players academic disciplines such as Spanish and English, along with broad-based life skills such as conflict resolution, financial literacy and American customs. Players are also given guidance on how to deal with the heavy travel inherent to a baseball lifestyle. Throughout their time at the academy, the young Yankees hopefuls participate in clinics with local children, reminding them to always be mindful of their community.

The Yankees also arrange for past and present Major League stars, such as Mariano Rivera and Reggie Jackson, to be guest lecturers for the prospects. The players received a special visitor in January 2011 when professional boxing champion Miguel Cotto paid a visit. In January 2020, Yankees Manager Aaron Boone visited the Béisbol Academy.

The players and staff are also active in local community events, hosting annual instructional clinics in the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua and Venezuela. In addition, the Yankees' Latin complex has hosted R.B.I. (Reviving Baseball in the Inner City) tournament games, joined the Yankees organization in 2007 to donate $65,000 in food and cash to hurricane-damaged areas in the D.R. and Nicaragua, and adopted an orphanage in La Romana, D.R., supplying it with food, money and clothing. In 2013, the Yankees donated a fire truck and an ambulance—along with firefighting and medical equipment—to the city of Boca Chica.

In July 2010, Dominican Summer League players delivered gifts to ailing children at a local hospital in Santo Domingo. The Latin Béisbol Academy also played host to a fundraiser game in 2010 against the Dominican National Police Department to raise money for local charities throughout the D.R. And in 2011, select Yankees draft picks held a clinic in San Pedro de Macoris for more than 100 kids, handing out shoes, equipment and uniforms to participants.

The Yankees field a DSL team annually and won back-to-back titles in 2005-06. With the hard work and dedication of the Yankees Player Development staff, the organization looks forward to the future, when these young players will lead the way to a 28th World Championship in the Bronx.

Yankees Sweep London

In June 2019, the Yankees flew across the pond to London, England, to play a two-game series against the rival Boston Red Sox at London Stadium, the first-ever Major League games played in Europe.

While there, the Yankees continued to do their part to grow the game globally through numerous community initiatives.

The day before the London Series opened, the Yankees hosted a baseball clinic at Finsbury Park for approximately 100 youth in the London community, in conjunction with the London Meteorites Baseball and Softball Club. Manager Aaron Boone, as well as former Yankees Carlos Beltrán, Reggie Jackson, Hideki Matsui, Andy Pettitte, Mariano Rivera, Alex Rodríguez and Nick Swisher, served as clinic coaches before a BBQ reception. At the close of the event, the Yankees presented the London Meteorites with a legacy gift that included baseball and softball equipment (bats, baseballs, helmets, gloves, catcher's gear, etc.).

Yankees Travel to Panamá

In conjunction with Major League Baseball and the Major League Baseball Players Association, the Yankees traveled to Panamá prior to the 2014 season for the "Legend Series," a set of two exhibition games against the Miami Marlins at Panamá City's Rod Carew Stadium. The trip served as a tribute to the career of former Yankees reliever and Panamá native Mariano Rivera, who had capped off his Hall of Fame career by retiring as MLB's all-time saves leader at the conclusion of the 2013 season.

Rivera played host for the weekend, which featured a number of charitable events away from the field. Chief among them was a gala benefitting the Mariano Rivera Foundation, the proceeds of which supported the Children's Hospital in Panamá City, the largest pediatric hospital in the country. Yankees players also visited the hospital, bringing with them a large donation of toys and spending time with the children.

Rivera also took a Yankees contingent – including General Partner/Vice Chairperson Jennifer Steinbrenner Swindal, President Randy Levine, COO Lonny Trost, Manager Joe Girardi, hitting coach Kevin Long, bench coach Tony Peña, spring training instructor Willie Randolph, outfielder Brett Gardner and reliever David Robertson – on a behind-the-scenes tour of the Panamá Canal.

The visit marked the first appearance by Major League Baseball in the Central American country since 1947, when the Yankees faced the Brooklyn Dodgers in several exhibition games on a trip that also included stops in Cuba, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

The Yankees' brand transcends international borders as fans show their pride in Panamá.

Yankees Teach in Taiwan

In January 2009, the Yankees joined the Chinese Taipei Baseball Association under the auspices of Major League Baseball in holding a clinic for high school pitchers, catchers and coaches at the National Taiwan Sport University's Taoyuan Campus in Taipei, Taiwan. It marked the Yankees' first-ever large-scale outreach in Taiwan and represented the club's initiative in cultivating baseball talent and increasing brand recognition in Asia and the greater international community. The five-day clinic focused on pitching and catching fundamentals and philosophy.

Yankees and Chinese Baseball Association Reach Memorandum of Understanding

The New York Yankees and the Chinese Baseball Association (CBA) held a press conference in Beijing, China, on Jan. 29, 2007, to announce a Memorandum of Understanding that for the first time formalized a strategic alliance between a Major League Baseball club and the CBA. During the Yankees' 2009 World Series trophy tour, club officials met with the CBA in Beijing to further the cooperation agreement between the two entities.

The agreement, subject to Major League Baseball's rules, regulations and agreements pertaining to the People's Republic of China, states that the Yankees will provide the CBA with guidance in training baseball players, including sending coaches, player development staff, scouting and training personnel to China to assist the CBA. The partnership also allows the CBA to send staff to the Yankees' facilities in the United States in furtherance of those goals.

During their 2007 trip, the Yankees were represented in Beijing by team President Randy Levine, Senior Vice President and General Manager Brian Cashman, Vice President and Assistant General Manager Jean Afterman, and Vice President of Corporate Sales and Sponsorship Michael Tusiani. Beijing Womei Advertising Company Limited and SportsCorp China, headed by President and Managing Director Marc Ganis and Managing Director Kenneth Huang, coordinated the meetings and were instrumental in the Yankees' involvement in China.

The CBA was represented by Chairman Hu Jianguo, Secretary General Shen Wei and Deputy Secretary General Tian Yuan.

On June 16, 2007, the Yankees announced the signings of catcher Zhenwang Zhang and left-handed pitcher Kai Liu to minor league contracts, marking the first-ever acquisition by a Major League organization of Chinese baseball players. Both players were members of the Chinese National team that competed in the 2008 Olympics in Beijing.

Yankees Team President Randy Levine and GM Brian Cashman established a working agreement with the Chinese Baseball Association on Jan. 29, 2007.

Partners in Japan

During the 2002 season, the Yankees entered into a working agreement with the Yomiuri Giants, winners of 22 Japan Series Championships. Pursuant to the agreement, the teams consented to share baseball information, ideas and strategies. Also in 2002, the Yankees pursued and signed three-time Central League MVP Hideki Matsui. A nine-time Japanese League All-Star and three-time home run champion, Matsui became the first bona fide power hitter to make the transition from Japan to the Major Leagues.

In 2004, the Yankees traveled to Tokyo to open the regular season against the Tampa Bay Devil Rays. The historic trip marked the 70th anniversary of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig's 1934 All-Star tour of Japan. It also recognized the anniversary of the founding of the Yomiuri Giants franchise, Japan's oldest professional baseball team. The two-game series was just the second-ever Major League season opener to take place in Japan. At the time, the two games were the highest-rated televised Major League games in Japan's history.

Yankees Championship Trophy Tour of the Dominican Republic, Japan and China

Following their 2009 championship season, the Yankees embarked on a world tour with their 2009 World Series Trophy, traveling to the Dominican Republic and Asia.

A Yankees contingent took the championship trophy to the Dominican Republic for a three-day tour from Jan. 7-9, 2010. The D.R. leg of the trophy tour included stops at the National Palace for a ceremony with President Dr. Leonel Fernández, who was joined by bench coach Tony Peña, and players Robinson Canó, Damaso Marte, Francisco Cervelli and Edwar Ramírez as well as by several Yankees minor leaguers. The next day, the Yankees visited the U.S. Embassy and the National Police Headquarters. That evening, the Yankees displayed the trophy for fans at the Dominican Winter League playoff game between los Tigres del Licey and los Leones del Escogido at Estadio Quisqueya Juan Marichal in Santo Domingo. On their final day in the D.R., the Yankees placed the trophy on display for residents of the town of Casa de Campo.

Three weeks later, a Yankees delegation consisting of team President Randy Levine, Senior Vice President and General Manager Brian Cashman, Vice President and Assistant General Manager Jean Afterman and Senior Vice President of Corporate Sales and Sponsorships Michael Tusiani took the trophy on a six-day tour to Tokyo, Beijing and Hong Kong from Jan. 31 through Feb. 5, 2010.

The contingent was met by fans and media at Tokyo's Narita Airport, marking this first-ever occasion of a Yankees World Series Trophy being brought to Asia. The next day, another historic moment took place at the MLB Café in Tokyo as the trophy was displayed alongside the Yomiuri Giants' 2009 Japan Series championship trophy.

From there, the trophy traveled to China, where fans in Beijing and Hong Kong had their first opportunity to gaze at Major League Baseball's grandest prize. The trophy tour in China was organized by QSL Sports, which has been active in the promotion of Baseball in the People's Republic of China and operates the China Youth Baseball League together with the Chinese Baseball Association. The events in China were hosted by QSL Sports, New World Department Stores (one of the largest owners and operators of department stores in China), and K11, the "World's First Art Mall," which integrates elements of art, culture and nature, while elevating the shopping experience.

On Feb. 3, 2010, Yankees officials met with the CBA in Beijing to further the cooperation agreement between the two entities, after which the groups held a joint press conference at the Kunlun Hotel. Later that evening, the championship trophy made its first public appearance in China at the New World Department Store, which included traditional Chinese performances and ceremonies. Joining the Yankees delegation were CBA officials, New World representatives and the Beijing Yankees youth baseball team, which is part of MLB's "Play Ball" youth baseball program in China.

Hong Kong marked the final stop on the Asian tour, with a Feb. 5, 2010, event at the Hyatt Regency hotel adjacent to the recently-opened K11 Mall. The next morning, the trophy was introduced to players and fans during the opening ceremony for the 2010 Phoenix Cup, Hong Kong's International Women's Baseball Tournament.

The Yankees thank their partner Delta Air Lines for ensuring the safe transportation of the World Series trophy and appreciate the efforts of SportsCorp China, led by president Marc Ganis.

The Yankees' 2009 World Series trophy visited the MLB Café in Tokyo, where it was displayed alongside the Yomiuri Giants' 2009 Championship trophy.

Chinese youth were on hand with the trophy during a press event with the Chinese Baseball Association.

The 2012 Little League World Series championship team from Japan visited Yankee Stadium as the Yankees' guests on Aug. 28, 2012, after capturing the country's second LLWS title in three years and eighth overall. They are pictured above with Yankees outfielder Ichiro Suzuki.

Mariano Rivera poses with Uganda's 2012 Little League World Series team, which became the first team from Africa to participate in the LLWS, and was the Yankees' guest on Aug. 29, 2012. The team also received a clubhouse tour from Manager Joe Girardi and participated in "roll call" with the Bleacher Creatures.

James P. Dawson Award

Each spring training, the Yankees present the James P. Dawson Award to the outstanding Yankees rookie in spring training, as voted on by the New York Yankees beat writers. The award was established in honor of James P. Dawson (1896-1953), who began a 45-year career with The New York Times as a copy boy in 1908. Eight years later, he became boxing editor and covered boxing and baseball until his death during spring training in 1953.

Two winners of the honor, Tony Kubek in 1957 and Tom Tresh in 1962, went on to win the American League "Rookie of the Year" Award. Prior winners are listed below:

New York Yankees Museum Presented by Bank of America

"Nobody has a story like the New York Yankees," says Yankees Museum Curator Brian Richards.

The New York Yankees Museum Presented by Bank of America is located on Yankee Stadium's Main Level (near Section 210). The museum presents the history of baseball's most legendary franchise through rotating displays of historic artifacts.

Displays include a "Ball Wall" containing autographed baseballs from Yankees past and present; Thurman Munson's locker from the original Yankee Stadium; and all seven World Series trophies won by the Yankees since the Steinbrenner family assumed principal ownership in 1973.

The museum presents exhibits on key players, teams, and achievements in Yankees history. In addition to permanent displays, the museum has featured rotating exhibits including: "Five Great Teams: The 1927, 1939, 1961, 1977, and 1998 New York Yankees"; "Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig: Baseball's Hardest-Hitting Teammates"; "Yankees by the Numbers"; and "Bronx Bombers: The New York Yankees' Home Run Heritage."

Featured artifacts have included Roger Maris' 61st home run jersey; Mickey Mantle's 1964 World Series bat and 1956 game-used glove; Derek Jeter's jersey from the first inning of his 3,000th hit game; Babe Ruth's bat from Yankee Stadium's inaugural home run on April 18, 1923; 1932 game-worn Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig jerseys; Chris Chambliss's bat from his game-winning home run in 1976 ALCS Game 5; and baseballs autographed by all 27 World Series-winning Yankees teams.

Yankee Stadium Press Box

The Press Box at Yankee Stadium is located on the 200 level behind home plate, offering a full view of the field to working media during games. Media may access the Press Box via the elevator located in the Field MVP Lounge on the 100 level, directly behind the Press Gate.

Yankees Television Broadcasters

The YES Network, the most-watched regional sports network in the country 18 of the last 21 years, is the exclusive regional media home of the 27-time World Champion New York Yankees, the Brooklyn Nets and the New York Liberty. The network has won 146 New York Emmy Awards since its 2002 launch.

Michael Kay

Michael Kay is the Emmy Award-winning Yankees play-by-play announcer for the YES Network who also hosts the network's CenterStage series and its various programming specials. The 2024 season is his 33rd year broadcasting Yankees baseball: the first 10 years on radio, the latter 23 on YES.

Kay was a part of YES' Yankees team that won a 2023 Emmy Award for its pre-game show, and a 2022 Emmy Award for Live Sports Programming.

Kay's CenterStage show won a 2020 New York Emmy for best Interview/Discussion show. He also won a 2015 New York Emmy Award for his play-by-play work on YES' Yankees telecasts, and a 2017 New York Emmy for his CenterStage hosting duties. In total, Kay has earned 18 Emmy wins and 69 Emmy nominations while at YES. He also won CableFAX Program Awards in 2011 and 2013 for his CenterStage hosting duties.

In addition, The Michael Kay Show, a sports talk show heard weekdays on ESPN Radio 98.7 FM in New York which Kay co-hosts with Don La Greca & Peter Rosenberg, has been simulcast live weekday afternoons on YES since Feb. 2014.

During the 2022 and 2023 MLB seasons, Kay co-hosted, with former Yankee Alex Rodriguez, special "KayRod Casts," alternate broadcasts on ESPN2 that aired alongside ESPN's traditional Sunday Night Baseball broadcasts.

In November 2016, Kay was inducted into the New York State Baseball Hall of Fame. He was inducted into the New York State Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame in October 2018. The following month, he was awarded the Lou Gehrig Sports Award by the Greater New York Chapter of the A.L.S. Association.

Kay received the Vin Scully Award for Excellence in Sports Broadcasting from WFUV Radio in November 2018; WFUV is the radio station for Fordham University, Kay's alma mater. Previous recipients of the Vin Scully Award include Dick Enberg, Ernie Harwell, Bob Costas, Al Michaels, Verne Lundquist, Pat Summerall and Mike "Doc" Emrick.

He was inducted into the inaugural Hall of Fame class of the prestigious Bronx High School of Science in February of 2018. Kay was awarded the Italian American Baseball Federation Media Award in December 2022. In 2005, Kay was honored in his home borough of the Bronx, having an honorary street sign in his name erected on the Grand Concourse. In December 2023, Kay was recognized as a National Honoree by the Stamford (Ct.) Old Timers Athletic Association.

Kay handled play-by-play duties for ESPN's coverage of the 2023 Blue Jays-Twins American League Wild Card Series. He also did play-by-play on the ESPN Radio Network for the 2016 Blue Jays-Rangers American League Division Series, the 2013 Tigers-Athletics American League Division Series and the 2008 Phillies-Brewers National League Division Series. He also was a frequent contributor to ESPN's Emmy Award-winning Sports Reporters television show.

Prior to joining the YES Network in 2002, Kay worked at the MSG Network since 1989 as a Yankees reporter. In 1992, he added Knicks locker room reporter to his responsibilities, and continued in that role until the 1998-99 season.

Kay was awarded the Dick Young Award for Excellence in Sports Media by the New York Pro Baseball Scouts in 1995. In 1998, he was on the MSG Network team that won a New York Emmy for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage - Series." In 1996 and 1997 he was a member of the MSG Network team that won New York Emmys for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage - Single Program" for Dwight Gooden's no-hitter and "The Battle for New York: Yankees vs. Mets." He was also a part of the Yankees/MSG Network production team that was nominated for New York Emmy Awards for six consecutive years.

In addition to his television work, the Bronx, NY, native worked as a Yankees analyst on WABC Radio from 1992 through the 2001 season which concluded with the classic Yankees-Diamondbacks World Series. Kay was a winner of "Best Sports Reporter" honors at the 2000 New York Metro Achievement in Radio Awards. In 1998, Kay also began co-hosting Sports Talk with John Sterling and Michael Kay, a nightly sports radio call-in show which aired on WABC Radio during the winter months.

Shortly after graduating from Fordham University in 1982 with a B.A. in Communications, Kay worked at SportsPhone and as the public address announcer for the New York Pro Summer Basketball League.

In 1982, Kay landed the job as general assignment writer for the New York Post. Two years later, he began covering college basketball (1984-85) and then spent two years as the writer covering the New Jersey Nets. In 1987, he moved to baseball at the Post, serving as the Yankees beat reporter. While he was in that position, he got his first television job with MSG Network as host of the Hot Stove League segment of MSG's SportsNight.

In 1989, Kay moved to the New York Daily News, where he was the Yankees beat reporter before taking the job as a Yankees broadcaster on WABC Radio in 1992. With that jump, Kay became the first newspaper reporter in any sport to make the move into the broadcast booth full-time, performing both play-by-play and analysis.

Kay stayed on the radio for 10 years, broadcasting the Yankees' four World Series championships during that time, before moving to the television side to become the lead play-by-play man for YES in 2002.

Kay has been involved in the Baseball Assistance Team (B.A.T.), a charitable organization whose mission is to provide assistance to members of the baseball community. He co-hosted the 2013 B.A.T. fundraising dinner in New York. Kay also was master of ceremonies at the 2013 Thurman Munson Awards fundraising dinner in New York.

Kay is active with the Alzheimer's Association in memory of his mother, Rose, who passed away from the disease in 2006. He also teamed up with former Yankees manager Joe Girardi and Girardi's Catch 25 Foundation to organize annual charity dinners to raise money for Alzheimer's research.

Kay and his wife Jodi Applegate have a daughter, Caledonia Rose Kay, born in January 2013, and a son, Charles Applegate Kay, born in November 2014.

Meredith Marakovits

Emmy Award-winning Meredith Marakovits was named the YES Network's New York Yankees clubhouse reporter in March 2012. She reports on the team within the network's Yankees game telecasts, pre- and post-game shows, Yankees Batting Practice Today and Yankees Hot Stove. She also periodically hosts the network's Brooklyn Nets pre- and post-game shows.

During the 2023 Yankees season, Marakovits began hosting recurring enhanced Yankees Batting Practice Today shows from the field at Yankee Stadium. These "BP Takeovers" consist of game previews, player interviews, pre-taped features, the answering of fan questions and more.

Marakovits has won eight New York Emmy Awards while covering the Yankees at YES, including two in 2023: one for her Yankees reporting duties and one for being an integral member of YES' Yankees pre-game coverage. In 2019 she was named to the "Top Women in Sports" list by the trade organization Cynopsis. The Cynopsis list recognizes female trailblazers in the sports industry; Marakovits was named in the On-Air Talent category.

Marakovits also appears on YES' special Yankees programming and contributes to YESNetwork.com, the network's Emmy Award-winning website, as well as YES' various social media platforms. In January 2016, she traveled to the Dominican Republic to interview a number of Yankees players for YES' Yankees Access show. She also hosted the weekly Joe Girardi Show on YES while Girardi managed the Yankees.

Marakovits frequently appears as a guest on MLB Network shows such as The Rundown and MLB Now.

Prior to joining the YES team, Marakovits worked for several Comcast SportsNet regional sports networks including SNY in New York, where she was an anchor and also contributed to SNY programs The Wheelhouse, Daily News Live and GEICO Sportsnite. At Comcast SportsNet Philadelphia, Marakovits was a Philadelphia 76ers sideline reporter, as well as a contributor to Toyota Sportsnite. She was also a fill-in anchor at Comcast SportsNet New England.

On the radio side, Marakovits covered the Yankees and Mets for 1050 ESPN, and contributed elsewhere to WFAN radio in New York. Preceding her work in New York, Marakovits served as the Phillies reporter for 950 ESPN Radio/97.5 the Fanatic in Philadelphia. While there she covered back-to-back World Series, contributed to ESPN and ESPNNews, and appeared on MLB's first reality series, The Pen.

Earlier in her career, Marakovits served as the pre- and post-game host and field reporter for the Emmy Award-winning Lehigh Valley Ironpigs Television Network in Allentown, Pennsylvania; the IronPigs are the Phillies' AAA affiliate. She also covered the Reading Phillies (AA affiliate) while there. Marakovits also worked for Service Electric 2's sports division as a sideline reporter for college football, basketball, and indoor football broadcasts.

In December 2013, Marakovits' alma mater, Allentown (Pa.) Central Catholic High School, inducted her into its Rockne Wall of Fame, for her athletic exploits. A Northampton, Pa. native, Marakovits is a graduate of La Salle University in Philadelphia, where she played volleyball and graduated in 2005 with a degree in Communications.

David Cone

David Cone, the strikeout artist who endeared himself to New York Yankees fans for his numerous clutch performances and for hurling a perfect game in 1999, initially joined YES as a Yankees analyst in 2002. After pitching for the Mets in 2003 and then retiring from baseball, he re-joined YES as an analyst for the 2008 and 2009 seasons. After a year away from the mic, he came back again to YES in 2011 and has been with the network ever since. Cone has won five New York Emmy Awards while at YES.

In addition to his YES work, Cone has been a game analyst on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball telecasts since 2022. He was also a game analyst for ESPN's coverage of the Phillies-Marlins National League Wild Card Series. In 2019, Cone collaborated on a book with YES colleague Jack Curry called Full Count: The Education Of A Pitcher, which was a New York Times best-seller.

Cone compiled a 194-126 record, 3.46 ERA and 2,668 strikeouts in his 17-year Major League career. He captured the American League Cy Young Award in 1994 and was a five-time All-Star (1988, 1992, 1994, 1997 and 1999). The Kansas City, Mo. native, known for coming up big in critical games, posted an 8-3 postseason record and played on five world championship teams: the 1992 Blue Jays and the 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000 Yankees.

The flame-throwing right-hander was drafted by his hometown Kansas City Royals in the third round of the 1981 amateur draft and made his Major League debut with the Royals in 1986. He played the next five and a half seasons with the Mets; in 1988, he ran up a 20-3 record, 2.22 ERA and 213 strikeouts, and on October 6, 1991, he struck out 19 Phillies in a game.

After short stints with the Blue Jays and the Royals (again), he joined the Yankees in 1995. Arguably his finest season in pinstripes was 1998, when he was 20-7 with a 3.55 ERA and 209 strikeouts. A year later, on July 18, 1999, he hurled a perfect game against the Montreal Expos, only the second inter-league perfect game in Major League history. Fellow Yankee Don Larsen's World Series gem in 1956 was the first.

While with the Yankees from 1995-2000, Cone was 64-40 with a 3.91 ERA and 888 strikeouts. He pitched for Boston in 2001, sat out the 2002 season, and pitched briefly for the Mets in 2003 before retiring.

Jack Curry

Jack Curry, who covered the New York Yankees and Major League Baseball at The New York Times for nearly 20 years as its Yankees beat writer and as a national baseball writer, joined the YES Network in February of 2010 as a Yankees analyst, reporter and program contributor, and as a columnist on the Emmy-Award winning YESNetwork.com. He has won eight New York Emmy Awards at YES, including two in 2023: one in the Commentator/Editorialist category, and one for his work as part of YES' Yankees Pre-Game coverage.

Curry has co-written four New York Times best-selling books: The 1998 Yankees: The Inside Story of the Greatest Team in Baseball History, published in May 2023; he collaborated in 2022 with YES colleague Paul O'Neill on a book entitled A Swing And A Hit; in 2019, he collaborated on a book with another YES colleague, David Cone, called Full Count: The Education Of A Pitcher; and in 2000 he co-wrote a book with Derek Jeter entitled The Life You Imagine: Life Lessons for Achieving Your Dreams.

Curry has also hosted YES' Yankees Access specials, which give viewers exclusive, off-the-field, behind-the-scenes looks at some of the most popular Yankees players. He has traveled to the Dominican Republic and Taiwan to report on Yankee feature stories, international travel atypical of regional sports networks.

Since November 2005, Curry has been a regular contributor to YES' Yankees Hot Stove show. His television experience actually extends back to 1991, when he began contributing to Madison Square Garden Network's Yankees pre-game show and weekly baseball magazine show.

While at YES, Curry also hosted JCTV: Jack Curry TV, the innovative YESNetwork.com original series which featured interviews with some of the biggest names in sports, entertainment and the media.

Curry joined The New York Times in 1987 and became the Yankees beat writer in 1991. He was a national baseball writer at the newspaper from 1998 until December of 2009. While at The Times, Curry authored more than 4,500 articles, covering 18 World Series, 11 All-Star Games, 10 MLB Winter Meetings and 2 World Baseball Classics. The New Jersey native also was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize for Public Service Reporting at The Times in 1999 for co-writing a series on the demise of New York high school sports, and won multiple Publisher Awards at The Times, monthly awards that recognize the best journalism at the paper. Curry has also been the chairman of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

In January 2013, Curry received the Broadcast Achievement Award from the New Jersey Sports Writers Association. Also that year, he was named "Top Sports Analyst" by the New Jersey-based 201 Magazine.

Curry is a 1986 graduate of Fordham University, where he earned a Bachelor's Degree in Communications.

John Flaherty

Former New York Yankees catcher John Flaherty joined the YES team in the spring of 2006 as a field reporter, studio analyst and game analyst for YES' Yankees telecasts. He has won seven New York Emmy Awards while at YES and has earned individual New York Emmy Award nominations in 2010, 2011, 2013, 2017, 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2023 for his YES work.

Drafted by Boston in 1988, Flaherty progressed within their farm system before joining the parent club in 1992. He played 14 MLB seasons with five teams (Red Sox 1992-93, Detroit Tigers 1994-96, San Diego Padres 1996-97, Tampa Bay Devil Rays 1998-02 and the Yankees 2003-05).

He is perhaps best known to many Yankees fans for his 2004 pinch-hit "walk-off" single that ended a 13-inning regular season game against the Red Sox. In 2005, he became Yankees pitcher Randy Johnson's personal catcher, in addition to backing up starting catcher Jorge Posada.

During his MLB career, he had a .252 batting average in 1,047 games and collected 849 hits, including 80 home runs.

Flaherty is a New York City native and a graduate of George Washington University. He serves on the Access Foundation Board for Access: Supports for Living. In 2015, he was inducted into the New York State Baseball Hall of Fame. In 2009, he was awarded an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from St. Thomas Aquinas College in Sparkill, N.Y.

Todd Frazier

Former MLB third baseman Todd Frazier joined the YES Network in 2023 as a New York Yankees studio analyst.

During Frazier's 11 years in the Majors, he totaled 1,059 hits, 218 home runs and 640 runs batted in, playing with the Cincinnati Reds, Chicago White Sox, Yankees, New York Mets, Texas Rangers and Pittsburgh Pirates. With the Reds, Frazier finished third in NL Rookie of the Year voting in 2012 and was named an All-Star twice (2014 and 2015). Frazier also won the All-Star Game Home Run Derby in 2015. He made postseason appearances in three seasons, twice with the Reds (2012 and 2013) and during his one year with the Yankees in 2017.

Frazier was also part of the 2020 US Olympic team that won a Silver Medal in Tokyo, Japan.

In addition to YES, Frazier co-hosts the daily "Foul Territory" independent MLB digital show alongside A.J. Pierzynski, Erik Kratz and Adam Jones, on which the former players interview current MLB stars. Video versions of the show can be found on YouTube and Twitch, while Spotify, Apple Podcasts and other podcast platforms host an audio-only version of the show.

Frazier is also a game analyst on ESPN's Little League World Series coverage. In 1998, Frazier led the Toms River East (N.J.) team to the Little League World Series title. He went 4-for-4 including a leadoff home run in the championship game, and was also the winning pitcher. In five Little League World Series games that year, Frazier batted 9-for-15 with four home runs (one of which was a grand slam), drove in 10 RBI and scored 11 runs. He was inducted into the Little League Hall of Excellence in 2022.

Yankees starting pitcher Gerrit Cole speaks to media at his introductory press conference at Yankee Stadium on December 18, 2019.

Joe Girardi

Former New York Yankees catcher Joe Girardi, who helped lead the Yankees to three World Series Championships in the 1990s as a player and later guided the team to the 2009 World Series Championship as a manager, has rejoined the YES Network for the 2024 season as a Yankees analyst — a role he previously held for YES in 2004 and '07.

In addition to managing the Yankees from 2008 to 2017, Girardi managed the Philadelphia Phillies from the 2020 season until June 2022, and he also held that role in 2006 with the Florida Marlins, with whom Girardi earned the NL Manager of the Year Award. Girardi also was the Yankees' bench coach under manager Joe Torre during the 2005 season.

The 2024 season marks Girardi's second year as an analyst for the Chicago Cubs on the Marquee Sports Network. He was also an analyst with MLB Network in 2018 and '19, for FOX Sports during the 2006 World Series pregame shows and with ESPN Radio during the 2003 National League Division Series.

Girardi won a New York Emmy Award for his hosting efforts on YES' Kids on Deck series and was the star of The Joe Girardi Show.

A Peoria, Ill., native, Girardi graduated from Spalding (Ill.) Institute in 1982 after earning All-State honors in baseball. He then played at Northwestern University, where he was a two-time All-Big Ten selection and three-time Academic All-American. He received his bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering from the school in 1986.

Drafted by the Cubs in the fifth round of the 1986 First-Year Player Draft, Girardi made his Major League debut in 1989. He was acquired by Colorado in the November 1992 Expansion Draft and played three seasons with the Rockies (1993-95) before being acquired via trade by the Yankees prior to the 1996 season. Girardi played key roles as New York won the World Series in 1996, 1998 and 1999.

One month after departing the Yankees as a free agent in November 1999, Girardi signed with the Cubs and played three additional seasons for Chicago, making the National League All-Star team in 2000.

He played one season for the St. Louis Cardinals, in 2003, before signing with the Yankees as a free agent in February of 2004. Girardi retired at the conclusion of Spring Training, at which time he joined YES.

Bob Lorenz

Bob Lorenz, who has won 19 Emmy Awards at YES, is the network's primary studio anchor. He hosts the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Nets pre- and post-game shows, as well as the Yankees Hot Stove and Emmy Award-winning Forbes SportsMoney programs. Lorenz also has play-by-play credits to his name at YES, including Yankees regular season and Spring Training telecasts, Staten Island Yankees games and Ivy League football.

Lorenz has won three New York Emmy Awards recognizing him as the top sports anchor in New York (2009, 2010 and 2011). Lorenz anchored the August 12, 2021 Yankees pre-game show -- in conjunction with the team's historic Field of Dreams game in Iowa -- which won a 2022 New York Emmy in the Sports Program -- Live (Single Program) category. Forbes SportsMoney, which Lorenz co-hosts with Forbes' Michael Ozanian, captured Emmy Awards in 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2016.

Prior to joining the YES Network in 2002, Lorenz served as an anchor for CNN/Sports Illustrated, which he joined in April of 1991. He hosted CNN's signature weekly sports programming, including NFL Preview, College Football Preview, This Week in the NBA, SI Cover to Cover and Page One. He also hosted CNN's weekly baseball show from 1992 to 1996 and, from 1994 to 1996, hosted CNN's College Basketball Preview and College Coaches Corner. In addition to those duties, Lorenz also worked on a variety of programs for CNN's sister networks TBS and TNT, hosting Super Bowl specials and serving as back-up host on Inside the NBA on TNT.

Before joining CNN, Lorenz was a reporter and anchor at WPTV-TV in West Palm Beach, Fla. Joining WPTV-TV in 1988, he wrote, produced and anchored four weekend sportscasts. Lorenz earlier served as sports director at KJEM-TV in Eureka, Calif., was a writer at CBS Extravision in Los Angeles and an analyst/anchor for Citicable in Torrance, Calif.

Lorenz is on the Honorary Event Committee for the Connecticut chapter of Make-A-Wish and has emceed its annual Make-A-Wish Ball. He has also emceed the Annual Miracle Ball, which raises money and awareness for the Miracle League of Westchester County in New York.

He holds a degree in broadcast journalism from the University of Southern California.

Jeff Nelson

Former relief pitcher Jeff Nelson, who enjoyed a 15-year MLB career that included two stints with the New York Yankees (1996-2000, '03), joined the YES Network as a Yankees studio and game analyst in 2019.

Nelson played with the Seattle Mariners (1992-95, 2001-03, '05), Yankees (1996-2000, '03), Texas Rangers (2004) and Chicago White Sox (2006). The Yankees made postseason appearances in all six seasons Nelson was with the team, making it to the World Series five of the six years and winning World Championships in 1996, 1998, 1999 and 2000. Nelson was named an All-Star in his 2001 season with the Mariners.

He had a 3.47 ERA with 334 strikeouts while with the Yankees. Nelson appeared in a total of 798 career games, 331 with the Yankees.

Nancy Newman

Emmy Award-winner Nancy Newman, who joined YES in 2003, is a host for the network's New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Nets pre- and post-game shows and lead anchor for its Yankees Batting Practice Today show.

In addition, Newman is the host of the network's Yankees Magazine program which goes behind the scenes and in the community with the Yankees. During her tenure at YES, she has also served as its Yankees clubhouse reporter, its sideline reporter for Ivy League football and New York Football Sunday and the host for its Bad Boy Mowers Pinstripe Bowl college football coverage.

Since 2019, Newman has served as emcee of the New York State Baseball Hall of Fame induction ceremonies in Troy, NY. Newman has won six New York Emmy Awards while at YES.

The YES Network, the most-watched regional sports network in the country 18 of the last 21 years, is the exclusive regional media home of the 27-time World Champion New York Yankees, the Brooklyn Nets and the New York Liberty. The network has won 146 New York Emmy Awards since its 2002 launch.

Prior to joining the YES Network, Newman held a variety of sports broadcasting positions with the CNN Networks from 1992 to 2002. She hosted CNN Sports Tonight and Latenight as well as CNN Sports Sunday and CNN's Goodwill Games Preview. Newman also hosted and worked on programs for CNN's sister networks, including CNN/Sports Illustrated and CNN Headline News for which she anchored sports. She served as occasional reporter for CNN's weekly MLB and NFL preview programs and appeared as a panelist on CNN's Burden of Proof discussing the NHL. In 2000, she hosted Turner Sports' Emmy-Award-winning coverage of the NHL Atlanta Thrashers inaugural season.

Newman also worked for NBC, having served as an events reporter for the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece. Newman came to CNN from The Sports Network (TSN), where she worked from 1990-1992 covering Major League Baseball, the NFL, the NHL and horse racing. Newman's reporting there garnered a 1991 Sovereign Award for Outstanding Broadcast.

In 2019, Newman emceed the National Down Syndrome Society's (NDSS) annual gala as it partnered with the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society (PBATS) at Gotham Hall in New York City. In 2015 Newman emceed The Green Sports Alliance Awards at Yankee Stadium honoring the New York Yankees for their dedication to environmental leadership.

Newman earned a Bachelor's degree in English from the University of Toronto which awarded her its Boundless Voice honor in 2011.

Paul O'Neill

Paul O'Neill is in his 23rd season as the New York Yankees analyst for the YES Network. He has earned four New York Emmy Awards for his work at YES.

O'Neill played Major League Baseball for 17 seasons, from 1985 to 2001. He appeared in six World Series and earned five World Series rings, one with the Cincinnati Reds and four with the New York Yankees. He also played in five All-Star games.

The Yankees honored him on August 21, 2022 by permanently retiring his No. 21 during "Paul O'Neill Day" at Yankee Stadium.

O'Neill began his MLB career in 1985 with the Reds. After eight seasons with the Reds, O'Neill joined the Yankees in 1993, with whom he won the American League batting title in 1994 with a .359 average. From July 24, 1995 until May 6, 1997, O'Neill played 225 games in right field without making an error. In 1997, he led the American League in hitting with runners in scoring position with a .429 average. On Aug. 25, 2001, O'Neill became the oldest Major Leaguer to steal 20 bases and hit 20 home runs in the same season.

He was inducted into the New York State Baseball Hall of Fame in November 2017. In 2008, O'Neill was named "Father of the Year" by The National Father's Day Council at its 67th Annual Father of the Year awards dinner in New York.

Ryan Ruocco

Ryan Ruocco, who joined YES in 2007 as a statistician for the network's New York Yankees telecasts, currently holds down a variety of roles within the network's Yankees coverage. He backs up YES' play-by-play man Michael Kay, fills in hosting YES' Yankees Pre- and Post-Game Shows and periodically handles clubhouse reporting duties. Ruocco also shares play-by-play duties with veteran Ian Eagle on YES' Brooklyn Nets telecasts.

Ruocco has won five Emmy Awards while at YES, his most recent being a 2023 Emmy for the network's Yankees pre-game coverage. He also earned individual New York Emmy nominations in 2015, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2021, 2022 and 2023 for his work at the network.

In addition to his YES work, Ruocco is one of the primary NBA play-by-play voices on ESPN, is the lead play-by-play announcer for the network's women's college basketball package and is the lead play-by-play announcer for the WNBA on ESPN. He also handles periodic college football and college basketball play-by-play on ESPN's television networks.

Previously, he co-hosted ESPN New York Radio's midday show and he occasionally did NFL play-by-play on ESPN Radio. Ruocco also co-hosted the popular R2C2 podcast with former Yankees pitcher CC Sabathia from 2017 to 2023.

Prior to joining YES, Ruocco handled basketball and football play-by-play at WFUV, Fordham University's radio station while he was a student there. He also hosted WFUV's One on One, New York's longest-running sports call-in show. In 2008, he received Fordham's prestigious Marty Glickman Award, named for the legendary play-by-play announcer.

Ruocco, who grew up in Fishkill, N.Y., graduated on the Dean's List from Fordham in 2008 with a B.S. in Communications.

Yankees Radio Broadcasters

John Sterling

"Yankees win! Theeeeeeee Yankees win!"

If anything has become synonymous with the Yankees' run of success over recent years, it is John Sterling's memorable conclusion to so many Yankees victories. As the radio voice to regular season, spring training and postseason games, he has called 5,621 official games (5,410 regular season/211 postseason) over the last 35 seasons, making him one of the most recognized—and imitated voices—in all of New York sports.

Sterling joined the Yankees broadcast team in 1989 from Atlanta's TBS and WSB Radio, where he called Hawks basketball (1981-89) and Braves games (1982-87). It marked a return to the town where he first achieved fame, hosting a talk show on WMCA from 1971-78, and calling the Nets (1975-80, and as a fill-in, in 1997) and Islanders (1975-78) for WMCA, WVNJ, WWOR-TV and SportsChannel.

Sterling also previously called Morgan State Football (eight years) and Washington Bullets basketball in 1981. In addition to his seven years at WMCA and a year at WSB in Atlanta, he has also hosted talk shows on WFAN and WABC in New York. Prior to missing the Yankees four-game series in Tampa Bay from 7/4-7/19 due to illness, he had not missed a broadcast of any kind since the fall of 1981. That series snapped a streak of 5,060 consecutive games broadcasted.

As the host of the YES Network's acclaimed Yankeeography series, Sterling has won 12 Emmy Awards since 2003. He has also been honored by the N.J. Sportswriters Association with its Radio-TV Excellence Award (1999), and was the winner of the 2001 Whitney Radio Jimmy Cannon Award. In addition, his call of a Jason Giambi home run on WCBS radio in 2002 was voted the "Best Baseball Call of the Year" in a poll conducted by MLB.com. In 2002, Sterling was also honored by the NY Air Awards for being a part of the best play-by-play team on radio.

In 2020, Sterling was presented with the Governor's Award by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

When he's not in the booth, Sterling serves as a master of on-field ceremonies for major Yankees events, and is well known for his emcee work at City Hall (with his former radio partner Michael Kay) at "Key to the City" ceremonies following Yankees World Series victories.

Sterling enjoys attending Broadway shows and boasts an extensive knowledge of the lyrics to many American pop standards. In 2007, he embarked on his own Broadway venture in a cabaret show titled "Baseball and Broadway" in which he both served as emcee and sang alongside Broadway talent.

In 2016, he was inducted, along with Suzyn Waldman, to the New York State Broadcasters Hall of Fame. At the annual BBWAA Awards dinner in January 2020, he received the Casey Stengel "You Could Look It Up" Award. For the past 29 years, he has been a spokesman for the Leukemia Society of America. He enjoys reading, movies and swimming. He is the proud father of four children: daughter Abigail and triplets, Veronica, Bradford and Derek.

The television and radio booths at Yankee Stadium (center) are located adjacent to the Press Box on the 200 level behind home plate.

Suzyn Waldman

Award-winning broadcaster Suzyn Waldman begins her 38th year either covering or broadcasting the New York Yankees, and her 20th season as the Yankees' radio color commentator.

Inducted into the Radio Hall of Fame in 2022, Waldman has spent nearly four decades overcoming the obstacles that go along with being a female sports broadcaster, and has been an inspiration and mentor to two generations of young girls and women wanting to enter the sports arena.

In 1987, Waldman became the first voice heard on New York's WFAN-AM — the first all-sports station in the country — creating the job of the radio beat reporter, covering the Yankees and Knicks. Her news-breaking reports, exclusive interviews and controversial opinions won her countless journalism awards, including the International Radio Award for Live and Emotional Reporting from the upper deck in Candlestick Park during the San Francisco earthquake.

The word "first" precedes the name Suzyn Waldman in every facet of her television and radio career. She was the first woman to work on a nationally televised baseball broadcast (for the Baseball Network) and the first to provide TV play-by-play for a Major League team, broadcasting New York Yankees games for WPIX, MSG Network and WNYW/FOX5 in the mid '90s. She is the first woman to host an NBA pre- and post-game show, provided play-by-play for the WNBA on Lifetime TV, and was an analyst for St. John's Basketball and the NIT for MSG and WFAN. She was the first woman to broadcast a World Series, and her scorecard and microphone are among other artifacts of her career in the "Women In Baseball" exhibit at Cooperstown.

She has been honored by countless organizations, including the Thurman Munson Foundation, the March of Dimes, the Jimmy Fund of Boston, the Gracie Awards, American Women in Radio and TV, the US Federal Women's Foundation, and was the first recipient of the Women's Global Health award from the Albert Einstein College of Medicine at the United Nations for her work speaking with and inspiring fellow breast cancer survivors. She has been named one of the "100 Most Influential Women in Radio" 11 straight years by Radio Ink Magazine, and in 2016, was inducted, with her radio partner, John Sterling, into the New York State Broadcasters Hall of Fame.

A native Bostonian with a B.S. in Economics and an Honorary Doctorate of Journalism from Boston's prestigious Simmons University, Waldman spent 15 years on the Broadway Musical stage and performed in countless Night Clubs around the world.

She is proudest of two things in her long and varied career: her two years in theater starring opposite the late Richard Kiley in Man of La Mancha, and her bringing together George Steinbrenner and Yogi Berra after 14 years of not speaking. She lives in Westchester County with her German Shepard, Margo.

Waldman was inducted into the Radio Hall of Fame on November 1, 2022, at the Radisson Blu Aqua Hotel in Chicago.

Justin Shackil

Justin Shackil begins his second season as the postgame host and primary play-by-play fill-in for John Sterling on the WFAN Yankees Radio Network. On television, Shackil serves as backup New York Yankees clubhouse reporter and studio host on YES Network.

Shackil has also worked for the New York Yankees since 2015, hosting the team's in-stadium pre-game shows and working with its in-house production team. In addition, Shackil has co-hosted the Toeing The Slab pitching podcast with David Cone and YES researcher James Smyth.

In addition to his baseball duties at YES Network, Shackil has called play-by-play for Brooklyn Nets, New York Liberty and college basketball broadcasts. He currently serves as a host and blow-by-blow announcer for Matchroom Boxing on DAZN and DiBella Entertainment.

His additional work credits include hosting for NBA Entertainment, SiriusXM Sports, Westwood One, and radio play-by-play for the AA baseball teams Mobile BayBears, Tennessee Smokies and Trenton Thunder. Shackil graduated from Fordham University in 2009.

Yankees en Español

For the 28th consecutive season, the Yankees – in conjunction with WFAN radio – will provide Spanish radio and SAP (second audio programming) for game broadcasts.

Rickie Ricardo

Rickie Ricardo is in his 11th season as the New York Yankees' Spanish language play-by-play announcer. Prior to joining the Yankees' WADO broadcast team, Ricardo spent seven years in the same role for the Philadelphia Phillies, broadcasting their World Series win in 2008 and postseason run in 2009.

Additionally, Ricardo has been the Spanish radio play-by-play voice of the Philadelphia Eagles for the last 12 NFL seasons. He is also a radio sports talk show host on New York's WFAN Radio and Philadelphia's 94WIP-FM Sports Radio.

Ricardo has spent over 40 years in broadcasting, appearing on various stations in New York, Connecticut, Philadelphia, Washington D.C. and Miami. In 2005, he became the daily beat reporter covering the Florida Marlins for Clear Channel radio. His career also includes international radio broadcasting with the 2008 Caribbean Series in the Dominican Republic and the 2009 Caribbean Series in Mexicali, Mexico.

A 1980 graduate from the New York School of Broadcasting, Ricardo currently resides in West New York, N.J. and Orlando, Fla.

Francisco Rivera

Since 1995, Francisco Rivera has been involved in baseball as a color commentator and play-by-play announcer, including 19 years in the Yankees' broadcast booth.

A native of Morovis, Puerto Rico, he covered the Philadelphia Phillies for "Radio Tropical" from 1995 to 1998 and worked the American League Championship Series in 2003 and 2004 for WADO.

Rivera received his Bachelor's degree in Spanish Literature from Rutgers University and graduated from the Cambridge University-affiliated Miguel Angel Torres School of Communications in Manhattan in 1978.

He began his communications career covering NBA basketball for WADO and was later one of the pioneers of the talk show WADO Deportivo, where he worked until 2003.

Francisco is married to Ivette Rodriguez and has two daughters, Melissa and Lorraine.

Steinbrenner High School

Named for the late Yankees Principal Owner, George M. Steinbrenner High School opened in August 2009 on Lutz Lake Fern Road just north of Tampa.

"Over the years, Mr. Steinbrenner has been deeply involved in the community, particularly with the schools and the school system," said Steven Ayers, director of community relations for Hillsborough County public schools. "He has been very involved and very philanthropic. He has probably donated tens of millions over the length of time. He's had a significant amount of money and significant amount of involvement in the community."

In addition to regular classroom curriculum, the school also offers classes for students preparing for a career in sports with sports marketing, sports medicine and the business of sports (BOSS). The school's teams are named the Warriors, featuring navy and gold coloring.

George M. Steinbrenner Field

This year marks the 29th season the Yankees will play their spring training games at George M. Steinbrenner Field in Tampa, Fla. The complex also serves as the home of the Single-A Tampa Tarpons of the Florida State League. The field's dimensions are an exact replica of Yankee Stadium in the Bronx, measuring 318 feet down the left field line, 408 feet to center field and 314 feet down the right field line.

Fans will also notice another link to the Bronx with replicas of the Yankees' retired numbers placards from Yankee Stadium greeting them as they enter the complex.

The facility originally opened in 1996 as Legends Field. However on February 14, 2008, Hal and Hank Steinbrenner announced that it would be renamed George M. Steinbrenner Field. The name change followed two unanimous resolutions recommending and supporting the change from the Hillsborough County Commission and the Tampa City Council. In a pregame ceremony prior to the Yankees' March 27, 2008, spring training game against the Pittsburgh Pirates, the complex was formally renamed in honor of the late Yankees' Principal Owner and Chairman.

"I am humbled and flattered to have this outstanding and totally unexpected honor conferred on me," said George M. Steinbrenner at the time the resolution was passed. "I extend my thanks to the Tampa City Council and to the Hillsborough County Commissioners for passing resolutions suggesting and recommending the change. I also thank my family for supporting the renaming of the stadium and for everything they have done for so many years that helped bring about this great day."

The resolution passed by the Tampa City Council on February 7, 2008, cited Mr. Steinbrenner's many charitable donations on behalf of youth activities, hospitals and the arts. The resolution passed by the Board of the Hillsborough County Commissioners on February 6, 2008, recognizing Mr. Steinbrenner's numerous extraordinary contributions to the area.

The Yankees Pavilion at George M. Steinbrenner Field [left] is a half-acre covered party area located next to the Yankees' pregame workout field. It offers fans an exclusive spot to eat, drink and watch warm-ups right before the game.

George M. Steinbrenner Field is located at 1 Steinbrenner Drive in Tampa, across the Dale Mabry Highway from Raymond James Stadium (seen in the background), the home of the National Football League's Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Steinbrenner Field Enhancements

In addition to the installation of new LED stadium lighting prior to the 2023 season, George M. Steinbrenner Field underwent significant ballpark enhancements during the winter of 2016-17. Some of the highlights include:

Multi-level Bullpen Clubs have been constructed on the first and third base lines. The upper level has a shaded private bar area and is exclusive to Loge Box holders, Club Seat members and private groups. The lower level contains a full-scale bar that is open to all patrons with valid tickets to that day's game.

The enhanced Right Field Pavilion allows fans to take in the game with the comfort and shade of a beachside bar. Those with tickets to the Pavilion will have access to a pregame buffet serving traditional ballpark fare and will be provided with two free drink tickets that can be used at the Right Field bar. The Pavilion can comfortably accommodate groups of 20-500 and is available for group purchases and individual game sales.

Loge boxes on the first and third base lines offer semi-private, open-aired, canopied seating for four and access to the exclusive premium lounge, located on the upper level of the first base and third base Bullpen Clubs. Food and beverage (water, soda, beer and wine) are all inclusive in the loge boxes, while premium alcohol is a la carte.

The Left Field Deck is an enclosed and shaded group party area. Those with tickets to the deck will have access to a pregame buffet serving traditional ballpark fare and will be provided with two free drink tickets. The Deck can comfortably accommodate groups of 20-100.

Cabanas are available for groups of 10-or-more on a full season, partial-season or game-day basis. This shaded private area is located in the right field alley in close proximity to the Right Field Pavilion. Food and beverage (water, soda, beer and wine) are all inclusive in the cabanas, while premium alcohol is a la carte.

2024 Yankees Spring Training Schedule

The Yankees will play 34 exhibition games (32 MLB games) during their 2024 spring season, including 17 home games at George M. Steinbrenner Field and 17 games on the road, including a two-game exhibition series vs. Diablos Rojos del México at Alfredo Harp Helú Stadium in Mexico City. The Yankees finished their 2023 spring schedule with a 13-18-2 record.

Time, opponent, date and team rosters and lineups are subject to change.

Listings noted with a red border and asterisk (*) have game times subject to determination by, among others, MLB and its television partners. Any future start-time changes to these games will also be accompanied by a change in the television partner.

The number of innings in a regulation game shall be determined by Major League Baseball and may be determined in accordance with Major League Baseball rules. The Yankees make no representation, warranty and/or guarantee that nine (9) innings will be played in any regulation game.

The number of games in a regular season shall be determined by Major League Baseball. The Yankees make no representation, warranty and/or guarantee that a regular season will be comprised of eighty-one (81) games.

Game times listed as TBA are subject to determination by, among others, Major League Baseball and its television partners.

For the 2024 regular season, "Premium Games" are the following Games: (a) Opening Day home game; (b) Old-Timers' Day Game; (c) all home games against the Boston Red Sox, Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Mets; and (d) select home games on June 22, July 20, 2024, August 3, 2024 and August 10, 2024.

All individual game ticket prices are subject to variable and dynamic pricing, which provide fans with more price options based on changing factors that affect market demand.

In no event will the Yankees be liable to the ticket holder and/or ticket purchaser for any direct, indirect, consequential, exemplary, incidental, special or punitive damages or for lost profits, revenues or business opportunities even if the Yankees have been advised of the possibility of such damages.

Be advised that the Yankees reserve the right to take appropriate action against individuals who fraudulently obtain wheelchair accessible and/or companion seats, including, without limitation, ejection and legal action.

Tickets may not be used for advertising, promotion (including contests, giveaways, or sweepstakes), charitable, trade or commercial purposes without the express written consent of the Yankees.

Please note that protective netting of varying heights is located between Section 011 on the 1st base/right field side of the Stadium and continues to Section 029 on the 3rd base/left field side of the Stadium.

WARNING: For the safety of everyone in Yankee Stadium, all Guests must stay alert and be aware of their surroundings at all times, as during all batting practices, fielding practices and warm-ups and throughout the course of all baseball games and the baseball game experiences, hard-hit baseballs and bats and fragments thereof may be thrown or hit into the stands, concourses, walkways, concessions areas, Monument Park and all other publicly accessible areas within the Stadium. Further, Guests concerned with their original ticketed location by reason of the foregoing should, at any time before or during the baseball game or the baseball game experiences, proceed to the Yankee Stadium Ticket Windows at the home plate end of the Great Hall across from the Yankees Team Store; however, please remember that: (a) any requested relocation is subject to availability; (b) any alternate seat or standing location may be in a section and/or level of the Stadium and/or within a price category that is not in the same section and/or level and/or price category of the Guests' original ticketed location, regardless of their original ticketed location; and (c) any Guest requesting relocation is responsible for paying the incremental price increase, if any, of the ticket price for the available alternate location. Relocation to a seat or standing location at a lower price than the price of the original ticketed location will not result in a refund or credit.

WARNING: Guests may not transmit or in transmitting any photographs, images, videos, audio, livestreams or other accounts or descriptions (including play-by-play data), whether text, data or visible, in any media, now known or hereafter developed, of all or any part of the game or related events, without the express written consent of the Yankees.

NOTICE: For the safety of every Guest, all persons specifically consent to and are subject to: (a) being screened by metal detectors; (b) bag/clothing inspections; and (c) physical pat-down inspections prior to entry. Any item or property that could affect the safety of Yankee Stadium, its occupants or its property shall not be permitted into the Stadium. Any person that could affect the safety of the Stadium, its occupants or its property shall be denied entry.

NOTICE: The Yankees reserve the right, with or without refunding any amount paid by the ticket holder, to refuse admission to and/or eject any person who: (a) is or appears to be impaired; (b) conceals alcohol, illegal substances and/or other prohibited items while attempting to enter Yankee Stadium; (c) acts in a manner that is unruly, disruptive or illegal; (d) uses derogatory, foul and/or abusive language and/or gestures; (e) displays and/or wears and fails to cover obscene, indecent and/or inappropriate clothing; (f) exposes him/herself; (g) otherwise violates the Stadium's Code of Conduct, ordinances, rules, requirements, directives, regulations; or (h) interferes with any ball in the field of play or any sports or event participant attempting to make a play on any batted, pitched or thrown baseball. Ticket holders acknowledge and agree that the Yankees' ban on derogatory, foul and/or abusive language and/or gestures; and obscene, indecent and/or inappropriate clothing (i.e., clauses (d) through (h) above) does not violate their right to free speech and/or expression and that such time, place and manner of the restrictions are reasonable to maintain a family-friendly atmosphere for minors, ensure the safety of all Guests and sports or event participants, and preserve the enjoyment of the game or event for all Guests. In addition, ticket holders further acknowledge and agree that by entering the Stadium, they hereby consent to the ban on derogatory, foul and/or abusive language and/or gestures and obscene, indecent and/or inappropriate clothing and waive, to the fullest extent they may legally and effectively do so, any objection they may now or hereafter have to such ban and the penalties that the Yankees may impose for any violation of the same.
